395 I don't want a child (5)

When su Wanwan was sent to the hospital, her consciousness was already a little scattered. She heard the Auntie calling for doctors and nurses and also heard the sound of her making a phone call.

Who was she calling? Who was she?

Su Wanwan bit her lower lip hard. Her lower lip bled from her bite. Her consciousness recovered a trace of sobriety, and then she heard the Auntie call, " Sir.

Is Sir's Wanwan PEI Munian? If he was her grandfather, he wouldn't be calling her 'Sir', right?

PEI Munian, PEI Munian!

Su Wanwan blinked, but a layer of mist quickly filled her eyes. At that time, he let her go. She thought that he really let her go and also let her child go. It turned out that Huahua was just too naive.

He didn't want to let her go from the beginning to the end, right? Back then, he was willing to let her go only because she had resisted too much. If her body was too weak, she wouldn't be able to get an abortion. So, he took a roundabout route and sent someone to take care of her body and then abort her child.

So ruthless, so ruthless.

From the beginning to the end, she was just a bird in his cage, unable to escape his palm no matter what.

Su Wanwan was pushed into the consultation room. Aunt Zhang was asked to wait outside by the nurse. Then, she pulled the White curtain, blocking her view.

Su Wanwan took a deep breath and clenched her hands tightly. Her nails dug into her palms to keep her awake. She looked at the doctor and couldn't help but plead, " doctor, I beg you. You must save my child. I beg you.

"Miss, don't worry. Relax. I'll do my best."

The doctor gently comforted su Wan and then began to examine her.

Su Wanwan's vision turned black and she slowly lost consciousness. She could only constantly rely on the pain in her palm to stimulate herself. She didn't dare to close her eyes and didn't dare to let herself faint. She was afraid that once she lost consciousness, she would be cruelly pushed into the operating room and her child would be aborted.

The doctor examined her for a while and said with a serious expression, " miss, your child is fine for the time being, but you have signs of a threatened miscarriage. The situation is still a little serious. I'll give you a shot to protect the fetus now.

After the doctor injected su Wanwan, he instructed her, " you must rest in bed for the next few days, reduce walking, and maintain a good mood. Then, he turned to the nurse beside him and said, " arrange a Ward for her. She needs to stay in the hospital for a few days for observation.

The child was fine for the time being. Su Wanwan's suspended heart relaxed. It was just that when she heard that she had to stay in the hospital for observation, her black pupils suddenly contracted and she reflexively shook her head.

"No, doctor, I can't stay in the hospital."

The doctor was surprised. Miss, with your current condition, it's best for you to stay here for observation. After a few days, it's confirmed that you're fine and you can be discharged. I don't recommend you leave now!"

If it was possible, Su Wanwan naturally didn't want to leave. She naturally wanted to stay in the hospital and recuperate well. However, Auntie Zhang had already informed PEI Munian to come over. Once he arrived, she wouldn't be able to leave. She would be caught by him again like before. This time, he would definitely send her directly to the operating room!

"I want to leave, I want to leave now!" Su Wanwan got up from the bed, gritted her teeth, and walked out step by step.

Outside the door, Auntie Zhang happened to be on the phone with her back facing her. Su Wan quickly took advantage of her inattentiveness and quickly walked towards the hospital's Gate.
