427 The happiness that was stolen (11)

Gong Lingyu glared at PEI Munian and clenched his fists so tightly that they made creaking sounds. If he was not held back by the two bodyguards, he would definitely rush over and give PEI Munian a good beating.

“PEI Munian, what right do you have to say this? You clearly know how much Wanwan hates you, but you took advantage of the aftereffects of Wanwan’s surgery to hide her by your side. She doesn’t remember anything, so she can once again be at your mercy and at your mercy, right?”

The more Gong Lingyu spoke, the angrier he became. He did not know where he found the strength to break free from the bodyguards’ obstruction. He rushed forward and grabbed PEI Munian’s lapels with force.

PEI Munian, I won’t let you hurt her again. Hand Wanwan over!

In the 72 hours after su Wanwan’s surgery, he was restricted by PEI Munian and couldn’t enter the ward to accompany su Wanwan. At that time, her life and death were unknown and he didn’t have the mood to argue with him, so he endured it. Who knew that after su Wanwan was out of danger and woke up, he actually let his parents trick him out of the country and Wanwan was hidden by him just like that.

In the past half a month, he had tried all kinds of Ways and Means to finally return to China. He came to the hospital as soon as he got off the plane because he wanted to take Wanwan away from this man who had hurt her so deeply!

PEI Munian’s Black eyes lifted slightly as she looked at the Furious Gong Lingyu. His expression was still calm, but the words he said were unquestionable. Lingyu, go back. Wanwan is my wife. I will take care of her. Besides, she is your sister-in-law. I hope you can know your limits and not cross the line.

Wife?

Sister-in-law?

Gong Lingyu’s face turned pale and he raised his voice. PEI Munian, have you forgotten what you promised me? Wanwan no longer has anything to do with you!”

At that time, PEI Munian asked to accompany su Wanwan in his place until she finished her operation. His condition was that he wanted to divorce su Wanwan, set her free completely, and stop torturing her. He also agreed to it. To prevent him from regretting it, he also asked for the divorce agreement he signed.

“I remember.” PEI Munian’s voice was very calm, almost without any emotion. however, I regret it.

In this world, PEI Munian was probably the only person who could go back on her words so openly and with such confidence!

Gong Lingyu’s anger rose and he could no longer suppress it. He raised his fist and aimed it at PEI Munian’s face.

Just like the last time, he did not Dodge and just stood there, letting Gong Lingyu's fist land on him. He showed no mercy. PEI Munian let out a muffled groan and turned her face to the side.

However, just as Gong Lingyu was about to give him a second punch, PEI Munian grabbed his hand and twisted it. The pain reduced his strength, and PEI Munian pressed on his shoulder with her other hand, turning him around and suppressing him.

Gong Lingyu's hand was grabbed and his shoulders were pressed down. He struggled with all his might, but he could not move PEI Munian at all.

PEI Munian looked at Gong Lingyu, her thin lips moving slightly. Lingyu, I'm sorry for that punch of yours just now. I'll return it to you, but Wanwan, I won't let go again. Also, I'm confident that I can bring her happiness more than you can!

"Ha, you can give Wanwan happiness? But Wanwan doesn't care about you at all. You're the one who caused her to become like this! And now you want to pretend to be a good person?" Gong Lingyu retorted angrily.
