

Deeply 434

434 Uninvited guest (4)

Su Wanwan's eyes were bright. She didn't realize PEI Munian's pain at all. She only felt that his kiss just now was very comfortable and fun. She continued to kiss him with her lips pouted.

Although PEI Munian had already stopped thinking about it, he couldn't stand su Wan's repeated teasing. He quickly let go of her, straightened his body, and avoided su Wan's kiss.

Su Wanwan looked at him doubtfully. She was still a little unhappy and her eyebrows furrowed.

PEI Munian pretended not to see it. He got off the bed and reached out to pull su Wanwan up. His voice was still a little hoarse. Wanwan, let's continue to take a shower. You're tired today. Go to bed early after you're done.

After saying that, he first picked up the sleeping robe on the side and wrapped it around su Wanwan's body. Then, he picked su Wanwan up horizontally and walked back to the bathroom.

The water in the bathtub was already a little cold. PEI Munian put su Wanwan down and let her stand at the side. He turned on the tap and added hot water. He tested the water temperature with his hand. When it was about right, he turned off the tap, turned around, and habitually helped su Wanwan undress.

However, his hand had just touched the collar of the nightgown when he suddenly stopped.

There was still a lingering heat in his body that hadn't subsided. It was restless and could turn into a Wolf again at any time and pounce on su Wanwan. It was really impossible for Yingluo to help her bathe innocently.

PEI Munian's hands slowly clenched into fists and fell. She took a deep breath and said in a hoarse voice, "Wanwan, I'll get Auntie Wu to help you shower today, okay?"

Su Wanwan didn't understand what it meant for aunt Wu to help her shower. She was still in a daze and didn't react.

PEI Munian knew that talking to her was like playing the piano to a cow. He walked out of the room and shouted downstairs, "Auntie Wu, come up for a while."

Auntie Wu responded and quickly came up.

PEI Munian explained everything to her in detail. Aunt Wu nodded her head and walked into the bathroom. However, before she could speak to su Wanwan, su Wanwan had already taken a step back in resistance. The next second, she rushed out of the bathroom.

PEI Munian was about to go to another room to take a cold shower to suppress the heat in her body when she heard footsteps behind her. Then, she was hit on the back and two slender arms wrapped around her waist.

PEI Munian was stunned and subconsciously turned her head. Su Wanwan was curled up behind him, her big eyes looking at him pitifully. Tears quickly surfaced in the bottom of her eyes, like an abandoned puppy.

PEI Munian's heart suddenly ached as if it had been stabbed by a sharp object. He quickly turned around and pulled su Wanwan into his arms. He coaxed her gently, "Wanwan, I'm not going to leave you. I'm just asking aunt Wu for a favor.

She was still very insecure about the world, and he was the only person she could trust and rely on. That was why she was so afraid because she thought that he had left her behind. He had neglected this.

Su Wanwan couldn't speak now. The only way she could express her feelings was to hold on to PEI Munian's clothes tightly. Her hands held on so tightly that her fingertips turned pale.

PEI Munian felt that she was not grabbing his clothes but his heart. Wanwan, don't worry. I won't leave. I will never leave. Even if you chase me away, I won't leave.

PEI Munian lowered her head and gently kissed su Wanwan's forehead. Then, she raised her hand and gently touched her head.