442 Just a kiss will do (2)

Although Xi Zhiwei tried her best to remain calm, her body still could not stop trembling.

PEI Munian paused for a moment. She placed her hand on her knee and tapped it lightly. Weiwei, I know what you're thinking, but no matter what you think, you should just give up on these thoughts. You know that Wanwan has always been my bottom line. Don't always try to cross the line. This is a warning.

If it was in the past, he wouldn't even have warned her. Now, he was still concerned about her saving his life and the fact that she was pregnant.

Ever since that incident, PEI Munian no longer treated her with that cold attitude. She didn't expect that once su Wanwan returned to his side, he would quickly turn hostile and ruthless.

Xi Zhiwei looked at his cold eyes and her heart ached. Tears welled up in her eyes. brother mu Nian, I really just wanted to visit sister Wanwan. I didn't want to do anything. I didn't know that sister Wanwan would become like this. If I had known, I wouldn't have come.

"You should not have come!" PEI Munian was unmoved by Xi Zhiwei's tears. however, it's my negligence. I didn't instruct the security guards not to let any random people in.

".....?"

Miscellaneous people.

PEI Munian's voice was light, but every word struck the heart. Xi Zhiwei's face quickly turned pale.

PEI Munian did not say anything more to her. Instead, she turned to Wu Xin and said, " "Help me send Wei Wei off."

Auntie Wu nodded and took a step forward. She made a gesture of invitation. Miss Xi, please.

Xi Zhiwei stood there, her eyes red. She was angry and unwilling. Her self-control of his guilt was not even comparable to su Wan's. She was almost in disbelief.

However, she also knew that PEI Munian was still in a fit of anger. No matter how unwilling she was, she could only suppress it. Otherwise, she would only anger him completely. She could not exhaust the guilt he felt for her.

"I'm, I'm sorry. I really shouldn't have come to Wanwan."

Xi Zhiwei's voice trembled as she said this in a low voice with tears in her eyes. She then turned around and walked quickly towards the door in a very pitiful manner.

Xi Zhiwei seemed to be walking quickly, but in fact, she was stopping for a while, hoping to arouse PEI Munian's pity.

Just as she was about to walk out of the door, PEI Munian's voice finally rang out from behind her. wait a minute.

She was overjoyed and immediately stopped in her tracks.

However, in the next second, PEI Munian's merciless and cruel words were clearly heard by her.

I don't want you to appear in front of Wanwan again. It's best if you don't let her see you even if you meet her by accident!

The blood drained from Xi Zhiwei's face. She froze in place for a few seconds before she staggered out.

PEI Munian closed her eyes and suppressed the raging anger in her heart.

When he had walked down the stairs and saw Xi Zhiwei, he had almost had the urge to snap her neck.

During this period of time, he had been taking care of Wanwan carefully, afraid that she would be provoked or hurt again. It was not easy for her condition to improve and she had not had a headache for a long time. However, because of Xi Zhiwei, she had a headache again. Seeing her in so much pain, he wished that Xi Zhiwei was in a thousand times, ten thousand times more pain than her.

Even if he owed Xi Zhiqian for saving his life and felt guilty towards her, he could repay her, but he could not hurt Wan Wan at all!
