483 Growing suspicious (3)

She didn't know what it felt like to die, but just now, she really felt like she was going to die. At first, it was because of the pain, but after that, Yingluo couldn't remember what she looked like at that time. She just felt like she was being propped on a fire and being burned up and down.

However, the feeling of death was not entirely unbearable. It was still a little light-headed towards the end, especially at the last moment when PEI Munian growled and pressed down on her. She actually trembled unconsciously. Her body was tired, but there was a sense of comfort from the exhaustion.

Her vocabulary was still a little limited, so she didn't know how to describe that feeling. However, niannian wasn't completely lying to her. It really didn't hurt as much later on, and she even staggered.

Su Wanwan herself didn't know what she was thinking about. Her cheeks flushed red and were burning hot.

Su Wanwan lay there. It was unknown if she hadn't recovered or if she was reminiscing about something. Under the light, her skin was pink and tender, the bottom of her eyes shimmered, the corners of her lips were in spring, her cheeks were bright red, and every part exuded an extreme temptation, making people's blood boil again.

PEI Munian closed her eyes and took a deep breath, suppressing her desire that had yet to be fully satisfied.

He had endured for so long. Naturally, he wouldn't be satisfied with one time. However, su Wanwan didn't have her previous memories. It was equivalent to a new first time. She was already a little forced to bear it once. He didn't want to force her to do it a second time.

After PEI Munian restrained his urges, he rolled down from su Wanwan's body and panted heavily beside her. Then, he propped his body up and his black eyes fell on su Wan's face. His voice still had lingering charm, low, hoarse, and ambiguous. Wanwan, I'll carry you to wash up, hmm?"

As PEI Munian spoke, she reached out to su Wanwan. However, his hand had just touched su Wan's skin when she reflexively shrank back, as if afraid that he would do what he did just now again.

PEI Munian's voice became even lower and gentler. Wanwan, don't be afraid. I'm only bringing you to the bathroom to take a shower, okay?"

He tried to reach out again. Su Wanwan then reacted and grabbed his hand. Her eyes widened and she said angrily, "Niannian, which thing do you want to hand over!"

Things? What was that?

PEI Munian was confused. Wanwan, what are you talking about?"

Su Wanwan became even angrier and spoke very quickly, "it's that thing that poked me in pain. Niannian, you're a bad guy. You said you wanted to have sex with me on our wedding night. Then why did you poke me with that thing? it hurts!"

“.....?”

After PEI Munian realized what su Wanwan was talking about, she was stunned, shocked, and finally dumbfounded.

PEI Munian didn't answer. Su Wanwan's small face tensed up even more. She thought that he was hiding that thing. She endured the soreness in her body and got up, looking everywhere on the bed.

She was going to find that thing and tear it into pieces!

However, su Wanwan searched the entire bed and didn't find anything sharp. What did niannian use to poke her?

Su Wanwan furrowed her eyebrows and her gaze unconsciously returned to PEI Munian. Could it be that he had hidden that thing on his body?

At this moment-PEI Munian's body was completely naked. Only the lower half of her body was covered by-thin blanket. Su Wanwan looked down and seemed to see a bulging area.
