Su Wanwan stared at it for two seconds. Her eyes slowly turned from doubt to fierceness. Her hands clenched into fists and she stared at it as if she was staring at the enemy who killed her father.

It turned out that niannian had hidden that thing here!

Since it had caused her so much pain just now, she would pull it out now!

Su Wanwan sneered and let go of her tightly clenched hands. She rubbed her hands and took a deep breath. Then, in one breath, she pounced over and grabbed the thing under the thin quilt with both hands. let's see where you can run to!

Su Wanwan said triumphantly, then tried to pick up this thing, but she didn't expect that she actually couldn't hold it.

Su Wanwan couldn't pick it up even after a few tries. She was angry and increased the strength in her hand, wanting to pull it up.

PEI Munian finally regained her senses before su Wanwan could do this. His hand quickly grabbed su Wanwan's wrist and stopped her actions.

There was a faint fire jumping in his black eyes. He looked at su Wan helplessly, his voice carrying a trace of suppressed pain, "Wanwan, what are you doing?"

He had finally suppressed the urge to hold her and continue to make love with her, but she was here to seduce him?

Su Wanwan pouted her lips in dissatisfaction. She tried to pry his hand away and said hatefully, "Niannian, don't cover up for this thing, quickly hand him over! I'm going to take it!"

Su Wanwan made a gesture of a knife rising and falling, very simple and clear.

PEI Munian suddenly felt that her brother was in pain. Indeed, he couldn't just let her watch television dramas as she pleased. What did she learn? if he wasn't careful that day, she might have really wiped it off.

"Ahem."

PEI Munian coughed a few times and tried to remain calm. He swallowed his saliva and said in a deep voice, "Wanwan, this isn't anything. This is Yingluo.

PEI Munian wanted to explain, but he did not know how to.

Su Wanwan could now understand the difference between men and women, but she didn't know where the real difference was. After all, no one could tell her this kind of thing and could only wait for her to understand.

PEI Munian coughed again and was about to speak. Su Wanwan's resentment was probably too deep. She didn't know where the strength came from, but she actually broke free of PEI Munian's restraint, lifted the thin quilt with one hand, and grabbed it without a word.

"Haha, I've caught you!"

PEI Munian took in a deep breath, the light in her eyes quickly turning dark. That soft touch made his already sensitive emotions soar to a high point. With a bang, it exploded in his mind.

All of the suppression was now being backfired, and it came surging over in a menacing manner.

The body's reaction didn't go through the brain and gave the most honest reaction. Su Wan, who was watching from the side, also widened her eyes in shock. She didn't think that the thing that poked her so painfully could actually transform!

Just like the Ultraman she had seen, every time he fought a monster, he would make himself as big as the monster.

Was it preparing to fight her now?

Hmph, let them come, who's afraid of who!

Su Wanwan gritted her teeth and raised both hands, wanting to crush it. Who knew that the moment she exerted force, PEI Munian gasped for breath and the eyes looking at su Wanwan instantly became deep and even a little terrifying.

Su Wanwan remembered that when he poked her in pain just now, he also had this kind of look in his eyes. Su Wanwan's heart trembled and her hand loosened. niannian, what's wrong with you? "
