491 What is your relationship (1)

Su Zhenhua had lived for so many years and boasted that his judgment of people was extremely accurate. Just like back then, when he saw PEI Munian's unusual actions towards su Wanwan, he keenly felt that there was something between them, so he schemed to push Wanwan to PEI Munian's side.

He made use of PEI Munian's feelings for su Wanwan and continued to seek benefits for the SU family. Just when he thought that he was going to completely control PEI Munian, this powerful backer, the situation took a turn. He announced the acquisition and broke off with the SU family. This caught him off guard and turned all his calculations into a joke. He also lost the entire su family and the SU family.

He had to admit that he had underestimated PEI Munian.

However, just when he thought that he could no longer count on PEI Munian, this backer, there was another 360-degree reversal. PEI Munian kept su Wanwan after the surgery.

He had sized her up just now. She should have been well taken care of. Her face was ruddy, she was in high spirits, and there was a sense of peace and happiness between her brows.

She was even a little fatter than the last time he saw her. At that time, she was so thin that she almost didn't look human.

A dark light surged in Su Zhenhua's eyes, and many emotions flashed in his eyes. Finally, he slowly curled his lips and continued, "indeed, you two have always been very close.

Grandpa should have some understanding of the relationship between her and niannian, but she didn't know why, but when she heard his words, su Wanwan always felt that something was wrong.

Su Wanwan frowned. She thought for a while and said, "Grandpa, you said that my relationship with Nian Nian has always been very good. Then why did you say just now that ran ran's relationship with Nian Nian and I is very good?"

Su Zhenhua didn't expect su Wanwan to catch the key words in his words. He paused for a moment. After all, the older one gets, the spicier one gets. He quickly rounded it up. all married couples will have conflicts sometimes. You and PEI Munian will naturally have conflicts too. But now that I see that your relationship has recovered, I can rest assured.

He didn't understand why PEI Munian kept su Wan, but a man kept a woman and took care of her so carefully. This woman didn't have anything he could scheme for, so it could only be feelings.

Although it was just a guess, he was willing to take a gamble.

"A conflict? What conflict did niannian and I have?"

Nanny li was talking about a divorce. Was it because she had a conflict with niannian that they wanted a divorce?

"How did Grandpa know so much when you were a young couple? "Wanwan, since you can't remember the past, then don't think too much about it. The most important thing is now. PEI Munian is good to you now, so remember, don't throw a tantrum and don't be willful anymore. Grab hold of him well, only then will he be of help to the SU group."

The more su Wanwan heard, the more she felt something was wrong. She thought that she and PEI Munian got married because they were in love with each other. Why did it sound like her purpose of marrying him was not pure from grandpa's words?

"Grandpa!"

Su Wanwan couldn't help but interrupt Su Zhenhua's words and raised her voice a little. why did niannian and I get married? "

"Naturally, it's because of Yingluo."

Su Zhenhua looked at su Wanwan's sudden change in expression and realized that he was a little too anxious. He swallowed the words in his throat and said, " "You young people decided to get married, of course it's because you're in love."
