pei munian almost couldn't believe her eyes, but this familiar figure ... he couldn't possibly have mistaken her for wanwan. was he hallucinating?

PEI Munian stepped forward and called out hesitantly, "Wanwan?"

the figure trembled along with his voice, and the head that was originally buried between his knees slowly lifted up.

The wall lamp above her head shone down, and the woman's face slowly appeared in front of PEI Munian. PEI Munian's heart seemed to have stopped at this moment.

It really was her!

PEI Munian immediately squatted down, opened his arms, and pulled su Wanwan into his arms. His strength was great, as if he was holding a lost treasure that he had found again, for fear that she would disappear again in the blink of an eye.

"Wanwan!"

PEI Munian's voice mumbled in su Wanwan's ear. The nervousness and fear that could not be hidden in her voice made su Wanwan's originally sad and angry heart have a trace of comfort.

When the driver asked her where they were going, Gong Lingyu and Xi Zhiwei did flash through her mind, but most of it was PEI Munian.

Even though she knew that he hadn't told her the truth, he was still the only person she trusted and relied on the most! So, she only hesitated for a moment before she decided to look for him.

When she had video-called him, she had told him that she would be going to a neighboring city, which was not too far from L city. It would only take an hour by high-speed rail to get there.

She asked the driver to send her to the train station, where she applied for a temporary identity card and bought a high-speed rail ticket. Then, she came alone.

She did not want to suspect PEI Munian at will. She was still willing to believe his words as long as he was willing to tell her the truth!

Su Wanwan was a little uncomfortable from PEI Munian's hug and she was still angry. She struggled for a while. let go of me!

PEI Munian heard su Wanwan's unbearable voice and finally woke up. He slightly let go of su Wanwan, looked at her big red eyes, and sighed softly.

su wanwan thought of the divorce agreement and was both sad and angry. she raised her hand and pushed pei munian hard.

PEI Munian was caught off guard and was pushed by her head-on. She fell backward on the ground and seemed to have fallen a little hard. He furrowed his brows and gasped slightly.

Su Wanwan's heart ached a little. She reflexively reached out to pull him, but she held it back. She stood up and threw the divorce agreement in front of him. It was clearly a question full of anger, but she couldn't help but cry, " we're divorced, right? " pei munian looked at the divorce papers that were scattered in front of him. after staring at them for two seconds, he picked them up and propped himself up from the ground. his dark eyes fell on her pale face, and there were still tears at the corners of her eyes. pei munian reached out, wanting to wipe her tears, but she avoided him.

PEI Munian's hand froze in mid-air. However, at the same time, he pulled su Wanwan into his arms again, ignoring her struggles. He hugged her tightly and pressed his thin lips close to her ear, saying word by word, " Wanwan, I will explain this matter to you clearly. But you have to promise me first that you won't go missing again and don't run away, okay? "

When he heard Auntie Wu say that she was missing, he felt as if his soul was about to be sucked away and was extremely scared.

He was afraid that if she ran away, he would never be able to find her again, Yingluo.
