505 Announcing their marriage to the world (1)

Su Wanwan raised her eyes. In front of her was PEI Munian's handsome face. The deep love in his eyes was not concealed at all and could be seen at a glance.

She still had a lot of questions to ask. She felt that he was still halfway through his sentence and was still hiding something. She should have asked him clearly, but when she opened her mouth, nothing came out.

Everyone had the instinct to seek good fortune and avoid disaster. The photo on the marriage certificate, the divorce agreement, and the news about their marriage all indicated that her and PEI Munian's past was definitely not as simple as it seemed. However, she was greedy for the happiness and warmth at this moment. She would rather not pursue it and be muddled.

As long as there wasn't a third party between them, she just had to cherish the happiness in front of her.

Su Wanwan slowly raised her hand and placed it on PEI Munian's waist. She hugged her tightly bit by bit. Her face was snuggled up against PEI Munian's chest, as if she was compromising. niannian, I believe what you said to me. I believe that you have nothing to do with Xi Zhiwei. I hope ran ran won't let me down.

Her voice was extremely low when she said the last few words, as if she was muttering to herself.

PEI Munian looked at su Wanwan, who was snuggling up in front of her, but her heart didn't relax at all. Instead, it became heavier and heavier. Although he didn't lie to su Wanwan, he also didn't tell her the truth.

From the moment he chose to keep su Wanwan by his side, he was destined not to be sincere to her. Every time he saw her trusting him with all her heart, his heart felt as if it was being gnawed at by something, and it was painful.

But no matter how painful it was, it couldn't hurt su Wan's departure.

Even now, he was not willing to recall su Wan's decisiveness at that time. It was also at that time that he suddenly woke up. He once thought that it was difficult to bear, angry and unwilling, but it turned out that it was just like this.

But she was by his side.

So even if he had to bear greater pain, he would do his best to make su Wanwan stay by his side forever.

PEI Munian's eyes were stained with a touch of determination. The way he looked at su Wan gradually darkened. His slender fingers suddenly lifted su Wan's chin. In her surprised exclamation, his thin lips heavily covered su Wan's lips.

"Wuwuwuwu."

PEI Munian's kiss was sudden and overbearing. Su Wanwan didn't react at all and could only raise her head to bear it. She didn't have a center of gravity and subconsciously retreated to the side of the bed. She tripped over the foot of the bed and the two of them fell on the soft mattress.

After PEI Munian's training at the Hot Spring Hotel for a few days, su Wanwan was no longer ignorant. Her cheeks suddenly blushed and her hands were pressed against PEI Munian's chest. Her eyes couldn't help but be filled with shyness.

"Niannian, what are you doing?"

She hadn't recovered from her emotions just now, so why was he suddenly in a daze?

PEI Munian's hand touched su Wanwan's cheek. Her black eyes didn't hide the desire for her. Her voice was low and ambiguous. Wanwan, I missed you.

Su Wanwan now understood that when the man said that he missed her, there was more than one meaning. A trace of timidity flashed past her eyes and she firmly pressed her hand against PEI Munian's chest. No.

PEI Munian was puzzled and furrowed her brows. Wanwan, are you still angry? "

She wasn't still angry, but she was in a daze.

PEI Munian's warm breath slowly fell on her face and she coaxed, " Wanwan, don't you miss me? "
