

Deeply 509

509 Announcing their marriage to the world (5)

PEI Munian was no longer beside her. Su Wanwan reached out and touched the bedding. It was no longer warm. PEI Munian had already gotten up.

Su Wanwan turned over and lay down in that position, as if she was still in PEI Munian's arms. Her mind couldn't help but surface with those hot images from last night. She smiled shyly and quickly covered her face with her hands.

It turns out that men and women don't just hug each other to sleep, they also do that kind of thing.

She always thought that when she opened her eyes for the first time and saw niannian, he was the most handsome, most handsome. But last night, at the last moment, the niannian she saw was even more stunning and unparalleled. It made her whole person look at him, and her heart was pounding.

Her man was so handsome!

As su Wanwan thought about it, she was embarrassed and her heart was rippling. After rolling around on the bed a few times, she accidentally pulled her lower body and finally stopped laughing.

Although it didn't hurt anymore, niannian didn't let her go last night and kept pressing on her. She didn't know how many times they did it. She didn't feel much at that time, but now that she woke up, her back was sore and there was a burning feeling in a certain part of her body.

Su Wanwan's small face was slightly pale and she couldn't help but curse PEI Munian. He just took advantage of her ignorance and deceived her again and again.

When she saw him later, she would definitely make him compensate her!

Suddenly, a voice came from outside the room. Su Wanwan was stunned for a moment. She thought that niannian had gone to work. Why hasn't he left yet?

Su Wanwan supported her waist and slowly sat up. She casually picked up PEI Munian's shirt and put it on. Her footsteps were light and she walked out step by step, planning to scare niannian.

When she walked to the door of the room, she saw a figure sitting on the sofa. The back of the sofa was relatively high and only half of the back of the head was exposed. Su Wanwan secretly curved her lips and tiptoed over. She opened her arms and was about to hug it, but from the corner of her eye, she saw niannian's tall figure holding wine and a glass, turning from the small bar.

Niannian was there!

Then this wasn't niannian?

Su Wanwan stopped her movements in time, but the force she used to withdraw was a little too strong. Su Wanwan lost her balance and fell directly to the ground. She cried out in pain, "ouch."

PEI Munian and that figure's gazes turned in unison.

When PEI Munian saw su Wanwan's outfit, his black pupils suddenly shrank. He took a few steps forward, put down the red wine and glass, then carried su Wanwan in his arms and strode back to the room.

PEI Munian placed su Wanwan back on the bed and sized her up. Wanwan, when did you wake up? " Did it hurt? Are you alright?"

Su Wanwan couldn't care less about the pain now. Using PEI Munian's body as a shield, she secretly peeked outside. who is that person? " I thought it was you, and I wanted to hug him. It's so embarrassing!"

Su Wanwan couldn't help but cover her face as she spoke.

PEI Munian laughed. it's okay, he won't laugh at you. He's Yueyue's father, your father-in-law.

Father-in-law?

Su Wanwan instantly wanted to die. This was the first time she met her father-in-law, but her clothes were so untidy and she almost hugged him.

"Niannian, what should we do? Will the Guild not like me anymore?"

"He won't. He's always liked you."

PEI Munian consoled her, " Wanwan, don't think too much. Go wash up and change your clothes before coming out, okay? "