534 Misdirection (4)

Where was this place?

Su Wanwan's eyes slowly turned and looked around. It was white everywhere and she could smell the pungent smell of disinfectant. She stayed in the hospital for so long before and realized that she was in the hospital.

Then, Xuanji Palace's Ling Yu was the person she felt before she lost consciousness?

"You were the one who brought me to the hospital?" Su Wanwan's voice was low and a little dry.

The worry in Gong Lingyu's eyes could be seen at a glance. He nodded lightly and said gently, "How are you feeling? Are you feeling better?"

"I'm fine. T-thank you."

Previously at the Hot Spring Hotel, she had beaten him up like that. She didn't expect him to not hold a grudge at all. He even sent her to the hospital after she fainted and cared about her so much.

No matter if it was before or now, she was always saying thank you to him. Gong Lingyu felt a trace of bitterness in his heart, and his voice lowered. no need to thank me.

For a moment, the two of them were silent. Su Wanwan coughed lightly and had to turn her eyes to the round-faced doctor again. doctor, am I okay? "

After surgery, she usually only fainted because of a headache, but this time, she collapsed without any warning. Could it be that there was something wrong with her body again?

The round-faced doctor shouted unhappily, "Wanwan, you called me a doctor? Don't tell me that you still haven't remembered anything after so long?"

Su Wanwan furrowed her eyebrows in confusion. do we know each other? "

"Of course, we're best friends. I'm Yu Jia! Even if you forget about other things, you can't forget about me." As Yu Jia spoke, he directly put his face in front of su Wanwan and deliberately blinked his big eyes, "do you remember? "

Su Wanwan's mind was still blank. She shook her head truthfully.

Yu Jia wanted to say something, but Gong Lingyu stopped her. Wanwan really doesn't remember anything. Don't force her to think.

Yu Jia couldn't help but glance at Gong Lingyu. If she hadn't seen the live broadcast of PEI Munian and su Wanwan's proposal on TV a few days ago, she would have thought that he was su Wan's lover from the way he nervously carried su Wanwan and rushed into the hospital.

"Forget it. If you don't remember, then so be it. Even if you don't remember, we're still best friends."

Yu Jia suddenly lowered his body and hugged su Wanwan. He sighed, "Wanwan, I'm relieved to see that you're fine now."

Su Wanwan froze for a moment and then smiled.

Some people basically didn't need memories to be able to recognize them easily. Feelings wouldn't lie if they were good or bad to you.

After Yu Jia let go of su Wanwan, she answered her question, " because you fainted just now, I couldn't ask about your physical condition. Dr. Wu only asked someone to take a blood test for you. The report will come out soon, you can wait.

"Yes."

As soon as she finished speaking, the nurse pushed the door open and walked toward Yu Jia. She handed her the report. the report is here. Dr. Wu said that there's nothing wrong with miss SU's body, but the HCG level is a little high.

"HCG index?" Yu Jia took the report, glanced at it, and then looked at su Wan. Wanwan, have you recently noticed anything wrong with your body? " Does the one that comes every month come on time?"

The one every month?

Su Wanwan was stunned for a moment before she understood what Yu Jia was talking about. She subconsciously nodded, but halfway through, she suddenly remembered something and stopped.
