560 He's getting married (2)

[Xi Zhiwei's second explosive popularity can't be separated from a mysterious hand behind the scenes. It's suspected that good news is coming, Double happiness is coming!]

Beside Xi Zhiwei's photo, there was a black silhouette. Although there was no name, just by looking at this familiar silhouette, su Wanwan already knew who it was.

Other than PEI Munian, who else could it be?

The entertainment industry was such a realistic place. If she did not have a strong background to support her, how could Xi Zhiwei become famous again in just a few months after the car accident and jump straight to the top of the list?

A year's time had passed. Su Wanwan thought that she could forget all of this, but she didn't expect that her mood would still be easily affected. She closed her eyes and laughed at herself.

Putting down the magazine, su Wanwan took the child from nanny Li's hands. She didn't know when the child woke up. He opened his Black Pearl-like eyes and stared at su Wanwan, grinning and laughing.

It was as if all her worries would disappear when she saw his carefree smile.

Su Wanwan lowered her head and kissed the child's white and tender cheek. She said softly, " "it's okay, i still have you, right?"

The baby laughed, raised his little hand, and gently scratched su Wanwan's cheek, as if comforting her. Su Wanwan sniffed the faint Milky fragrance on his body and her heart settled down.

When su Wanwan left the SU residence, there were no changes. When su Wanwan stepped in and saw the cold and cheerless room, she couldn't help but feel a little sad.

There was originally Grandpa, mom and dad, sister, and her here, but now she was the only one left. Fortunately, she still had him.

su wanwan carried the child and walked to the family portrait. she said softly to the child, " baby, that's our family. Be sure to recognize them.

Nanny li couldn't help but laugh. miss, the young master is still so young. He doesn't know how to recognize people.

After a pause, she continued, " I've already tidied up the young master's room. Let's go up and take a look. If you need anything else, I'll add more.

"Yes."

Su Wanwan carried the child to the second floor. For the convenience of taking care of the child, the child's room was next to su Wanwan's room and was decorated as a baby's room. Su Wanwan glanced around. Nanny li had experience. She had everything that should be there and noticed everything that should be noticed. The only thing that was lacking was some childlike fun.

Su Wanwan's chin pointed at the white wall and said, "It won't be a big problem if I put some cute wallpaper on it."

However, nanny Li furrowed her brows in embarrassment. this, miss Wanwan, I don't really know much about these things. I'll have to trouble miss to help me with it.

"Alright," he said.

Su Wanwan put the child in the crib and rang the bell above. The child looked up with a smile, his eyes bright and shining, extremely cute.

Nanny Li's heart was filled with love as she looked at him. She quickly said, "Have you given it a name?"

Su Wanwan shook her head. not yet. I should have let Grandpa pick it, but Wanwan is fine. I've already thought of a few names. I'll discuss it with him when I pay my respects to Grandpa.

"Yes, master will be very happy to see the young master."

Su Wanwan lived abroad for more than a year. When she returned to China, she couldn't get over the time difference for a while and slept in bed for nearly a day and a night. In the end, she was woken up by the ringing of her mobile phone.

Su Wanwan couldn't even open her eyes. She could only reach out and grope for her mobile phone on the bedside table. She pressed the answer button, put it to her ear, and said hello.
