

Deeply 566

566 He's getting married (8)

She knew that PEI Munian was senior XI's good brother. At the same time, she also knew the reason why PEI Munian hated her in the beginning but agreed to be with her in the end.

It wasn't love, but returning the favor.

PEI Munian had never liked her from the beginning. He had always hated her, hated her for playing with his good brother, hated her for killing his good brother. Thus, when she pursued him, he learned from her, indifferently hanging her, letting her chase after him, letting her experience the suffering of not being able to love him. In the end, he only agreed to her because he wanted to abandon her when she was at her happiest, just like how she abandoned senior Xi back then.

Regarding senior XI's matter, she was indeed in the wrong. However, she had never toyed with senior XI's feelings and had never intentionally hurt her. Yet, PEI Munian had pushed all the blame onto her without even distinguishing right from wrong.

Because she liked PEI Munian too much, she could not tolerate the love that she thought was a complete lie. Also, because she was young and arrogant, the first time she fell in love was actually a dirty revenge. Or perhaps it was because she did not dare to hear PEI Munian tell her with her own ears that he did not love her but hated her instead. Hence, she did not question him but chose to break up first and say hurtful words to protect her poor self-esteem.

However, now that she thought about it, she had never heard PEI Munian mention their love. Did he only hate her and not love her at all?

If it was before, she wouldn't have dared to think about this question at all, but when she heard what he said just now, she was so shocked that he clearly had a hidden meaning in his words!

he had seen senior xi's ending, but he still had feelings for her?

Could she understand it that way?

Maybe he was really touched by her pursuit back then and really intended to accept her instead of taking revenge on purpose?

If that was the case, it was possible that PEI Munian would like her and not exclude her from the list of 'impossible to like' right from the start?

Su Wanwan knew that these were just her guesses, but her heart still couldn't help but beat wildly.

a year ago, she had chosen to run away from the marriage because she thought that pei munian would never love her. thus, she had given up on this hopeless relationship. she could not get the love she wanted, but she hoped that at least pei munian would be able to get the love she wanted. however, if what had happened back then was not what she thought, why should she give up?

As Yu Jia said, he didn't like her now. As long as she worked hard, he would like her one day. She had to keep it up until he liked her, right?

She wanted to find out what PEI Munian was thinking back then. At that time, did he even have a little bit of feelings for her?

Su Wanwan lifted her foot and was about to step out when she heard footsteps coming from beside her ear.

Su Wanwan reflexively looked towards the source of the sound. A slender and beautiful figure, holding a cluster of flowers, slowly walked up the stairs and walked towards the tombstone.

Su Wanwan narrowed her eyes and fixed her gaze on Xi Zhiwei.

She couldn't help but pull her foot back.

Xi Zhiwei walked over and stopped in front of PEI Munian. She smiled at him and said in a gentle voice, "brother Munian, I'm sorry. There was a traffic jam on the way and I'm late.