578 The missing memory (10)

Dr. Zhao was stunned for a moment before he nodded in understanding. alright, I won't mention it to boss PEI.

Su Wanwan's lips curved. thank you.

She had always felt that she and PEI Munian were even and that they did not owe each other anything. Back then, she had left so resolutely and even used a fake abortion papers to hit him before she left.

She had thought that he didn't care, so she used such a cruel method to force him to give up his guilt and let her go.

However, after listening to Dr. Zhao's words, she suddenly felt that if PEI Munian had truly loved her child and looked forward to the arrival of her child, how sad would he have been when he saw the abortion papers? after all, he had personally signed the abortion papers to abort the first child, and he still couldn't keep the second child.

At that time, she had misunderstood that he was cruel enough to abort her child. She had hated him so much, so he should hate her as much as he did now and not want to see her.

When they were at the cemetery, she didn't dare to let him see her return. That was unconscious. Now, she didn't dare to let him know that she had returned. That was because she was really a little scared because she didn't want to see PEI Munian, who hated su Wanwan, again.

Even though Yingluo caused everything herself.

Su Wanwan raised her head slightly, took a deep breath, and concealed the bitterness in her eyes. She then looked at the assistant and said, "Let's go," he said.

After the assistant took su Wan to the monitoring room and let her do as she pleased, he left.

Under her instructions, the security guard in the surveillance room pulled up the surveillance video of the back door that day and taught her how to adjust the time. She was left to watch it alone.

Su Wanwan recalled the approximate time she walked to the back door of the hospital that day, switched the surveillance video to that time, and clicked play.

Su Wanwan looked at it for a long time and finally saw the video of her falling to the ground. She quickly paused it, then turned back to the previous time and played it again.

She saw herself in the video. Because she was afraid that PEI Munian would catch up to her, she had run in a panic and had not noticed the cart that had suddenly rushed out from the side, which was why she had been knocked to the ground.

Unfortunately, the surveillance camera only captured the cart rushing out, but it didn't capture if someone was pushing the cart.

However, if there was no one pushing the cart, it would not have such a strong force. Just like the shopping cart in the underground parking lot, the cart must have been pushed by the person who pushed the baby away. That was why the force of the collision was so strong that it could cause such a big bruise on her waist.

In other words, the figure she saw was not an illusion. It was definitely the person who pushed the cart! And he definitely did it on purpose!

Who would be so cruel as to bump into her on purpose? Caused her to lose her baby?

A touch of hatred floated in Su Wanwan's eyes. She clenched her hands tightly. She must find her, she must!

Su Wanwan checked the surveillance camera again, unwilling to let go of any clues. It was just that there were many places that the surveillance at the back door didn't cover. Su Wanwan could only see the video of her falling and nothing else.

Unwilling to give up, she asked the security guards to pull up the surveillance cameras near the back door in an attempt to see if there were any clues. After a while, she saw a familiar back running past in a corridor near the back door.

Isn't that Xuanji, Xi Zhiwei?
