626 Thirty-six ways to pursue your husband (6)

Although PEI Munian didn't attend the dinner, it was already past nine o'clock in the evening when she returned. Su Wanwan and Xiao Zeze had already eaten and Xiao Zeze had already fallen asleep.

The villa was quiet, with only a dim yellow light left.

PEI Munian changed her shoes at the entrance and looked at the cold silence in the room. She was a little unaccustomed to it. He thought that with Su Wanwan's character, she would come up with some new tricks again. How could it be quiet tonight?

PEI Munian stood rooted to the ground for a while. A dark light flashed in her eyes and she laughed coldly. He strode up the stairs.

When he reached the door of the master bedroom, he didn't know why, but he stopped in his tracks. His eyes swept over to the door of the room next door that was tightly shut. The tip of his feet turned in that direction a little unconsciously, but he quickly regained his senses.

PEI Munian turned back and pushed open the door to the master bedroom.

The master bedroom was dark and only a little moonlight shone in from the window. With the help of the afterglow, PEI Munian could vaguely see a small bulge on the big bed.

PEI Munian's eyes narrowed and she suddenly understood. She slapped the switch on the wall and the entire bedroom was lit up.

As expected.

PEI Munian looked at Su Wanwan, who was lying on the bed, and laughed. He thought that she had really stopped. In the end, he was thinking too much.

PEI Munian strode forward and looked down at Su Wanwan, who was curled up in the quilt. Her voice was cold. Su Wanwan, it seems that you're really ready to test my patience, right? "

He had told her to watch her words and actions, but she was seducing him like last night? In her eyes, did it mean that she could still ask for anything from him after giving up her body?

PEI Munian's eyes sank, and a thin layer of ice covered her handsome face. Su Wanwan, get up!

Su Wanwan seemed to have heard PEI Munian's words. Her body moved slightly and her voice was low and hoarse. Niannian, you, you're back? I'm uncomfortable, I think I'm sick,"

Uncomfortable? Last time, he pretended to be drowning. Now, he was going to pretend to be sick?

PEI Munian scoffed. He had already been deceived by her once. He was not so stupid as to be deceived by her a second time.

"I'll give you one last chance. Leave this room on your own, or do you want me to throw you out of this villa?"

Su Wanwan tried her best to open her eyes a little. Looking at PEI Munian's cold face, she coughed twice and said in a hoarse voice, "Niannian, I'm really sick."

PEI Munian no longer spoke. He bent down and stretched out his long arm towards su Wanwan, wanting to pull her up. But the moment his hand touched her arm, the boiling heat spread to his palm and his hand couldn't help but stiffen.

Why is it so hot?

PEI Munian's brows furrowed and her hand quickly touched su Wan's forehead. Her forehead also had some temperature, but it was not as hot as the one on her arm. It didn't feel like a fever, but her cheeks were burning red and her forehead was oozing with sweat. It looked like there were signs of a fever.

She, Yueyue, was really sick?

PEI Munian turned around and walked to the cabinet. She found the first aid box, took out the thermometer from it, and handed it to su Wanwan. you seem to really have a fever. Take your temperature.

Su Wanwan gently nodded, took the thermometer, put it in her clothes, and then weakly said, "I want to drink water. Can you get me a glass of water?"
