PEI Munian stared at her for a few seconds, then turned around and left the room.

Su Wanwan heard the sound of PEI Munian's footsteps slowly walking away and the sound of her going downstairs. She quickly got up from the bed and ran to the bathroom. She turned on the hot water and rinsed the thermometer.

The temperature rose little by little. Su Wanwan saw that it was about time, so she turned off the tap and quickly ran back to the bed and covered herself with a thick quilt.

PEI Munian went upstairs with a cup of warm water and handed it to su Wanwan. However, su Wanwan looked at him with a weak and powerless look. I, I can't get up.

PEI Munian closed her eyes and sat on the edge of the bed. He placed one hand on su Wanwan's shoulder, helped her up, and handed her the glass of water again.

Su Wanwan continued to look at him weakly.

PEI Munian expressionlessly brought the cup to her mouth. Su Wanwan's lips curved and with his hand, she gulped down the water in the cup.

Su Wanwan licked her dry lips and smiled: "Thank you," he said.

PEI Munian lowered her eyes and saw her red lips that were stained with water droplets. Under the light, they seemed to be wrapped in a thin layer of jelly, making one have the urge to bite them.

The light in PEI Munian's eyes condensed. The next second, he pushed su Wanwan away and stood up.

Su Wan was caught off guard and directly fell back onto the bed. She raised her eyes to look at PEI Munian and couldn't help but pout. Did he have to do this? every time, he avoided contact with her like he was avoiding a virus. How much did he hate her?

"Give me the thermometer," After PEI Munian calmed her breathing, she opened her mouth.

Su Wanwan composed herself, took out the thermometer from her clothes and handed it over. PEI Munian picked it up and looked at it. It was 38.6 degrees Celsius. She did have a fever.

Maybe it's because I caught a cold while swimming this morning, Yingluo.

PEI Munian placed the thermometer on the table and took out his phone. He called her as he said, " you have a fever. I'll get the doctor to come over.

After a pause, PEI Munian hurriedly added, " in case you spread the disease to others!

So what if Wanwan cared about her? why did she have to find an excuse? Su Wanwan couldn't help but feel a trace of sweetness in her heart. Sure enough, pretending to be soft was better than pouncing on him. But doctor Wanwan?

If the doctor came, she would be exposed. No, no!

“No need!” Su Wanwan’s voice unconsciously rose a little.

PEI Munian’s hand that was on the phone stopped for a moment and her dark eyes swept over her. Su Wanwan swallowed her saliva and her voice lowered again. I, ran ran, I just took the medicine. There’s no need to trouble the doctor to come over. I’ll sleep and maybe my fever will go down tomorrow.

PEI Munian was silent for a while before keeping her phone. then you should rest.

After he finished speaking, he turned around and wanted to leave. Su Wanwan blinked and quickly reached out and grabbed his finger. you, where are you going? ”

PEI Munian stopped in her tracks, but she did not turn around. Her voice was still cold. you’re sick today, so I won’t make a fuss about it. You can sleep here tonight. I’ll go to the guest room.

Guest room

If PEI Munian went to the guest room, then her illness would be meaningless!

Su Wanwan coughed heavily twice. She spoke weakly again, ” I’m sorry, I occupied your room. You don’t have to accommodate me. I’ll leave now.

As su Wanwan spoke, she forced herself to get up from the bed, but as soon as her feet touched the ground, her whole body seemed to have no strength and she fell straight forward.
