PEI Munian subconsciously reached out to catch her. Su Wanwan's soft body fell into PEI Munian's arms.

After PEI Munian steadied su Wanwan's body, her brows furrowed fiercely and her voice carried a trace of anger. su Wan, you're already so sick, do you still want to torment yourself? "

As soon as she leaned into his arms, he felt her whole body burning. He had a little suspicion at first, but now it was all gone.

He picked her up and put her back on the bed. His dark eyes stared at her red cheeks and said in a deep voice, " you don't pay attention when you should pay attention to your words and actions, and you're so fastidious when you shouldn't pay attention. Lie down!

A smile quickly flashed across su Wanwan's eyes. However, when she looked at PEI Munian, she still looked pitiful. then you're not angry? "

PEI Munian glanced at su Wanwan and didn't say anything.

Su Wanwan's hand couldn't help but grab PEI Munian's sleeve. Her red lips wriggled and she pleaded in a low voice, " then can you stay with me tonight? I don't want to be alone when I'm sick.

PEI Munian pulled su Wanwan's hand away without hesitation. I'll ask aunt Wu to come over and accompany you.

Auntie Wu is taking care of little Zeze. What if he wakes up when she comes over to accompany me? "

Su Wanwan blinked her big eyes and her tone became more and more pitiful. niannian, I know you hate me, but Wanwan, I'm a patient. Can you not argue with a patient like me for the time being? "

PEI Munian's thin lips were tightly pursed, but she still did not relent.

Su Wanwan continued to work hard. I'm having a fever. What if my fever gets worse when I fall asleep? " Didn't you say that you didn't want any lives to be lost in the villa?"

PEI Munian's Black eyes finally turned to su Wanwan's face.

In fact, he could totally turn around and leave. In fact, he also knew that su Wanwan was suspected of being sick, but looking at her red cheeks, he couldn't move.

Forget it, he was just taking care of a patient. Even if it wasn't su Wan but someone else, he wouldn't let it go.

"Alright, I'll stay, okay?"

Su Wanwan's heart was filled with joy and she nodded repeatedly. thank you, niannian.

PEI Munian pulled a chair over and sat on the edge of the bed. She glanced at su Wanwan, who was staring at her with her eyes wide open, and her eyebrows furrowed. I won't leave. You should rest.

Su Wanwan didn't really believe him. what if I fall asleep and you secretly leave? "

"Then what do you want?"

Su Wanwan raised her hand and patted the space beside her. come up and sleep. I'll be at ease if you sleep with me.

".....?"

Before PEI Munian could open her mouth to refuse, su Wanwan faintly glanced at him and said, "
"Niannian, I'm so sick. Even if I wanted to do something to you, I couldn't, so you don't have to worry about Hanhan."

".....?"

This woman, even when she was sick, she still had the ability to anger him.

PEI Munian took a deep breath and clenched his hands tightly, as if he was too lazy to talk nonsense with su Wanwan. He lay down on the bed directly next to su Wanwan and said coldly, " "Can you shut up now?"

Su Wanwan secretly laughed in her heart. She turned over and put her hands and feet on PEI Munian's body. She leaned into his arms and rubbed her head against him. She smiled and said, " "You can shut up now!"
