655 I don't want to owe her (1)

PEI Munian still did not say anything. She did not admit or deny it.

actually, I can't blame you. I was the one who mistook Miss Xi as your wife first. You just didn't deny it, but a person's eyes and actions can't lie. There's nothing wrong with you treating Miss Xi, but you're missing something. It wasn't until you looked at miss su that I realized that your eyes lacked that little bit of love, and the way you looked at that miss was much more complicated.

Elder Lin paused and muttered to himself for a while before finally coming up with an adjective, "love and hate intertwined? Is that how you put it?"

PEI Munian lifted her eyelids and her black eyes slowly met old Lin's. She still ignored his question and only said indifferently, "old Lin, the matter between su Wan and I has nothing to do with Weiwei.

"You can't say that. No matter if you and miss su are husband and wife, if your heart is with her, then you and Miss Xi are not a real husband and wife. If miss su had not appeared, I would have believed that you and Miss Xi were husband and wife. But unfortunately, even if you are deliberately cold to miss su, your eyes can not lie."

After elder Lin finished teasing, he said seriously, "Mr. PEI, I'm sorry that I can only reject your request. You know my rules. I only treat married couples."

PEI Munian's eyes darkened. you know, if there were any other ways, I wouldn't have bothered you.

Mr. PEI, you didn't use your family's power to threaten me, but instead invited me sincerely. I'm very grateful, but I can't go back on my oath. Please understand.

of course, if you and Miss Xi become husband and wife, you are welcome to come and find me again. When that time comes, I will definitely not decline.

PEI Munian stood there, the light in her eyes flickering. can't we exchange any other conditions? "

Elder Lin was shocked by PEI Munian's words.

He was suddenly a little curious. If she wasn't the woman he loved deeply, why would she spare no effort to find him? she didn't hesitate to put on this act in front of him and didn't hesitate to state any conditions.

"Mr. PEI, can you tell me what your feelings are for these Miss Xi? If you say you don't love her, you've done so much for her, but if you say you love her, you don't feel any love at all."

PEI Munian remained silent. His eyes were deep and unfathomable. His gaze landed on an empty spot and he looked at it quietly for a long time. tell me your other conditions.

Mr. PEI, I've said it before. I only have one condition. As for the rest, I'm sorry, but I can't do anything.

PEI Munian curled her lips. elder Lin, don't be so sure. Think about it again. Maybe you need my conditions? "

After Xi Zhiwei finished changing the dressing, she saw that PEI Munian and elder Lin had not returned and walked over to look for them.

She heard their conversation from afar and was about to walk over when she heard a certain word in elder Lin's words. Her footsteps suddenly stopped and she subconsciously hid to the side.

The more he listened, the more he felt that there was something wrong with their conversation.

This time, it was PEI Munian who had taken the initiative to look for her. He said that he was going to attend a cocktail party to make an important friend and needed a female companion, so he invited her.

Su Wanwan had already returned to his side in the name of his wife. He didn't refute her at the party. Su Wanwan even moved into his villa, but he didn't look for su Wanwan, but for her.
