

Deeply 656

656 I don't want to owe her (2)

Even now, Xi Zhiwei could still remember the throbbing in her heart. It was as if there was a little deer in her chest, running around and being so excited that she could not control herself.

That day, PEI Munian had gone to her apartment to pick her up at the airport. When they were waiting at the VIP area of the airport, she had deliberately not concealed her identity because she knew that there were often reporters lurking in the airport. She wanted to show everyone who had ridiculed her that she, Xi Zhiwei, was the woman that PEI Munian cared about and liked.

What made her the happiest was that at the banquet, PEI Munian brought her to attend. Everyone thought that she was Mrs. PEI. He didn't deny it, but tacitly acknowledged it. At that moment, all the uneasiness that su Wanwan brought her disappeared, leaving only happiness and joy.

When su Wanwan came back, he was still determined to send her away, saying that they were only friends.

Yesterday was the happiest time of her life. She thought that PEI Munian had really given up on su Wanwan and that they were no longer possible. He was also gradually accepting her.

Today, su Wanwan finally left. There was no one standing in the way between them. She originally wanted to cultivate their feelings with him, hoping that in this foreign country, their feelings could heat up. After returning to the country, he and su Wanwan would divorce and they could get married.

So, the so-called husband and wife was just a show?

And PEI Munian's gentleness towards her was just to trick her into willingly coming for treatment?

Xi Zhiwei staggered and shook her head in disbelief. She thought that after all the effort she had put in, PEI Munian would at least have some feelings for her. She did not expect that it was all just her wishful thinking.

They seemed to be entangled with each other, but in his eyes, it was clear?

But how could he calculate it clearly? She had lost so much, and it was not easy for her to fight for that little bit. She would not let him take it back just like that, never!

The driver sent su Wanwan to the airport. Su Wanwan pushed the door open and got off. She went to the back of the car to take out her luggage and pulled her into the airport.

The driver locked the car and quickly followed, but su Wanwan said, "You can go back, I can get on the plane by myself."

"This Yingluo." The chauffeur furrowed his brows. miss su, let me send you in.

Su Wanwan chuckled and raised her eyebrows. why? are you afraid that I'll sneak back again? "Don't worry, this time, even if PEI Munian asks me to stay, I won't stay!"

PEI Munian had already said so much. If she still stayed, she would really be looking down on herself.

The driver smiled and said, "miss su, boss PEI told me to send you to the plane. If you don't want to see me, let me follow you from a distance.

Su Wanwan still wanted to say something, but when she saw the driver's careful look, she pursed her lips. up to you.

PEI Munian had made her angry, and it was indeed not good to vent it on the driver. He was only following orders.

Su Wanwan pulled her luggage and walked in front. She printed the boarding pass and handed her luggage over. The driver did as she said and only followed her and didn't go forward to disturb her.

The chauffeur gave PEI Munian a call and told her that miss su had arrived safely and that she was handling her luggage.

PEI Munian hummed softly on the other end. After a few seconds of silence, she said in a low voice, "you go and take a walk.

The chauffeur nodded. understood, boss PEI.

After the driver hung up the phone, he saw that su Wanwan was still waiting in line to place her luggage. There were about seven or eight people in front of her. He quickly turned around and ran towards the airport gate.
