708 There's a problem with the child (8)

At the door, su Wanwan and Yu Jia's conversation was all heard by Xi Zhiwei, who had followed behind. She was stunned on the spot, the light in her eyes was unusually bright.

It turned out that brother mu Nian really had no feelings for su Wanwan. Even if she relied on the child to come to him, he was indifferent to her. The only reason he didn't divorce her now was because he was restricted by the law.

And the most important thing was that her guess was right. Su Wan's child was not brother mu Nian's at all, so she was so anxious to get pregnant with another one to tie brother mu Nian down!

This woman was simply shameless and detestable!

Xi Zhiwei's hands that were hanging on both sides of her body clenched tightly. Her black eyes stared at su Wanwan inside. If looks could kill, she wished she could cut her into a thousand pieces!

He actually used a b * stard to ruin her marriage. He actually used a b * stard to occupy her position and call her a mistress, making her lose all face!

Su Wanwan, the humiliation you brought me, I will return it to you a thousand times, ten thousand times!

Xi Zhiwei's gaze moved to the child in su Wanwan's arms and the corners of her lips curled up. Su Wanwan is going to take this child for an injection later?

After all, there was no evidence in words, and everything needed real evidence! She would prove to the world that su Wanwan's child was a bastard!

Xi Zhiwei's Black eyes narrowed and a dark light flashed in her eyes. Then she turned and left.

Su Wanwan felt as if something was staring at her back. She subconsciously turned her head and looked in the direction of the door, but she didn't see anyone. She frowned but didn't think much.

It was time for the appointment with the doctor. Su Wanwan got up and said goodbye to Yu Jia before carrying Xiao Zeze to get an injection.

Today, many parents brought their children over to get a heads up. Su Wanwan looked at the Father holding his mother and the mother holding their child. The intimate posture of a family of three, and her eyes couldn't help but reveal envy.

She had initially wanted PEI Munian to accompany her and bring little Zeze here for the injection, but she had come alone last night in a fit of anger. She had wasted this good opportunity to cultivate their relationship.

Su Wanwan unconsciously took out her phone from her bag and lit up the screen. Her screensaver changed to the photo they took at the amusement park that day. Su Wanwan looked at PEI Munian's expressionless handsome face in the photo and couldn't help but pout. Seeing that there were no calls or messages on the screen, she raised her finger and poked PEI Munian's face on the screen. She gritted her teeth and said, "PEI Munian, you big bastard!"

The nurse called Xiao Zeze's name and su Wanwan quickly responded. She put away her phone and carried Xiao Zeze into the injection room.

Su Wanwan sat on the chair, picked up Xiao Zeze's little hand, lifted his clothes, and handed his hand to the nurse. The nurse took his hand, gently patted his arm, and then touched his blood vessels.

As if he had a premonition, little ze ze's little face wrinkled and he started crying.

little ze ze, don't be afraid, don't be afraid. It won't hurt. It'll be fine soon. As su Wanwan coaxed him, she raised her hand to cover his eyes. good boy, don't be afraid!

The nurse quickly finished the injection, but Xiao Zeze was still crying at the top of his lungs.

When the nurse saw this, she took a glass of water from the food machine and handed it over. She said, "Let the child drink some water. Don't cry until his throat is hoarse."
