731 The courage to confess (3)

"Niannian, you've arrived in America?"

"Yes, I just got off the plane."

The man's slightly hoarse voice came from the phone with a hint of fatigue. your voice sounds so awake. Did you not sleep all night and wait for my call? "

Didn't sleep the entire night?

Su Wanwan subconsciously looked towards the window. Through the gap of the gauze window, there was already light shining in from the outside. Su Wanwan was stunned. She was actually annoyed about whether to say it or not for the whole night.

Su Wanwan couldn't help but grab her hair and laughed dryly to cover it up. I slept for a while. I was thinking about your phone call, so I woke up.

"Alright, are you at ease after receiving this call? Go back to sleep, didn't you get a shock yesterday?"

Su Wanwan's hand unconsciously clenched her phone. Her lips wriggled. She didn't know why but she blurted out, " niannian, you saw the DNA test report yesterday. Didn't you have any doubts? "

After she finished speaking, su Wanwan was dumbfounded. What the hell was she saying? wasn't she digging her own grave?

What to do? What would niannian think?

Su Wanwan's heart instantly hung in the air. Her heart beat unusually fast, thumping wildly against her heart, as if it was going to jump out.

PEI Munian didn't speak for a long time. Su Wanwan's breathing seemed to have stopped. She licked her dry lips and her mind was spinning quickly, trying to say something to cover up that sentence, but at this moment, her mind was blank.

About ten seconds later, PEI Munian finally opened her mouth. Wanwan, what did you say just now? It's a little noisy here, I didn't hear you clearly."

Su Wanwan held her breath and let out a sigh of relief. She wiped the cold sweat on her forehead. Oh my God, Xuxu's ten seconds just now, she simply felt like she had fallen into hell. Fortunately, he didn't hear anything. Fortunately, Xuxu's words were like hell.

"Ahem."

Su Wanwan coughed a few times and quickly said, " "I mean, when are you coming back? How many days will you be gone for this time?"

I'm not sure about the exact time, but I'll go back once I'm done with my business. Don't worry. Stay at home for the next few days and keep little Zeze company. Try not to go out. There might be reporters following you, but don't worry, I won't let them disturb you and little Zeze. As for mom, you don't have to worry about her. I won't let her see you alone before I go back.

His gentle voice rang in su Wanwan's ear, instructing her one thing after another. It turned out that he had already arranged everything. He could even guess that she didn't dare to see Mrs. PEI now, so he thoughtfully arranged everything.

His relationship with lady PEI had always been good, but because of her, he had repeatedly gone against lady PEI.

Su Wanwan instantly felt guilty and uneasy for her own cowardice and selfishness. PEI Munian was so good to her, but she still deceived him because she was afraid of losing him. Sometimes, even if it was a white lie, the lethality would not be reduced.

Su Wanwan's voice suddenly became a little hoarse. She swallowed her saliva hard, suppressed the rolling emotions in her chest, and replied in a low voice, " mm, I, I know. Yueyue, you have to take care of your health when you're alone. After you're done with your business, good, come back early.

Su Wanwan closed her eyes and clenched her hands hard, as if she was going all out. you, you're back. I, I have something to say to you.
