735 The courage to confess (7)

This time, she came back and used Xiao Zeze to force her way into his life. She could feel his rejection and indifference. Even when she shamelessly pestered him until he agreed to start over with her, his attitude towards her had eased a little. However, she still felt that he was hot and cold at times, making her feel uncertain.

When Lu Sheng asked her that question, she did not expect him to answer her question. However, she did not expect him to answer her so directly without any hesitation.

Lu Sheng took two gulps of wine before he could digest PEI Munian's words. Then, he looked puzzled. young master PEI, you said that you don't love su Wanwan. Then what's going on between you and su Wanwan now? Didn't you guys get back together? I heard that she's already living in your villa."

Lu Sheng furrowed his eyebrows. ah, child, you and su Wan's son. You re-accepted su Wanwan because of your son? "

Lu Sheng slapped his thigh. that's true. You said those words a year ago, so I guess you won't accept su Wan anymore. I just didn't expect su Wan to give birth to a son for you. After all, it's your first child, so you can't help but take it to heart, right? "

The child

Actually, this reason was within her expectations. PEI Munian had emphasized to her more than once that if it were not for the child, he would never let her get close to him.

Finally, all the doubts and mysteries were solved.

Why did PEI Munian agree to start over with her but suddenly turn cold and warm? why did he not touch her even after she had tried her best?

In the end, it was the simplest reason: he didn't love her.

Su Wanwan's footsteps unconsciously retreated a few steps until she reached the wall on the other side. She barely managed to hold onto the wall and stand firm.

A waiter passed by and saw that she was almost unsteady on her feet. He couldn't help but step forward and ask with concern, " "Miss, are you alright?"

"I'm, I'm fine," Su Wanwan shook her head weakly.

"But you don't look so good, Yingluo."

Su Wanwan was afraid that PEI Munian would find out about her and the waiter's movements. She waved her hand, supported herself with the wall, and walked away step by step.

"No, no, no!"

Lu Sheng denied what he said and frowned. this is illogical. If you only care about your son, why don't you just fight for her custody? do you still need to put on an act with su Wan? "

PEI Munian was still calm and ignored Lu Sheng's crazy curiosity. She elegantly took a sip of red wine and said lazily, "are you here to drink or to gossip?"

"Young master PEI, don't keep me in suspense. What are you thinking?"

Just what are you thinking, Yingluo?

PEI Munian's dark eyes narrowed and his gaze fell on the void. He was silent for a while before he slowly opened his mouth and asked instead of answering, "do people cherish things that they can't get more than what they can get easily because it's hard to come by?"

"Young master PEI, you did it on purpose, didn't you? I'm asking you about su Wanwan. What nonsense are you talking about?"

After Lu Sheng ridiculed her, he paused for a moment and thought carefully about what PEI Munian had just said. His eyes darkened and he looked at PEI Munian in disbelief. He was shocked for a while before he said, "Young master PEI, are you serious, Yingluo? you've already reached this point with su Wan?"

PEI Munian's lips curled up, and the smile in her eyes revealed some bitterness. I don't love her. She won't leave me.
