748 So, he loves her very much (2)

PEI Munian looked at su Wanwan's angry back, his eyes flickered, and he sighed softly. He looked at her for a long time before he reached out and took her into his arms.

Su Wanwan struggled at first, but she couldn't resist his strength and slowly calmed down.

PEI Munian was really a Big Bad person. If she didn't love her, why was she so gentle to her? did he know that this kind of gentleness was even more heart-wrenching than his cold words?

Compared to having no hope, giving hope and then despair was more painful.

Su Wanwan blinked. Her nose was sour and her eyes were also sour. She rubbed her eyes and nose. She didn't want to cry anymore, but her tears still fell uncontrollably.

Su Wanwan didn't sleep much the entire night. In the morning, as soon as PEI Munian moved, she opened her eyes and pretended to have just woken up. She rubbed her eyes and sat up. niannian, you're up? "

PEI Munian was about to walk to the bathroom when she saw this and said gently, "Did I wake you up? Go back to sleep."

"No, I'm awake too!"

Ever since su Wanwan moved back into the villa, PEI Munian would have already gone to the company every time she woke up. Today, she deliberately woke up on time.

"I'm going to the company, that's why I'm up so early. What are you up to? Go and sleep for a while more."

no, it's rare for me to wake up so early today. I want to have breakfast with you and send you off!

Su Wanwan quickly got up from the bed and followed PEI Munian's footsteps. The two of them entered the bathroom together.

After washing up, su Wanwan held PEI Munian's arm and went downstairs for breakfast. Aunt Wu rarely saw the young couple going downstairs so affectionately so early in the morning. Her face was full of smiles. It seemed that the young master and young Madam's relationship was developing very well. Perhaps soon, there would be a second young master or young lady.

This morning's newspaper headline was indeed reporting the Grand occasion of yesterday's Leo meteor shower. Su Wanwan quickly took the newspaper from PEI Munian's hand and read it. She held the newspaper in both hands and couldn't free her hand to eat, so she uncourteously opened her mouth to PEI Munian. ah.

PEI Munian shook her head helplessly.

This woman had said that she would accompany him for breakfast today, but in the end, she wanted him to serve her breakfast.

Despite his complaints, he still fed her a mouthful of porridge with ease. Su Wanwan's chin pointed towards the meat bun. PEI Munian picked up the meat bun again and fed it to her mouth.

After breakfast, PEI Munian went upstairs to change her clothes. Su Wanwan followed her and helped PEI Munian change her coat. She took her tie and tied it for her.

After being married to him for so long, this seemed to be the first time she had put on a tie for him. It was also the first time she wanted to send him out to work like a virtuous wife, right?

However, this was the first time, and also the last time.

Su Wanwan lowered her eyes and was silent. She carefully tied her tie bit by bit, then reached out to smooth his suit. She tried hard to smile. okay, the tie I tied looks handsome!

In the future, the woman he liked would definitely not be as good as her. PEI Munian, you will regret it if you don't love me!

Su Wanwan stood at the door and watched PEI Munian's car leave. She returned to her room and sat on the bed in a daze for a long time. She raised her hand to wipe the corners of her eyes. She got up, walked to the dressing table, took out a pen and paper, and wrote a letter word by word.

She still did not have the courage to confess to PEI Munian about Xiao Zeze in person, so she could only use a letter as a substitute.
