Chapter 75 Why did you help her (7)

No one would have thought that Xi Zhiwei, who had always had the PEI family corporation as her backing and had been unscrupulous in the entertainment industry, would be slapped so hard by a down-and-out heiress that she did not even dare to fight back. Everyone was stunned by this scene and stood there in a daze, unable to react.

Xi Zhiwei had lost so much face in public that tears were already welling up in her eyes. She gritted her teeth and forced herself not to cry. Only then did her manager come back to her senses and quickly helped her to the lounge.

As soon as she entered the lounge, Xi Zhiwei's tears could not stop. They fell like a broken string of pearls.

The manager's heart ached for her, but she was also a little reproachful. Weiwei, look at you. You clearly know what your status is. I told you not to mess with the heiress of a rich family, but you didn't listen. Now, everything has been revealed. You were even slapped in public. Who knows what will be written in the newspapers tomorrow!

I said she's not a rich young lady. She's not even as good as me now! Xi Zhiwei growled in anger and her hands clenched into fists. If it wasn't Wanwan, if it wasn't Wanwan.

If she had not married PEI Munian, how could she still have any scruples?

Damn it, why was she always better than her? In the past, she had a good family background. Now, she had a good husband. She, Xi Zhiwei, had been working so hard, but she was still inferior to her.

"I won't just let it go like this, I definitely won't!"

Su Wanwan went to the bathroom and took out a wet tissue from her bag to wipe off the hot porridge on her calf. Her white skin was already red, and she frowned in pain.

She turned on the tap and poured cold water on it for a while, but the pain did not lessen much.

She couldn't drive anymore in this state. She took out her phone and called Xiaomei to ask her to come and pick her up.

After Xiaomei came over, she first sent su Wanwan to the hospital, applied medicine, and then sent her back to the villa.

Aunt Wu saw su Wanwan's appearance and was shocked. She quickly stepped forward and helped Xiaomei help su Wanwan in. Then, she helped her to the bedroom on the second floor. After putting her down, she asked with a worried face, "young Madam, what's wrong with you?" When I went out this morning, my leg was still fine!"

Su Wanwan didn't want to say much about her and Xi Zhiwei. She shook her head and said lightly: I accidentally scalded myself. It's nothing. I'll be fine in a few days.

Aunt Wu looked at su Wanwan's foot. Although it was already bandaged, she could see that it was definitely not a minor injury. She frowned and couldn't help but Mutter, " why are you so careless? if this young master sees this, he will be heartbroken to death.

Unfortunately, her voice was a little soft and su Wanwan didn't hear it clearly. She originally wanted to ask, but the pain in her foot took away her attention.

Aunt Wu saw that su Wanwan's expression wasn't good and didn't continue to ask anything. She only said, " young Madam, then you should rest first. I'll call you when I'm done cooking dinner.

Su Wan nodded her head. okay.

Auntie Wu turned around and left the bedroom. She closed the door gently and went downstairs. Just as she was about to go to the kitchen to prepare dinner, the phone rang. She quickly walked to the living room and picked up the phone.

The call was from PEI Munian, who said that he would not be coming back tonight. With that, she was about to hang up.

Aunt Wu hesitated for a moment, but before he hung up, she said, " the young Madam is injured!
