

Deeply 757

757 So, he really loved her (11)

Su Wanwan gasped softly, " Aiya, I got it.

PEI Munian's dark eyes swept over her. He took a tissue from the table and was about to wipe it for her. Su Wanwan grabbed his hand and said unhappily, " "Niannian, in this case, shouldn't men help women kiss away these bubbles?"

PEI Munian was stunned for a moment before she retracted her hand. Her slender fingers pinched her face without restraint. are you watching those nonsensical idol dramas at home every day now? "

During the period after her surgery, she liked to watch idol dramas on her iPad every day. During that period, she was even fascinated by a few oppas.

"What nonsense is this? That was a beautiful and romantic love drama, okay? You men should watch more of those dramas and learn how to be romantic!"

Su Wanwan raised her head and pouted her lips. come on.

This woman really is Yingluo.

PEI Munian's lips curled up. Then, he got up slightly and leaned towards her. His long fingers pinched her chin and his thin lips kissed her, kissing away all the foam on her lips.

A light kiss made su Wanwan feel exceptionally sweet. At the same time, she seemed to hear the heartbreak of the female employees in the restaurant.

PEI Munian raised her hand to look at her watch and said, " "It's almost time. I have to go back. You can go back."

Since she got what she wanted, she had to stay here. Su Wan quickly said: "I won't disturb you any longer. I'll go home first."

"Okay, I'll get the driver to send you."

"No need, I can go back by myself. You go back to work. Don't tire yourself out. Remember to eat."

"Alright," he said.

PEI Munian sent su Wanwan to the elevator, but su Wanwan didn't let him. As soon as the elevator door opened, she walked in, waved at PEI Munian, and then pressed the close button.

After PEI Munian was gradually blocked by the closing elevator door, su Wanwan couldn't wait to take out the divorce agreement from her bag. The answer was right in front of her!

Su Wanwan's hand trembled unconsciously. She closed her eyes, took two deep breaths, and then opened her eyes. Her hand was still trembling as she opened the divorce agreement.

She flipped through the pages one by one. The paper was obviously not new and the content on it was the same as what she had asked the lawyer to draft before. Su Wanwan's eyes flickered and then she turned to the last page.

At the signature area, her signature and PEI Munian's signature were both printed in her eyes. Su Wanwan's hand suddenly covered her mouth.

This divorce agreement was really the one that they had signed at that time. Niannian clearly said that the agreement was lost, but it was still lying in his office drawer.

This meant that it wasn't that Wanwan niannian didn't want a divorce, but that Wanwan didn't want a divorce. Then, when he said that he wanted to marry Xi Zhiwei, perhaps there was really an inside story?

Otherwise, how could he marry Xi Zhiwei with the status of a married woman?

Niannian kept this divorce agreement and didn't go to file for a divorce. They had been maintaining their marriage relationship. Did this mean that he had been waiting for her? Or perhaps, he had never thought of cutting off all ties with her?

The cold words he had said to her before were all fake, right?

Then could she guess that niannian actually loved her?

Su Wanwan looked at the divorce agreement in her hand in a daze. Little by little, tears floated up from the bottom of her eyes. Did niannian really love her?
