774 Force out his true heart (14)

After Shen Ziwei drove for a while, he glanced at su Wanwan. She was listless and listless just now, but now her eyes were shining with a bright light, and the light inside flickered.

Shen Ziwei's eyes flickered with surprise, and he couldn't help but ask, "Why are you so happy all of a sudden?"

"Ah? Did I?"

"The corners of his mouth are almost behind his ears, what do you think?"

Su Wanwan reflexively touched the corner of her mouth. That upward arc indeed foreshadowed her happy mood. so it's so obvious? "

"What can make you so happy in an instant? It can't be because I agreed to go out to sea with you, right?"

why not? it's because you agreed to go out to sea with me, so I'm very happy now, very, very happy! As su Wanwan spoke, she even directly hummed a song.

In the past, she would not have dared to do such a thing because she had to have something to rely on. Back then, she did not know PEI Munian's feelings for her and only thought that he hated her. Doing such a thing would only bring humiliation to herself. However, things were different now.

She knew about PEI Munian's feelings and that he loved her, even if he was unwilling to admit it or face it now.

However, it was precisely because of this that she had to take the risk!

Of course, she might fail, or PEI Munian might not care at all and would not come. However, she still believed that once one loved someone, one could not be completely indifferent.

Just like her, how much jealousy had she suffered from Xi Zhiwei because she loved PEI Munian? During her time in England, she had gritted her teeth and refused to leave even when there was no hope. She had judged others based on her own judgment, and she believed that niannian would come.

After su Wanwan's car left, Xi Zhiwei slowly walked out from behind the pillar. She looked at the phone in her hand, the corners of her lips raised evilly and overflowed with a cold smile.

Last time at the banquet, PEI Munian protected su Wanwan like that and ruthlessly slapped her in the face. What was the result? She, su Wanwan, also didn't appreciate it!

She knew that su Wanwan didn't really love PEI Munian. She must have had other motives for getting close to him. However, she was indeed bold. She was pestering PEI Munian and at the same time, she dared to be intimate with another man.

If she didn't guess wrong, this man might be the Father of su Wanwan, that b * stard! She must have been with this man the year she disappeared. Otherwise, the two of them wouldn't have been so intimate.

PEI Munian did not believe what she had said before. Now that he had these photos, he would believe her a little, right? As long as he went to test that b * stard's DNA again, su Wanwan would be completely finished!

The more Xi Zhiwei thought about it, the prouder she felt. She quickly called PEI Munian's number, but after a few calls, she did not pick up. Xi Zhiwei angrily hung up the phone.

Ever since the banquet, PEI Munian didn't pick up her calls much. It's all that damn su Wanwan's fault!

It didn't matter, anyway, let's see who would have the last laugh!

Xi Zhiwei put her phone away and walked out of the hotel. She immediately hailed a taxi and headed to the PEI family corporation.

She didn't sleep much last night. Tonight, because of her excitement, su Wanwan still couldn't sleep. Su Wanwan pulled out the photos on her phone and looked at the family photo of her and PEI Munian that was taken at that time. Her fingertips fell on his expressionless handsome face and she couldn't help but poke his cheek. cheapskate, when will you calm down? "

Su Wanwan pressed the phone to her chest and sighed, "Xi Zhiwei should have shown you the photos by now, right? How would you react?"
