

Deeply 797

797 Are you really giving up?(1)

“Yes, I left of my own will.” Su Wanwan slowly nodded. A layer of fog rose in front of her eyes and blurred her vision. She let go of her hand and stepped back until she leaned against the wall behind her.

Su Wanwan curved her lips, but tears flowed out from the corners of her eyes. She sniffed hard, suppressed the desire to cry, and tried hard to smile.

PEI Munian, you can spend the rest of your life with me like that, but I can't do it. I want the person who will be with me for the rest of my life to be the one I love and the one who loves me, not a partner.

of course, I don't have the right to blame you. You gave me a chance a year ago, and I was the one who gave up on you first. But niannian, even if you don't believe me, I still want to tell you that I didn't leave you a year ago because I didn't love you. I, Wanwan.

Su Wanwan still wanted to explain herself, but when she looked up, she saw PEI Munian's cold eyes and the mocking curve of her lips. The words in her throat stopped.

It was just as she had imagined. It wasn't that she didn't want to talk about the past, it wasn't that she didn't want to explain, but if she didn't want to believe what she heard, then it would be useless.

“Forget it,” he said.

Su Wanwan took two deep breaths and stared at PEI Munian with her beautiful big eyes. She said word by word, “if you really can't accept me and believe me, then forget it. Anyway, our marriage only exists in name. It doesn't matter if we have a divorce paper. And even if we don't divorce now, in a few months, we'll be separated for almost two years. At that time, as long as we Sue, we can still divorce.

Su Wanwan suddenly thought of something and laughed at herself. we've talked about divorce so many times in this marriage. Maybe we're really not suitable.

I won't disturb you anymore. PEI Munian, B-goodbye.

“Don't, don't make me stay, if you can't fulfill my request!”

The hands hanging on both sides of her body clenched hard. Su Wan closed her eyes and opened them again. A trace of determination flashed through the bottom of her eyes. She straightened her body, lifted her feet, and walked in the direction of the door.

One step, two steps, three steps.

The man behind her didn't react. Su Wanwan bit her lower lip fiercely. Damn it, PEI Munian really let her go like this?

Su Wanwan's steps subconsciously became smaller, almost like a snail crawling. Finally, the sound of footsteps came from behind and su Wanwan's heart suddenly became happy.

PEI Munian still couldn't bear to leave her, right? If he caught her, she would take back her words and continue to work hard!

The sound of footsteps gradually approached. Su Wanwan's heart couldn't help but beat extremely fast. Her hand had a slight tendency to lean back so that it was easier for him to hold it. However, the rustling footsteps approached, but they didn't stop in the slightest. They brushed past her shoulders and walked straight past.

".....?"

Su Wanwan froze there and looked at the man's back as he strode forward without any hesitation. She was so angry that she laughed.

PEI Munian, you big bastard!

Su Wanwan fiercely gritted her teeth and rushed up like an arrow. She jumped on his back, wrapped her hands and feet around his body, then gritted her teeth and fiercely bit the side of his neck.

Su Wanwan's bite was extremely strong and she quickly tasted a trace of blood in her mouth. PEI Munian groaned and her eyes quickly sank. She gritted her teeth and said, "Su Wanwan!"
