The phone suddenly rang, breaking the warm atmosphere in the room.

PEI Munian's movements suddenly paused. His dark eyes looked at the phone on the bedside table. The screen was flashing and a gloominess surged in his eyes.

Su Wanwan heard the ringtone of the mobile phone and subconsciously frowned.

During this period of time, it seemed that there was always a phone ringing when they were in love. It was fine once or twice, but it was too annoying if it rang too many times.

It was fine if she was busy with work before, but wasn't PEI Munian no longer the CEO of the PEI family today? Hadn't they already handed over their work? Why did assistant Wu call me so late at night?

Su Wanwan couldn't help but prop herself up and reach out to take her phone. let me pick her up. I want to talk to assistant Wu. If there's anything, let him report it in the morning. Why is he always calling in the middle of the night? "

However, just as su Wanwan's hand was about to touch the phone, PEI Munian picked up the phone before her. it must be an important business. Assistant Wu would call at this time.

PEI Munian's hand gently caressed su Wanwan's cheek as if she was comforting her. be good, I'll go take a call first. We're going on a honeymoon, so we have to settle everything here first.

After saying that, he leaned down again and planted a kiss on su Wanwan's forehead. Then, he got up and got off the bed, walking towards the balcony.

Su Wanwan pursed her lips and stared at PEI Munian's back. She was extremely depressed. Why did it feel so difficult for them to make love? In the past, she had tried all sorts of ways to push him down, but she had not been able to. Now that they were in love, accidents kept happening.

Damn it, why does it always come at such an unfortunate time?

However, she could still understand PEI Munian's complaints. After all, he had pushed off all his work to stay by her side when she was recuperating in Switzerland. He was originally very busy.

Su Wanwan saw that PEI Munian probably wouldn't be able to finish the call for-while and the feeling she had just been brewing disappeared. After the heat subsided, she remembered that the scars on her body had not fully recovered. How could she be seduced by PEI Munian again? she didn't know if he had seen those ugly marks just now.

Su Wanwan couldn't help but cover her face. She quickly put on the clothes that had been taken off and wrapped herself up tightly.

PEI Munian came back after the call and saw su Wanwan curled up like a silkworm on the bed again. She couldn't help but raise her eyebrows. this is Wanwan? "

Su Wanwan's big eyes peeked out from under the blanket. you're forbidden from getting close. Before the scars on my body fade, let's just chat under the blanket.

After a pause, she added, " you're the one who lost the opportunity. Don't blame me.

also, don't try to force yourself. I'll scream!

PEI Munian could not help but laugh. He threw the phone back on the bedside table and stepped onto the bed. His tall body pressed down on her again, and his low and flirtatious voice whispered in her ear, " "Then you can call me that. I like it."

"PEI Munian, you hooligan! A big pervert! Let me go, let me go!"

Su Wanwan hid under the blanket and kept struggling. PEI Munian pulled her blanket away effortlessly and pressed her under her body again.

The two of them were panting. Because they were so close, his breath fell on her face and hers on his face. They were entangled with each other.
