

Deeply 880

880 Niannian, you're so handsome (10)

Little brother, ah, ah, ah.

Ning Jingting unconsciously smiled again, her eyes shining brightly. Her fingers caressed PEI Munian's face in the photo without a trace, then she entered the number and dialed it.

The people ning Jingting had called arrived very quickly. They had almost all jogged over. Two men in suits and sunglasses walked up to her. When they saw ning Jingting's injured face, they frowned and asked worriedly, "miss, are you okay?" "We're sorry we're late."

Miss?

Su Wanwan subconsciously looked at ning Jingting next to her. She didn't expect her to be the daughter of a rich family and have bodyguards. This was quite a big show.

I'm fine. I don't blame you guys. I left you guys behind.

The bodyguard still seemed to blame himself and said in a deep voice, "miss, it's our negligence. Shall we send you back to rest first?"

As he spoke, he wanted to help ning Jingting up, but she waved him off. wait a minute.

"Yes."

After a while, PEI Munian came back with the medicine. Su Wanwan and ning Jingting stood up together. PEI Munian walked over and handed a bag to ning Jingting. your medicine.

Ning Jingting's bodyguard was about to reach out to take it, but she took it first. When she took it, her fingers touched his for a second. Her fingers trembled slightly, and her eyebrows twitched.

"Thank you," he said.

PEI Munian raised her head slightly, and his gaze swept past her and returned to su Wanwan. He raised his hand and stroked her head with his big palm. He naturally hooked her loose hair to her ear and said softly, "Wanwan, let's go.

"Yes."

Su Wanwan glanced sideways at ning Jingting and said with a smile, "Jingting, your bodyguards will take care of you. We'll be leaving first.

Ning Jingting was a little reluctant. She glanced at PEI Munian from the corner of her eyes, but his gaze was only on su Wanwan. He only looked at her and didn't look at her.

She couldn't help but feel disappointed, but she also knew that it was funny how disappointed she was. However, she still wanted to stay a little longer because they had just met by chance. If she left now, they might not have the chance to meet again in the future.

Her lips moved slightly, but in the end, she said in a hoarse voice, "sister Wanwan, where do you and Mr. PEI live? Let me give you a ride."

After saying that, she subconsciously glanced at PEI Munian and hurriedly added, " you guys saved me, brought me to the hospital, accompanied me for a check-up, and even bought medicine for me. I've been troubling you all the entire night. Let me send you guys back now.

"This Yingluo."

Su Wanwan didn't have time to answer when PEI Munian said indifferently, " "No need,"

After throwing these three words, he held su Wanwan's waist and directly took her away, not giving ning Jingting any room to stay.

Ning Jingting stood there, her dark eyes following PEI Munian's back. She bit her lower lip, feeling a sense of loss in her heart. However, she was helpless. Her hand unconsciously touched the sweater wrapped around her body, and her hand clenched slightly.

Su Wanwan only reacted after PEI Munian took her out of the hospital. She couldn't help but say, " niannian, Jingting also wanted to thank us. Aren't you being too straightforward in your rejection? "

When he had rejected her, she had clearly seen the sadness in her eyes.

"She just went through that kind of thing, so it's inevitable that she's very fragile now. You'll hurt her heart."
