Fortunately, he was lucky. Even if he was in so much pain that he couldn't hold on, even if he was in so much pain because of her, he still welcomed his happiness in the end.

For this moment, everything that had happened before was worth it.

Su Wanwan originally felt sad, but soon she smiled sweetly at his words. She curved her lips. Even though there were tears in the bottom of her eyes, she still couldn't hide the strong happiness.

alright, don't worry. I promise you that I won't put myself in danger again. I won't let you worry about me, okay? "

"You said so?" Su Wanwan raised her hand and extended her pinky finger to PEI Munian. pinky.

"Xuxu su Wanwan, aren't you childish?"

Su Wanwan didn't give up. I don't care, sign with me.

PEI Munian helplessly stretched out her hand, hooked her slender and well-proportioned pinky finger on su Wanwan's, and then put her two thumbs together. is this okay? "

"Yes, niannian, we made a promise. You have to keep it."

Su Wanwan broke into tears and laughed. Once again, she pushed PEI Munian to lie down and carefully applied the medicine for him. After applying it, she lowered her head and her red lips gently kissed his back.

PEI Munian pulled up her clothes, turned over, and wrapped her long arm around su Wanwan's waist, bringing her into her arms.

He lowered his head and kissed the center of her hair. His large palm patted her back and he said softly, " "Go to sleep."

Su Wanwan found a comfortable position in PEI Munian's arms. Her face was pressed against his warm chest. Her whole body was surrounded by his breath and she slowly relaxed.

While she was waiting for her to fall asleep, she chatted with PEI Munian. They talked about the beautiful scenery she had seen today, the dangers she had encountered today, and even the girl, ning Jingting.

Jingting seems to be from a well-to-do family. She said she's an overseas Chinese. Niannian, do you know any rich overseas Chinese with the surname ning? "

"I don't know,"

"You don't know?"

Su Wanwan was a little surprised. If it was a well-known family, with PEI Munian's connections, it was impossible for her not to know, unless it was some low-class family or a nouveau riche. But that ning Jingting's bodyguard looked well-trained, unlike the latter two. Moreover, after ning Jingting regained her calmness, she did have the temperament of a noble lady. That was innate. People who were raised by a real rich family all had that kind of temperament. PEI Munian was like this. She shouldn't be mistaken.

"I'm not interested in other people's business."

PEI Munian naturally knew that ning Jingting was from a wealthy overseas Chinese family with the surname ning. If he was not wrong, ning Jingting was from the ning family, one of the four largest overseas Chinese financial groups in the United States.

But no matter who she was, he was not interested. The only thing he was interested in was the woman in his arms.

".....?"

Alright, PEI Munian was not interested in other women. She was still very happy. Su Wanwan tactfully stopped this topic and put ning Jingting's matter to the back of her mind. Anyway, they would not have any intersection in the future.

However, not mentioning her, su Wanwan was also curious about Yu Jia's matter. niannian, how do you think Yu Jia and Lingyu are now? Leaving them in the hotel together, I wonder if anything happened."

Yu Jia was so angry at Gong Lingyu's rejection of her now. She was kind enough to make the decision to let Gong Lingyu come over, but she still felt a little embarrassed in her heart. She hoped that they could resolve their conflict properly and not make it worse.

Su Wanwan was still mumbling when PEI Munian's threatening voice sounded from above her head.
