Su Wanwan followed PEI Munian's line of sight and looked back. She couldn't help but exclaim, immediately closed the bathrobe, tied the belt around her waist tightly, and finally tied a dead knot.

PEI Munian looked at her childish behavior and laughed hoarsely. "Alright, let's have breakfast."

He carried su Wanwan to the outside of the terrace, where there were tables and chairs for afternoon tea. He put su Wanwan on the chair, then picked up a plate from the table next to him, put it in front of su Wanwan, and then opened the lid.

A Simple Western breakfast, bacon and fried eggs. Su Wanwan lowered her eyes to take a look. His appearance was actually not bad.

She pretended to be picky. are you sure you can eat it? "

PEI Munian pulled out the chair beside her and sat down. She directly picked up a knife and fork, cut a small piece of bacon, forked it up, and fed it to su Wanwan.

Su Wanwan glanced at him before opening her mouth and eating.

After chewing a few times, her eyebrows furrowed slightly. this taste is so strong.

PEI Munian curled her lips playfully, her eyes indifferent.

The next second, su Wanwan couldn't hold it in anymore and squinted her eyes in enjoyment. it's delicious! Niannian, I didn't expect you to have such a move. Like, like!"

"If it's delicious, eat more."

"Yes, yes."

Su Wanwan looked at him while eating. but niannian, how do you know how to cook? "

A young master like him, who had people serving him since he was young, should not have touched the sun and water. He actually knew how to cook. Simply, even if she urged her, she only knew how to make some simple dishes. She even needed someone to guide her.

"During the three years I was overseas, I would cook for myself occasionally."

In the three years when he indulged himself, in order to forget her, he tried to do a lot of things. As long as it could distract his attention and not let him think about su Wan, he would do anything.

PEI Munian's understatement made su Wanwan's heart ache. She heard some things about him from Lu Sheng. Although she didn't have a good time during those three years, ran ran was actually more ruthless than him.

In those three years, even if she had him in her heart, she could not disobey grandfather's orders. She still went around with men, went on blind dates with those men, and dated them. Even if she did not have any real intimate behavior with those men, she still felt guilty compared to him, who had always kept his chastity.

Su Wanwan pursed her lips and couldn't help but reach out to hug PEI Munian. Her face was pressed against his chest and her voice was slightly hoarse. niannian, we won't be separated again. In the future, I can cook for you.

"You're eating? Forget it, Yingluo, I'll make it for you."

".....?"

It was clearly such a touching moment, but it was ruined by his disdainful tone. Su Wanwan gritted her teeth and said fiercely: I don't care. You have to eat whatever I cook, and you have to admit from the bottom of your heart that my cooking is the best!

Wanwan, why didn't I notice Yingluo before? "

"What?"

"You're so thick-skinned?"

PEI Munian's hand pinched su Wanwan's cheek and carefully observed it. it's really thick!

Su Wanwan was not annoyed. Instead, she raised her small chin and smiled: "So be it, you can't return the goods anyway."

While the two of them were joking around, su Wanwan's mobile phone suddenly rang.

She stopped laughing and looked at the phone on the table. It was an unknown number.
