

Deeply 956

956 Who's that on the phone?(2)

I usually only call boss PEI during working hours. Unless it's an extremely urgent matter, I'll call him outside of working hours. However, I've never called boss PEI in the middle of the night before. Young Madam, did you remember wrongly? "

This time, it was su Wanwan's turn to be at a loss. She blinked her big eyes, as if she couldn't understand assistant Wu's words.

What did he mean by he had never called PEI Munian in the middle of the night? How many times had that damn phone call ruined her and PEI Munian's good times? How could she have remembered wrongly?

"You ran ran, you didn't beat him? Are you sure?" Su Wanwan's eyebrows were tightly knitted and her tone was a little more anxious. Are you sure? Think about it carefully."

It was impossible for her to remember wrongly. After all, if it had only been once, perhaps she would not have had a deep impression, but it had been many times.

From the time she was recuperating in Switzerland to her return, to their trip to martif, and last night, the phone calls had been non-stop.

She had also asked about it casually, and PEI Munian had tacitly agreed that it was a call from work.

"I really didn't." Assistant Wu looked at su Wan helplessly. young Madam, if there was, how could I not know? If you don't believe me, I can show you my call history on my phone."

He picked up the phone on the table, unlocked it, opened the call record, and handed it to su Wanwan.

Su Wanwan took it and her gaze fell on the phone screen. He did have a lot of call records with PEI Munian, but as he said, they were basically all during working hours. Even during non-working hours, it would not be past 10 O'clock in the evening.

Yesterday, assistant Wu's last call to PEI Munian was at 9:30 p.m. But su Wanwan furrowed her eyebrows and carefully thought about the phone call last night. It should have been around 10:30 p.m. Because when she was in a daze, she glanced at the clock on the wall.

If the time didn't match, then assistant Wu didn't remember wrongly. He wasn't the one who called Wanwan last night. No, Wanwan should be saying that all the late-night calls before this weren't from assistant Wu.

Then why did PEI Munian make her think that it was a call from work?

Was he lying to her on purpose?

As soon as this thought flashed in her mind, su Wanwan shook her head in disbelief. She couldn't even stand steadily and staggered two steps.

Assistant Wu saw su Wanwan's expression suddenly change and said worriedly, " "Young Madam, are you alright?"

He quickly stood up, walked around the desk, and reached out to help her.

Su Wanwan stood there in a daze and couldn't come back to her senses for a while. Assistant Wu had to help her to the sofa and let her sit down. Then, he put the lunch box in her hand on the table and said, "Young Madam, are you alright?"

"I'm fine."

Su Wanwan slowly shook her head and tried to calm herself down. She clasped her hands together, slightly exerted force, and took a deep breath.

She couldn't think of PEI Munian that way. Even if assistant Wu wasn't the one who made the call, perhaps she had other work to do? She couldn't let her imagination run wild like before.

Didn't niannian also tell her not to let her imagination run wild? He was always scaring himself.

That's right, she shouldn't let her imagination run wild. The right thing to do was to find out who the caller was.

Su Wanwan licked her dry lips, raised her eyes, looked at assistant Wu, and said, "apart from you, is there anyone else who would report to mu Nian about work matters?"
