

Deeply 960

960 Who's that on the phone?(6)

She walked to her car that was parked by the side of the road, unlocked it, opened the door to the driver's seat, and sat in.

Spreading out the paper in her hand, su Wan's Black eyes stared at the eleven-digit phone number on it. She bit her lower lip, then she took out her phone and quickly entered these numbers.

However, after she finished typing, she deleted all of them and threw the phone back into the passenger seat. She started the engine, turned the steering wheel, stepped on the gas, and joined the traffic.

She drove slowly, her eyes scanning the sides of the road. When she saw a phone booth, she turned on the light, turned around, and stopped by the side of the road.

She unbuckled her seat belt and took out a few coins from her wallet. She then picked up the piece of paper and pushed the door open to get out of the car.

Walking to the phone booth, su Wanwan took out a coin from her palm and inserted it. Then, she picked up the phone and pressed the numbers on it one by one.

A beeping sound came from her ear. Su Wanwan's heart unconsciously sped up and she was very nervous.

But after waiting for more than ten seconds, su Wan seemed to have waited for half a century. The other side finally picked up and a voice came over.

—

As the car drove slowly, PEI Munian sat in the back seat, leaning back and closing her eyes to rest.

Her phone suddenly rang, Breaking the Silence in the car. PEI Munian opened her eyes lazily and took out her phone from her pocket. Her eyes fell on the screen and she frowned.

After staring at the screen for a few seconds, his fingers moved and he answered the call. His voice was neither warm nor cold, and there was no emotion in it. speak.

—

Su Wanwan returned home in a daze. The voice she just heard kept ringing in her ears.

The person on the other end of the phone was a woman, but ran ran's voice did not sound like Xi Zhiwei's. It was a completely unfamiliar voice, at least she had never heard it before.

Even though the phone was not Xi Zhiwei's and she heaved a sigh of relief, she was still a woman who often called PEI Munian in the middle of the night. Moreover, PEI Munian had made her think that it was a call from work. She could not help but overthink this.

Who was this woman? What was his relationship with PEI Munian? Previously, she was still certain that PEI Munian would not make the mistake that all men in the world would make. Now, this certainty had somewhat shaken PEI Munian's heart. Could it be that he wanted to have another woman?

No, no, no. She still couldn't believe it.

In the Maldives, there were also beautiful women who threw themselves at him, but he didn't care at all. No matter how she looked at it, he didn't seem to be hiding a woman outside!

But his actions were really suspicious!

Su Wanwan walked to the entrance. Aunt Wu saw her and smiled, "Young Madam, you're back?" She stepped forward, took out a pair of slippers from the cabinet and placed them at su Wanwan's feet, but su Wanwan didn't move for a long time.

"Young Madam, what's wrong?" she asked, puzzled.

Su Wanwan furrowed her brows, so conflicted that her brows were about to be knotted. She looked at aunt Wu and unconsciously opened her mouth: "Auntie Wu, what do you think it means for a woman to always call a man in the middle of the night?"

"Ah?"

The sudden question stunned Wu Ju, and his first reaction was to say, "you called me in the middle of the night. Their relationship must be special.

Our relationship is not ordinary,

Su Wanwan's heart suddenly tightened. Yes, in this situation, no matter who saw it, they would feel that the relationship was not ordinary, right? She wasn't the only one who was thinking nonsense.