985 She's changed for the better?(1)

With that, PEI Munian lifted a foot and stepped forward without hesitation. Xi Zhiwei looked at him in horror and shook her head. no! she blurted out.

He was already crazy. For su Wan, he actually didn't care about Hanhan. What she wanted was his person. What was the use of taking his life?

"Don't be scared."

Xi Zhiwei's voice was choked with sobs and her face was ashen. She had lost, she had really lost.

It turned out that not everyone could threaten PEI Munian. It turned out that only the people she cared about could threaten her. She thought that PEI Munian would at least care about her a little, but it turned out that she did not.

The strength in her body was drained away and Xi Zhiwei seemed to have lost all her life in an instant. The nanny and doctor had already quietly approached her. When they saw this, they quickly helped her down from the railing.

Su Wanwan also walked quickly towards PEI Munian. She grabbed PEI Munian's hand with both hands and almost pulled him down by force. When his feet landed on the ground, she punched him hard in the chest. Before she could speak, her tears had already fallen.

"PEI Munian, you bastard, do you know that you scared me to death? You scared me to death, Yingluo."

Just now, she almost thought that PEI Munian was going to jump down. How could this person do such a dangerous thing? He's really a bastard!

PEI Munian let her hit her as she held her firmly in front of her with her long arms. Her thin lips parted slightly, and her voice deliberately carried a relaxed smile. I'm fine, aren't I? Don't be afraid, okay?"

"You're not allowed to do such a dangerous thing in the future. You're not allowed to do it!"

Su Wanwan clutched PEI Munian's clothes tightly and looked up at him with her tear-stained face. She gritted her teeth and her voice trembled.

"Alright, I won't do it. Whatever you say."

PEI Munian's big palm caressed the back of su Wan's head, her fingers gently rubbing and comforting her. She lowered her head, her thin lips gently kissing her forehead, and said softly, "It's alright, don't cry."

He pushed su Wanwan away a little and wiped the corners of her eyes with his fingers. He wiped away the tears bit by bit, gently and carefully.

Xi Zhiwei, who was being supported by the nanny and the doctor, slowly looked up. The man held the woman in his arms, his voice gentle and caring. The gentleness in the man's eyes seemed to be the most beautiful thing in the world.

She had always wanted to have such a beautiful thing, so she tried her best and used all means, but it was still in vain. Su Wanwan, on the other hand, had always been so lucky from the past until now. She always easily took away everything she wanted. How could she be willing?

What right did she have! Why?

After su Wanwan's mood had calmed down a little, PEI Munian took her to Xi Zhiwei. His gaze fell on her pale face that was completely drained of blood. He said in a deep voice, " don't make a fuss anymore. Rest well. Doctor Chen will always be with you. As long as you relax, take your medicine on time, and receive treatment, your condition can be controlled. As for your physical illness, elder Lin will come to L city next month. He will also treat you, as long as you are willing. Your body will be able to recover."

As long as she was willing, her body would recover?

It sounded so nice that Hanhan did so many things just to make her clear her name and pay back what he owed her, but how was that enough?
