

Destined with You #Chapter 13 - 18 Return it back (3) - Read Destined with You Chapter 13 - 18 Return it back (3)

Chapter 13: Chapter 18 Return it back (3)

Translator: Nyoi-Bo Studio Editor: Nyoi-Bo Studio

A cool feeling swept over her. His fingertips were rough as they grazed her not yet healed skin, causing a sensation that was somewhat painful, somewhat itchy, and evoking an odd, inexplicable sensation.

Gu Qingxin knew she couldn't resist. Embarrassed, she bit her lips, keeping herself from making a sound.

But, it was as if this man was doing it on purpose, gently rubbing her skin over and over again. Gu Qingxin felt like it took an eternity before he finally stopped.

The moment his fingers left her, she finally sighed in relief, but her body felt strange, making her feel like she was no longer herself...

Gu Qingxin's face was so hot it was practically burning. Her legs, previously tightly clamped together, were forcibly spread apart. Gu Qingxin watched in horror as the man in front of her scooped out more ointment and held it out to her.

"What are you trying to do? Don't touch there! Ah!" Gu Qingxin screamed out loud, struggling frantically.

"Shut up, scream again and I will force myself on you!" Beiming Han threatened coldly. If it wasn't for her ability to elicit a reaction from him, he would have thrown her out of the car by now.

Gu Qingxin clenched her lips tightly, looking at the man in front of her with terrified eyes, fearing that he would do that thing to her again.

Upon finishing with the medication, Beiming Han picked up a contract and threw it on Gu Qingxin, saying, "Sign this."

Gu Qingxin bit her lip and clenched her legs tightly. Her body felt like it was burning up. She forced herself to calm down and looked at the so-called contract that had fallen near her feet.

"Could you first untie me? How can I read with my hands tied?" Gu Qingxin thought she was going mad. She couldn't understand how she had managed to set herself up with this man.

Beiming Han untied the tie around her hands. Gu Qingxin immediately used the tattered skirt to wrap herself up. The places he had just touched felt as if they were on fire.

While holding up her skirt with one hand, Gu Qingxin picked up the so-called 'contract' from the floor with the other. The cover had only a few words on it, with a strange serial number.

When she opened it and saw the content, her hand shook fiercely. It read that she owed this man a hundred billion and that she had to fulfill his every need unconditionally to offset the debt until it was paid in full.

Gu Qingxin was utterly vexed. The man was serious about what he said this morning!

"Sir, I think it's essential to explain that what happened yesterday was an accident... I was drugged by my friend and was not of sound mind when I was with you... I am also a victim."

"Beiming Han."

Beiming Han had already poured himself a glass of red wine. His well-defined hand held the delicate wine glass and suddenly appeared so perfect, as if he had brought the glass to life in his hand.

Despite his handsome side profile, Tang Rongling, however, was in an entirely different league compared to him. Like a character straight out of a manga, Beiming Han was unbelievably handsome.

"Hm?"

"It's my name." Beiming Han threw his head back, finishing the drink in his glass in one gulp.

It took Gu Qingxin a second to realize. His last name was Beiming?

Gu Qingxin's hand quivered again. Who in A Country didn't know about the Beiming Family? They were an ancient, mysterious family.

In A Country, the Beiming family held tremendous power, controlling the nation's economic lifeline.

The current President, Beiming Yu, was a descendant of the Beiming family.

"Beiming Han!" Gu Qingxin repeated his name, furrowing her brows..

Tip: You can use left, right, A and D keyboard keys to browse between chapters.

