"Oh~💎💎 So I can also farm some skills from my Tier 2 Class here. And this skill is too OP, but the starting damage is not that high and the cooldown is quite long, so I need to make sure that I can kill my target before using this skill." said Shin smilingly as he read the details of the Skill Book.

Then he put the items inside his inventory bag before looking at the other battlefields. Whitie and Blackie just finished their battle, while the Sun and Moon Clones killed the werewolf that they were dealing for quite sometime already.

Shin ordered them to take the loots and bring them to him together with the corpses of the King Class Werewolves. Then he started dismantling Lycan's corpse. After that, he dismantled the corpses of the other werewolves too.

Then he rest for a little, waiting for his MP and HP to return back to full, as well as his Clones and pets. After recovering themselves back to peak, Shin and his gang resumed back to their work.

Real World, World Gaming Corp. Headquarters. Carlos is currently wearing a solemn expression on his face as he walks towards Troy's office with a great speed.

He swung open the door of the room when he arrived at Troy's office and shouted. "What mess did you do this time Troy!!!?? Are you..."

Carlos immediately swallowed back what he wanted to say when he saw what Troy is doing. "What The!?!?..."

He saw Troy leaning comfortably on his office chair while watching a battle of a player and his Clones and Pets against a bunch of Harpies. Troy is also eating some popcorns as if he is watching a movie.

Troy give Carlos a sidelong glance before saying to the later. "If you are here to accuse me with something, then I'm really innocent this time."

"F*ck! Then how did that kid manage to get that Quest? And base on his progress, there is a tendency that he can get a 'Dual'!!!" said Carlos frustratedly.

"Well that was one of this kid's ability. He is quite a lucky person after all. And he is quite smart at solving some tricky quests. He even tricked a Void Spirit to become his Companion instead of fighting him. You see that too, right?" said Troy casually without removing his eyes on the virtual screen.

Then he added after some thought. "And didn't you guys already put him on the list of Miracle Players? Then you should have expected him to do things that are outside of your imagination and can surpass AI Chronos' calculations."

"And from what I have heard, some of the Miracle Players on the list are inactive in the game for quite some time already, so the players that you need to monitor is lessen. And that also means you have more available people for the work."

Carlos clicked his tongue and replied dejectedly. "Tsk, that was one of our problems. Some of my people were sicked because they of overworking themselves at monitoring these Miracle Players."

"Then that was not my problem anymore. And them being sick might not true, because the players that were assigned to them to monitor are not online for quite some time, so they think that they deserve a vacation or something." said Troy.

"D*mn! Do you think I don't know that? But what can I do? Those guys are already on their sick leave." said Carlos irritably.

"Then just send them some special notice or something. Just tell them that it is an emergency. And don't pass your problems to me, If you don't have anything better to do, then please don't disturb my snack time and leave me alone." said Troy while shooing Carlos away.

"Ah!? And one more thing, this this kid really have the ability to get that 'Dual', so you guys better report it now to the Chief, so that you and the others become prepared for the next meeting." said Troy nonchalantly.

Carlos knitted his brows and look at Troy and asked confusedly. "Me and the others? Then how about you?"

Troy give him a quick glance before pointing at the virtual screen and saying with a tone as if he is starting the obvious. "Can't you see that I'm monitoring this kid? So it is natural for me to have my proposal ready before the next meeting, right? I know his every move after all."

The corner of Carlos' mouth twitch a little after hearing that and asked. "And why the hell are you monitoring that kid? That is not part of your job."

Troy give Carlos another sidelong glance before before saying in a nonchalant manner. "Didn't I already told you that I am one of his fans?"

"F*ck!" cursed Carlos as he release a helpless sigh before massaging his temples and muttering to himself. "D*mn! Zero and the others are already troublesome to deal with. Now, another problem child appeared out of nowhere, and giving us a lot of headache. I feel like that I'm aging too fast these past few days." After that, Carlos walked out the room and leave Troy alone.

Moo~!

A giant Minotaur fall on the ground as Shin give his finishing blow. And the first thing that Shin do after killing the Minotaur is to check out the loots. And he immediately become disappointed when he didn't saw the thing that he want to see.

"D*mn! Still no Skill Book? This is the fourth monster race yet I only get a single Skill related to Reaper Class all in all?" complained Shin as take another look at loots that he gained.

"I wonder how strong is the set effect of this equipment set when it is completed. But isn't this set a little all over the place? Unlike the [Ruler's Equipment Set] that have skills that can compliment with each other, this set don't have any." muttered Shin to himself as he fell into a deep thought.

"And the thing that make confuse the most is this item." said Shin as he look at the black mantle that have bunch of gray feathers all over its outer surface aside from its hood.

"Why is this mantle not included to the [Dawn and Dusk Equipement Set]? But its name have a 'Dawn' in it. And there are only three monster bosses left, so where can I find the last piece of the set if this one is not included?" muttured Shin while knitting his brows.

But Shin immediately disregard that idea when he can't think of anything . "Nah! Let's wait for a little more, and see what is going to happen next."

Then he stood up, turn his head at his group and said. "Alright Boys! Let's get back in action!"
