Chapter 1331 Duke North 2

Gu Chaoyan remembered this guard. He worked for Duke North.

Duke North had woken up, then?

He should have woken up by this point, but... He was asking for her?

Privately speaking... Gu Chaoyan did not have the intention of meeting Duke North. Gu Chaoyan had always regarded Duke North as her friend. However, because of the existence of the book Gu Chaoyan had the intention of dodging the meeting to avoid potential rumors.

Otherwise she would always feel strange when facing Duke North, as this thing is going on in her mind.

Duke North was not single and he had been married to Mrs. Duke North for a while. The story went that Madame Duke North kept talking about having a grandson, and she was engaged too, so if Duke North was thinking of her in this way, she might be a bit embarrassed to see him personally.

Therefore, Gu Chaoyan was hesitant about the meeting.

Also, if Duke North had woken up, he must be doing okay. He should recover gradually by taking Yinghan's medicine, so there was no need for her to visit him again.

Gu Chaoyan contemplated for a long while.

Zhou Huaijin was striding towards Gu Chaoyan from beside General Huangpu at this moment. Zhou Huaijin was wearing a white long gown with a black fox fur cloak outside. He had a serious and handsome expression on his face. He had a very exquisite face, so he looked really intimidating. When the guard working for Duke North saw Zhou Huaijin approaching, his eyes were full of guilt. Duke North was not lucky to have fallen for the girl who was already engaged to an outstanding being. So all Duke North could do was to hide his feelings. Duke North still had some lingering feelings for Gu Chaoyan, so he tried to help as much as he could.

He was still holding his neck stiff as he waited for Lady Chaoyan's reply.

"Duke North is awake, just go and visit him to see if he is well enough. You are his doctor, so you need to check on him so that people can be assured," Zhou Huaijin said gently. "We are done with the plan, and we can talk about what happens next."

Gu Chaoyan hesitated for a while, then she nodded.

She looked at the guard and said calmly, "In that case, let's go and check on him. Please show me the way."

The guard let out a large sigh of relief, but he did not show that in front of her. Instead, he started to lead the way a bit cheerfully.

Duke North was a Duke, and he was a chief, so he was not far from General Huangpu's tent, so they soon arrived.

Zhou Huaijin still had a few things to entrust to the hidden guards, so Gu Chaoyan went in alone.

As soon as she entered, she saw Duke North lying on the bed. It was the same as when he was at the imperial hospital in the court. He was seriously injured and couldn't get up. He could only lie there. The difference was that here the conditions were not as good as those back there, and the tent was very shabby, and General Huangpu had been offering the basin with coals to him.

Gu Chaoyan felt Duke North's pulse the moment she walked in.

She wanted to check how he was doing.

As she had expected, he was recovering well except for the external wounds that needed time to heal.

Duke North was also looking at Gu Chaoyan.

Chapter 1332 Duke North 3

Gu Chaoyan did not look any different. She looked distant yet attractive.

She was still wearing a plain white dress, because the weather had suddenly become cold, and it was probably still snowing outside. Therefore, she was wearing a fox fur cloak, which was made of white fox fur, and looked extraordinarily beautiful. This cloak must have been given by Lord Huai, since not even the aristocratic family could get such a cloak before. It seemed that only Lord Huai was capable of thinking of this idea.

She had changed a bit since the last time they met. She had become more skinny than before, probably because of the cold weather, or because Lord Huai had not taken good care of her.

She felt his pulse with her slightly cold fingers.

That was probably the shortest distance that could exist between them.

He wished that he were sick all the time so that he could maintain this moment. That moment was too short, like a flash, as Lady Chaoyan withdrew her hand.

She looked colder than before, something that she would not show without a reason. Normally, she would wear a small smile or talk about something in detail. Her eyes were always sparkling as she talked, but at the moment, she looked a bit defensive against him.

He glanced at the book of the Anecdote of Saint Divine – was it all because of the book?

The guard put the book next to him, but he had not touched it since he woke up.

On that day... when he got injured at Ning County, he thought that he would not survive the battle and that he might die.

At that time, his mind was blank and he didn't think about anything. He thought of the book, and he took it out from his sleeves, and held it tightly in his hand. He felt that everything was good and well, and he should let it be.

However, he woke up again.

She treated him! She gave him a second chance at life, but she also noticed the book.

He had not expected such a scene.

He wondered what Lady Chaoyan would think of him or how she would treat him, but he wanted to see her.

He just wanted to see her and tell her what the book meant, which had been his wish all along.

That was why he asked his guard to ask her to come.

And now...

She was sitting next to him.

She looked so pretty as she was writing the prescription for him.

He had no idea what the future would be like, but at the moment, he felt that his heart was burning with fire and he desperately wished that he knew what he should do.

“Chen Yangqing came down from Mount Changbai, where do you think he went, or was going. Wei Jie robbed the rich and saved the poor, do you think he was a thief or a hero? After Li Jin passed the examination, would he have a smooth life in court? Would he be able to marry the wife he loved, and what happened to the little beggar?” Duke North asked as he spoke calmly.

He was very curious about the answers to these questions.

He had read the stories repeatedly, and he could even recount in detail what happened to those people, but he wondered what happened to them after everything.

He had been wondering about this when he was reading the book.

He decided to speak with Lady Chaoyan about this as they discussed the stories seated in the sun and drinking tea.

Gu Chaoyan paused and looked at him.

Chapter 1333 Duke North 4

What Duke North asked about were all small stories in the Anecdote of Saint Divine, where different people with different identities were recounted, and that was why she liked it. She had not read through the whole book, but she had read a majority of the book.

The stories inside the book were just telling a small part, without the ending. That was why Duke North asked her these questions.

When she was reading the books, did she think about those questions?

No, she did not. The stories inside the book did not show an end, which was better for her taste.

Looking at him, Gu Chaoyan did not say a word. Duke North smiled with a shy expression. “Sorry, Lady Chaoyan, I love this book and find the stories inside very interesting, thus I studied it for such a long time. Sorry that I forgot to return it to you.”

“ ... ”

"I remember that only you have read the book, so I asked you involuntarily."

"..."

"I had not gotten a chance to meet you before, thus delaying the return of the book. Lady Chaoyan, now you are in the room, so here is the book."

"..."

"If we have a chance in the future, can we talk about this book?" Duke North asked seriously.

He looked calm, but he said everything purposefully.

He did not want Lady Chaoyan to know what he was really thinking.

He knew clearly that if Lady Chaoyan learned of his true purpose, she would ignore him. He wished that they could continue to stay in touch.

That was something that bothered him since he woke up.

He could not help but form a fist, waiting for her answer.

Gu Chaoyan looked at Duke North. She was a very slow-minded person when it came to relationships, but she was a very smart person as well. If she had not seen through Duke North's purpose today, she would have believed what he said, but she had understood what Duke North wanted, so when she looked at Duke North, she could tell that he was pretending to stay calm while telling her everything.

Gu Chaoyan let out a sigh of relief.

She understood that sometimes, she should be cruel enough to reject him, which was better for his sake.

"The prescription is written, and Yinghan will arrange the medicine to be delivered to you accordingly. As for the external wounds, Yinghan has cream that can heal it. So you can use what is given by her. You are basically fine now, so you can rest for another while before going back to the capital."

"..."

"As for the book, Madame Jiang gave that to me back then and she gave me many. I did not finish all of them, thus not being able to answer your questions. If you enjoy this book, you can keep it. If you finish it and want to return it to me, you can give it to Sword One who can put it away properly."

Having said this, she looked outside and found that it was getting very late.

As she thought of the unsettled array formation, she said straightforwardly, "I have other work to do, so I need to be off now."

Having said that, Gu Chaoyan turned around.

Zhou Huaijin had just walked in and said with a smile, "Chaoyan, we need to go now. It has stopped snowing and the air isn't that cold."

Having said this, Zhou Huaijin met Duke North's eyes.

Chapter 1334 Duke North 5

Duke North looked quite embarrassed. He had been feeling a bit disappointed but he still had hope in his eyes. However, when he saw Zhou Huaijin, his hope was gone instantly and he turned pale.

He could not help but clench his fists, looking really furious.

His guard was a bit worried as he looked at him. He was fully alert, fearing that Duke North would do something that he shouldn't.

Zhou Huaijin also noticed Duke North who was lying in bed, when he finished talking to Gu Chaoyan. He tugged at Gu Chaoyan's hands, whilst looking at Duke North.

Zhou Huaijin had seen through Duke North's mind ages ago, but Duke North was a person who knew how to control and restrain himself. Therefore, he could hide the real feelings he had inside the heart.

He had gotten married and his wife was a good choice, picked by his mother.

And he should be ready to give birth to children soon.

He had thought that when Duke North got married, he would forget about what was in his mind.

Unexpectedly, Duke North became even more loaded with his past feelings.

He even looked threatening at the moment.

Zhou Huaijin was a very generous, but possessive person. He could ignore some things, but not those that mattered to him. For example, he was never going to allow Chaoyan to be stolen away by anyone else as long as he was present.

He had given Duke North the chance, but right now, Zhou Huaijin could not help feeling very serious. He said to Duke North, "Duke North, if you are well now, just take a break. Apart from Doctor Yinghan, Chaoyan has brought Li Qing and Yu Feng with her, so you can turn to them for help as well, if you need anything."

"We have stopped the enemies at the moment, but we can't relax yet. We need to have more combat against them in the future. Chaoyan is different from the other women, and she may not have time to check up on you with a medical kit as often as before."

"..."

"Take care Duke North," Zhou Huaijin said.

Having said that, he walked up to Gu Chaoyan and took her hands. "The day is getting late and the snow has stopped, I will accompany you to check on the array."

Gu Chaoyan nodded.

It was the best time to form the array, so she needed to take this opportunity.

Duke North was well and as Zhou Huaijin said, Yinghan, Li Qing and Yu Feng were enough to take care of him.

She walked out of the tent with Zhou Huaijin, looking serious.

They had just left when Duke North collapsed in bed. He was no longer as strong as he was a while ago. Sword One glanced at Duke North, who did not seem to have the intention of returning the book. She sighed and left.

Duke North looked at the ceiling of the tent with a pair of tired eyes as if he had not noticed what was going on around him.

He once believed that Lady Chaoyan was different from the other women, thus feeling so different towards her.

He just thought that she was quite different, so he had the intention of speaking with her about the book so that his feelings could be settled.

Chapter 1335 Duke North 6

However, he never purposely found a chance, because he was aware that the feelings would not be gone like this. So he kept this hope inside his mind without being aware of it.

It was not until he almost passed away in the battlefield that he realized that Lady Chaoyan was so important in his heart.

It would never end, not with time passing by, but what more could he do?

The guard looked at Duke North, and found that he was in an even worse position compared to a while ago when he was in a coma.

"Duke North, please don't."

"..."

"You are awake and you can just take some medicine, so you can recover, please, be motivated!"

"..."

"Think about Madame Duke North and Ms. Duke North! Madame Duke North keeps thinking about getting a grandson by the end of this year, and Ms. Duke North is so nice and friendly. Everyone is jealous of you for marrying someone like that."

"..."

"You and Duke North Mansion are heading towards the right direction, so please, don't do anything stupid!" the guard said with excitement.

Having said that, he looked at the Anecdote of Saint Divine that was not taken away. "Since you are done with the book, and Lady Chaoyan doesn't care about it, I will burn it and everything will be gone."

"..."

"Everything will be gone!"

Having said that, he really reached out for the book.

However, Duke North was extremely fast as he already had the book in his hands, glaring at the guard.
"Just leave me alone."

Having said that, he discreetly held the book in his hands as if he were looking at a piece of treasure. He flattened the crumbled places, rather than looking at the guard whose words had been ignored by him.

In his eyes, he only had a mind for the book.

The guard lowered his head. He had tried, but things seemed to have become worse, especially after the death he almost experienced, Duke North seemed to have changed.

Hopefully, Madame Duke North and Ms. Duke North would not be hurt.

That was the only thing he could do as a servant.

Outside.

Snow flew about, but the wind was not as strong as usual, so it wasn't too annoying to walk outside.

Lord Huai held the umbrella, which was over Gu Chaoyan's head, so there was no snow on her but there was a lot on him.

In front of them was the gate of Xinyang.

They were going out of it.

As they passed by the gate, Lord Huai put away the umbrella, and continued forward as Sword One followed them.

Gu Chaoyan suddenly thought of something. She glanced back at Sword One, and saw that she had nothing in her hands, then she realized what was going on.

She was about to turn around when Sword One said with a guilty tone, "Elder Miss, it is my fault, I should not have offered him the book just because he asked me to."

Gu Chaoyan looked up at Sword One's eyes.

She paused and instead of walking forward, she gathered up her coat and said seriously, "That has nothing to do with you, a book is a dead thing that affects and changes nothing. Even without the book, things that will happen will happen, don't blame yourself."

Having said that, she walked out of the gate.

She was ready to make the array!

Chapter 1336 Less than a Woman 1

Sword One nodded, thought for a while and understood what she meant.

Then they continued forward.

Elder Miss was going to make the array, and Lord Huai was going to take care of her by her side, whilst her job was to guard them, making sure that no accidents happened.

It was still snowing outside.

At the gate of Xinzhou, some guards were worried that Lady Chaoyan would not see clearly when it became dark, so they held a torch, warming up the place as the sun went down.

It was still very quiet in Xinzhou, but everyone was very motivated.

At the military camp of the North Qi.

It was dead quiet at the chief's tent, where no one was celebrating like before.

They had lost a battle.

It was the first time for them to have lost a battle after the expedition.

Seated on the top chair, the Prince flung away the tea the maid had served, and the tea cup landed on the ground, smashing into pieces.

He looked extremely annoyed.

Those magical monsters all died outside the gate, and his soldiers were so stupid as to get themselves killed. Three thousand people had died, and they had no way of countering.

That was like a slap right in Xuan Lin's face.

He had never experienced such a failure before!

"What happened? Did they change the chief?" Xuan Lin asked coldly, as he glanced at his soldiers without any expression on his face.

The soldiers exchanged a look between themselves, feeling quite scared.

They were all aware of what their Prince was like. Everything was fine when they won the battle, but they had totally lost the previous battle, which made them quite scared.

They would get into huge trouble if their Prince vented his anger.

"Prince... they did have a new chief. Duke North is in a coma and almost died, so they had to change the chief, but they did not really have anyone useful. I seem to have seen that it was a woman in white giving them instructions. The Saint Divine Land really has no one to lead the troops, they even used a woman to do the work!" The soldier laughed at how the Saint Divine Land had no one to give instructions.

The soldier next to him poked him with his elbow, telling him not to say anything more.

They would all be in big trouble if he continued.

If they had won the battle they could just laugh at the Saint Divine Land for not having anyone except for a woman. That would have been a celebratory thing to do, but...

They had lost the battle!

The mention of a woman would make the situation look worse.

That basically meant that those soldiers were not even as good as a woman so they failed?

It was extremely stupid of him to mention that!

Hearing the word “woman”, Xuan Lin’s expression sank even more.

He glanced at the soldiers and sounded cold as he spoke. “Magical Monsters and so many soldiers are not even as good as a woman?”

The words had just been spoken, but he did not vent his anger.

He asked. “What did the woman in white look like?”

“She was too far away for me to see clearly. She looked good, but she had a red birthmark on her face, very scary.” The Right General added.

The woman in white had a red birthmark on her.

Xuan Lin seemed to have an idea about who she was.

He had met a woman when he visited the Saint Divine Land back then. He was standing right in front of her.

Chapter 1337 Less than a Woman 2

He had been humiliated by her too!

Xuan Lin had never forgotten about that.

Xuan Lin never liked the women from the Saint Divine Land, each of whom was very hypocritical. They kept talking about manners, but none of them stuck to that.

However, that woman was not the best looking one, yet she possessed the best temperament.

She was arrogant and special, but unfortunately, she was already engaged.

He had planned to invade all the way into the capital and take over the Saint Divine Land so that he could take whatever he wanted before, but he had not expected that he would run into her at Xinzhou!

And they were meeting under such circumstances!

She was the only woman in the Saint Divine Land who could do this work, so it was not very surprising that she appeared at Xinzhou.

She was indeed different from the others.

In this case, he really wanted to have her more than anything else. He was not going to wait until he took over the Saint Divine Land. Tomorrow, he would take over Xinzhou and her as well.

That would add more fun to his expedition.

Xuan Lin nodded and felt quite satisfied.

He loved special things.

He looked at his men.

All of them were just like pieces of trash.

“Tomorrow, we will march into Xinzhou after careful planning. I will be the leader and I want to get everything!” Xuan Lin looked very confident and spoke resolutely.

The reason why they failed today was because they had tested the ability of the Saint Divine Land and believed that they were not capable, thus being casual in marching forward, but if the North Qi Land could work on that, the Saint Divine Land would lose all of its chiefs and forces.

All of the soldiers were startled after hearing what Xuan Lin said.

The Prince was going to lead the army personally? That would not work! What if some accident happened, who would answer the consequences?

The Prince was only a prince, but everyone from the North Qi Land understood that the reason why the expedition went on smoothly was because the Prince had worked on it.

He was not yet the King, but he was better.

Only by following the Prince would they be able to reach the highest power and get the strongest position.

Therefore... the Prince had to be safe.

“No, don’t, Prince!” the Left General said urgently.

“No, please.” The Right General added.

Xuan Lin sneered.

They were just worried that if something happened to him, they would all be affected and not be able to get any profits.

He was well aware of what they were thinking.

“So you think you are going to do it? You want a woman to defeat us again?” Xuan Lin glanced at them disdainfully. Those people could do nothing but try to persuade him and even tried to get him out of the leading position.

Having heard what Xuan Lin said... no one dared to speak.

They could not guarantee that they would win the battle.

Well...

That woman was different from the other chiefs from the Saint Divine Land. She had many tricks, and they were not sure what other tricks they might run into. If they lost again, they would be in big trouble, and may even get killed when the Prince got angry.

No one dared to say anything at the moment.

Chapter 1338 Less than a Woman 3

No one dared to say anything more, so the whole thing was settled. Xuan Lin got up and went to do the planning for the next day, instead of glancing at these soldiers.

When Xuan Lin was gone, the soldiers wiped their sweat and followed.

Outside the gate of Xinzhou.

Gu Chaoyan had already formed the array and had almost covered every possible invasion. It was a huge project, so when she was done, Gu Chaoyan was covered in sweat. She was exhausted, yet she was in a good mood.

With this array formation on, Xinzhou should be safe for at least half a month.

The civilians and soldiers at the border could relax a little and focus on new countering methods.

Zhou Huaijin took out a handkerchief and wiped the sweat off her forehead, as he held up the umbrella and accompanied her back to the gate.

They shut the gate the moment they walked in.

General Huangpu and Wu Leng were waiting for them at the gate, so after seeing them return, they walked up and said, "How did it go, Lady Chaoyan?"

"The array is done, and the enemies should invade tomorrow, and they will be well prepared and have a lot of forces with them. We need to be cautious, but we don't need to be too worried. The enemies should fail tomorrow."

"The array formation should protect us for at least half a month, but it is not yet the time for us to totally relax. We need to find a new method to keep an eternal defense. The array won't last forever, so we have to have a long-term defense for the land."

"..."

"I feel a bit exhausted, so I need to take a break," Gu Chaoyan said calmly.

General Huangpu and Wu Leng greeted Gu Chaoyan politely.

Especially Wu Leng, who said gratefully, "Lady Chaoyan, half a month is already enough for us. If not for your array formation, we would have lost the defense and the enemies would have headed all the way to the capital."

Wu Leng was very straightforward and always said what was hidden inside his mind.

What he said was true, though not that pleasing to hear.

Gu Chaoyan suddenly felt speechless to comment about Wu Leng.

Gu Chaoyan said briefly, "Anyway, we have done a lot of work today, let's just have a good rest."

They all nodded, then Zhou Huaijin took Gu Chaoyan away.

As they went back to the room, the snow became heavier and the temperature dropped, but everyone was warm inside. Though they did not hold any celebratory events, they all knew that they were safe right now and many fellows were saved from death.

It was a very long night, but it passed by in silence.

The following morning, Gu Chaoyan ate a quick breakfast and went onto the gate.

She was not totally relaxed despite the array formation.

The enemies lost the battle and they definitely would not be convinced. So they must be heading here early in the morning and she needed to be guarding the situation.

Gu Chaoyan had just walked up to the top of the gate when the sound of footsteps was heard.

It was the enemies!

Everyone looked quite alarmed, but Gu Chaoyan looked calm.

She was watching the troops approaching the gate.

They had more than 10,000 people with them as well as many magical monsters.

The soldiers at the top of the gate could not help feeling quite frightened, but Gu Chaoyan still had a very calm expression.

She observed the enemies carefully.

Well...

Chapter 1339 Battle 1

The Prince appeared personally. He must be feeling quite uncomfortable about the lost battle last time, and he must be here to remove Xinzhou.

Unfortunately... their aim would fail this time too.

They were all alert as they watched the enemies approaching the gate.

The army from North Qi did not follow the regulation but surged forward directly, but... this time... the troops stopped at a distance far from them.

They stayed firm and had no intention of attacking.

General Huangpu felt quite nervous. They were standing, not too far from the array formation Lady Chaoyan made. He was wondering if the North Qi had noticed the array formation and thought about how to attack the city beyond that.

His fists were tightly clenched, as he asked quietly, "Lady Chaoyan, what is going on?"

"Nothing, just wait and watch." Gu Chaoyan was still very composed.

Gu Chaoyan was completely confident about the array formation, yet there might be an accident. Nevertheless, she had already come up with a back-up plan, thus being really calm.

She also wondered what the North Qi intended to do.

Xuan Lin was also observing Xinzhou as his army was being observed.

Sure enough... it was the woman who he ran into at the Saint Divine Land. Things were getting really interesting.

He would very much like to offer a chance for the Saint Divine Land.

"Who is your chief?" Xuan Lin asked arrogantly as he looked up at the top of the gate.

Zhou Huaijin took the central position.

The snow was quite heavy, and the wind blew up a corner of his cloak whilst he had some snowflakes on his eyebrows and hair. He looked really cold as he turned to Xuan Lin coldly. "It is me."

Xuan Lin laughed.

It was an indifferent laugh.

He did not care who the chief was, because he was definitely going to take over Xinzhou, but things would be very interesting if Lord Huai was the chief.

He was going to see what Lord Huai would do when he had to pick between his beloved woman and the land. However, no matter what choice Lord Huai was going to make, he was going to get the land and the woman in the end anyway.

He smiled ironically, "That makes things easier."

"..."

"I am here to make a deal with you."

"..."

"I am planning to take down Xinzhou today and you can see that we are going to achieve it because we have such large troops with us. But I am not a cruel person, I can give you ten days to retreat on one condition."

"..."

Xuan Lin looked at Gu Chaoyan who was not very far away from him. "The condition is that you should give your woman to me. Lord Huai, what do you think? That sounds like a really reasonable deal right?"

Zhou Huaijin looked at Xuan Lin with no expression on his face.

He had not intended to kill anyone today, due to the formed array formation.

However, the Prince was humiliating Chaoyan and he could not stand it any more.

He said calmly as if he were waiting for dinner, "Fire the arrows."

Chapter 1340 Battle 2

With that order given, all the soldiers started to shoot their arrows towards their enemies, without any hesitation. They looked furious, resolute and disgusted.

Lady Chaoyan was a very important person for them, for one thing, for another, the enemies had hurt their homeland and had become their worst enemies. They were going to take revenge for all the bad things they had done.

They were going to make them see the price they had to pay for what they had done!

As the arrows approached the troops of the North Qi Land, the soldiers were all shocked. They had been used to victories during the past few months, and they had offered to give the Saint Divine Land a path of life. However, the Saint Divine Land was attacking them directly.

The soldiers from the North Qi were very annoyed. They even intended to attack the town the moment the arrows came down to them, but the Prince had not yet given the order so they did nothing other than to hold up their shield.

Watching the arrows that came down at him, Xuan Lin smiled as he gazed at the top of the gate.

Lord Huai from the Saint Divine Land was so impulsive. He seemed so naive for being someone born from the imperial family.

However, Xuan Lin was not going to give them a path to life any more.

He was going to take down the town as well as Gu Chaoyan. He was going to rob her from the Saint Divine Land.

He did not like kidnapping. That was what he stuck with. That was why he decided to spare some time to talk with the Saint Divine Land about a deal.

Unexpectedly, his well-prepared condition did not receive any agreement.

Anyway... in this case, Xuan Lin was going to break his custom for that woman.

He was going to take her to his side.

She was smart enough to help the Saint Divine Land win a battle, so she was worth being stolen.

Xuan Lin looked extremely arrogant. He did not care about the arrows but said calmly, "What are you staring at? You are here today and you are going to take down everything and everyone in Xinzhou!"

"..."

"Everyone up!" Xuan Lin said calmly.

The soldiers got so excited as they heard the order. They looked at the gate of Xinzhou and shouted.
“March on, take down Xinzhou!”

Instantly, all the soldiers around Xuan Lin as well as the magical monsters headed towards the gate of Xinzhou.

Xuan Lin was standing and waiting quietly for the gate to be opened, then he could walk in.

He was very prepared, and was sure that it would take less than a quarter of an hour before Xinzhou was his.

Xuan Lin took this chance and said indifferently to his Left General. “I am going to get that woman at the top of the gate, so bring her to me by any means, but don’t get killed.”

Left General nodded and was about to lunge forward.

Suddenly... the sound of groaning arose.

Things became very strange, different from what they had expected.

“What is going on?” Seeing the scene in front of him, Xuan Lin asked anxiously.
