

Doomsday 64

Chapter 64: Mutated dog

Di Ping took Gina to the entrance of the supermarket, and looked in the direction Gina indicated. As expected, there were five or six mutant dogs of various dog breeds on the street, sniffing around on the street, and they even went in from time to time. I turned things in the street shop, but they were too big, either knocking over the table or knocking down the shelves, and there was a bang, and they seemed to be looking for food.

At this time, Yue Lie and Liu Han also followed. Standing behind Di Ping and looking at them, they saw five or six mutant dogs that were as big as tigers. The pores of their bodies were shrinking immediately. , If it was showered with ice water from the head, the body shuddered involuntarily, and the courage that had just been plucked up with each other quickly faded.

At this time, Gina suddenly wanted to go out as soon as she took a step, but Di Ping stretched out her hand to stop her. Whenever something happened, she made women not his style. Besides, he mainly wanted to get familiar with skills and enrich his combat experience. There is a sense of urgency. I feel that this world seems to be becoming more and more dangerous. If I don't grow quickly, it is very likely that it will be difficult to survive in this end time.

Gina stopped obediently, while Di Ping slowly walked out of the supermarket and down the steps under Yue Lie and Liu Han's extremely puzzled eyes, and walked to the center of the street and stood there, quietly looking away. The mutant dog at the place.

"He... is he crazy?"

Liu Han looked at Di Ping like a monster, the star-eyed boss, stammered.

"Yes... it is possible!"

Yue Lie was also forced, wondering if this person was going to die?

Originally, the two thought that the man and the woman were really capable, because the aura just now was too scary, and only the legendary martial arts masters could give out such an amazing aura, but at this time, are they crazy?

Just walked to the middle of the road swayingly, really thinking that the mutant dog is your relative?

"It's over, it's over!"

The two looked at each other, and both saw a deep weakness and sadness in each other's eyes.

"To shut up!"

At this time, a soft but dissatisfied husk came. Gina looked at the two with a cold face. Anyone who dares to be disrespectful to the owner is disrespectful to herself. She really wants to kick these two people out. Said the owner was crazy.

"Oh!"

Yue Lie and Liu Han heard Gina's dissatisfaction, especially that beautiful face was as cold as ice, and the blue eyes were gleaming like a deep spring, deep and gloomy, and the two immediately trembled when they saw it. Shut up honestly.

"Wow....."

A big living person like Di Ping walked into the street like a five-kilowatt electric light bulb. He was immediately spotted by the mutant dog, and suddenly screamed, attracting the attention of all his colleagues.

"Wow....."

The mutant dog, who was rummaging for something, heard the calls of his companions and rushed to the street frantically. When he saw Di Ping in the street, he roared violently, blood-red eyes with bloodthirsty excitement and sharp claws. The paddling on the ground seems to be ready to rush up at any time.

At this time, a huge yellow wolf dog as strong as a mule and horse rushed out of a store. It was obvious that the wolf dog was the head. When the five anxious mutant dogs saw the wolf dog come out, they immediately uttered a whimper. After a few steps back, the wolf dog ran to the five mutant dogs and stared at Di Ping with blood-red eyes, and roared in a low voice. The person with the trembling voice became muffled, and his mouth opened, revealing a sharp mouth. His teeth were ticking down.

There are many types of wolf dogs in China, and they are generally hybrids of wolves and dogs. Many police dogs in China are of this type. Later, they were introduced into the people because of their ferocious and human nature.

This kind of wolfhound is more fierce, aggressive, and generally larger in size. Even in the face of a real tiger and wolf, they dare to go forward and desperately. Many fierce bandits also retreat when encountering this kind of dog. This is just an ordinary hunting dog, and this is true. The mutant breed of, after the mutation, there is already a giant dog of adult height, let alone face it, just seeing it will weaken.

"Woo....."

Suddenly the wolf dog raised its head and barked, and the sound pierced the sky. The five mutant dogs behind it seemed to have heard the command. With a low growl, the body made a fierce bow, the limbs slammed, and the body immediately shot like a cannonball. He came out and pounced straight at Di Ping.

"Fire strengthening!"

Di Ping was ready to make a quick fight this time. It was too close to the square. The roar of the wolf just now might have brought dozens of animals over in the square, so he was not talking nonsense. With a thought, the Han sword in his hand was shaken. A burst of fiery energy began to spread across the sword.

This kind of flame is very interesting. Although it looks like the flame is burning, it does not hurt the Han sword itself, but once it hits an object, the burning power of the flame is so powerful that it makes people scared. He didn't even touch his body with blood, and the wounds were all sealed like high temperature burning blood.

"Damn, what is that?"

Liu Han saw that the long sword in Di Ping's hand suddenly turned red, and the sword seemed to be burning with flames, and suddenly looked silly!

Originally, both of them had the urge to run into the supermarket immediately, thinking that this young man was like a fool, wouldn't it be foolish to wait for his death here?

But when the two saw the sudden change of the long sword in Di Ping's hand, they immediately stopped the impulse in their hearts, but looked even more confused. What happened?

It is said that the time is too fast, a few hundred meters away, at the current speed of the mutant dog, it is as fast as lightning, and the middle distance is shortened in a blink of an eye. Looking at this speed, the two people Yue Lie knew that the last time they could escape was really accumulated in the previous life. Great virtue.

"Bump!"

Di Ping had been standing quietly, with the long sword in his hand hanging down to his side, and the flames on it were burning. Seeing that the mutant dog had reached more than 20 meters forward, he yelled and his body was as if he had fallen out of the hall. The shell was ejected with a bang, and the concrete floor on the ground was broken apart by the powerful pedaling force, and the cement fragments splashed.

"boom"

With a loud noise, a mutant dog was hit by a rushing rhino, and its body flew out suddenly, without even screaming and splashing blood in the air.
