Chapter 1 Please sleep with a man

I never thought my husband, Jerry, would get down on his knees in front of me and beg me to sleep with another man for a night.

It was my birthday and Jerry came home early.

I went up to take his jacket, but Jerry suddenly took my hand and said,

"Nance, will you do me a favor?"

I froze, smiled faintly, and said, "I'm afraid I can't help you. I have become incapable of staying at home these past few years.

"No, you can, only you can." Jerry said quickly, "My company is in trouble. You have to help me."

I looked at him, puzzled, "What do you want me to help you with?"

"Please sleep with a man for one night. Just one night." Jerry's words shocked me.

I didn't expect him to say something like that.

"Why would I agree to do that?" I pulled my hand out of his, turned my back on him, and questioned him coldly, "Jerry, I'm your wife, how could you let me do this?"

"You also know I have sexual dysfunction. We haven't had sex since we got married. But you have to understand me. The company is the only property of the Lu family. I can't let it go bankrupt." Jerry took my hand and dropped to his knees again.

I turned to look at him incredulously and slapped him hard. He dropped to his knees without pride.

When I saw the tears in his eyes, my heart, which had been so determined, softened.

I had been married to him for three years, but we had never had sex. In these three years, he had been very good to me and to my family.

When I saw him abandon his dignity and kneel in front of me, my heart ached, so I finally nodded reluctantly.

It was pathetic that on my birthday Jerry let me sleep with another man as if I were a gift.

Jerry happily stood up and put the hotel room card on my hand. I looked at the groom card in silence, squeezing it hard in my hand.

"Thank you for helping me this time." said Jerry.

I faintly wipe away my tears then push him away. Only Jerry, the idiot, would let his wife sleep with someone else.

Then he drove me to the hotel. When I got out of the car, I checked my phone and found it was now 10:30 pm.

"Don't let me down." said he.

I was silent and didn't look at him.

Then he drove away. I watched his car plaintively, feeling sad for a long time.

I was on my heels, wearing a long purple dress with the amethyst necklace on my neck. It made me look even more attractive, but I wasn't happy at all.

"Do I really have to sleep with a strange man? Maybe I will lose my dignity completely." I hesitated.

As the elevator doors opened, I looked at the yellowish light, but I never wanted to walk out of the elevator.

I finally convinced myself to be with that man for Jerry. He hadn't done his duty as a husband all these years, but he'd been good to my family. I couldn't stand by and watch his company go bankrupt and not help him.

I found the room and opened the door. It was dark and I was going to turn on the light as soon as I entered.

"Don't turn on the lights." A voice rang out. I froze and the door closed automatically. The room was dark. I couldn't see the man's face in the darkness.

"Who are you?" I asked fearfully.

"Keep silent, and stand where you are." That voice sounded again. The room was extremely hot and stuffy from the lack of air conditioning.

Suddenly, my hand was pulled into the arms of a man. I panicked and tried to push him away, but he held me very tightly. He forced me into a corner, and then his hand stroked down my cheek to my collarbone.

"Please don't touch me." I shuddered and said.

"You didn't know what to do before you came here." The man whispered in my ear in the darkness.

I closed my eyes in silence, humiliated. Tears streamed down my cheeks. Before I could react, his cold lips kissed my lips quickly.

"You can still leave here if you regret it now." his kiss stopped at my ear and whispered.

I shook my head and said with a choke in my voice, "I can't leave."

"That's good." he said immediately. Then he pulled my dress off gently.

His hands touched my breasts tenderly, his hot lips kissing my neck.

Suddenly, he lifted me across his arms. I shrieked and clung to him unconsciously.

I'd never experienced anything like this before, so I was a little panicked.

He placed me on the bed and then his hot body was on top of me.

Suddenly, my legs were spread apart, then something hot went against my lower part of the body, and I subconsciously held him tight.

Then he put his... into my vagina.
