

BE EATEN UP WITH LOVE

Chapter 31: Take What They Need from Each Other

"Taking what we need from each other, what a nice words! Lydia, what kind of woman I have not met! If you are at least a little smart then you must know that you will not get any good ending if you use me." His lips were pulled and he looked at me sneering.

"Wayne, is that because you are falling in love with me since you care about the reason that I get in relation with you?"

I saw him pulled a cigarette from the box, lighted it up and smoked for several times. In the smoke, I saw the elegant face of him and he looked at me with a sneering sight. It seemed like what I said was a kind of funny joke.

"Lydia, you are feeling so good about yourself. Where you get that I fall in love with the kind of woman like you who has a impure mind? You fucked you several times only because your body fits my taste!"

This was the first time that I heard the rude words from him, explaining the relationship between us with such dirty words.

I did a self-mockery with a smile. I was really out of my mind these time. Merlin was right. If a man was being vicious to you, a random words could stab and hurt you easily. Wayne only saved me once and did good to me in daily life. Spoiled me, indulged me so all those made me feeling presuming that he fell in love with me!

The man like him would indulge you and protect you if he was happy. When you violated his wish, the relationship between you and him would break down instantly!

It had to always be remembered that, between me and him, we were only buddy calls. We could never be lovers. Our body could badger with each other but our hearts would never be together.

" Since we are buddy calls, you play with my body, why don't I use you to revenge on Geoffrey? You are ruthless to me and you dare to want me to fall in love with you deeply and fuck for free?"

My heart went cold completely. It was hurt and trembling with a tearing pain. He may never expected me to refute him straightly like this. He glared at me with his eyes wide open, "Get away from my sight!"

I saw the indifference from his eyes, turned around with a firm hand and walked away without turning back my head.

After I got out from Wayne's home, the tears I endured for a long time flowed down, crying as I was walking. I was aggrieved like a little abandoned pity. I lost myself and went back to my rent little home. I was stupefied and sat on the bed, my helpless sight was full of vast and hazy.

I stayed at home in the next two days. I did not get out of my home except buying some food outside. I had to heal the wounds on my face and the wounds in my heart by the way!

I lived in chaos for two days. Wayne did not contact me at all in these two days. I looked at the missed calls. There were only calls from Merlin and Katherine. The number with a four eight ending had never appeared again.

I knew, the proud man like Wayne, would weed me out immediately when he was hurt by the raised thorn of mine.

It did not have to be suspicious of I became a past lover from a new one.

It was a lie to say that I was not sad. We were together for all those nights anyway. It left a wound on my heart somehow. But my ability of recovering was very good. The wound was recovered by myself with a short time.

Since I became a ex-buddy call, it was making sad mood for nothing to keep the number. Since Wayne cut the connection with me, it should be cut totally.

Keeping the number, what if I had something wrong with my fingers and made a worry call...

I found his number in my phone, after a short hesitating, I put the number in the blacklist finally, left it with the number of Geoffrey.

Then I found the number of Chief James I saved before and called it.

The information of me and Wayne broke up had not spayed out at the moment so I had to find the trace of my sister in hurry. Chief James was a good way.

I had worked on wording for a long time and then I explained what happened carefully, "Chief James, I knew that this is a difficult one, but could you get around regulations and help me with this!"

"Miss Toland, the case had past 14 years. The only suspect caught had already dead. And the evidences were already ruined totally. The chance of finding your sister is little. I advise you to investigate from other ways. Your father offended a lot of people before. You can investigate from that and you may find some clues."

I had a bitter smile. I already tried the suggestion of Chief James. But the people my father offended before had already became some big shots now. They were either raising ranks in the officialdom, or dominating in business.

As for me, how could I fight with them?

"Chief James, to be honest, I already tried the method you said. But the people that my father offended are not kinds of people that I could fight with now. That's why I would like to ask you to check the traffickers caught these years!"

Chief James sighed, "Miss Toland, the suspects who already in the jail will not admit the guilt they made in the past again. Only a stupid one will do the thing that will make their punishment heavier! Therefore, investigate from the police system is nearly impossible."

Chief James was right. The case was like walking into a dead end.

Then, Chief James said something to persuade me to give up. He sent his respect to Wayne then hung up the phone.

I saw the screen of the phone became dark and shrunk in the sofa powerlessly.

The only hope turned to hopeless now.

This really hurt me a lot. I was ill at the night. I got fever with a body temperature of 40 degree centigrade and I was dizzy since the fever. Even more, I was to absent-minded that I saw the illusion of Wayne sitting on the end of my bed.

I assumed I was too ill. I felt faintly Wayne taking care of me without sleeping or resting for the whole night. He cleaned my body for me and lower my heat by a warm towel and fed me pills. Finally, he even held me in arms and read the novel 'Please love me deeper my president' that put on the end of my bed.

In the early morning of the next day, I woke up. I was powerless all over my body sitting on the end of the bed and looked around.

In the room, except me, there was no one else even a shadow of Wayne.

I smiled wryly. I was surly poisoned too much...

I measured my temperature by the thermometer put on the end of the bed. 37 °C, the fever had been brought down.

I got out of my home to have a bowl of warm porridge at breakfast diner. The old woman who was buying the porridge saw that I was pale and very weak that even a breeze could blow me down any time, so she asked with a worried face,"

Girl, you look very pale. Are you ill?"

"Madam, I'm fine. I will be better after having a rest later when I finish having this porridge."

In the afternoon, I was recovered a lot. My spirit was good, too, so I planned to visit my grandma in the hospital.

She recovered very well after the operation and she may leave hospital after a short period of time.

I bought some fruit and grandma's favorite cakes and went to the inpatient department directly.

I walked into the wardroom. Grandma was laying on the end of the bed and talking with my uncle. Her complexion was better now. She asked my uncle happily to bring me a chair when she saw I was coming.

"Grandma, I bought you some cakes from 'Fulianji', have a try."

She smiled and took over the box I passed to her. She opened it carefully and looked at me kindly, "Lydia, grandma can't eat these much. Don't buy next time.

Save the money and buy something good for yourself."

"Grandma, it's fine, just have a try."

Grandma loved me so much. She saved anything delicious for me to eat. Especially when my father and mother were dead, grandma loved me more even into her deepest heart.

"Lydia, since you are here today, I have something to ask you." She was having the cake and looked at me with a kind smile, "I heard that Harriet introduced a boyfriend to you recently, did he?"

I nodded, "I did not meet him. The man introduced by Harriet would not be some good person."

Grandma sighed with sorriness and touched my head kindly, "Your aunt still cannot change her personality after all these years. Don't bother about her.

Lydia, be honest to your grandma, do you have a boyfriend in the university?"

"Grandma, it is normal for a girl to be not married till 30 years old. I'm only 20, not in hurry."

"Grandma does not have too much time now. Your parents passed away too early, so I must watch you getting married and live in happiness, so I can explain to your parents when I go down there. Lydia, grandma is not asking you to get married and have babies immediately! Now, you should have a well-advised boyfriend and then, having a happy stable life after the university."

I knew in my heart that grandma was worrying about me. I would be a lonely and helpless person when she passed away.

"Lydia, find someone who treats you well and loves you with a sincere heart.
The most important thing is a marriage between families of equal social rank. Then the rest of your life can be happy."

I could not deny the words she said. The importance of the similar social ranks, I knew that thoroughly since I met Wayne. As for the unrealistic fantasy, I already extinguished it from the beginning.
"I asked your second aunt to pay attention for you and she replied me last few days. Your second aunt has a classmate and she introduced a boy. He is 28 years old, a few years older than you. He graduated from Medical College.
Found by your second aunt, she is quite reliable!"
Grandma brought the phone of my uncle and she found the pictures deftly.
"The boy is not looking handsome, just normal, but he graduated from the Medical College. His salary of a month can be over 10 thousand dollars since he is working in the city hospital and, he got a house. His conditions are good. I will ask your aunt to arrange a date if you like him!"
I glanced at the picture and did not move by it. Grandma saw that I was not interested so she said with a little anger, "Lydia, there are a lot of lures in the big city. Are you disliking him since you are thinking that he cannot give you a good life?"
I did not say anything. I could not bear to let the good heart of my grandma down.
Perhaps, I should go to have a date. If he matched my conditions, I may just get married with whoever I got! Even though I was young, my state of mind was already old. I was tired about the lonely and helpless days.
There were a lot of lures in the big city for sure. I was at loose ends only because of one Wayne Gilbert. Thinking innocently to occupy the thing that did not belong to me at all. I was not sober until the reality slapped me hard in my face. I could never occupy a thing that never belonged to me by force. It was better to find a guy to live a normal and stable life than humiliating myself. I picked up the phone in grandma's hand and had a look at the pictures of the man. He was about 30, normal looking.

"Grandma, please ask my aunt to arrange a date." I said after a while of silence. Grandma was pleased since she heard that I admitted, " Lydia, are you willing to have a date now? I will call your aunt later to ask her to arrange a date." Grandma's efficiency on this thing was so high. She told me the place and time of the date at the same night. I made up simply and dressed in a dress with small flowers. My appearance was pure and pretty. My phone rang when I just got into the car. It was Katherine asking me to have a BBQ buffet with her. I told you about the date and Katherine screamed loudly. My eardrum was nearly been through.

Chapter 33: Unqualified

"Lydia, how can you date an old man nearly 30 years old? No one will marry you or what?"

I put the phone far away from my ear, " Katherine, you asked me to seduce your uncle last few days, your uncle is an old man more than 30 years old, isn't he?"

"Well...That...Why are you still talking about that!"

I smiled and ridiculed, " What are you afraid of? You are just like a rat meeting a cat when the old man Wayne is mentioned. You are such good for nothing worthless."

The other side of the phone, Katherine was mute for a while, then, she said lightly, " Lydia, my uncle is sitting in the behind of the car now and my phone was turned on hands free just now!"

"..." At the next second, I hung up the phone directly.

I saw the views passed behind quickly; And my heart nearly jumped out through my throat.

My mind was still having great waves when I got off from the taxi. It was settled a little when I tried my best to calm it down.

The place where the date arranged was a restaurant for couples. The atmosphere there was warm and sweet. I hung around and found the table that my aunt booked.

I waited for more than 10 minutes, then my aunt came with a guy.

I did not see my second aunt for a long time. I smiled and greeted her then I put my sight on the guy and measured him by my sight carefully.

He as about 170cm tall and his looking was maturer than the picture. A pair of mole's eyes were looking at me up and down, that made me getting goose bumps all over.

My aunt held my hand and pushed me to sit on the guy's side," Lydia, we did not meet for two years, you are getting more beautiful now. Please sit down, feel free."

After we ordered the dishes, my aunt began to talk ceaselessly," Lydia, his name is Allen Jones, a top student graduated from Medical College. He got a house for marriage. I told him about your situations already. You guys have a talk here. I going to hang around in the supermarket nearby."

My aunt tipped me the wink then carried her bag and left.

The atmosphere suddenly went awkward. The dull moment lasted for a long while then I said reluctantly," How about we talk while we eat?"

Allen leered at me while he was eating. I was like a delicious dish in his plate. I felt very uncomfortable by his leer and I gave a strong negative comment to the guy my aunt introduced in my mind!

"You are Lydia Toland, aren't you? May I call you Lydia? It sounds more cordial." I nodded," Of course, Mr. Jones, which department of the hospital are you working in?"

Allen had some beverage," Didn't your grandma tell you that I'm working in gynecology department? I'm now the archiater of gynecology department of the city hospital. If you have any problems in those parts, just come and find me."

I smiled awkwardly. I looked at his wretched appearance and I could not imagine the appearance of he when he was working in the gynecology department!

"Mr. Jones, are you from Liang city? Your accent does not seem like a native."

"I'm from north-west of the country. I found a job in Liang city after I graduated since my university is in Liang city. Therefore, the house I bought is in Liang city, too. It is more than 20 thousand dollars for a square meter and two million dollars for the whole house. I just have to pay the debts monthly."

I nodded and I finally got that why grandma and aunt were so satisfied with him. To be honest, it would be fine if he left me a good image with the conditions he got. But the feeling Allen gave me was always a concupiscent appearance and his sight on me was so strange. It seemed I was a good in the shop for him to pick!

" In fact, your aunt told me about your family. Your parents passed away and you were lonely and helpless since you were a kid. I despised you before. A kid won't have a good manner since the kid did not get instructions from parents. I don't expect the kid we are going to have be as underbred as the mother! But your aunt told me a lot about your hard working, so I considered to have this meet with you."

His superior expression was treating me with indifferent. It seemed like a condescension that he came to see me.

" Your looking is kind of pretty. It matches me so I will not bother about you family background. But I'm really caring one thing, you have to be a virgin! We can live together before we are married. We can get married immediately if you are a virgin. If not..."

I nearly sprayed out the beverage in my mouth to his face. It was saying that he would like try the good first to see if the good was original and he would return it if not?

I was speechless since I was dating such a miracle.

I wanted to laugh badly, and I laughed out a little indeed.

However, when I glanced the table beside us, I had my eyes wide opened suddenly. My expression was seemed like I met some ghost!

Katherine was having a milk custard and looking at me with a playful smile and beside her, Wayne was there in a tidy suit and his expression was indifferent.

When I looked at him, Wayne glanced at me, too. Then he looked at the miracle man beside me that I dated. His eyes were full of contempt and teasing.

I was so depressed. It was ok to date with a strange guy, but the point was that the date was caught by Wayne.

Wayne must laughed at me when Allen mentioned about the virgin requirement.

I was frightened. I shrunk my neck and said, " Mr., Jones, I 'm afraid that I may not match your requirement since I'm no longer a virgin."

After I said that, Allen frowned. Obviously, he did not trust what I said. Wayne was calm in his face, but Katherine looked at me with a surprised face.

I said I was sorry then took my bag and walked to the restroom.

Chapter 34: A Man Who Can Not Get Rid of

I solved my urgent and washed my face. When I turned to go back, the door of the restroom was closed.

I saw the behavior of Wayne locking the door surprisingly and sneered, "Wayne, what are you doing now? Are you trying to behave like a hoodlum in the public?" He looked at me with his dark eyes and there was a cold stream floating in it. His cold sight made me feeling freezing in my back and I unconsciously moved back.

"Lydia, you surely opened my eyes. Dating isn't it? You are so impatient. Are you going to die if you don't have a man with you?"

He approached me with big steps and grabbed me in a rude way. Then he pressed me onto the wall. His big, strong body pressed against my soft body and his right hand reached under my dress unscrupulously...

I tried to resist his hand haunting on my body, "Wayne, are you insane? I'm done with you. It's my freedom to sleep with anyone I want. Let go me."

He laughed in a cold way. His finger fiddled with the sensitive positions of my body. I clenched my teeth and stared at him. After his moves, I shamefully got feelings by his touch. He lifted his lips, pulled back his finger and rubbed it on my face, "Lydia, such a glib mouth, huh?"

"Wayne, please give yourself some self-respect. Do you understand a merry meet and a merry part? Since you told me to fuck off, I listened your words and fucked off far away. What's the meaning of your behavior now?"

He lifted his eyebrows and lifted me up onto the sink then he made his belt loose. "Wayne, don't touch me anymore or I will prosecute you ra..." He stripped my dress in silence. I struggled but I was not dared to make a loud sound since I was afraid of others to hear that.

"The chief of the police department is my friend. Do you need his number?" He whispered near my ear then he pulled my dress up to half and pressed my struggling body...

"Virgin? Lydia, go tell that shorty who gives you the first sex!"

Even though I was not willing to have sex with him again, under his strong bumping, I got reaction inevitably. Very soon, my resistance became weak and powerless. In the end, I even sank into the euphoria with him.

When we finished, I was limp and feeble lying on the sink. All the power was pumped away so I had no strength to move.

Wayne wore his pants slowly and tied his belt slowly. Then he took out a cigarette, lighted it and started smoking.

"Lydia, you are not allowed to pull yourself out completely without my permission after you offended me. You are too innocent." He glanced at me with an indifferent sight. His eyes were full of perversion.

I took out tissues from my bag to clean myself. Then I put on my underwear in silence and tidied my dress.

"Wayne, I found that you are more shameless than Geoffrey! You are the most shameless, indecent, despicable vile person I ever met in my life."

I never believed that there was such a coincidence in the world. The only reason that Wayne was here was he heard the conversation between me and Katherine on the call. Then he came to here to ruin on purpose.

I thought it was the pride of a wealthy man haunting!

Perhaps, I should not have a date very soon. I shall be sad for several days, feeling dying for several days. Then Wayne would forget me gradually or when he found a new partner so I could appear in front of his sight again.

But now, I "recovered" so fast, so he was not happy for sure. He was not happy so I would be hapless...

"Never mind, for this life, I will only be shameless, despicable and indecent to you. The thing between us has not done yet!" He smoked lazily. His posture of smoking was full of charm of a man. His indifferent face was getting soft since the sex we had just now.

"Wayne, what do you really want?" I was so angry that even could not breathe. He looked at me with a playful sight, "Nothing."

My hands tickled when I saw his hateful appearance, "Wayne, you don't love me and I don't love you. It's not good for both of us if we tangle like this."

He did not say anything. I took a deep breath and said seriously, "I would like to end the relationship between us."

He raised his precious feet and took a few steps towards me. Then he supported himself by his hands on the sinks and locked me in his arms, "What relationship?"

"Buddy calls!" I pushed his strong tall body, but he didn't move. I was so angry and kicked to his lower body. He was nimble and caught my foot.

"Lydia, such a violent woman. I don't mind having another sex with you! A man likes to tame a naughty woman the best." He threatened me, suddenly, I was well-behaved.

After a long while, I said slowly, "Wayne, please, I'm begging you. I really don't want to tangle with you anymore. I'm tired! I thought a lot these days. I don't deserve a man with wealth and high social status like you. Now, I just want to find a normal man and live a normal life with him. A woman like me has nothing special. You can find one easily on the street. Please let go me..."

I begged him menially. I was exhausted both my body and mind since I tangled with Wayne! I was not dared to think that if this improper partner relationship continued existing, would I sink into it and finally he pulled himself out ruthlessly... Why I had to try again if I had already felt the pain?

Since this, I was firmer to cut the relationship with Wayne down.

"No way!" He extinguished the cigarette that was only smoked half and looked at me with a gloomy sight.

"Are you fucking sick!" I pointed at him and cursed him loudly, " It will not help even you put a knife on my neck if I'm not willing to. I'm trying to be patient and talk that with you now. You are a big shot. A normal citizen like me doesn't deserve to bother with you. There are a lot of women in the world and you can sleep with anyone you want by only waving your hand to them. Why you must tangle with me?"

Chapter 35: A Good Man Like Me

His expression was cold that seemed like his mind was traveling around and not here at all. He did not seem to listen the words I said.

I was indignant. When I just tried to say something, he changed a topic," Why you put my number in a blacklist? "

I was stunned for a while and looked at him surprisingly.

He called me.

" We decided breaking up that day at your home, didn't we? It's normal to put your number in a blacklist since we have broken up, isn't it?"

" When I said that we are going to break up?"

"You told me to get away, didn't you?"

"..." He sighed then took out my phone from my bag, " Move my number away from the blacklist."

I suddenly found out that all my words were ignored by Wayne. The feeling was like punching on the cotton, you got strength, but it did not help at all. His indifferent personality did not work at me. He was reserved, elegant, proud, indifferent but now, he became a despicable, shameless, barefaced coward...

I held the phone in my hand and tapped in the password. Then I move his number away from the blacklist in front of him.

He saw the name I made for him in my address list with a gloomy face," Buddy calls?"

I was embarrassed and blushed. When I was saving his number to my phone, I made a name of buddy call without a second thought. And now I was caught...

"It is more like truth!" I smiled awkwardly.

He took away my phone and changed his name in the address list," I will treat you badly if you change my name by your bad wish again."

Then, he turned around and got away.

I looked at his back silently and my mind was a mess. The relationship of us became confused again! It was already done but now, it seemed impossible.

I was totally clear after this that the only treatment that Wayne gave me when I displeased him was taking off his pants and making me yield.

Just like what happened just now. I was resisting him and unwilling to tangle with him anymore, but my body did not listen to me...

I was calm again after a long while when he had left.

Wayne and Katherine were gone when I got back from the restroom to the dining hall. Maybe I would think that meeting Wayne just now was an illusion if my body was not exhausted since the sex was really happened.

I turned my head and I saw my aunt was sitting on my seat and chatting with Allen. Her expression was dense a lot. I did not think too much and walked to them straightly.

"Lydia, you are back, have a seat!"

"My apology. You must have waited long." I greeted politely.

After I sat down, the atmosphere was cold again. After a while, my aunt spoke again," Lydia, I did not hear that you have a boyfriend in university! I'm not blaming you. A girl must respect herself. The girl always gets the worst of it if you live together before you are married."

I was stunned for a second then came back to my sense immediately.

"Aunty, Mr. Jones was graduated from Medical College so I think he must know the importance of treating a mental illness earlier! Virgin complex can be a serious one or a mild one."

Allen obviously did not expect that I would diss him directly. He was blushed," Miss Toland, you have neither a good background nor a good condition. Of course, I'd like to marry a pure clean you. You can't let a good man like me to pick a used one!"

I laughed ironically. My aunt interrupted immediately since she saw we were dissing each other," Mr. Jones, Lydia is still very young and innocent, so she got fooled by a man. If you are going to be together with her, I promise you that she will keep pure for you.

When she finished the words, Allen showed an apology and went to the restroom.

"Lydia, how could you say all that. Mr. Jones has a good background. You will definitely be regretted if you miss him!" She said those to me immediately after Allen left.

"Aunty, he wants a virgin and I'm not a virgin anymore. He will know that sooner or later anyway. It's better to make it clear now."

My aunt glared at me, "You are a university student. Are you reading all those books to be a fool? Nowadays, you can just make a new hymen in a hospital anyway. No matter a real one or not, you can just pretend aching when you have sex with him."

I was stunned since I heard her words. I suddenly found that my aunt's mind was more avant-garde than mine.

As we were talking, the phone Allen left on the table rang. There was a name of "Darling" appeared on the screen.
