

BE EATEN UP WITH LOVE

Chapter 36: Frank Hunter

I pressed the answer button when my aunt was not paying attention then I locked the screen of the phone. After a while, Allen came back...

I looked at him and asked suddenly, " Mr. Jones, you must have a girlfriend since your conditions are excellent!"

Allen crossed his legs confidently and said arrogantly, " Of course, but I'm always serious about the marriage partner so the women outside are just for fun. To be honest, you give me a good impression to me except that part is not matching my standard. However, your aunt has made the promise. If you are not going to make unjustifiable man and woman relationship, perhaps, I will consider to marry you!"

I smiled and pushed his phone to the front furtively, " Mr. Jones, this is saying that you have a fixed girlfriend now, don't you?"

" That is only a inessential woman. I will break up with the woman outside immediately if we are going to marry for sure."

I lifted my lips and mourned for the woman on the other side of the phone. She was blink since she took fancy to this bastard!

After we chatted for a while, I saw a woman in the restaurant dressing amorously. She was twisting her hip and looking around then she locked her killing sight on Allen.

My aunt saw that we were chatting well so she suggest watching a movie. Allen admitted that. When he was just turned and going to buy the bill, a clear sound of slapping suddenly came through.

"Allen Jones, you fucking son of a bitch. I did not expect you are such a scum." That woman awarded him a slap on the face and she was not satisfied so she raised her arm and swung her hand to his face.

My aunt was stupefied by the surprising scene. She could not return to her sense for a long while.

Allen stunned by the slaps. He covered his face, " Joyce, you... How could you be here?" He looked at the aggressive woman in front of his face in terror and talked stutteringly.

I was drinking orange juice and watching this big drama played in front of my sight.

My aunt looked at him surprisingly. Her expression was like that she could not spit out the fly she swallowed when she listened to the end. I knew Allen was not kind of good person, but I did not expect him a super scum!

"Joyce, how do you know. It's not like what you think. Please let me explain..."

Allen was explaining hastily. The woman sneered grimly then turned to leave.

After the woman left, Allen took up his phone immediately and checked the call records. When he found that the time of the call was about half an hour, he stared at me with a bad expression, "It was you. You took the call to fool me, didn't you? I'm going to kill you bitch..."

He swung his hand to my face. The left side of my face took the slap and that ignited my anger instantly!

I took a cup and threw it to his head. He eluded that and the cup flew out from the window. I took the chance and kicked on his lower part of his body!

His dick was kicked accurately. He yelled surprisingly. Then he covered his crotch with a grisly expression and fell down to the floor.

"Aunty, let's go!"

My aunt looked at me with a horrifying expression then she carried her bag dully and left.

I was just going to catch a taxi after I said goodbye to my aunt.

A man wearing sunglasses walked towards me with slow steps. When he walked up to me, he took off his sunglasses and looked at me straightly with his beautiful eyes.

He was pretty. The feeling he gave was different from the manly feeling of Wayne. His appearance gave people a uninhibited feeling. His features were delicate like they were engraved finely. His eyes were dark and deep and they looked unconstrained and wild.

He looked at me with a spurious smile. His evil eyes were just stared at me like that. I was blushed by his sight!

Who was this?

"What can I do for you, handsome boy?"

"Can you see the car there?" He pointed at a Maserati beside him then looked at me and moved his lips, "There was a cup dropped from the sky and broke a hole on the window of the car."

I was suddenly covered in a cold stream. I looked at his car with a scaring face. A huge hole was made on the front window by the cup.

I remembered immediately the cup I threw to Allen.

Damn it!

This handsome boy was not accosting me since I was pretty or he fell in love with me. That was because I smashed his Maserati and he was asking me to...pay the repair charge!

It must be joking. Maybe I was going to make up my mind to pay it if it was a bicycle or a tricycle. A Marserati, I could not afford to pay the charge even though I sold myself out!

I laughed awkwardly and sat on the stone at the side of the road," Mr. handsome, in fact, there is a long story about this."

He glanced at me and lifted his eyebrows," Please make it short then."

"Sir, how much it will cost to repair your car?" I clenched my teeth and asked.

" My car is a limited imported one. It takes a lot of efforts to repair it, wait for the accessories from the original factory, change it and all the losses will take at least..." He reached out two fingers. I looked at his white pretty fingers and stunned for a while.

Then I was relieved," Twenty thousands?" My save was enough to pay the repair charge. But what about the school fee and living fee for next semester if I pay the compensation?

However, I did not expect that the man said again when I just finished my words," Twenty thousand for glass scraps? It will cost 200 thousand..."

Chapter 37: He Is Just a Brute

I did not sit tight and nearly fell down to the ground with my head down. Then, I jumped up," 200 thousands, you are robbing me!"

"Well...Can I have a installment with that? I will pay you 20 thousands now and split the 198 thousands left into 10 parts to pay you." I thought about it. It was better to settle down the handsome's mood and we could talk about how to pay the money later.

"Lady, I will not ask you to pay if you promise me a condition. How about it?"

"For real?" I looked at him with smile on my face. But I thought a possible condition and changed a displeased expression instantly," Mr. Handsome, I admit that you are rich and handsome. But I'm not that kind of optional woman. There is no way if you want me to sleep with you!"

"I'm not interested with you snow bean like body. I will not like you even if all the women were gone in the world!" He sneered at me and asked for my phone number," My name's Frank Hunter. Save my number and I will call you after a few days. Don't worry, it will not be some kind of killing or setting fire issue."

"My name's Lydia Toland. May I leave now since you don't need me to pay the money?"

Frank nodded and got on a taxi directly. Then I sighed as if I relieved a heavy load.

The day I had was too thrilling. My heart was nearly frightened to be broken. I met an extreme blind date man at first. Then I was blocked by Wayne in the restroom. He took off my dress and did whatever he want on me! I fought with the extreme blind date man when I had not returned to my sense. Then a disaster nearly happened because of a cup!

I sighed to myself as I was looking at the number of Frank. I was hesitating to put it in the blacklist directly!

But that was wicked.

I went to bed immediately after I backed home.

When I woke up, I found there were a dozen of missed calls on my phone. Except two calls from my grandma, there was one with a strange name of, "Wayney".

I called my grandma first to explain about what happened during the date. I just talked perfunctorily then hung up.

I looked at the number with end of four eights and named "Wayney". I hesitated for a long while then called it back.

After a while, when I just to hung up since I was utterly confused in my mind, Wayne picked it up.

" Why are you not picking up my calls?" The environment around him was noisy. I heard the sound of airport broadcast faintly.

" I fell asleep just now. I'm just awake." My heart turned to beat a little faster," Do you have anything to do with me?"

He was in silence for a while and I waited him in silent. After a long time, he said suddenly," I'm going to be on a business trip abroad and I will be back in a week.

It is Monday tomorrow. Go to register at the company. There will be someone teaching you and get familiar with the business.

The voice from the other side of the phone was deep and mighty. His tone was normal. The fights and arguments and even the separation was seemed not been happened.

I paused for a second. I'd like to refuse him directly very much and say something vicious that we would never get in touch again in the future by the way. I meditated about the words for a long while and the words were just arrived my throat but I was not dared to speak out.

"I'm not willing to."

I refused. I would try my best to stay away from him and make less chance to meet since I decided to break up with Wayne. It would be weak as time goes on. Meeting him everyday and influencing by his stateliness was ok. Only ghosts could tell if he would have the interest someday and drag me in the restroom the take off his pants to do the thin!

I felt my head was numb when I thought about this. The scenes of he pressed me on the sink this afternoon replayed in my mind.

He was just a brute, a hypocrite with a high moral tone...

"Lydia, I don't have time to play with you. It is a very good chance for a university student to work in the Wayne's Group. I will not force you if you are not willing to. If you are still being naughty, I got a lot of methods to deal with you when I come back!"

I heard the busy tone from the other side of the phone and stunned for a long while. Then I took away the phone from my ear.

I got insomnia that night.

I was tormented by the hesitation of going or not and I did not sleep for the whole night.

The Wayne's Group, a dream enterprise of university students. People could work in there, even though trainees, were outstanding persons! The chance given by Wayne could be said precious. I may be regretted for the whole life if I gave it up.

After I weighted the advantages and disadvantages, I decided to take the chance!

Next day, eight in the morning, I wore a formal suit and a decent makeup and came to the Wayne's Group.

I issued an entry certificate at the HR department then there was a man leading me to get familiar with the environment of the company and the main business I would take my responsibility of.

After I truly getting familiar with the business scope of Wayne's company by myself, I turned to know that how many industries the man involved and how tremendous the business empire he built!

Chapter 38: The Woman He Would Like to Marry

In Liang city, the Wayne's Group had monopolies on real estates, hotels, entertainments and other industries. There were plenty kinds of works that were charged by the Secretary department. It took me the whole morning to just remember the duties of each one.

Fortunately, there was a man asked by Wayne to help me to get familiar with the business. The man knew that I was a airborne one which means that I got the place in the company through a back door so he was quite enthusiastic.

I almost understood my job through the whole morning's learning.

I learned languages in the university, so Wayne did not make any waste on that. He tried his best to exploit every bit of my workforce. I was so angry that would even like to abreact to others since I saw a heap of documents that I had to take duty on.

When I was busy like in hell, a girl beside greeted me with smile.

"Hello, my name's Sarah Occam and I'm one of the bottom new persons, too, a trainee. Let's add each other's Skype so we can communicate with each other when there is something confusing!"

I looked at her carefully. She was about 27 or 28 years old and she was very beautiful. She was in a black formal suit and she looked very elegant!

I pressed my lips. Wayne had such a good luck of seeing beautiful women. All the female employees of Secretary department were belles. I didn't know if his standard of hiring employees was appearance first!

"Hello, my name's Lydia Toland." I added her to my Skype.

She passed my request then chatted with me cordially, "Which university did you graduate from? I graduated from Yale and just came back to the country. I put a lot of effort to be a trainee in the company. I hope I can stay here in three months! How about you?"

I smiled sheepishly. Suddenly, I felt embarrassed to say anything about my university.

"I have not graduated yet. I'm a student of Liang university and I'm going to be a junior student next semester. "

She opened her eye widely and surprisingly staring at me, "How did you get into the company? The requirement of recruitment of the Wayne's Group was very strict. You have to pass all the special exams. Did you get here by some back doors?"

I nodded, "I probably did."

"Then I know why their sights on you were strange. I used to think you are too awesome and they were afraid of you! But in fact, that was because of this reason..."

I looked at her curiously, "Were they? Why?"

Sarah showed her white eyes to me and moved her chair to my side, "Of course. Maybe you didn't know that there is basically no employee getting the job through the back door since the company has a strict recruitment rule. From the company was set tile now, there was no school student hired. You are the first one who breaks the rule! The one who opened the back door for you must be powerful in the Wayne's Group. And he got ability to put you in the Secretary department under the watch of Mr. Gilbert."

I laughed awkwardly. How interesting that I became a target when I just got into the company!

I got familiar with Sarah after we had chatted for a while. I knew a lot of great achievements about Wayne.

He could make the company to be listed by his own strength in a short time and had monopolies on so many business markets. He definitely got the capacity.

The whole company was admiring him and respecting him to a burning level. After two days, I could do the job that belonged to me very well. Wayne was like lost in these two days. There was no message coming from him. I won't contact him forwardly if he did not contact me.

Afterwards, Sarah told me that Wayne went to a business trip in Japan with the director of the secretary department. Suddenly, I understood. How could he remember his buddy calls since there was a belle beside him?

Even though that was a truth, I was still out of my sorts when I realized that Wayne was now drinking wine and tangling up with the belle.

Sometimes, I did not understand, Wayne tangled with me since I hurt his pride or something else.

Why he did not contact with me even a little if he got feelings on me or liked me?

Perhaps, he was similar with other men, 3-minutes passion. He was only interested with my body. When the passion was gone and there was another woman beside him, I became an abandoned loved one.

Fortunately, the intensity of job and busy works made me forgetting Wayne quickly.

However, there was one thing made me could not cry nor laugh. The rumors were spreading fast in the Secretary department these days! That was because I got absolutely no chance to join the company by my age and experiences. Even the trainees were graduates from famous universities. But as for me, I was definitely unqualified. Maybe I could not even pass the first trial let alone the final trial!

People turned their attention to my appearance instantly. Even the cleaners thought that I was here since the unspoken rule that I was slept by a high rank powerful man of the company!

In a short two days, the rumor about that I was messing with some directors or slept by some managers was gossiping all over the company.

I smiled and did not pay attention to it.

One day, I was just off duty and got a call from Merlin.

"Hey, Merlin."

"Lydia... Are you busy now?"

It was quiet for a long time on the other side of the phone. Then a weak soft voice of Merlin came through. I frowned and put my ear near the phone, "Merlin, what's wrong?"

Chapter 39: We Were Engaged

Merlin sobbed out and said a lot like pouring beans from bamboo tube.

Originally, when Merlin and Richard were dating, they lived in the house owned by Richard. Previously, Lydia and Merlin were taken to the police station. Thanks to Wayne, Jerry was suspended and investigated while Nelly was caught on a false accusation. If their elder hadn't begged Wayne, they would have been in jail at the moment.

After getting out of jail, Nelly wanted to revenge first. She didn't dare to revenge Lydia who was under Wayne's protect. So she started from Merlin.

At that night, she chased Merlin away with several people.

"Lydia, do you know that, when I fought with that bitch, Richard helped her slap me while saying that I seduced him for the character in the beginning thus he couldn't help having sex with me. He just chased me away before Nelly."

Merlin sobbed over the phone. I comforted her while rushing towards her, fearing that she could kill herself.

When I saw her, her face was swollen and her mouth was bleeding. Her body was back and blue on the body as if she was raped.

Seeing me, she cried out of breath.

I wanted to comfort her but I found it was too late. Only time could heal the broken heart. Silently, I stayed with her and took her home until she had enough tears.

"Lydia, it's fine for me to sleep in sofa. I will move out when I find a house."

I knew her economic condition which was almost same as mine. She grew up in an orphanage, so she had deep feelings for it. After work, she donated extra money to the children in the orphanage.

"Merlin, please feel at ease to stay here, we live together now and can jointly rent a better house in the future."

At night, Merlin wanted to drink at a bar. I agreed because I found she uncomfortable at home.

There was an old saying that drinking to get rid of thousands of trouble.

We went to the biggest nightclub in the city and was ready to consume a lot.

I was a social drinker and I felt dizzy soon. However, Merlin was soberer after drinking more. She called the waiter after a box of beers.

“Do you have male companions? send two handsome boys here to drink with us.”

I was shocked and looked at her, “Are you insane, what’s that for?”

Merlin hugged me in a slant way, “Dear, men outside are not reliable. But men inside the bar are reliable enough. They will follow your order for money’s sake.

What have I got when I cried for Richard? Today, I am going to have a great time. Since I have his credit card, let’s just drink and swipe the card.”

Soon, a womanish man came in to sit beside Merlin, hugging her, “Come in boys. They are just so handsome, pick whom you like to stay with you.”

When the door was open, a group of men in fashion consecutively came in.

I went out to breathe after two hours at the room.

I felt drunk after standing in the cold wind for a while, and I dizzily went back.

In the corridor, I suddenly saw a familiar silhouette.

I giggled to make fun of myself that I had drunk too much thus I could see Wayne here.....

The farther I went, the more fear I got. Finally I stopped, hided at the corner, stared at the man nearby.

It had been a week that I hadn’t seen him. When I saw him again, I found that he was still handsome and indifferent. That black suit customized at high price showed his noble and extraordinary quality. He lazily stood there and a woman leaned against him.

Although that woman looked normal, she had elegant quality. She just stood there, staring at Wayne with beautiful eyes.

Those eyes show the deep love.....

“Wayne, let’s go home. The boss of Wayne stays so late at the club every time.

You have work to do tomorrow, I am afraid that your body can’t bear this.”

Although the music was too noisy in the corridor, I heard clearly the voice from that woman.

Without words, Wayne looked at her indifferently.

“Wayne, you seemed to feel nothing towards me. But we are going to get engaged. You make me uneasy.”

After finishing words, that woman hugged his waist, stood on toes, covered his lips and kissed him.

Wayne showed no refusal, letting her hug him.

After the kiss, that woman said generously, “Wayne, I don’t care if you have other women like Sara. I can turn on a blind eye.”

After pushing her away, Wayne smiled, “Sally, we are about to get engaged, don’t think too much. I broke up with Sara several days ago. It is late, you shall go home first.”

Sally Hunter looked at him with joy, “Really, will she haunt you? Wayne, I am afraid that she is good at scheming. I do not want anything happened to make me uneasy before the engagement.”

“As you wish, just go home.”

Chapter 40: I Only Want You

I gloomily looked at his back and felt jealous.

Originally, It was such woman who could stand beside him and match with him. She was so elegant, generous and smart. It was true that he was going to marry a noble woman after he owned the status.

She was such a well-educated, beautiful woman with good quality who was totally different from me.

The world was so realistic that some were meant to be loved by parents, to get the best resources after born.

She was held in the palm to grow up. She was born superior to others. She didn’t worry about eating and wearing since childhood. She lived in a villa, drove luxury cars, dressed brand clothes. She grew up and studied broad, then return homeland to find a man with equal status. Then she wouldn’t worry for the whole life.

I felt sense of inability for being oppressed by fate. I suddenly wanted to fight. I would force Wayne to have no other way but marry me either by schemes or tricks.

Such idea rooted inside my heart as soon as it was produced. It incited me like a drug addiction to have a bond with Wayne.

I went back the room with the sense of loss. I drank one bottle of beer then a half of the second bottle.

“Lydia, what’s wrong with you? Are you stimulated by the wind?” Merlin confusedly looked at me after vomiting in the toilet.

“I am thirsty. Can’t drink for my thirsty?”

“Of course you can. If they aren’t enough, I will ask for two boxes again. I don’t care Richard’s money.”

“.....”

We played so well and there were various game rounds. Soon, I drank too much. After vomiting in the toilet, I staggered to go back while holding the wall. At that moment, the door behind me suddenly opened, and after steady footsteps, there was familiar voice suddenly raising beside my ears.

“Mr. Gilbert, take care.”

“Hum.”

My body froze suddenly, and my hands trembled. Then I turned around with rigid head.

Wayne stood at the door surrounded by a crowd. When he raised his head and noticed me from the corner of his eyes. His calm face suddenly changed and looked unbelievable.

“Lydia, why... are you here?” While he frowned, he stared at me with deep eyes. His expression restored indifference after transient change.

“If you can be here, why not me?” I felt dizzy because of drinking.

There was an old saying that drinking made people brave. I became brave after drinking.

Staggering towards him, I held his neck by my hands and actively as well as bravely kissed his lips.

“Lydia, who sent you here? Look how drunk you are!” He pushed me away with anger.

Seeing how mad he was, I was suddenly in good mood!

“Wayne, you are like a state magistrate who sets fire himself but doesn’t allow the citizens to light candles. If you can bring a beauty to have fun here, why can’t I drink and dream?” I shamelessly leaned against him.

He smelled good. A little wine aroma was mixed among the fresh aroma.

I raised my head and stood on my toes to kiss his lips.

He pushed me a bit, I didn’t reply. Instead, I tried hard to open his teeth to go deep and kiss with his tongue. He frowned and looked at me with anger. I smiled.

Usually, he did such things to me every time. Today, I finally changed my role!

I wasn’t good at kissing. Even I was unfamiliar with it. However, it was such unfamiliar kiss that seduced Wayne’s desire.

Soon, he had response and breathed hurriedly.....

Looking at each other, the crowd noticed that we wouldn’t separate and it was out of control!

Perhaps, they got used to rich people’s game. They looked at each other, then looked at us with evil smile then said goodbye to leave in a hurry.

“Lydia, you are getting naughtier.” He stopped kissing with cold face. Then he took me into the room he was in before.

Closing the door, he gave $1000 of tip to the waiter, “No one is allowed to come within one hour.”

The waiter knowingly looked at us, “No problem, Sir.”

Under the dim light in the room, the noisy music almost broke my ears. Wayne turned down the sound and stepped towards me.

I smiled at him, “Wayne, are men all like you who always prefer women outside your house?”

“Lydia, I spoil you and care you. But don’t be so fearless on the basis of my kindness. I don’t mind you sleep with me for Geoffrey. What are you doing now? You get so drunk in such place. Would you like another night stand tonight?”
