

BE EATEN UP WITH LOVE

C 41

I felt dizzy and fell down to the sofa carelessly. I forced myself to stand up and pointed at him, "It's really condescending of you. Wayne, do I need you to forgive me? Do I shamelessly ask you to forgive me? I hope you never forgive me as long as you live!"

"Lydia, say that again!" He glared at me as if he would eat me.

I giggled. Looking at his anger from embarrassment, I felt dreary and good!

I looked at his eyes and said, "I need you to forgive....."

He strongly kissed my mouth before I could finish my words.

He pushed me down to the sofa, took off my pants, and put his hands under without pity...

My humiliating tears instantaneously flew down. No love, no respect! He could take off my pants any time anywhere to meet his physiological needs just because there was no love! Because there was no responsibility, he didn't care my awkwardness, just left after wearing his pants!

My tears were pouring like levee failure. And I cried and felt extremely sad!

Wayne stopped and wiped out my tears, "Lydia, don't cry. I am doing just fine, why are you crying?"

"You wanted me. Why did you let the waiter watch the door? You just want sex every moment....." I quickly wore my pants and pushed away his hands.

He sighed and sat on the sofa. And he lit up a cigarette and smoked.

"I did want to sleep with you. I wanted to make love with you every day when I was in Japan for a week. I had physiological needs when I saw you wearing sexy clothes. Lydia, I rarely lose my sense of propriety for a woman all these years.

disdain to take off pants for sex anywhere except you....."

Those words sounded better than anything sweet I heard.

I silently looked at him and sobbed. He glanced at me and said, "Lydia, I admit, I am obsessed with your body. I like you when you are fascinating. Be good and I will keep you forever.”

In the dense smoke, I looked at his hazy face, and such promise made me cry and laugh!

“Let’s go home, I will take you home.” He put out the cigarette and took me out of the room.

The waiter at the door noticed that we quickly finished it, he looked at Wayne several times.

I laughed out.

“Wayne, since it was only ten minutes, will he doubt that you are bad at it?

Like

impotence...”

Wayne looked at me as if he smiled or not, “Lydia, I don’t mind to go there again and I won’t come out until one hour passes. Can you believe?”

I immediately shook my head!

He was kidding. If he really did so, I probably would be faceless to meet others.

I briefly told him that today I went there for drinking with Merlin and we shall went back home together.

He nodded and said that he would wait in front of the cashier!

I went into the room to pulled out the drunk woman. I held her to move unsteadily towards the cashier for checking out.

“Hi, $25000 for wine, $2000 for male companions, $27000 in total. Card or cash?”

“Hum...” I felt a pair of angry eyes staring at me and my spine was cold. I turned around to smile at Wayne then I bit my teeth, “Card!”

After excessively swiping Richard’s card, I held Merlin and followed Wayne with fear.

Getting on the car, I quickly went to the back seat to sit with Merlin.

The car steadily drove on the road. Wayne said nothing. My tight heart gradually got loosened.

After arrival, I helped Merlin to the bed and cover the quilt for her. Then I told Wayne what happened including the period when she moved to my house.

“Tonight, go to my house!” He proposed.

“OK.” I nodded.

After coming out the rented house, Wayne took me to his house. The atmosphere strangely became cold.

I grabbed my fingers, wanting to talk but saying nothing when I saw his cold face.

Entering the door, he held me up to the bed in the bedroom before I could stand steadily.

“Lydia, it is unexpected that you are actually so open-minded. Asking for male companions to drink together? Hum?”

Hearing it, there was darkness before me. And I felt so wronged when I saw his angry eyes.

“Aha, I have some reasons, Wayne, let me explain.....”

“Take a shower. Explain to me when I finished my work!”

I blushed due to either shyness or anger from Wayne! Compared to the way he looked sanctimonious, now the way he behaved so indecently was totally different.

I quickly got up and moved towards the bathroom.

Holding the shower head, I poured the warm water on my body and all fatigue in the day was washed gradually. I stood in the heat, recalling what Wayne told me today.

I didn't deny that something changed inside my heart. I felt happy as well as sad.

It was undoubtedly that Wayne was attractive to me. I stayed with him as if I was a dry tree in the desert and met the rain. He could bring me the splendid future.

Also, he could bring me the dark hell.

Chapter 42: The Humiliation I Asked for

After shower, I suddenly noticed that a lady's pajama was on the shelf and there were extra sets of private washing articles like toothbrush on the basin.

There was no woman to live in his house before me, so were those things for me?

There was sudden joy inside my heart. He planned to live with me for a long time!

Women were so easy to get emotional. Only such a little kindness could warm my heart. I didn't care whether he did it on purpose or on a whim and began to look forward to the future!

At least I could own him greedily before he got married.

Wearing the bathrobe, I wiped my hair with clean towel. When I went out the bathroom, he had taken off pants and the coat, lying on the bed.

I curled my mouth and stepped towards the bed with steadfast expression.

He looked me up and down. The lust in his eyes almost swallowed me!

I swallowed my saliva and smiled embarrassingly, "Wayne, I....."

Before I could finish, he pushed me down on the bed like a hungry wolf... ..

After the sex.

Lying on the bed, I gasped.

There was an old saying that short absence may make marriage better. It had been a week that we were apart. And Wayne wanted me more this time. I realized for the first time over the years that a man in his thirties could be so strong, pestering me again and again...

He stopped until it started to dawn, unwillingly.

Now I lay tiredly on the bed and my voice turned hoarse and dry. Wayne got up to take a shower. Then he took a hot towel to wipe me carefully like getting a treasure.

At first, I was not used to facing him naked. After he strongly took off my clothes and looked at my body. I had no objection.

Anyway, I had already been seen by him. What difference would it make to see me naked again?

I lay there quietly, enjoying his service.

"Lydia, can you get used to the work?"

When I was about to fall asleep, his cold voice raising beside my ears.

I rolled over and looked at him, "I couldn't at first, but it's better now. As you know, I have a title named unbeatable Xiaoqiang. I can survive anywhere!

Besides I'm competent so I'm not afraid."

Holding my waist, he looked at me with a smile or nothing, "You are so confident!"

"Of course I am. I have no other ability but overconfidence.

I touched the muscles in his chest, the tight eight-pack abdominal muscles in his lower abdomen, "Wayne, I am sleepy, go to sleep, there is only several hours left for going to work."

He glanced at me and hugged me in his chest, "I allow you a special day off.

Today you can rest and needn't go to the company."

"Oh, I forgot." I giggled, "you are the ultimate boss of Wayne Group. A day off isn't needed in case that someone will gossip me as soon as I enter the company."

"Who will?"

I yawned and said perfunctorily, "no one, where there are women, there are gossips, isn't it normal to be talked behind my back? Besides, as a paratrooper, I am so eye-catching that half of the company think I have slept with leaders and entered the secretary session in the company. If one day they know, it was you who I slept with. Guess that will you die of surprise?"

After speaking, I fell asleep in a daze.

When I woke up next day, Wayne had eaten breakfast, planning to go to work.

I said 'wait for me', then I quickly got up to wash and randomly find something in the kitchen to eat.

Carrying the bag, I got dressed in business suit which I brought last night and stood before him with simple but elegant makeup.

Seeing me like this, His eyes flashed surprise, but soon he hid it to look at me calmly, "You look not bad when wear clothes!"

I looked at him with disdain, "You didn't brush teeth thus your mouth was so smelly!"

I asked Wayne to take me to the nearest bus stop then I transferred to the company.

For this, he looked at me with an unpleasant look, "You can't stand to be my woman, being just secretive."

Before he flared up, I grabbed his neck to kiss him and said with a smile, "of course I want to tell the world that you belong to me. But there are too many gossips about me in the company, probably more than 10 versions. I don't want to increase one more of yours. As you know, the girls in the secretary session are so obsessed with you, they'll kill me if they know I've slept with you."

Chapter 43: University Girls Nowadays Were Capable

We were just like a normal couple. Tangled and kissed in the car. In this moment, I hoped the time could stop in this snug morning. No traps, no conspiracies, no loves nor hates and no truth making pain on me that even made me could not stay alive.

I tried my best and finally arrived at the office before 8:30 in the morning.

I met Wayne coincidentally when I got on to the lift since he was inspecting departments. He was standing right behind me in the crowded lift and talking new project that launched recently with other senior executives.

"Mr. Gilbert, we have talked with the government about the demolition of the old town on Jianning street. Our plan of new building project can be launched after the demolition."

Old town on Jianning Street, that was where my uncle lives, wasn't it?

More accurately, it was the address of my home!

In that year, after the car accident of my parents, my home on Jianning Street was left unused. Even though my father was a dignitary, he had never corrupted so he did not own too many properties. The only blue-chip he got was the three-room apartment.

Then, I was kept in my uncle's home. The family of my uncle lived in countryside at that time. Their living conditions was tough, so I suggested them to move to my home.

When I was 10 years old, I did not understand the meaning of set the fox to keep the geese or it is easier to call up an evil spirit than to allay it!

My uncle's family moved to the apartment my parents left to me. From that moment, Harriet made the apartment hers!

I didn't argue about that in all these years. After all, my uncle kept me for 10 years. The kindness of him was always there. I would be sent to the orphanage if he did not adopt me!

By the meaning of Wayne, the apartment was included in the demolition.

"Ok, good job for all of you these days."

I stood behind him in silent. The lift stopped at 50th floor.

I took my steps out when Wayne had got off the lift and turned left. I followed behind him gingerly.

He did not say anything to me all the way!

In the company, we were just like strangers, pretending that we did not know each other's at all.

I started working immediately when I got to my desk.

At about 9 o'clock. There was an enthusiastic sound of greeting suddenly went off in the quiet office.

" Ms. Hunter! Welcome back!"

" Ms. Hunter! Did you receive anything in Japan? Anything like a romance?"

I raised my head looked along the others' sights to the doorway. There was a woman standing gracefully erect.

The first view went into my eyes was her "S" figure. She was in a lavender suit that made her figure more alluring! Black curved hair was like a fall, looked a little lazy and charming! The view of her back could enchant a bunch of people in one second.

I lifted my lips and showed a meaningful smile.

The female employees of Wayne were really all beauties.

This Ms. Hunter left alone the others; her long legs could be played for a year! I was calm in my mind. But I expression changed suddenly since I saw the face of the woman clearly!

She was the woman who was holding Wayne in arms and kissing him in the nightclub last night.

His fiancée in the future was working in the Secretary department in his company.

My heart went down suddenly. My condition was like a burning fire was poured on a pot of cold water.

"Enough, don't be garrulous anymore. I will give you guys wedding candies when I'm engaged." Sally glanced at the people with a light smile. There was an expression of happiness on her face.

" Is Ms. Hunter really going to marry Mr. Gilbert? Jesus! The most precious and eligible bachelor will be occupied."

Girls in the office crowd around Sally and talked lively all together. Even though they were telling congratulating words, their jealous expression was changing differently.

"Ok, there were two new girls joined our department when I was not here these day, Sarah and Lydia, right? I will buy a dinner for all of us as a greeting for you two joining the big family of Secretary department!"

" Of course we go since Ms. Hunter is buying..."

...

The whole morning passed in muddled.

I was not myself on working for the whole morning. I even made the most basic mistake in translating.

I got back to my seat soullessly after I was rebuked by Sally.

The scene of her rebuking me with a harsh countenance suddenly appeared in my mind.

" Lydia, the Secretary department is always an elite department under my supervision. I don't want the reputation of the whole department ruined by the only rat like you." She glanced at me contemptuously like she was looking at an idiot.

I never expected that the elegant and graceful Sally could say something so vicious like this.

There was a thousand miles difference between the appearance she made for others and the acerbic appearance now!

" I was just back to the company and heard a lot of rumors about you. University girls are capable that can even make tricks by sleeping with men. I don't care which director makes you here with hidden rules. Since you joined the company, you are my people in the Secretary department. If you make stupid mistakes again, I will report to Mr. Gilbert and fire you!"

Chapter 44: A Critical Moment

I was humiliated by her!

She even did not have to pretend to me since I was just a useless vase that only depended on sleeping with men in her eyes.

I suddenly wanted to tell her that it was a truth I joined the company by sleeping with a man. And I slept the man you cared the most... Wayne Gilbert!

However, I endured the impulsion. I did not argue with her for the moment.

In the evening, Sally invited us to dinner. I didn't join them with an excuse. She won't keep me since we had an unpleasant moment in the morning. She said to me perfunctorily, " Take care." Then she went to the dinner with them.

When I got back home, I went to buy some foods with Merlin and cooked a delicious meal which looked good, smelled good and tasted good.

I told her about the things between Wayne and Sally briefly to Merlin during the time we were cooking.

Merlin was so angry that she even wanted to kill Wayne since she heard the story, " Lydia, are you stupid! The meaning of Wayne is quite clear! He is just playing with your emotion! Sally is the one he will marry. Don't be hot-headed and sink into it! There is no different between Wayne and Richard. Even though Wayne looks elegant and virtuous, when he turns against you, you will be just like me. People will yell to kill you like you are a rat running through a street!"

My cooking hand was frozen for a second and I had a bitter smile, " I knew. I knew that he won't marriage me or give me a family from the beginning. But I'm thinking that he is not married now. I have the chance to be together with him since he is not married. Merlin, do you know that I'm exhausted. Wayne is like a delicious ice cream to me. I can even break my head and bleed for this ice cream!"

Merlin said with an expression of hating iron could not turn into steel," One day, you will cry. But Lydia, I understand your mood. I fell in love with Richard since I was hopeless with my tough life. He suddenly appeared and guided me like a lighthouse. I relied on him and I thought I found the love."

"Merlin, leave my business alone and just let it goes on."

At the table, when we were eating, my phone rung.

I glanced at the phone enquiringly. My hand taking the chopsticks trembled when I saw that was Wayne calling.

"Are you going to take it?" Merlin asked.

I shook my head. There was only one reason Wayne would call me, to sleep with me!

I could not face him with smile with the mood I got. And I could not go to his house with him pretending nothing had happened. I was afraid of that I could not help to ask him that was he really going to marry Sally.

I turned down his call and put away the phone then continued the dinner.

However I did not expect that Wayne was persevering and calling again and again. It did not get quiet until I turned off the phone.

When we finished the dinner and Merlin was cleaning the table, a knocking came through from the door.

I stunned for a second and looked at her with a bad expression," Could that be Wayne?"

Merlin lifted her lips," What's your guess? How many people know that you are living here? Exclude people that will not find you at this time and the one left is the most possible one."

I opened the door and looked at the man standing at the door enquiringly. The man had a furious expression and he seemed to come to fight!

" Who are you?"

"I'm not here for you, I'm looking for that bitch Merlin!"

I turned my head to Merlin.

She was stunned for a while then the expression on her face turned to screwy gradually. Her eyes full of fire of anger seemed was going to killing the man in front of her.

Chapter 45: You Sleep With Me For a Night

"What are you doing here?"

"Merlin, you are such a bitch. How dare you overdraw over 20 thousand with my credit card. Give me the money back right now." He walked into my home and grabbed the collar of Merlin and said fiercely.

Merlin knocked off Richard's hand and sneered, " You gave me the card and told me to use your card as I wished, didn't you? What now? I just used about 30 thousand and you are now asking them back now by yourself? Are you out of your mind since you are poor? Listen, Richard, don't bother me again or there will be a life-and-death struggle."

Richard was fiendish as he heard Merlin's words. He grabbed her neck, " You bitch, nearly made my family broken up! I will take away your life today. Go to hell, bitch!"

Merlin's face was pale, and she nearly could not breathe. I saw that and took the bottle of beer then threw it to Richard's head compulsorily.

Bang!

With the sound of the bottle broke, Richard yelled and covered the top of his head. His eyes were red as a beast since he found the blood on his hand. He howled at me, " Your shameless bitch. How dare you hit me! Do you know who I am?"

I held the bottleneck of the broken bottle, pointed it to him and sneered, " Of course I know you. What? Nelly was just released for several days and you would like to get into the jail eagerly now? I'm thinking that will the old Smith come to beg Wayne shamelessly if you are caught?"

His expression suddenly changed. His sight measured me again and again then he put away his fiendish expression. He looked at me calmly, " You are the woman of Mr. Gilbert, Lydia Toland?"

I told him slowly, " Richard, you trifled with my friend's affections and I have not counted that with you yet! I put my words here today, if my friend is hurt even a little, you whole family including that bitch Nelly, I won't let go them all."

I was overwhelming and Richard was shocked. His expression on his face was changing fleetly. His fire of anger could only burn himself up.

After a long while, when I thought that he was going to ran away destructively, he suddenly sneered, " Lydia, you were Wayne's woman before but are you still his woman now?"

"As I know, Wayne dotes on his woman very much. Sara followed him for two years. She lived in a villa and drove luxury cars. He also spared no effort to put her on the position of movie queen. And look at your sorehead appearance, wearing clothes from flea market and living in a slum area. What's wrong?"

Wayne had enough with you and kicked you out of his house, did he?"

I could not refute him at any point. Wayne was not even my sugar daddy. We got together that long, but he did not give me even a penny, let alone the villa and luxury cars!

" However, I can let go Merlin with a condition, Lydia, sleep with me for a night. Let me taste the woman played by Wayne. Then I will forget the money. How about it? A night for 30 grands, you are such an expensive one anyway. It is the price for me to sleep with a model."

I glared at him even my eyeballs were nearly coming out...

I could not imagine that how could Merlin fell in love with such a shameless slag? Perhaps, he worked as a director for too long and learned performing. He had always stayed in a hypocritical appearance and now he showed the real him.

" Richard, you are the most shameless slag I met in my life. Sleep with me in your next life!"

He wiped the blood on his head," That's not depend on your wish. I going to call a press conference if you refuse me. I will tell the medias details that your best friend slept with the director to get the role."

When he said that, Merlin was so angry and threw her hand to his face.

Richard took the slap. He did not angry but laughed to me," How about it? I don't have time to let you consider about time slowly. Let's go to the hotel if you admit it."

" Scum, don't even think about it!"

He compelled me by his sight. His eyes full of carnal desire were staring at me straightly.

" I will do this today for sure. Lydia, you'd better to cooperate with me."

I did not expect that Richard would be dared like this. He pressed me on the bed in front of Merlin and approached to kiss my face. I struggled. But a man's strength was stronger than a woman, so he won completely. Even Merlin was kicked away to the floor when she tried to pull Richard away.

There was no one could stop him. He looked at me with an obscene smile and took off my skirt.

In this moment, I screamed alarmedly," Wayne will not let go you if you dare to touch me!"

He took off his tie and tied my struggling hands. I was like a fish on the cutting board, let him to trample on! He unbuttoned my upper cloth and when he reached his hand to the button of my bra, I was despairing. My heart was gray. I had never expected to be ruined by a man one day.

" Little bitch, I will let you high right now!"

He took of his upper cloth and his hand did not stop taking off his belt. A figure suddenly appeared behind him when he took his pants off halfway. My eyes were open widely and surprisngly. I stared straightly at the familiar face behind Richard...
