

Elite Doting 1331

Chapter 1331: An Unforgettable Night (Part Thirty Four)

I have faith in you.

Zhou Shuang looked up at him and was startled. "What... What are you trying to do?"

She retreated backward.

Lu Yinan replied, "Take the room card and get a rest. Don't disturb Su Yue anymore."

Afraid that Zhou Shuang would think that he was trying to bait her into spending the night with him, he added, "Don't worry. I'll hang around the reception area or stand around in the corridors for the night. I won't enter your room without your permission."

He threw the room card to her.

His tone and gaze were serious.

Zhou Shuang momentarily froze and looked down at the card in her lap. She hesitated before picking it up.

She got off the bed, put on her shoes, and glared menacingly at Su Yue. "Young pretentious one, remember this. You're petty, just like you're third brother."

After that, she walked towards the exit.

Lu Yinan followed closely behind.

Su Yue sent them to the door and watched them leave before she closed the door.

She then turned around and leaned against the door. She heaved a sigh of relief. "They're finally gone."

She ran into the bedroom and whispered, "Uncle Ming, come out quickly. They've left."

She entered the bedroom and the man had already gotten out of the closet.

He was 1.8 meters tall. The first thing he did was to stretch his numb limbs and neck.

Su Yue walked over and smiled. "Uncle Ming, it's been tough on you."

"Go to bed," Ming Ansheng said, patting her head gently. He held her hand and led her to the bed.

Suddenly...

'Ding, dong.'

The doorbell rang again.

Both of them knitted their brows at the same time. "Who is it this time?"

"Uncle Ming, hide in the closet quickly." Su Yue pushed him towards the closet again.

Ming Ansheng felt very indignant. They were dating, so why were they acting like they were having an extramarital affair?

When he was hiding in the closet, he felt like an adulterer.

If the media were to hear of this, how was he supposed to appear in public?

But he didn't care about what others thought of him. He only cared about Lu Yinan and Yan Rusheng's opinions.

If they were to find out that he had such an embarrassing moment, they would laugh until their teeth fell out.

Young Master Ming hid in the closet, and he felt increasingly upset and indignant.

But he was afraid that Su Yue would get angry, so he could only hold in his emotions.

"Third sister-in-law?" Su Yue opened the door.

Her heart started palpitating again.

Xuxu was in her nightgown. She smiled at her. "Yueyue, you haven't slept yet?"

Su Yue replied, "I was about to turn in but Zhou Shuang woke me up. And you're here now."

She yawned as she said it, pretending to be tired.

Xuxu frowned. "Zhou Shuang really came over to find you?"

"Mm." Su Yue nodded. "She came, but Lu Yinan brought her away. He gave her his room card and said that he'd spend the night standing around the corridors or sitting at the reception area."

"This Zhou Shuang..." Xuxu frowned, not knowing what to say.

But then she thought: She wasn't Zhou Shuang. She didn't go through what she went through, so what right does she have to criticize her?

Chapter 1332: An Unforgettable Night (Part Thirty-Five)

Xuxu thought about it and said in a serious tone, "Yueyue."

"Mm?" Su Yue answered.

Xuxu replied, "If Zhou Shuang really doesn't want to spend the night with Lu Yinan, don't force them. Let Zhou Shuang stay the night with you."

Ming Ansheng was speechless when he heard her words. His heart was about to burst out of his ribcage.

He wasn't this nervous when Zhou Shuang was here just now.

Now he was really anxious because Su Yue always listened to Xuxu. He was afraid that Su Yue would agree.

'Little lass, please stay firm.'

If not, he couldn't guarantee that he wouldn't jump out of the closet and bring their relationship to light.

Su Yue was nervous as well. She bowed her head and then she thought of an excuse to reject Xuxu's suggestion. "Third sister-in-law, let's try it out first. For all we know, Zhou Shuang will take pity on Lu Yinan and let him in."

He had belittled this little girl's adaptability.

Ming Ansheng's lips curled into a smile.

He thought Wen Xuxu wouldn't deny her reasoning.

"You have a point."

Indeed, Xuxu agreed. She affectionately pinched Su Yue's cheeks. "You have the most brilliant ideas."

Su Yue sheepishly grinned.

She smiled unnaturally.

"Sleep early. We're going out tomorrow," Xuxu said. She walked towards Zhou Shuang and Lu Yinan's room.

Su Yue closed the door and had the fright of her life when she turned around. "How... How long have you been standing there?"

It was late so Ming Ansheng didn't want to tease Su Yue. He smiled and said, "Relax. I came after your third sister-in-law left."

"Uncle Ming, lying is tiring." Su Yue walked over and hugged him.

She had broken out in a cold sweat when she was talking to her third sister-in-law.

She was afraid that she would come in. Third sister-in-law was so intelligent and observant, she would definitely find something amiss.

"You don't have to hide it from her," Ming Ansheng said, hugging her waist and leading her to the bed.

Both of them lay down and turned off the lights. They kept their eyes open, only closing them after the doorbell didn't ring for some time.

...

Xuxu opened Zhou Shuang's door.

Zhou Shuang had already changed into her nightgown. She let her hair down and it reached slightly below her shoulders. Both of them sat on the sofa.

"I just saw Lu Yinan smoking at the staircase landing. Do you have to be so harsh?" Xuxu frowned. "He's the father of your children after all. Your room has a sofa and a bed. Why don't you let him sleep on the sofa?"

Zhou Shuang refuted, "Talk is cheap. Why did you refuse to eat the countless breakfasts that Yan Rusheng made for you back then?"

Xuxu replied, "I only did that to him because I loved him deeply. My heart ached when I heard him coughing in the middle of the night."

She smiled and raised her eyebrows. "By comparing your situation with mine and Yan Rusheng's, does that mean that you've fallen deeply in love with Lu Yinan?"

Zhou Shuang snorted. "Nobody's deeply in love with him. He's not in the least gentlemanly. I will never fall for him."

"Shuang." Xuxu looked at her and persuaded, "Don't say things too soon. Yan Rusheng and I said similar things to each other. He said that he wouldn't fall for me even if I was the last woman on earth."

Zhou Shuang was already troubled and confused. After Xuxu's words, she became even more confused. "Alright, that's enough. Stop persuading me. Go back before your petty husband comes looking for you."

Chapter 1333: An Unforgettable Night (Part Thirty-Six)

She pushed Xuxu out of the door. She didn't want to hear her nagging anymore. Her willpower was weak. She was afraid that she would give in if Xuxu continued talking.

Xuxu didn't intend on staying in the first place, so she left when Zhou Shuang pushed her out.

She stood at the entrance of the room and said, "Lu Yinan is in the staircase landing. Although the hotel has heaters everywhere, just think about how cold the staircase landing would be."

"Wen Xuxu, you've turned into a naggy woman," Zhou Shuang said, heavily patting her shoulder.

She forcefully pushed her out and closed the door.

Xuxu stared at the door and helplessly sighed.

'Wen Xuxu, you've turned into a naggy woman!'

Indeed. She had become more outspoken than before. Previously, she was a woman of few words.

Only she knew how much she had to put up with and how hard she had to keep up the pretense.

If she wasn't quiet, how could she stay by his side for over ten years?

If she wasn't calm and collected, how could she act nonchalant about all his flings?

"Wen Xuxu, come over right now."

Xuxu turned around and was about to head back when Yan Rusheng came looking for her. He quickly reached her and grabbed her waist, forcefully pushing her towards their room.

Xuxu frowned in confusion. "What do you want?"

Yan Rusheng replied, "Don't let the hooligan tag along when we go out tomorrow."

His main plan for their trip to M Country was for them to spend some alone time together, and visit Zhou Shuang while they were at it since Xuxu missed her.

What was the situation right now?

He was more afraid of making love here than at home. At home, he was afraid that the children would wake up halfway, whereas over here, he was afraid that someone would come knocking.

Can't he get a break?

Hopefully, he wouldn't collapse before he could truly enjoy himself.

Xuxu frowned. "Why?"

They had it all planned already. They were going to Disneyland in N City.

"I came here for a honeymoon with you. It's bad enough that you brought a light bulb, but now you want to bring a pregnant woman along too?" Yan Rusheng complained in an unhappy note.

Xuxu rolled her eyes at him. "Yan Rusheng, we didn't even have a wedding. What honeymoon are we having? Huh?"

Before he could reply, she continued menacingly, "Su Yue is your younger sister. Is she a light bulb? Zhou Shuang has Lu Yinan. Even if she's a light bulb, she won't be your light bulb."

Yan Rusheng ignored the last half of her sentence and tightened his grip on her waist. He whispered in her ear, "You're rushing me for a wedding ceremony?"

Xuxu denied it. "I'm not."

She looked downwards and kicked the floor.

"I'll make the arrangements once we're back. We shall hold it at the start of summer next year." Yan Rusheng bent down and kissed the corner of her lips. "Wife, give me a kiss..."

Xuxu was dumbfounded.

Oh my god, why was he so disgusting?

She intentionally wiped her lips in disgust and broke out of his embrace. She quickened her pace and pretended to ignore him.

"Stupid woman, you must be too excited," Yan Rusheng commented, lengthening his strides as well. "You're too excited to proclaim to the entire world that I'm your man."

'Cough cough. You always introduce me as Third Madam Yan so publicly. Do you really need a wedding ceremony to proclaim that?'

Xuxu scoffed, silently despising Yan Rusheng's narcissism. But the corner of her lips curled up into a blissful smile.

Chapter 1334: An Unforgettable Night (Part Thirty-Seven)

She still wanted a wedding ceremony. She wanted to put on a wedding gown and stand by his side, letting the world know that Yan Rusheng was her man.

Indeed, humans are never content.

...

This was the third time Zhou Shuang went to the washroom since Xuxu left.

She emerged from the washroom. She took a mug and poured herself some water. Then she walked to the window and drew the curtains, looking at the scenery beyond.

N City's night landscape was captivating. She opened the windows and a cold gust of wind blew into the room.

She gripped tightly onto her mug. The warmth of the water radiated into her palm.

Her legs started to feel tired after a while, so she leaned sideways on the window.

"Oh, my."

Suddenly, the young fellow in her womb gave her a kick. She felt like her tummy dented out during his kick.

She gently rubbed her tummy. "Naughty one, why did you kick Mommy?"

Zhou Shuang said, looking down at her belly.

The wind blew in and she sneezed.

One sneeze after the other.

She hurriedly closed the windows, in fear of catching a cold. She drew the curtains and walked over to her bed. She placed the mug onto the bedside cabinet and suddenly saw that behind the pack of tissues, was a pair of gold-rimmed spectacles.

She recognized it immediately—those were the spectacles that Lu Yinan usually wore to complete his refined look.

Zhou Shuang took the pair of spectacles and sat on the bed. She leaned against her pillow and stared at the spectacles from all angles.

"This fellow is always acting refined. Let's see if these spectacles have a degree," Zhou Shuang murmured to herself as she put it on.

She didn't feel dizzy.

But her view brightened and the colors of everything in her sight was much more vivid.

“So this pair of spectacles is not completely useless after all,” she murmured, taking them off. She observed it carefully before putting it on again. “Seems like Sissy Lu is not just trying to act refined.”

There was an N City health magazine on the bedside cabinet as well.

Without taking the spectacles off, she picked the magazine up. It was opened on the fifth page and printed on it was an interview of a renowned pediatrician.

It described with great details such as how to take care of newborns, things to note, things to do and more.

Was Sissy Lu reading this just now?

Zhou Shuang frowned. She looked at the cover, then flipped it back to the interview page. Her heart started to feel weird.

She closed the magazine and threw it aside. She took the spectacles off and threw it onto the bedside cabinet. She turned off the lights and lay down, covering herself with the blankets.

The huge suite was so quiet, she could hear her own heartbeat.

But, why was her heart beating so fast?

Zhou Shuang tossed and turned in bed, unable to sleep because of her racing heart. She suspected that she had drunk too much tea.

She had seen online that pregnant women would experience all sorts of weird ailments.

That must be it.

She flipped herself over and closed her eyes, trying to stop her brain from overthinking.

Quickly, she began to feel tired. She yawned a few times consecutively and finally fell into a slumber.

“Oh, my.”

Suddenly, both sides of her tummy felt a kick. The fellows in her tummy seemed to have a mass revolt—they were rhythmically kicking her.

Chapter 1335: An Unforgettable Night (Part Thirty-Eight)

She had experienced this sensation before so it didn't worry her at all. She stroked her tummy and chided them softly, “Naughty fellows, all of you are not letting me sleep, uh? I have to carry all three of you all day long. Do you know how tired I am? Can't you be more considerate? Naughty fellows.”

Her sleepiness vanished into thin air instantly.

Zhou Shuang turned on the lights and accidentally glimpsed the spectacles on the bedside drawer. She gazed at it in a daze.

The triplets seemed to know that she was in a daze and they kicked her—that jolted her back to reality.

“If you kick me again, I will punish you.”

She raised her head and gently tapped her tummy.

‘Just think about how cold the staircase landing would be...’

‘He’s the father of your children after all. Your room has a sofa and a bed. Why don’t you let him sleep on the sofa...’

Zhou Shuang was still stroking her tummy when Xuxu’s words rang in her ears. The smile on her face momentarily froze.

She couldn’t help but raise her head to glance at the door.

Zhou Shuang felt another strong kick and she snapped to her senses. She bowed her head as she peered at her tummy. She whispered, “Naughty fellows. Should I let him in? Huh?”

The triplets kicked her once more as though they understood her question.

Zhou Shuang chuckled and lectured them, “You traitors! I was the one who carried you and fed you with good food all day long. He only contributed for a night with his sperm!”

She was a true hooligan. Her prenatal education was so simple and crude.

She lifted her blanket and got off the bed. She put on Lu Yinan’s spectacles before walking to the door.

She was wearing the hotel bathrobes and she adjusted it when she reached the door. She took out the room card and opened the door.

Zhou Shuang followed the signs and reached the staircase landing. She caught a faint whiff of cigarettes.

She frowned and used her hand to fan the smell away. She walked to the staircase and peered down, but she didn’t spot Lu Yinan.

She walked back to the corridor and glanced everywhere.

‘I’ll hang around the reception area...’

Could he have gone to the main lobby?

Without further ado, Zhou Shuang walked towards the elevator. It was Christmas Eve and they adorned the hotel with Christmas trees. Two tiny ones were outside the elevator, twinkling brightly.

The elevator stopped with a ‘ding.’

“Darling, I love you.”

“Me too. I can’t wait to do it.”

A couple walked out from the elevator and they were caught in a tight embrace, as though they were a pair of conjoined twins. Their lips were locked as they flirted with each other.

A sexy woman with blonde hair already had her shirt unbuttoned.

This scene was truly R-rated.

The corners of Zhou Shuang's mouth twitched and she flushed furiously. She eyed them warily as they walked away.

She retracted her gaze only when the elevator's doors closed. She pressed the button and strode quickly inside.

The woman's perfume lingered in the air and Zhou Shuang wrinkled her nose in disdain.

Ever since she became pregnant, she became very sensitive to smells and fragrances.

The elevator reached the ground floor and several couples were waiting outside. They were either locked in an embrace or kissing passionately.

Chapter 1336: An Unforgettable Night (Part Thirty-Nine)

The flush in her cheeks had just subsided and regained color once more when she saw the couples. She bent her head and cursed silently in her heart. "F*ck! Isn't this a seven-star hotel? Why does it seem more like a love motel?"

Caucasians are indeed more liberal!"

Zhou Shuang strode towards the main lobby which was grand and luxurious. The staff at the counter were all as pretty as flowers.

She glanced at the reception area.

Lu Yinan raised an exquisite cup to his lips as he lazily slumped against the couch. He was staring into blank space.

It was Christmas Eve and it was almost midnight. The fountain outside the hotel was still sprouting colorful water into the air.

An enormous Christmas tree, adorned with beautiful, colorful lights, stood in the hall. The hotel's surroundings were breathtakingly beautiful and luxurious.

"Mister, I would like to treat you to a drink."

Lu Yinan, who was deep in thought, jolted to his senses when a blonde woman in a tight-fitting dress sat down across him. She had beautiful features and was gazing at him with her sky-blue eyes.

He looked at her briefly before displaying a polite smile. "Okay."

He extended his hand with a cup of coffee and clinked the lady's wine glass.

It produced a clear and pleasant resonating sound.

The woman took a sip and wine was smeared all over her lips. She seemed extra seductive and bewitching to the man tonight.

She eyed Lu Yinan, but his attention diverted to the glass windows once more.

“Can we spend the night together?”

After a moment of silence, the blonde woman unabashedly asked him.

Lu Yinan looked at her with a gentlemanly smile and replied, “I’m afraid not.”

He politely bowed his head as he declined her offer.

The woman across from him seemed disappointed. “Oh. What a pity.”

She shrugged and was about to stand up.

Lu Yinan placed the cup down and abruptly stood up before the woman did. He was feeling sleepy so he came here for a cup of coffee.

It was about time for him to ‘loiter’ outside Zhou Shuang’s room again.

He adjusted his clothes and turned around. He seemed momentarily startled as he stared into the distance. He darted towards a woman and said, “Zhou Shuang!”

“Zhou Shuang, you’re really ridiculous. Don’t you remember who he is? How could you really think that he would freeze at the staircase landing or sleep in the main hall?

He is rich, handsome, and young!

Your worries were all in vain.

I despise you! I despise you so much!”

Zhou Shuang sternly berated herself for showing concern for Lu Yinan.

Lu Yinan’s voice sounded behind her, and she hastened her footsteps.

The elevator opened with a ‘ding’. She entered and hastily pressed the button to close the door.

“Wait for me!” Lu Yinan scrambled for the elevator and he almost lost his footing. But alas, he was still too late.

He stared exasperatedly at the elevator and he got anxious. He turned around and bolted for the staircase.

He sprinted up the stairs and didn’t even stop to catch his breath. How he wished he could ascend a level with one step.

Fortunately, the room wasn’t on a high floor. If not, he might die from exhaustion.

Lu Yinan reached the level and he ran to the elevator. He pressed the elevator button and realized that it was empty. He turned and as expected, Zhou Shuang was rushing back to her room.

Chapter 1337: An Unforgettable Night (Part Forty)

Lu Yinan bolted after her and shouted, "Zhou Shuang, listen to me!"

Regardless of whether Zhou Shuang had the wrong idea about the woman earlier on or not, he wanted to explain.

Zhou Shuang hastened her footsteps when she heard Lu Yinan's voice.

"Don't run! You might fall."

Having long legs was an advantage, and Lu Yinan caught up with Zhou Shuang just before she reached the room. He grabbed her arm tightly.

He was afraid that she would struggle so he pressed her firmly against the wall. He then gripped her shoulders and looked at her squarely. "I don't know the woman and she merely said hello and sat across me. Out of courtesy, I just replied and said hi."

"You need not explain to me," Zhou Shuang replied nonchalantly. "The air-conditioning wasn't working in my room. So I went downstairs to get the staff to check for me."

How she regretted her impulse to check if he was really freezing at the staircase landing.

That wasn't her style at all.

"I'm not asking why you came downstairs." A sly smile flitted across Lu Yinan's face, and he smirked lightly. "Isn't there a phone in your room? Or the phone wasn't working as well?"

Zhou Shuang's face instantly turned red. 'What a terrible excuse, you have come up with, Zhou Shuang!' as she berated herself.

The air-conditioning wasn't working... this was so stupid!

Her embarrassment turned into fury and she shoved Lu Yinan away. She placed her hands on her hips and glared fiercely at Lu Yinan. To conceal her embarrassment, she raised her voice and yelled, "Yes! I went down, hoping to see you freezing to death in the hall."

Lu Yinan curled his lips smugly and quipped, "See! You do care for me. Why are you still pretending?"

He surveyed Zhou Shuang from head to toe and realized that she didn't look so loathsome after all.

He had no idea if it was because she was carrying his babies. The babies were his and he loved them. And so as the mother of his babies, she looked more pleasing.

Yes, that must be it.

"Don't think so highly of yourself. I'm not worried about you at all." Zhou Shuang smirked and she said, "I just wanted to ask you to get those damn spectacles away. I find it irksome."

She whipped out the room card and turned around. After she opened the door, she entered and tried to shut it immediately.

Lu Yinan darted forward like an arrow and gripped the door firmly. He didn't dare to be too rough, for fear of hurting Zhou Shuang. He merely stopped her from closing the door.

"Just let me go in. You can sleep in the bedroom. I'll sit on the sofa."

"But you said you would rather stand in the corridor for the entire night." Zhou Shuang decided to prank him and relinquished her grip on the door.

Lu Yinan had expected that, but he chose to her prank. He almost lost his footing but steadied himself.

Zhou Shuang eyed Lu Yinan's sorry figure and she smiled triumphantly. She muttered under her breath, "Serves you right."

She placed her hands into her pockets and strode into the bedroom. She took out Lu Yinan's spectacles before walking out once more.

Lu Yinan closed the door after him and strode to the sofa. He removed his coat and started to unbutton his shirt.

Zhou Shuang caught a glimpse of his actions and her eyes trailed to his attractive figure.

She frowned and bellowed at Lu Yinan, "Sissy Lu! What are you trying to do?"

Lu Yinan merely lazily fluttered his eyelids as he threw a glance at Zhou Shuang. He drawled, "Taking a shower. The flight was over ten hours and I took the economy class. I stink right now."

Chapter 1338: Various Public Displays of Affection (Part One)

Lu Yinan had already removed his shirt, revealing his lean yet muscular body although his abs weren't that clearly defined.

He didn't seem like a... weakling.

Zhou Shuang blushed at the thought of it and immediately turned around. With her back facing him, she yelled, "Sissy Lu! Don't be so shameless. Who allowed you to take a shower here? Put on your clothes now!"

Lu Yinan was already used to being called Sissy Lu, so it didn't affect him any longer.

He unbuckled his belt and took off his trousers. He turned around and looked sideways at Zhou Shuang. "Everyone was born naked, so why do we have to bother ourselves with unnecessary stuff?"

Was he trying to imply that she had lewd thoughts about him and therefore, she was trying to forbid him from undressing?

Zhou Shuang interpreted his message and she abruptly turned around to face him. She gritted her teeth in fury as she glared at Lu Yinan. "Sissy Lu, you're such a jerk!" bellowed Zhou Shuang.

Her bellows shook the entire suite.

Lu Yinan peeked his head out from the bathroom. He frowned and said to Zhou Shuang, "Can't you be more gentle and civilized? You're scaring the babies."

"You... you..." Zhou Shuang pointed at Lu Yinan as she stammered.

Lu Yinan smirked lightly and said, "Go and sleep early. Remember what I said and don't bother yourself with unnecessary stuff. The void is the world of senses, and vice versa. Don't think so much."

He put his head back and closed the bathroom door.

Zhou Shuang clenched her fists and stomped her feet angrily. She couldn't find any other way of venting her anger.

Her gaze landed on Lu Yinan's clothes which he had placed on the sofa. She clenched her teeth as though as she was trying to find all her determination.

She strode to the sofa and picked up Lu Yinan's clothes. She then picked up the lighter on the coffee table.

Without any hesitation, she pressed the lighter and lighted Lu Yinan's shirt on fire. She walked to the bathroom and wrenched the door open.

The man was standing under the showerhead, but Zhou Shuang didn't have the mood to admire the scene. She threw the burning shirt inside and yelled, "Go and die, Lu Yinan!"

She slammed the door shut.

"Zhou Shuang, just you wait!" Lu Yinan's yell echoed from the bathroom.

He sounded really furious.

Zhou Shuang couldn't help but think of that fateful morning once more. The consequences of her provoking him resulted in her not being able to move normally for the next few days.

But now that she was pregnant, he wouldn't be so inhumane, right?

Panic overwhelmed her at the thought of it.

At that moment, the sounds of running water halted.

Zhou Shuang hurriedly walked to the bed before lying down. She pulled the blanket over before turning sideways. She tightly shut her eyes and pretended to fall asleep.

Lu Yinan came out of the bathroom in a bathrobe. He was using a towel to rub his wet hair as he shouted, "Zhou Shuang!"

Zhou Shuang closed her eyes tightly to show that she was 'fast asleep'.

Lu Yinan walked into the bedroom and saw the woman lying sideways on the bed. He leaned casually against the door frame as he smiled in amusement.

"So you're a coward who doesn't have the courage to admit to what you've done."

Zhou Shuang almost broke her teeth, and she clenched her fists.

Chapter 1339: Various Public Displays of Affection (Part Two)

'Sissy Lu, don't you dare challenge my limits. Otherwise... I will definitely make sure I exact revenge on your children!' Zhou Shuang thought quietly to herself.

Lu Yinan noticed that Zhou Shuang wasn't moving. He stopped teasing her as it was late at night. So he smiled and said, "Rest early, I'll be outside. Call me if you need me."

He turned around and walked towards the sofa.

Zhou Shuang's eyelids fluttered open, and she threw a furtive glance at the door. She caught a glimpse of Lu Yinan before he vanished out of sight.

She heaved a sigh of relief before chiding herself silently.

Zhou Shuang, you're so useless! Why are you scared of him? At most, you can just hit him!

That Sissy Lu won today. Aargh!

Zhou Shuang was silently seething in anger for some time. But gradually, sleepiness attacked her.

After continuously yawning, she finally shut her eyes.

She would usually take an afternoon nap but she didn't manage to rest today. It was such an exhausting day and it had her completely drained. She fell into a deep sleep.

In her dreams, she could feel a hand gently stroking her tummy. But she was too tired, so she merely flipped her body over.

She really slept like a pig and didn't exude any feminine charm from head to toe. How unfortunate he was to be embroiled with this woman! Shit!

Lu Yinan laid on the bed as he gently stroked her enormous tummy. He propped his head with the other hand and his gaze landed on Zhou Shuang's face.

He thought that this woman was really terrible, and he couldn't see any of her strengths at all.

And now she had gained considerable weight. He could even see an extra layer under her chin.

Oh, my god!

Why was he so unlucky to have bumped into this woman!

She wasn't pretty, neither did she have a voluptuous figure. She had a fiery temper, and she kept swearing all day long.

Lu Yinan became grumpy and gloomy, and unconsciously, his gaze trailed to Zhou Shuang's lips.

It was a little warm in the room and Zhou Shuang was pouting. Lu Yinan who seemed to be in a reverie, moved like a puppet towards Zhou Shuang and bit her lips.

He bit her! It wasn't a kiss.

He seemed to vent her anger and he exerted more strength.

"Ahhh..." Zhou Shuang yelled in pain and her eyes opened in shock. She saw the man right before her eyes and she shoved him away angrily.

"Lu Yinan! You... What were you doing?!" Zhou Shuang interrogated Lu Yinan as she wiped her lips with the back of her hand.

She looked as though she was disgusted.

Lu Yinan crossed his arms across his chest and settled himself comfortably against the head of the bed. He glanced at Zhou Shuang and said airily, "You don't have any good qualities and you don't even take initiative."

Zhou Shuang heard his remarks and it riled her up. She sprang upright and bellowed, "Get lost now!"

"Alright. Stop making a fuss and go to sleep." Lu Yinan grinned at her and coaxed her gently. He stretched his hands and pulled her into his embrace. He gave her a light peck on her cheek and said, "Let's get along in peace and not bicker anymore, all right?"

Zhou Shuang was the type of woman who would never yield to force but would turn soft immediately if someone coaxed her. Lu Yinan's change in attitude extinguished almost all of her fury.

She tried to struggle and escape from Lu Yinan. "Let me go. I'm not that close to you. Don't make it appear we are really intimate."

She was blushing from her neck and face and her palms were sweating.

Lu Yinan peered at her with a frown and quipped, "We already slept together and we are expecting our babies soon. What do you mean by we aren't that close?"

"Get lost and go away!" Zhou Shuang shoved Lu Yinan and turned her back against him.

Chapter 1340: Various Public Displays of Affection (Part Three)

Lu Yinan didn't tease her anymore and simply stared at her quietly.

A man was sleeping beside her and furthermore, he was the father of her babies. Naturally, Zhou Shuang found it hard to fall asleep.

She could feel Lu Yinan's eyes on her and her heart pounded violently. Her palms were cold with sweat as she remained motionless.

'Cough... cough.'

Zhou Shuang cleared her throat as it was a little dry.

Lu Yinan craned his neck to peer at her as he asked, "Do you want some water?"

Zhou Shuang shook and declined. "No... I'm fine."

"I'll get you water." Lu Yinan decided otherwise, and he climbed out of bed.

Zhou Shuang felt more at ease after he left the bed. She sat upright and positioned herself against the head of the bed.

Lu Yinan walked to her side and took her cup.

Zhou Shuang eyed the towering figure in silence. Her heartbeat was erratic, and she blinked her eyes. She pressed her palm against her chest and began to berate herself.

'Zhou Shuang! How can you be so soft-hearted! Why are you so nervous around that sissy!'

The more she thought about it, the faster her heartbeat was. Her face became flushed, too.

Lu Yinan walked back with the cup in his hand. His hair was still a little wet and he was wearing bathrobes. He originally looked quite bewitching, and now, he looked even more seductive.

He had a hand in his pocket, as he strode towards Zhou Shuang.

His fingers were long, slender, and his hands were fair. They looked extremely good and it made her want to hold his hands.

Zhou Shuang bit her lips and stretched her trembling hand. "Thank you," muttered Zhou Shuang as she received the cup.

"Why are you so polite? I'm not used to you acting like this." Lu Yinan teased Zhou Shuang lightly before bending to sit next to Zhou Shuang.

He put his hands behind his head and grinned widely at Zhou Shuang.

His eyes were so seductive.

Zhou Shuang accidentally met his gaze and her heart began to pound furiously once more. She instantly averted her gaze and bent her head. She gripped the cup tightly as she took a sip.

Her palms were sweating and she didn't utter a sound.

Lu Yinan gazed at Zhou Shuang for a while before asking, "Why are you so quiet?"

Zhou Shuang glanced askew at him and said, "Go to the sofa and sleep. Don't disturb me anymore."

"I can't sleep because of jet lag." Lu Yinan pursed his lips before lying sideways. He propped a hand to support his head as he watched Zhou Shuang intently.

He intended to observe her closely; perhaps he could find her strengths.

Zhou Shuang furrowed her eyebrows as she warily eyed him. "Didn't you used to study overseas?"

She would blush every time she met his eyes, so she didn't dare to look at him for too long.

She immediately averted her gaze.

Lu Yinan realized that Zhou Shuang was feeling bashful and that lifted his spirits and boosted his ego.

He made this female hooligan blush. That was no easy feat.

He continued the conversation, looking relaxed and comfortable. "That was a long time ago."

Zhou Shuang responded softly with an 'oh' and it was almost inaudible.

"Go back with me after New Year," said Lu Yinan.

Zhou Shuang spun around and glared at him. "Don't think that I will give you the children just because you poured me a cup of water."