

Emperor 5111

Chapter 5111: My Condition Is Simple

Nonetheless, they remained calm and collected.

“Fellow Daoist, why do you insist on making an enemy out of Celestial Court?” Vessel didn’t start a fight right away.

“All problems can be mediated.” Ascension said: “Allow us to lend you a hand in solving this issue, turning swords into silks.”

“As long as you are willing, we can negotiate because Celestial Court’s doors are open to everyone. Given your power, you will absolutely shine there.” Six-pot nodded in agreement.

Although they wanted to kill him earlier, they still tried to recruit him. This made ancestors from The People rather nervous.

If Li Qiye were to accept, it would be a fatal blow for The People for the next era to come. The lower continents would be lost completely.

After all, losing Ascension and Greenmountain was a serious blow already, especially for the members of Primal. Li Qiye was an even more pivotal character since he was the only one who could oppose these conquerors.

“My condition is simple and consistent.” Li Qiye smiled.

“Let us know, Fellow Daoist, and we will send the message back to Celestial Court.” Vessel said.

If the four of them could easily suppress him, they wouldn’t be wasting breath talking right now. Alas, after the first exchange, they weren’t confident in beating him in the slightest and didn’t want the risk.

“I just need Celestial Court to be reduced to dust.” Li Qiye said.

“Yes!!!” A dragon lord from The People couldn’t help but shout after hearing this. They could finally relax after hearing Li Qiye’s determination.

Two of their ancestors have joined Celestial Court. It made the struggle seem meaningless in the grand scheme of things.

“You deserve death!” Greenmountain roared and the entire peak behind him lit up.

He utilized his dao to control the power of Reincarnation. Its laws harmonized with him and flames shot into the air. They engulfed him and made him look even more majestic.

“Fellow Daoist, since you insist on not seeing the errors of your way, your punishment shall be death.” Vessel’s murderous intent erupted.

Her sword energies left long scars in the air. Not to mention regular experts, even dragon lords felt sharp pain despite standing awfully far away. As for other inhabitants, blood seemed to be oozing from their pores.

"Incredible murderous intent." A six-fruit dragon lord couldn't believe it.

Though she was the most friendly one out of the bunch, she decisively changed direction into the forceful path. This was her style - ready to fight regardless of the opponent's strength.

"Give me your strength!" Greenmountain was the first to take action.

The inhabitants of the lower continents, both the weak and strong, started glowing with the light of life.

The particles gathered together above the conqueror to form a heavenly halo. Everyone felt as if they were entirely trapped by this phenomenon, never being able to escape. Their fate was his now.

Of course, his only target was Li Qiye.

"Clank!" The halo wrapped around Li Qiye, wanting to seal his dao power, chaos true energy, and anything from the fate palaces.

The name of the technique was World Halo. This dao allowed him to obtain the first dao fruit. In fact, it made him competitive with those on a higher level.

Formidable foes couldn't break free from this restraint. They needed to kill him in order to break free but this was difficult due to the various restrictions. Moreover, the longer the battle, the stronger the suppression.

It unwrapped and sucked Li Qiye into the content inside. This was a world with numerous gigantic gods. Their auras immediately drowned him.

He was the creator of the technique and had used it all his life. Rumor has it that when opponents were successfully sealed, they would become a part of his list. Their powers became his afterward.

“Boom!” Ascension himself entered this world and exerted his tyranny over the land. The gods immediately channeled their power into him, lighting him ablaze with endless mighty.

Chapter 5112: Ultimate Push

Ascension turned into a divine emperor with the power of his subjects. After the initial boost, he immediately sent everything toward Li Qiye.

Li Qiye was a piece of metal being thrown into a scorching furnace, on the verge of turning back into molten liquid.

Meanwhile, Vessel Conqueror’s murderous intent engulfed the three continents, painting a potential scene of blood and carnage.

“Clank!” She finally unsheathed her sword. The sheer weight of the technique was too much for the world to bear.

The sharpness of the slash wasn’t the focus but rather - the intensity of the sword dao. Its mere presence alone could pulverize dragon lords.

“Vessel Slash!” A crowd member saw this move for the second time and found it to be more terrifying.

She had used it before to great success, killing numerous geniuses and masters in the lower continents. Not even a single bone was left in the aftermath.

“It’s still as amazing as ever.” A dragon lord with a crush on her said with admiration and fear. People couldn’t help falling in love with her while fearing her at first sight.

“Destruction!” Six-pot Conqueror gathered all of his power as well. It seemed as if a million volcanoes were erupting at the same time.

All six pots activated as he shouted: “Karmic Yin Yang Reincarnation Pots!” [1]

They flew into the scroll and exerted these affinities upon Li Qiye, encircling him with the unceasing rotations of the mortal coil.

Some had heard of a particular story about this technique before. During Six-pot Conqueror’s generation, he had another conqueror as his rival. Alas, the powerful rival was eventually taken down by this technique. Even the dao fruits were reduced to ashes after being stuck in the cycles.

“Boom!” All four conquerors struck Li Qiye in unison.

“!!!” Spectators saw the time and space around Li Qiye being subjected to refinement.

“He has to escape the karmic cycle in order to survive.” An ancient ancestor from The People turned pale.

“Yes!!!” On the other hand, The Race’s members shouted in excitement. Their conquerors went all out from the very beginning.

“Lifting the affinities with one hand! No one can beat him!” A dragon lord was moved to tears.

The supreme geniuses and powerful ancestors on this side saw endless potential in Li Qiye and took great pride in this.

“The great Luminous Conqueror and Demon Conqueror couldn’t have been better than this.” One ancient ancestor became teary.

The former fought the countless ancestors of Deity while the latter dominated alone. After so many years, The People finally had another cultivator of this level.

Li Qiye’s radiance was just as bright as these historical legends’ as he blocked the incoming attacks.

“This is insane...” On the other hand, ancestors from the other side felt their knees buckling.

Though they wanted nothing more than to kill Li Qiye, they couldn’t help but admire his incredible power. The Race respected strength and ability.

For example, despite being beaten by Luminous and Demon, their descendants had nothing but praise for these conquerors. This applied to Li Qiye as well.

“Rumble!” Li Qiye slowly raised his hand against the combined forces. All four attacks faltered as a result.

After loud explosions, the conquerors finally felt immense pressure coming from Li Qiye. The tides have reversed and they were no longer refining Li Qiye.

“Go!” They roared and released their dao flames and true blood. The two power sources mixed together and boosted their ultimate attacks. This was their limit.

Chapter 5113: Foundation

Their power surged to a horrifying level since they were burning their true blood without any hesitation.

“Boom!” Li Qiye’s hand moved down slightly. The sight of this gave them hope.

“Brothers, Reincarnation will assist us!” Greenmountain shouted.

“Very well, open the foundation!” Six-pot knew that this was a crucial moment.

“Activate!” Greenmountain’s dao fruits became resplendent.

He became shrouded in flames before sending it toward all of Reincarnation.

“What is this?” Members of the lineage felt as if they were bathing in a warm spring.

The flames made them one with the lineage - an inseparable link. This was an unprecedented feeling but all of them were connected now.

After loud explosions, Reincarnation suddenly split into two halves, revealing a divine treasury beneath.

Inside the blinding radiance were numerous treasures and weapons. Runic lines appeared all over the lineage and formed an ancient symbol. It shot upward and imprinted itself into the sky.

This was a symbol from the ancient time, seemingly having been blessed by countless emperors and gods.

This resulted in an overlord-level strength engulfing the lower continents. Instead of actually destroying everything, they aimed for the other three conquerors.

This boosted their attacks up to the overlord level. The refinement process started again around Li Qiye.

“Rumble!” The sky started opening and a shocking scene appeared before everyone - an ancient world with countless stars and unimaginable beings...

This was a world from a different epoch and it began to affect the fabrics of the lower continents. Deeper in that epoch was a divine treasury. Each treasure could massacre dragon lords and conquerors in the present. It seemed to have enough firepower to take down all six continents.

“Is that the legendary treasury of an epoch?” Everyone observed in fear.

“It’s not real, only a borrowing attempt from Blazing Conqueror. He managed to understand this old epoch and created this phenomenon.” A dragon lord took a deep breath and said: “It seemed that he managed to connect it with the foundation of Reincarnation and now, Greenmountain Conqueror somehow opened it as well, this is rather unprecedented.”

According to the legend, Blazing Conqueror possessed a divine treasury. Though it he was able to find an ancient epoch.

Although the epoch no longer existed, he was able to borrow a portion of its power during its golden age. The actual treasury served as a connection to bring it back to the present.

Even Reincarnation doubted this because no one has been able to channel this phenomenon until now. Greenmountain has proven himself to be exceptional, capable of seizing the power of an epoch.

“Boom!” The manifestation eventually took the form of a golden maelstrom that exude rays into the three conquerors, adding layers of armor plates to them.

They immediately grew into gigantic machines, looking capable of devouring the stars.

“What is this...?” Everyone stared at them in amazement.

They became the embodiment of the ancient epoch and wielded its power. Moreover, this didn’t negatively impact their cultivation at all.

“Boom!” The area where Li Qiye stood was immediately refined into an enigmatic rune.

Chapter 5114: Something’s Amiss

“Not like this...” The members of The People became speechless. All of their hope was placed on Li Qiye since without him, they had nothing to contend against The Race with.

They actually thought that he would be able to win against the four conquerors. Alas, Blazing Conqueror's special ace card was too much to take.

Reincarnation had never used it before. Its Timewatcher Conqueror never resorted, perhaps out of inability. Today, Greenmountain utilized it to refine Li Qiye into a symbol, shocking all spectators in the process.

People realized that they had underestimated Blazing Conqueror. They only remembered his wealth, not his actual power.

With Li Qiye gone, who would be able to stop the conquerors now?

"We shall unite the world!" The big shots from The Race jubilated and saw their ambition coming to fruition.

"So this is the power from an immemorial epoch." Six-pot Conqueror said with admiration: "Imagine wielding all the armaments in that divine treasury."

Some crowd members believed that an ant with this treasury would have been unstoppable as well.

"Fellow Daoist Greenmountain, why didn't you empower yourself?" Vessel Conqueror asked.

They were focused on taking down Li Qiye and didn't notice anything at that moment. However, she thought that something was amiss.

On the other hand, the crowd members had no problem with it because they saw Greenmountain Conqueror channeling the symbol with all of his might. Activating that divine treasury allowed them to win. Thus, some thought that her question was unnecessary.

However, the other conquerors felt the same way.

“Fellow Daoist, what is going on?” Six-pot felt something ominous.

Greenmountain smiled and said: “It’s nothing, I’ve just been waiting so long for everyone to come, now I can finally pull the net back. It hasn’t been easy slumbering all these years.”

“What are you saying?!” Ascension shouted.

Meanwhile, the crowd became lost at this development.

“No! Greenmountain didn’t descend!” Thousand-faced Sovereign was the first to react and sent a message to top cultivators.

“What?!” They were startled after hearing this.

Everyone saw four conquerors descending - Greenmountain was the first to arrive.

“He’s been down here all this time.” Other ancient ancestors understood. Greenmountain only put up an act while waiting for the others to come.

The other three thought that Greenmountain had already gotten started with Li Qiye. Eventually, this led to the duel in the Mountain of the Ages.

Greenmountain managed to trick everyone since he hasn’t been around for a long time. They all thought that he had ascended. The newly-arrived conquerors assumed that Greenmountain was on their side against Li Qiye.

In reality, Greenmountain was the one who destroyed Swordgrasp and forced Conceal to light the communication beacons.

Now, they were smart enough to immediately understand the situation - that this was a trap. No wonder why Greenmountain was so eager to start a fight with Li Qiye instead of giving him a chance to explain himself.

“Go!” Vessel roared and activated her power.

Six-pot and Ascension Conqueror did the same thing, wanting to break out of the plates.

“Boom!” Having said that, he took out a round treasure brimming with temporal rays, looking like the wheel of time.

He threw it up into the air, embedding it into the center of the golden maelstrom. This was a perfect fit.

This meant that the wheel was a part of the divine treasury, perhaps the very core. It’s just that he didn’t choose to reveal it earlier.

Chapter 5115: It Is You

“Boom!” Three temporal beams rushed down and struck the three conquerors, forcing them down to the ground.

The armor plates that gave them immense power earlier became their prison. Though they mustered all of their strength, they couldn’t break free in such a short time.

Now, they were assaulted with the power of time - thousands and thousands of years flowing by in seconds.

This was a legendary treasure capable of suppressing imperial and conquerors’ weapons. However, the members of Reincarnation never got to see it. Some believed that Blazing Conqueror had taken it with him.

This was similar to the weapon of an epoch lord. Now, it was fused with the power of an epoch while possessing the temporal affinity.

“Ahh!” The three conquerors bellowed in pain. As time passed, the temporal beams began to absorb their blood and dao power.

“What are you doing?!” Ascension couldn’t believe that there was a conqueror capable of doing such heinous deeds.

“Isn’t it obvious? I’m just borrowing your dao fruits so that I can get twelve. Oh, and your vitality too so that I can live longer.” Greenmountain said calmly.

Listeners were scared out of their mind after hearing this. In the history of the six continents, killing happened all the time between conquerors and emperors.

However, they haven’t heard of a conqueror eating dao fruits and absorbing vitality. This was forbidden for good reasons yet they were witnessing it today.

“It’s him!” Thousand-faced Sovereign and Truth Conqueror exchange glances. They understood that he was the culprit for all the missing cultivators.

“The six continents will not allow you to do this!” Six-pot bellowed.

“So what? Once I possess twelve dao fruits, I will be unstoppable. No one up there will know and even if they do, they will only send down more food for me. This is my pasture now, once I eat enough conquerors, I will become immortal, the lord of this epoch.” Greenmountain smiled.

“You!” Ascension couldn’t believe that this was actually happening.

“Don’t be surprised, this happened all the time during the ancient epochs. I came across a scroll depicting all of this, it is the origin of our Reincarnation Lineage. No epoch can escape this fate, I am merely accelerating the inevitable.” Greenmountain elaborated.

The communication lines between the continents weren’t so clear. If these conquerors were to be eaten, no one could ascend again.

It would be too late once the upper continents realize that there was something wrong. Greenmountain would be too strong then; both The Race and The People would become his food.

He also had all the advantages and descending conquerors might not be strong enough to beat him.

Thus, everyone fell into despair. This was hopeless for their continents.

“It was really you!” A furious voice sounded.

Everyone looked over and saw an old man in a black robe. He coughed every time he spoke.

“Uncle Xiang!” Those from Eight-stallion recognized him.

“Hahaha, Phenomena, so you’re still alive. How unexpected for you to survive that attack.” Greenmountain was surprised for a moment before laughing.

“Phenomena Conqueror!” After taking a closer look, a few big shots recognized the old man. [2]

“Phenomena?!” Eight-stallion’s members couldn’t believe it. The watcher of the cemetery was the famous conqueror?

“That’s right.” Greenmountain had no need to hide it: “Phenomena, oh Phenomena, the number one genius. You actually figured out the mysteries of the ancient epoch during our fight and spouted those bullshit. I actually believed you and nearly suffered qi deviation but I suppose I do need to thank you. Your bullshit actually helped me understand the remnant epoch left behind by Blazing Conqueror, hahaha!”

The crowd became creeped out and recalled the disappearance of certain dragon lords ten thousand years ago.

After absorbing these dragon lords, his ambition grew and he targeted Phenomena Conqueror. He highly valued the dao fruits and vitality of this genius. He baited the conqueror into a trap and ambushed him.

Phenomena who was facing the brink of death saw through Greenmountain’s cultivation and commented on its flaws. This made Greenmountain question the devouring process and changed it, nearly resulting in qi deviation.

Phenomena took advantage of this and fled, albeit still being struck by a fatal blow. Greenmountain was sure that the conqueror wouldn’t live for long.

After escaping successfully, Phenomena went into hiding. He had no solid proof that the assailant was Greenmountain and waited for the right time to show up again.

Chapter 5116: Despair

No one thought that there was a devil looming in their land. Though conquerors have massacred sects before, the acts were either due to vengeance or part of a conflict.

Absorbing other cultivators was something unforgivable and forbidden. Now, two conquerors whom everyone thought had ascended were actually hiding here all this time.

Due to a lack of communication between the continents, only assumptions could be made. In reality, Greenmountain hid to devour others while Phenomena waited to see the culprit.

Today, Greenmountain finally revealed his true face and trapped three conquerors from the upper continents.

“Activate!” Phenomena roared and myriad images appeared in the air - the rotating celestials, ancient trees, wondrous godkings, meteors...

He brimmed with vitality and imperial power after releasing all of his might. He turned back into a conqueror instead of being an old cemetery keeper.

The conqueror became shrouded in flames. He raised his hand and summoned a gigantic hammer spanning ten thousand miles.

Cracks appeared on Chrono Disk. They were already from the start, not due to the current battle. Temporal laws oozed out of it and connected with the divine treasury.

“I have you know that this treasury once belonged to the legendary Samsara Ancestor, the devourer of an epoch. It took a lot of effort for me to seek out this dark path and inherit his dark dao. No one is getting away today!” Greenmountain shouted. [1]

Greenmountain had eight dao fruits now and was stronger than before. Most importantly, he had inherited the dark power of an ancient epoch - far stronger than conquerors at a similar level.

Phenomena was sent flying for miles and miles. Greenmountain tried to catch him but Thousand-faced Sovereign entered the battlefield, grabbing the wounded Phenomena and flying away.

His goal was to run for their lives since the two of them still couldn't beat Greenmountain.

"Run all you want, this entire world will be mine anyway." Greenmountain laughed and didn't pursue.

Listens shuddered as if they had fallen into an ice pit. Alas, there was nothing they could do to stop the feast.

"Implode!" While Greenmountain was momentarily distracted by Phenomena, the other conquerors made a difficult choice.

"Boom!" They chose to die while erupting all of their powers.

The golden armor plates trapping them exploded. Metal bits along with blood and flesh gushed out. The resulting force instantly flattered Reincarnation.

Alas, the might of Chrono Disk came crashing down. The conquerors had no other choice but to be even more drastic - imploding their dao fruits as well.

With this final act, they reduced Reincarnation into dust. Its inhabitants didn't even have the chance to scream before disappearing from the world. Only a bottomless abyss was left of this region.

The three conquerors hoped that there would be fragmentations of their dao fruit left after the implosion. As long as there were slivers left, they could come back to life again just like Luminous Conqueror back then.

“Too late for that.” The empowered Greenmountain shouted. A dark hand swept over and grasped all of the remnant affinities.

“Ahh!” In the end, the conquerors couldn’t escape this predicament. Their vitality and dao fruits were taken by the hand and pulled back into Chrono Disk

With that, the wheel became even more resplendent and looked like an eternal moon. Some of its cracks disappeared as a result.

Greenmountain Conqueror was the final victor to the horror of all inhabitants. Li Qiye was dead and three conquerors were refined.

From now on, the lower continents belonged to him alone. He could eat anyone he wanted now including the remaining conquerors and dragon lords.

“What a shame.” He sighed while looking at the abyss: “It was a wonderful continent but it’s fine, the power of darkness is mine now.”

Everything from Reincarnation including its divine treasury and foundation was already taken by Chrono Disk beforehand.

Heaven Burial was destroyed by Li Qiye before but he was more merciful in comparison. There was nothing left of Reincarnation now. Not a single survivor was left within the affected radius with the exception of Greenmountain.

Chapter 5117: The True Hunter

A terrible scar existed in the lower continents where Reincarnation should be. One of the twelve lineages was no more.

In the case of Heaven Burial, at least it went down to an external enemy. Reincarnation's destruction was due to its own conqueror - someone who should be protecting it instead.

"I am now the lord of the three lower continents." Greenmountain looked down and declared.

Listeners shuddered in horror. They were fat sheep standing near a hungry tiger.

Although it wasn't overly loud, everyone clearly heard it and became startled.

"It's Li Qiye's voice!" Most nearly cried from excitement. This included both The Race and The People. His voice descended like the first rays during a wintry night, giving everyone hope and warmth.

“C’mon, c’mon, get out of it!” Ancient ancestors wanted to come and help him break out of the symbol.

The moment contact was made, the symbol exploded into particles. The waves emanating from it easily took down the temporal beam. The power of time had no chance against absolute force.

Greenmountain staggered backward, pale.

When the dust settled, everyone saw Li Qiye stretching lazily as if he was napping.

“Li Qiye!” Greenmountain glared at his opponent. He planned all of this with ample room for errors. Alas, he still underestimated Li Qiye.

He assumed that the power of four conquerors in addition to the ancient epoch would be enough to refine Li Qiye.

Sure, they did reduce Li Qiye to a symbol yet he still somehow got out unscathed after the symbol was gone.

Even a fool would know what was going on - Li Qiye was viewing him as a prey while he thought of himself as a hunter.

“Li Qiye is still alive!” Everyone rejoiced after seeing this, even those who wanted to see him suffer before.

His being alive was more exciting than anything. They even hugged and celebrated the matter.

“Fiercest?!” Others nearby liked the nickname and started shouting as well: “Fiercest is unbeatable!”

They didn’t know that this was once Li Qiye’s nickname in the distant past. The lower continents had an unprecedented level of solidarity. Everyone was of one mind - hoping for Li Qiye’s victory.

“I knew about you, a little cockroach planning and scheming from the shadows. Now, you’ve finally shown yourself.” Li Qiye smirked.

“So what? I am no longer afraid.” Greenmountain took a deep breath.

“Oh? Confident, aren’t you?” Li Qiye said.

“It doesn’t matter if you have twelve dao fruits. Do you see this thing in my hand?” Greenmountain spoke while holding Chrono Disk: “If I use my life force, it will unleash the power of an epoch, more than enough to take you down. The worst-case scenario is both of us going down.”

He believed that his Chrono Disk was as strong as an epoch lord’s paragon artifact.

"I'm aware." Li Qiye smiled: "The old geezer's weapon. It's not that mysterious, just disgusting with the forbidden refinement. Don't mistake it for something impressive, it's just a lowly art that isn't worth mentioning."

Greenmountain's expression changed again. Few were aware of these secrets, perhaps not even the progenitor of Reincarnation and Blazing Conqueror.

He only came across an ancient scroll by chance and spent his entire life researching this matter before unlocking the wheel.

He suddenly had a bad feeling about this after listening to Li Qiye's knowledge.

Chapter 5118: Dark Hand

The cracks became more apparent as time oozed out. The seal of the divine treasury and the remnant epoch could be seen above. It contained stars, mechanical giants, and wondrous cultivators...

"Rumble!" Everything then turned into a temporal maelstrom. A hand reached out from the center - one that has been corroded by darkness for years and years.

The dao of the lower continents shuddered at its appearance. It could easily crush everyone to death along with the world.

Greenmountain couldn’t believe it because this was a power capable of contending against a twelve-fruit conqueror.

“Little cockroach, you think that you are unbeatable just because you have a taste of the darkness.” Li Qiye smiled and said: “Even if the old geezer comes back to life during his prime, I can still slay him, let alone you.”

“Crack!” With that, he forcefully pulled the hand down.

“Ahh!” Greenmountain bellowed in agony because he was one with Chrono Disk. This was akin to his own hand being pulled down.

Fear stopped him from worrying about the pain. He immediately turned to run only to see Li Qiye standing in front of him.

He got the illusion that the entire world was blocked. His speed and direction no longer mattered. Crossing through the dimensions wouldn’t let him get away either. The only way was to kill Li Qiye.

“Fine!” He roared and decided to go all out.

“Crack!” The cracks on the wheel became wider, releasing boundless temporal and life energies. These affinities were turned into darkness to empower Greenmountain.

Time made his body wither while life revitalized him. The darkness began devouring his body - the start of an endless cycle.

However, his body started cracking because he was not strong enough to withstand the true power of Chrono Disk.

Because of this, the wheel itself broke into little pieces and latched onto his broken body, keeping it together.

“Ahh!” This process was agonizing but he started growing exponentially.

Despite being large enough to trample the land, he still couldn’t withstand the dark power. His face twisted in pain but at the very least, he could control it now.

“I will obliterate you and this world!” Greenmountain shouted thunderously.

“Samsara Fist!” He punched downward. Just the sheer shockwaves alone could turn all living beings into dust.

Therefore, Li Qiye had to take action. He leaped into the air and punched the gigantic fist. The technique represented his supreme will, capable of piercing the high heaven itself.

Not only did he manage to stop the devastating attack, but he also disassembled the armor plates around the giant.

The pieces gathered together and soared into the air while Greenmountain lost everything. An eight-fruit conqueror such as himself stood no chance against the punch.

It pierced his chest and slammed him down to the ground. The fruits became resplendent and activated their dao in an attempt to stop Li Qiye.

They could block a barrage from numerous imperial-level weapons. Alas, Li Qiye easily crushed it as well and impaled Greenmountain through the chest.

Meanwhile, the fragmented wheel became whole again and tried to escape. Unfortunately, Li Qiye caught it in no time at all.

It trembled in his hand, seemingly possessing sentience and intelligence.

He stared at it and smiled: “I spared you once before but this is a rather foolish mistake.”

With that, he pushed his hands together.

“Ahh!” The wheel bellowed before wanting to implode with the power of an epoch. However, Li Qiye easily contained this inside his palms, not allowing absolute destruction to spread.

“Crack!” Eventually, he reduced the artifact to dust. He let go and the specks scattered to the wind.

Chapter 5119: Filthy Cockroach

Chrono Disk dispersed with the wind while everyone was left speechless. They have been on a ride of emotions after being turned into hopeless sheep ready to be slaughtered.

Actions were futile; only the upper continents could save them. This was especially true for the supreme geniuses and dragon lords since they were prime targets for Greenmountain Conqueror.

However, Li Qiye came out of the symbol like the warm sun rays and saved everyone. The future was bright once more.

Both sides found Li Qiye pleasant to the eyes regardless of their previous feeling about him. After all, who didn't enjoy the rare sun during a frigid winter?

From hell to heaven in the blink of an eye - the contrast was drastic and made everyone reflect on certain issues.

Some thought that it wouldn't be so bad if top cultivators such as conquerors didn't exist.

Look at Reincarnation, so what if they had conquerors? Instead of being a protector, Greenmountain turned Reincarnation into an abyss. They could have lasted much longer without him.

The latter was crippled since his dao fruits have been destroyed. Death was calling even if Li Qiye were to spare him.

“Crowned in victory, condemned in defeat, kill me.” Greenmountain showed no sign of fear.

“That idiom is reserved for true cultivators who walk proudly and fight heroically. You, a cockroach who hid in the shadows to take advantage of others. You, are no conqueror.” Li Qiye disagreed.

“Hahaha.” Greenmountain suddenly laughed boisterously: “I am not the first and won’t be the last, haha... those stronger than me have done it before, even the epoch lords couldn’t resist the temptation.”

“That is why you are not worthy, the same for those who devour their own epoch. Don’t try to justify your filthy deeds with theirs.” Li Qiye said.

“Haha, and what about you? Perhaps one day, your fate will be like mine.” Greenmountain’s voice was harsh and grating.

“Save this for when you’re in hell. Only the weak speculate others’ intent based on their own lackings. Not everyone is as weak-willed as you.” Li Qiye smiled and said: “Throughout the long years, some have fallen into depravity but many rose above it and worked for progress, not wasting a single moment fighting to keep the sunlight shining on the world. They never uttered a single word of complaint or regret.”

“No, men will always be the same...” Greenmountain didn’t buy it.

“Well, you’re not able to recognize someone exceptional for you have fallen.” Li Qiye said.

Greenmountain still didn’t believe that he had done anything wrong. Someone else would have done the same thing under the same circumstances. Everyone had the same darkness in their heart; all were cockroaches just like him - a justification for his actions.

“Death is right before you.” Li Qiye smiled.

He devoured others for the sake of strength and life prolongation. If he hadn’t done so, he might have lived longer. However, death still arrived in the end - a karmic consequence of his sin.

“Kill him!” Someone suddenly shouted.

“Kill him! Kill him! Kill him!” This started a chant from all the cultivators in the lower continents.

They had nothing but hatred for Greenmountain Conqueror, aware of the terrible fate had he been victorious. If anyone from Reincarnation were still alive, they would be shouting the same thing.

“Are you listening? Should I send you on your way or let the world judge you?” Li Qiye asked.

“... Kekeke...” Greenmountain’s laughter was creepy as if his throat had been torn apart. He made his choice and said: “Kill me.”

He didn’t have long to live given his current state. If others were to get a hold of him, they would torture and trample on him, letting him taste a fate worse than death. His dignity as a conqueror would be shattered.

“Very well, I will show mercy.” Li Qiye smiled and raised his foot.

Greenmountain closed his eyes and said nothing.

“Bam!” Li Qiye gathered the dao and stomped down, reducing him to a bloody mist.

This spelled the end of a conqueror. He wasn’t the most brilliant nor the strongest. Nonetheless, he left a deeper impression on the lower continents, even more so than Luminous or Heaven Burial Conqueror.

At the very least, Luminous and Heaven Burial still followed the same mold. Even someone like Maddened was rather normal in comparison.

What Greenmountain did was make people think that the world might be a better place without conquerors and unbeatable cultivators.

Chapter 5120: A Secret

Greenmountain was stomped to death like a cockroach, always reviled instead of celebrated. This was an uncommon end for conquerors.

Normally, regardless of the conqueror's personality and morality, they would at least have some fans. A few might remember them or have a different perspective than the rest.

In this case, Greenmountain had earned the hatred of the entire lower continents.

This was especially true for the dao lineages since their progenitors were conquerors. Could the same happen to them one day - their revered ancestors becoming devils?

The next thing everyone did was kneel in the direction of Li Qiye and perform a full kowtow to show respect. The lower continents would have been doomed without his involvement.

He didn't belong to any lineage as far as they knew but still prevented the worst. This was their way of showing gratitude.

He sighed and shook his head before returning to Eight-stallion Dynasty.

Light returned to the three continents and their inhabitants celebrated the occasion. They found a revitalized appreciation for just being alive. The storm was finally over and the sun rose again.

Back in Eight-stallion, Li Qiye relaxed on a long chair and enjoyed the sun. A'zhui stood next to him and said softly: "I won't seek revenge."

"Oh? Then what will you do?" He glanced at her.

"Finish my father's business. Chaos is still chaotic, he never stopped working." She said.

The battle earlier had a profound effect on her, even more so than her father's death. His death was akin to the sky falling down but it wasn't the most terrifying thing.

She was still a princess with loyal protectors such as Northern Monarch and Venerable Dragon God. The dynasty was on her side.

Though she wanted revenge, she knew that it was no way to live. Her father wouldn't be able to come back anyway.

On the other hand, the path of vengeance might take her on the wrong path. She might drag Eight-stallion down to the abyss, causing many deaths along the way.

Her father wouldn't want to see this for he was a protector. Continuing his legacy and protecting the dynasty became her wish out of respect.

She had received plenty of love from her father and his dynasty. It was improper to abandon this for her own personal wishes.

"Remember, your father, when alive, was a great dao lord, and a hero in death as well." Li Qiye said.

"I know." A'zhui bowed and said: "I will work for this world, what my father did, I shall continue to do. Chaos will change its name one day."

Li Qiye smiled and touched the top of her head, sending a faint light inside her mind. He then closed his eyes.

She bowed again and left.

After a long while, another person sat down next to him - Conceal Conqueror.

"Shouldn't you tell the little girl? She has the right to know." He spoke without opening his eyes.

"No." She paused for a bit before answering. Li Qiye chuckled and didn't pursue the issue.

"You're ascending soon?" She asked after a brief silence.

“Yes, I am finished with my business here, it’s time to move on.” Li Qiye said.

She seemed to have something on her mind.

“Returning to Celestial Court? If I see you there, I will not show mercy even if you are the successor of the dao heart kill.” Li Qiye spoke with a calm yet merciless tone.

“I understand.” She nodded, aware that he wasn’t joking around: “Celestial Court doesn’t have to be my home.”

“Indeed, The Race’s members don’t need to think about it like that.” Li Qiye said lazily.

“I’m not returning to Deity either.” She said.

“No rebuilding?” He glanced at her.

“No, there is an end to everything. I will leave Godchaser as it is.” She shook her head.

“Correct, no sects last forever, it’s only a matter of time.” Li Qiye said.

It wasn’t difficult for her to rebuild Godchaser and make it the strongest sect in the lower continents again. Others might be unable to separate themselves from these attachments but not her.

“What will you do then?” Li Qiye asked.

“Cultivation, seeking one dao alone - dao heart kill.” Conceal said.

“Yes, just one dao alone is enough to be unbeatable.” Li Qiye smiled: “The crucial thing is to gain an immovable dao heart, that’s the only way to reach your desired level.”

“I understand.” She nodded.
