Joseph didn't want to take charge of it either. Actually, as long as Kim didn't like Irish anymore, he could do anything he wanted, which had nothing to do with Joseph.

So as Kim finished it, Joseph sneered and intended to go.

"Joseph..." The woman beside him was just like an abandoned doll and rushed forward poorly, embracing Joseph's arms and begging shatteringly, "Do not go! Please help me."

And then Joseph took a glance at the girl.

She was indeed not a gaudy girl with just a white dress. The belt was a little messy, and her long hair got loose. On the other hand, she seemed to be a little delicate and charming.

There were still tears in her eyes. She thought of him as her hope.

Somehow Joseph thought of Irish, who ran to him with only pajamas and begged him not to leave her with tears when they were in Hong Kong. She was also delicate and charming, which touched him.

But he clearly knew that she was not Irish.

He just pulled out his arms and asked lightly, "What happened?"

"He... was frivolous to me.." The woman cried sadly.

Kim was surprised to hear that, and he soon said to Joseph, "Do not listen to her. I will not do it this way. Actually, let her advertise a product, but she refused to do so, which was a big loss for me. And I intended to make compensation by inviting the advertising company to have a meal together, but she refused it again. She didn't cooperate with me, which made me angry."

"Mr. Dover. I didn't intend to break the promise. It was really because of scheduling conflicts. As for the gathering meal, they are a nasty one. One star in the company had accompanied them and been treated badly." The girl cried, "I love acting, and I really want to work well. I don't want to accompany them."

Joseph's facial expressions didn't have many changes, and his look was still calm. He looked at Kim and said, "How much are the liquidated damages she does owe?"

Kim was confused and soon understood, "$300,000,"

Joseph smiled widely, "Mr. Kim, you have a quarrel with staff for only $300,000. Are you okay?"

Kim was a little embarrassed. Joseph didn't say much and took out a check from his pocket. He filled in the amount and signed his name, passing it on to Kim, "Just take it. And it is over."

Kim took it and glanced at it. It was a check with $300,000 on it. He was soon happy and felt grateful, "Thank you. Mr. Dover. Thank you." And then he raised his eyes and asked tentatively, "So Becky is yours."

Joseph frowned. He didn't notice Becky that he mentioned and just said coldly, "Before your company went bankrupt, there was still a business. And actually, this check is for the interests. Just tell you one thing. Go away from Irish; otherwise, you may not have it."

Kim nodded and ran immediately. Joseph entered the hall without turning back.

"Mr. Dover...." Becky behind him couldn't catch up with him and just saw his back disappear at the door. She stood there, melancholy and sorrowful. So he really couldn't remember who she was and even his look on her didn't stay for three seconds.

He still cared about Irish so much...

It was still elegant in the hall. All the men and women wore a coat of civilization and tried their best to be satisfied. Human beings tend to place their emptiness on something, such as Joseph. Of course, other people with dreams planned to take advantage of this opportunity to raise their statuses, such as Britney and Becky. But Becky dreamed of something more beautiful, and she even wanted to get love.

But her behavior was a little childish.

And Britney even wanted to hit her. "I promised that I would help you. Why didn't you get yourself controlled?" Britney was angry and anxious at the corner of the hall when she heard Becky's narration. She was angry about her impatience.

"Sorry. I didn't know that it would happen. Just now, Mr. Kim called me out, and I didn't think that he would do it in that way." Becky lowered her head and answered carefully.

Britney was cold and thought for a while, "Didn't he recognize you?"

Becky shook her head. She thought that he would have some impressions on her. It would be glad for her to hear that she was a little familiar with Joseph.

Britney sighed and didn't say anything.

"Am I hopeless?" Becky felt lost since Britney didn't talk anymore.

Britney was very serious, and her mood was disturbed, "What kind of person do you think he is? I just told you clearly that no matter if your behavior was accidental or deliberate, he regarded you as a woman who actively approached him. He has seen so many women and witnessed so many tricks. It is childish for him, you know? What's more, do not think that it is to help you that he gave the money to Kim. You will get mad at this thought. He just used the money to clean his barriers."

When she said it, Britney herself was a little puzzled.

How she got close to Joseph was similar to that of Becky, but why did she succeed and stay beside Joseph for many years, while Becky didn't arouse Joseph's attention? Was it because of Irish's existence? Or did Joseph really love Irish?

Becky felt more dispirited by hearing these words, and she was even helpless. Finally, she just pulled Britney's hands and begged, "Please help me."

"I have no way." Britney said directly, "If it hadn't happened, I had meant to take you to have a greeting with him. I would be responsible for occupying others beside him, while you could have some time to chat with him. But now Joseph holds bias on you, and if I continue my plan, he will figure out my intentions."

"So..." Becky was anxious, "What should I do? I can't let him have bad impressions of me."

Britney looked around and finally signed the other end of the sofa, "Now only Megan can help you. She is good at promoting actors, and she has contact with Joseph since they have had cooperation before."

Actually, there was another reason that Britney didn't want to tell Becky. After losing contact with Joseph, Britney was so regretful, and later she met Megan. It was through Megan that she had an opportunity to have a face-to-face talk with Joseph. And this time, she just talked about work, not their relationships.
