Irish could not help gasping, trembling in a voice pleading, "Please...Be gentle."

She thought he would ignore her plea; after all, he was drunk. Hurting her would be his most direct thought.

But unexpectedly, Joseph slowed down the force and speed of entry. Irish felt that her body was filling up inch by inch.

He bowed his head and gently bit her lips, which smelled of wine and wood.

"So big..." She could not help panting.

He put his big hand on her waist, held her high, and invaded her body slightly.

Every time he reached a certain depth, Joseph stopped.

Then slowly evacuate.

And he will be entering gently and firmly. It was just that every time he entered, he went a little deeper than before.

This kind of treatment could be called gentle torture.

Within a few moments, Irish's body was awakened by his strength.

Her falling arms could not help but circle his neck.

Her slender fingers almost got into his wide shoulders.

Throughout the process, Joseph stared at her and looked at every slight change in her face.

And he himself was also enjoying being circled.

Until when he finally reached the end of her, he tried a little hard and entered the depths of her body.

Irish hugged him and could not help shaking.

For the feeling of being fully filled, she admitted that she could not give up. She called his name again and again in her heart, calling Joseph.

Every time she shouted, her heart hurt once, and then she was lost in his accelerating frequency.

On weekends, there were always palpitations.

Lilith did not know why. This Friday, inexplicably, her heartbeat accelerated. Clearly, her mobile phone was not ringing, and clearly, there was a lot of work on hand, but she still had a faint foreboding that she would see Jay when she got off work.

She has not been in touch with Jay since they met last time.

This silence was like a barrier in the air, blocking them.

She tried to call Jay several times, but she didn't know what to say when picking up her cell phone.

Lilith did not know what she was waiting for. Maybe she was waiting for Jay to give her an explanation.

An explanation that could relieve the relationship between them.

But when she got off work, she didn't get any, but she got a call. She was surprised, "Mom?"

After an hour of traffic jam, she arrived at Kelly's clubhouse, unaware William was also there. Kelly ordered a glass of juice and came straight to the point.

Lilith was indignant after hearing the words and looked at his parents unbelievably and said, "How can you go back on your word? Mom, you told Jay that as long as he left the drug operation team, you wouldn't object to us being together, but you let me make a blind date today? Or are you two together forcing me to do so?"

Kelly pressed her shoulder and forbade her to leave the table, and her face was calm and serious. "At that time, your uncle was not gone, and the Runestone Group was ours, but now? The only elder of the Lakes is your father. If we sit back and watch, the Runestone Group will have no place for the Lake family sooner or later."

"So you took me in?" Lilith looked at her parents, feeling cold.

William heaved a deep sigh by the side, "Mom and Dad are also for your own good. Is it wrong to find a man matching you? In fact, we are not trading you for anything. Your mother and I really think that Jay is not suitable for you. You are a girl living in a rich family, and he is just a policeman. You see what you wear, eat, or even travel, which is not good? Can that little cop give you a life of food and clothing? You are still young and always feel love goes first, but Lilith, you need to know that marriage is not a joke, which is different from a relationship. After a long time, you have to face the economic basis, right? Then you will find life difficult. You and he are from different worlds, and you are not fit to be together."

"Yes, Lilith, we used to be young. You have to accept what we say. There are no parents who don't think of their children. I admit you have feelings for Jay, and Jay is also good for you, but this is all just the beginning. You have to face reality, right? You said he dealt with the bad guys all day long, and what about you? Your career is elegant, and you have shares in Runestone Group, and you must have earned more than him. What do outsiders think of you? A man doesn't want his woman to earn more than he does. He has more time to appear in public than at home. This kind of man is a conservative tradition in his bones. What he wants is a woman who can run a family for him, not a rich lady. You can't pay for a babysitter to do housework when you are married, right? Your dad's right. You and he are in a different world. Being in a relationship is okay, but you can't get married."

"Mom, how could you do that? When two people are together, they have to take care of each other. Even though I'm a rich lady, we still have two eyes, a nose, and a mouth. Even if what you use is good, that is what you give me. No matter how good clothes I have, I can not change seven or eight sets a day; no matter how delicious the food is, I only have a mouth. To put it bluntly, you just want to use me for a business marriage to guard against my brother-in-law. If you are really so worried, well, why do you ask me to date? Why don't you give me to my brother-in-law, and I'll follow him, and you'll have the same result?" Lilith was anxious and clenched her fist.

"What are you talking about?" Kelly's face was not happy, and she said in a low voice, "You'd better calm down. Even if you don't like it, you'll have to finish the date today."
