

The Enigmatic Return (Neera and Jean)

Chapter 601

Neera was stunned for a moment, and she looked down, "What happened?"

Jean's tone was light, "Heard she had a heart attack, I just received the news."

Neera didn't say anything, just nodded slightly to show that she understood. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Roxanne's life or death was irrelevant to her.

Anyway, after being locked up for a few days, she had suffered enough.

"Go upstairs, I'll treat you."

She diverted the conversation..

Jean stared at her for two seconds, nodded, got up and went upstairs.

After more than an hour, the treatment ended.

Isabella called, "Neera, do you know that Roxanne is released?"

Neera walked to the window and replied, "I know, did she go to your place for treatment?"

Isabella said, "Yes, it was late at night, and she was sent in suddenly. I thought she was faking it at first, but I didn't expect that she had a heart attack. She has been saved, but her situation is not optimistic."

Neera guessed, "Is her heart starting to fail?"

"That's right, in her current situation, if she doesn't do heart transplant surgery, she will definitely not live for long."

After finishing speaking, she hurriedly explained, "I didn't call you to tell you about Roxanne. The main reason was that I heard that the Garcia family called your aunt just now! They were very arrogant. They demanded your aunt help to find a matching heart, and they even asked your aunt to specifically get Nancy to treat Roxanne!"

After Neera heard this, her face darkened slightly.

It was obviously impossible for her to save Roxanne.

As for the Garcia family, why did they have the audacity to ask her aunt to help them?

They even commanded her!

After hanging up the phone, she was unhappy.

Jean put on his clothes, walked to her side, and stared at her face for a few seconds.

"Isabella's phone call? Is it related to Roxanne?"

Neera explained briefly.

Jean understood, "Then what are your plans?"

Neera thought for a while and said, "Auntie will definitely not let me make a move. However, she is always soft-hearted. Even if she has broken ties with the Garcia family, she will not ignore this completely because of the elders of the Garcia family. She will help to look for a heart that matches Roxanne."

She paused, thinking of an idea.

"In the current situation, what I can do is to make the Garcia family back out. I was thinking, how about a showdown with the Garcia family to confess that I am Nancy?"

Jean didn't think it was a good idea.

"Based on the way the Garcia family behaves, if they know that you are Nancy, they may not retreat in spite of difficulties. They may force you to rescue Roxanne. If you insist on refusing, they will probably threaten you."

After being reminded by him like this, Neera felt that this would really be the case.

She couldn't make up her mind, so she called her aunt.

It was morning on that side of the world.

Adriana quickly answered the call.

Neera went straight to the point.

Adriana didn't hide it, "The two elders have indeed come to me. I only promised them that I would help Roxanne find a matching heart, but I didn't agree to the rest of the requests. Don't worry, I won't let you face it."

Her reply was the same as what Neera guessed.

She felt comforted, thought about it, and pointed out a clear way.

"Auntie, I don't know much about Roxanne's condition, but I heard from Isabella that it's very dangerous... However, there are many authoritative experts in the industry who can perform heart replacement surgery, not just me."

"I understand."

Adriana comforted her softly, "Don't think too much, Neera, I respect your decision, and out of selfishness, I don't want you to have this operation, and I don't want you to feel uncomfortable."

Neera felt touched, and the heaviness in her heart dissipated a lot.

After finishing the call, Adriana once again made it clear to the Garcia family that it was impossible for Nancy to do it.

Marnie was very stubborn, "Don't prevaricate me with such words! No matter what, you must get Nancy! No one can operate on Roze except her! Don't give me any excuse, please find a way!"

Adriana felt very upset, "I will do what should be done, but this is impossible!"

She didn't want to waste too much time talking with the old lady, so she hung up the phone after speaking.

On the Garcia family's side, they were so angry that they badmouthed Nancy again.

"After all, she is just a doctor. Does she really think she is some kind of extraordinary person!"

"She has no medical ethics at all!"

"She is not worthy of her fame!"

Listening to the endless scolding, Gladeon frowned.

"Okay, does it help to complain so much? The most important thing now is Roxanne's condition! In my opinion, what Adriana said is right. If we can't get Nancy, we can hire someone else. It's not impossible for us to find an expert in this field."

Roxanne was not taking this well, she was lying on the hospital bed and losing her temper.

"Grandpa, you are joking with my life! How can you just find any other random doctor? I don't want it! I want Dr. Nancy, I only want her to operate on me!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 602

Just when the Garcia family was in chaos, Neera was sleeping soundly.

The next day, one of the formulae for the reagent successfully fused.

This was a big progress, and everyone was very happy.

Luigi and Osbert took the lead and praised Neera non-stop.

"Neera, it's you! Sure enough, there's nothing you can't do!"

"Of course it is Dr. Nancy. With such high efficiency, even I, who personally participated in the research and development, can't help but be surprised."

"Exactly, even in foreign countries, it took more than a week just for the first formula to develop, and it had been unsuccessful. No one knew which process went wrong, and the data was always wrong."

Neera smiled modestly, "I didn't complete this data alone, it was everyone's effort. If you didn't help me relentlessly, I wouldn't have completed the first reagent so quickly. Thank you for that."

"Neera, it's our duty!"

"There's no need to be so polite between us..."

Obadiah, after getting the news, immediately called to praise her, he was happy for her.

This news soon reached Thora.

She was so annoyed that she almost threw something again.

Why was Neera doing better every time she was doing worse?

She, on the other hand, seemed smaller and worthless under the shadows of Neera!

She was confident that she was no worse than that bitch, but why was she always the one who lost in the end?

Jealousy distorted her face.

She gritted her teeth, unwilling to let it go.

She vowed to defeat Neera completely this time while she stayed in the country!

Unable to dissipate her anger, she thought of Alistair and called him again.

"Alistair, I still have something to trouble you, can you help me investigate the specific situation of the Garcia family?"

Alistair was charmed when he heard his name being called out delicately.

He kept saying yes, and agreed without even asking why.

Alistair was really capable.

Two days later, he found out the current situation of the Garcia family, and also discovered the conflict between Neera and the Garcia family.

Taking this opportunity, he made an appointment with Thora.

Thora couldn't wait, she agreed immediately and went straight to the destination.

"How is it? What's the situation at the Garcia family's side?"

As soon as they met, she hurriedly asked before she had time to sit down.

Alistair ordered a cup of coffee for her, and said with a smile, "There's a surprise..."

Then, he told her everything.

Thora knew about Neera's previous reputation and was not surprised.

What surprised her was that the relationship between the Garcia family and Neera was actually so bad.

"Are you sure? The Garcia family wanted to get Nancy to treat Roxanne, but they couldn't find her?"

Alistair nodded, "Yes."

Thora's eyes flashed, and she blurted out, "However, Nancy is Neera!"

Alistair was a little surprised now.

"You said... Neera is Nancy? Is it true?"

Thora raised her eyebrows, "Why am I lying to you, she used the name Nancy when she was abroad."

Alistair thought for a while and came back.

"No wonder, Roxanne and Alfonso were sent to prison by herself. Now that Roxanne has a heart attack and she is looking to be treated by Nancy, but she doesn't want to treat her. It seems that their relationship is extremely bad. They are like complete enemies."

As he spoke, he sighed, "No matter what, they are still family. It's eye opening to see Neera be so ruthless! Sure enough, once a woman becomes ruthless, she could be even more ruthless than men. Let me tell you, this is even more exciting than TV dramas!"

Thora looked thrilled, as if she had found a treasure.

"She is that kind of person, she only acts superficially in front of others, but she is actually two-faced!"

She took the opportunity to badmouth about her, thinking about how to use this to make a fuss.

Of course, there was another thing on her mind.

"What about Jean's condition? Have you found out? What is his disease?"

Embarrassment quickly flashed in Alistair's eyes.

The Beauvort was a prestigious establishment, many of their information were confidential, how could it be found out so quickly?

He could only act perfunctory for the time being.

"I haven't found out the specific situation yet. The only thing I know is that there were rumors back then that the Beauvort family member is dying!"

When he said this, he deliberately lowered his voice, "No one knows what kind of disease he is suffering from, but don't worry, I will find out as soon as possible!"

This answer did not satisfy Thora.

However, since he found out about Neera and the Garcia family so thoroughly, it was not good for her to show dissatisfaction.

"It's okay, I'll wait for your news." That was all she could say.

The coffee on the table was already cold, she picked it up and drank a couple of sips before a thought popped up. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

She didn't know anyone in the country, and she had no influence, so she could not do many things.

If she collaborated with Alistair, perhaps she could deal with Neera much easier...

If this collaboration was used well, it was not impossible for her to ruin Neera's reputation!

When the time came, she should see if Neera could still be smug!

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 603

After thinking about it, Thora took advantage of the opportunity to bring up this matter.

Alistair was a little surprised, "You asked me to investigate her because you want to frame her?"

Thora said casually, "I'm not trying to frame with her, these things are true, and I didn't wrong her, right? I just want everyone else to see her true colors."

Alistair naturally didn't believe it, and asked, "Do you have a grudge against her?"

Thora didn't say anything, just sneered.

Was there a grudge?

She had been suppressed by Neera for a long time, living in her shadows.

In her heart, Neera was like an enemy!

She didn't say anything, but Alistair had already seen the answer from her expression.

At that moment, he proposed an idea.

"If this is the case, I suggest that we don't need to take action, but directly disclose Neera's identity to the Garcia family, and the Garcia family will naturally go there at that time. For Neera, we only need to be in the dark and stir things up."

Thora pondered for a while, she was tempted.

She looked at Alistair with satisfaction, and flattered him.

"Of course, you are strategic, this idea is the best, thank you."

Satisfied, Alistair stared at her quietly and clinked glasses with her.

...

Neera thought the matter of the Garcia family was over, just like this.

Unexpectedly, when she went to pick up the three little ones from school at night, she saw the elders of the Garcia family.

Knowing their reason for showing up, she frowned, she didn't want to care, and planned to leave.

However, the old lady suddenly stood in front of her car.

"Stop! Are you blind? Can't see us? Are you leaving without greeting us?"

Neera's face turned cold, "I haven't gotten to know you well enough to greet you."

Marnie said angrily, "What kind of attitude is this!"

Neera looked impatient, "Speak up if you have something on your mind, don't stand in the way for nothing."

The old lady immediately asked domineeringly, "Let me ask you, are you Dr. Nancy?"

Neera would never have thought that they would ask about this.

She was stunned for a moment, and couldn't help wondering, how could the Garcia family know about this?

The old lady was impatient and asked again.

She denied it indifferently, "No, you have found the wrong person."

However, the old lady didn't believe it at all.

"You still want to lie to us! Someone has already told us that you are Nancy! Neera, you are so capable! You sent your father and sister to prison, and now you are refusing to save your sister!"

Neera pursed her lips, knowing that this matter could not be concealed anymore, she snorted coldly.

"I don't have a father or a sister, how many times do I have to say that? Also, even if I'm really Nancy, so what? Why should I save Roxanne?"

The old lady was confident, "As long as you are a doctor, it is your duty to save lives and treat patients!"

Neera sneered, "Doctors are indeed supposed to save lives and treat their patients, but... Is Roxanne even a human? In my eyes, she is even worse than a beast! So, don't guilt trip me!"

Roxanne set her up back then and ruined her dignity. She would never forgive her in this life.

How could she save this woman who almost ruined her life?

After finishing speaking, she walked around the old lady and wanted to take the children into the car.

The old man stopped her, his tone was better than that of the old lady, and he persuaded her earnestly.

"Neera, we know that you have grudges against the Garcia family, and the Garcia family treated you badly in the past, but no matter what, Roxanne and you are still related by blood. If you don't save her, other people will definitely say that you are ruthless... Besides, your three children are watching, how will they see you as a mother in the future?"

He tried to reason it out and stir her emotions, he thought he would be able to convince Neera a little.

Unexpectedly, before Neera responded, the kids were already unhappy.

"Mommy says she can't save her, so mommy won't save her! We respect Mommy's decision! Especially you bad guys, if we saved her, you will bully mommy. It's better if we don't save her!"

Seeing that they were protecting Neera and saying such things, the old lady immediately became angry, pointing at the three little ones and scolding angrily.

"Is this your place to talk? A bunch of uneducated bastards!"

After scolding, she turned her anger to Neera again, "Look at what you raised, what are they! Just like you, they have no values and ethics!" Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

When Neera heard this, she could not help but sneer, "Why do you even have the audacity to comment about others? However, you are right, I am indeed not a good person. If this is the case, you still dare to ask me to save Roxanne's life?"

She suddenly pursed her lips, "Oh, yes... I heard that Roxanne has heart failure? You are so desperate, it seems that the situation is not optimistic at the moment. If so... Then please beg me! You should beg me for help. You are so arrogant, it is impossible for me to do it!"

The old lady was furious, "Neera, do you still have any sense of shame! We are the elders, you are asking the elders to beg you? You are crazy!"

Neera raised her eyebrows, "It seems that you guys can't put your ego aside. Why don't you let Roxanne come here and ask her to beg me for mercy, and I'll think about it. If you don't want to, just go back, and don't get in my way."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 604

This time, Neera left without waiting for the two to respond.

The old lady was so angry that she stood on the side of the road cursing.

"This heartless freak! My son was so unfortunate, how did he give birth to such a cold-hearted freak..."

The more she scolded, the worse she had said, and Gladeon couldn't stand it anymore.

"Enough!"

He frowned and shouted angrily, "She is gone, why are you yelling here! Isn't it embarrassing enough?"

After speaking, he seemed to be unable to bear it, and hurried into the car.

The old lady followed closely behind, and after slamming the car door, she turned to him.

"Why are you yelling at me! Why didn't you scold that little bitch just now? You still talked to her in a nice tone, do you have some dignity!"

The old man glared at her.

"You're endless! Does it help to scold her? I told you before to behave better! When you met her, you only interrogated her and scolded her. I would be surprised if Neera agreed to it!"

"Are you blaming me now?"

The old lady's voice got higher and higher, and she didn't think there was anything wrong with her at all.

"What's wrong with my attitude? It's obviously her fault! She put her father in jail and didn't save her sister. Is it reasonable? I scolded her lightly! I am already giving her some face for not hitting her! How dare she embarrass me! In my opinion, she should have been given a serious lesson just now!!"

The old man frowned, thinking that this old woman was simply unreasonable.

"Do you want to solve the problem, or do you want to create trouble! In the past, what our Garcia family did to Neera already made her very disgusted with the Garcia family. Now you need to get this straight, the Garcia family is the weak one. All of you did nothing right, you boss her around, she would only listen to the Garcia family if she is not right in her mind!"

He concluded with a dark face, "If this continues, not to mention Roxanne's illness, even the entire Garcia family will end sooner or later!"

The old lady didn't believe it, and scoffed coldly.

"Don't scare me! I want to see who will be finished in the end!"

The old man couldn't knock some sense into her head, so he simply shut up.

Soon, they returned to the hospital.

The old lady was very angry, and told Susan and her daughter about this matter.

Knowing that Neera was Nancy, the mother and daughter looked extremely displeased.

How could this matter have something to do with Neera again?!

Roxanne could not believe it for a long time.

How could that bitch be the famous Doctor Nancy!!!

...

At Imperial Gardens.

After returning home, the three little ones were only worried that Neera was in a bad mood, they tagged along with her everywhere she went, and were extremely clingy.

Neera was rather dumbfounded.

"What's the matter? Why have you been following me all day? Go on and play."

Three little pairs of eyes looked at her eagerly, "Mum, is your mood okay?"

Neera was stunned for a moment before she realized, "Are you worried about Mommy being sad? It's okay, Mommy won't take it to heart. I don't care about people who don't matter... And you, don't take their words to your hearts. The thing is, in Mummy's eyes, you are the most obedient babies, no one is better than you."

The three little ones felt relieved, hugged her one after another, and said in a childlike voice, "Well, in our eyes, Mommy is also the best Mommy in the world! She is the most powerful and kindest doctor!"

Neera felt warm, and couldn't resist hugging them.

The three little ones hugged back.

The four of them hugged each other tightly, and Jean just happened to come over, and when he saw it, he was finding it odd.

"What is going on?"

"Uncle Jean, you are back!"

The three little ones immediately ran over to greet him, they also complained to him and told what happened tonight.

Jean frowned slightly, and focused on the main point, "How did they find out that you are Nancy?"

Neera shook her head, "I wonder too."

Jean narrowed his eyes.

It was obviously impossible for Adriana and Isabella to reveal this matter.

As for the others...

Not many people knew Neera's identity.

His parents, Kyra, and people from the research center.

However, everyone at the research center was so busy every day, how could anyone have time for this?

Then, there was a high possibility that it was Kyra and his parents!

"I have a suspect."

At this time, Neera suddenly spoke.

Jean's eyes narrowed slightly, "Who?"

Neera's face turned slightly cold, and said, "Thora."

Hearing this, Jean frowned, "Hasn't she already been kicked out of the R&D team? Didn't she go back?"

"No."

Neera shook her head, "She said she would stay in the country for a vacation. I think this matter has something to do with her."

SEAR*ch the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 605

Jean pondered for a moment, and felt that was very likely.

He took this matter aside, "You don't have to worry about this matter, just go about your business. I'll go back and ask Ian to investigate her, and the Garcia family, too, be careful of them."

After such a commotion today, the Garcia family failed to achieve their goal, and they didn't know what will happen in the future.

The three little ones followed suit, nodding wildly like chickens pecking at rice.

"That's right! Uncle Jean is right, the Garcia family are all bad guys, so be careful!"

Penny took his big palm with her little hand, raised her head, and said softly, "Uncle Jean, you have to help Mommy, those people in the Garcia family are really going too far! They scolded Mommy, and they also scolded us!"

Sammy also complained angrily, "They said Mommy and us are not humans! When we were about to leave, they obviously didn't want to let us go!"

He was about to explode!

If it wasn't for his brother holding him tightly, he would definitely go over and step on their feet!

After Jean heard this, he was slightly annoyed, "They really said that?"

"Yes."

Sammy looked serious, "These are all their original words, we didn't add anything."

Neera didn't think there was anything wrong, "They never say anything good, so don't take it to heart."

However, Jean's eyes became more and more cold, and he was extremely unhappy.

He was not magnanimous enough to allow others to scold his woman!

The Garcia family was daring enough to challenge him!

Neera saw through what he was thinking at a glance, and immediately comforted him with a gentle voice.

"I really don't care, and you don't have to be angry. It's not worth it for the Garcia family."

She didn't want him to worry about this matter.

After dinner, Neera received a call from Obadiah to discuss the data of the formula.

Neera pointed to the mobile phone, and then went to the balcony with Jean.

Jean took the opportunity to instruct Ian who was behind him, "Keep an eye on the Garcia family to prevent them from doing anything that would hurt Neera. By the way, investigate Thora to see if she has been in contact with the Garcia family recently, and try to get a grasp on her recent whereabouts."

Ian nodded, muttering in his heart, 'My master really cares about the young lady!'

The three little ones looked at each other with joy in their eyes.

They were really increasingly fond of Daddy!

Especially seeing Daddy was so protective of Mummy, they were so at ease.

Sure enough, Daddy was the one who was most suitable for Mommy!

On the balcony, Neera talked with Obadiah for half an hour before coming back, completely unaware of this. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

...

The next day, at Grace Hospital.

Roxanne's condition flared up again, and she was short of breath.

Susan screamed in fright, "Doctor! You must save my daughter! Save her!"

The doctor didn't have time to talk to her and pushed Roxanne into the emergency room.

After about an hour, her situation barely stabilized, but it was even more dire.

"How long can my daughter survive? Has your hospital found a matching heart?"

Susan was in a hurry, and grabbed the doctor to prevent him from leaving.

The doctor shook his head with a regretful face, "Sorry, we have contacted all major hospitals, but none of them have a match for Ms. Garcia's heart."

Upon hearing this, Susan's face turned pale.

She was isolated and helpless, so she could only hurriedly call Adriana who was thousands of miles away.

It took two calls to get through.

After connecting, Adriana said indifferently, "What's the matter?"

Susan sobbed.

"Adriana, I want to ask you, have you found a suitable heart? The doctor told me just now that there is no one in the country that can match Roze. If this continues, Roze... She, she will be finished!

Adriana was silent for a moment, then said flatly, "I didn't find it here either."

Susan sat slumped on the chair.

"How come, why even you can't find it..."

11

She muttered twice, and suddenly thought of something, "By the way, Neera is a doctor, isn't she? She is the famous Dr. Nancy. She must have a wide network. Finding a heart is definitely not difficult! You let her do it!"

Adriana frowned, "Who told you that she is Nancy?"

"At this point, you still want to hide it from us? We already knew! Adriana, you are so cruel, you didn't tell us for such a long time, and you have been delaying Roze's condition, no matter what, she's also your niece! You can't favor one person over another, and not save her!"

Adriana knew that if she asked her, she would not be able to find out, so she could only suppress this doubt first.

When she spoke again, her tone turned cold.

"If I didn't care about her, I wouldn't have answered your calls two days ago. If it wasn't for Roxanne's serious illness, I wouldn't have contacted you again. Also, don't simply involve Neera in everything. She has no responsibility or obligation. Before blaming her, think about what you have done before and how many times you have hurt her!"

Marnie couldn't listen anymore, she grabbed the phone and cursed angrily.

"Why is there no responsibility, no obligation? She is from the Garcia family and is Roze's sister! She is a doctor, so she should save her! It is because you are spoiling her that is why she is so unscrupulous! Adriana, let me tell you, if something happens to Roze, you and Neera are both murderers!"

Adriana heard the sharp yelling on the other side, and felt for the first time that no matter what she and Neera did, the family would not be satisfied.

They would not be grateful, they would only take it for granted!

It did not even feel like it was enough...

In this case, they should bear the consequences!

Completely chilled, Adriana said, "Since you want to say that, then I won't bother with this matter, and I won't look for a matching heart again. You can just think that I killed Roxanne, please. Don't destroy Neera's life any more."

After speaking, she hung up the phone directly.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 606

Marnie was so angry that she called again.

However, the other end had shut down.

She was furious, "How unreasonable! Adriana is simply too much! She wants to break up with the Garcia family because of that little bitch, and dares not even answer my phone call!"

However, what was the point of scolding?

Neera did not care about it, now even Adriana did not care, so what about Roxanne's illness?

"I don't want to die, I don't want to die! Save me, Mom, quickly ask my aunt to save me..."

In the ward, Roxanne was crying.

Susan was anxious and panicked, and cried while hugging her.

For a while, there were cries one after another, it was chaos.

Zachary happened to come by, and he heard the situation outside the door, his eyes were full of contempt.

The Garcia family was really useless!

Roxanne was also useless!

Fortunately, he was not married yet. If such a thing happened after marriage, he would regret it!

However, he did not come here to add insult to injury.

Even if the Garcia family failed, until the last moment, he should put on his best show.

Soon, he pushed the door open, pretending to care.

"Roxanne, are you okay? I heard that you were in the emergency room, so I came here in a hurry."

As soon as Roxanne saw him, she immediately stretched out her arms to hug him, "Zach, boo hoo, Neera is so ruthless, she did not want to save me, what should I do..."

Zachary held back his disgust, took her hand, and quickly let go without a trace.

"Don't think about it so much, take a good rest. With your illness, you can't be emotional."

Susan wiped away her tears, and begged him.

"Zach, please help me find a way to save Roxanne, your wedding has already been confirmed, you must find it hard to watch Roxanne this way..."

Zachary had already prepared his speech.

"Don't worry, I will naturally use my relationship to help find a matching heart. However, since Neera is Dr. Nancy, then I don't think we need to go far and find a way to force her to treat Roxanne."

The members of the Garcia family immediately asked, "What is the right way?"

Zachary put his hands in the pockets of his trousers, and said with a leisurely posture, "Neera is a famous doctor, so she should be very cautious of her reputation. If she insists on refusing to treat Roxanne, then we will simply expose her behavior on the Internet. Anyway, Roxanne is the weak one in this situation, and the weak can win everyone's sympathy, not to mention that she is Neera's younger sister. Once this matter is amplified, Neera will definitely be pushed to the forefront. Under pressure, she has no choice but to give Roxanne medical treatment, after all, that's the only way to stop all the people talking."

When Susan and Marnie heard this, they both thought it was a good idea.

However, the old man thought about it for a while, and immediately objected.

"No! Neera is not a person who will give in obediently. She might be angered if we executed this wrongly. When the time comes, we will lose more than we gain."

Zachary disagreed, "You worry too much, we will not get to that point, as long as we control the public opinion, everything will develop in the direction we want."

The old lady trusted him even more and was full of admiration.

"Zach, your idea is feasible! Just do as you say!"

Susan and Roxanne were also very satisfied.

Only Gladeon frowned tightly, feeling that this method would not work.

However, the rest of the people insisted on this, and he couldn't convince them, and there was no way to stop them.

Zachary was secretly proud of this result.

In fact, he had already decided to abandon the Garcia family.

His intention was to inform Neera about this.

He could then exchange for the antidote.

After he regained his glory, he would be surrounded by a lot of other girls again!

He could just kick a mere Roxanne, a dying person, away. How would he care about her life or death?

His goal was achieved, and soon, he made an excuse and left.

Susan had a direction, and got to her feet to work, preparing to break the news.

Gladeon sat in a corner by himself, watching them, his expression became more and more serious.

Finally, he turned around silently and left the hospital.

When he went out, he saw many patients accompanied by their families.

They were encouraging each other, comforting each other, and having fun.

There was also a child lying on his grandpa's lap, telling him to get better soon... Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Gladeon could not help but be reminded about the three little ones at Neera's.

In fact, he knew how cute and lovable those three children were.

If there were not so many bad things, if Neera hadn't been treated badly at the beginning, he would be able to enjoy such happiness in the family now.

Instead of being here, envious of others.

The more this happened, the more desolate he felt.

He didn't understand, how could a harmonious home become like this?

In fact, Neera was very good, Adriana had educated her very well, she was proud, confident and independent.

He knew that many of her choices were actually right.

It was the Garcia family who owed her.

After he came out of the hospital, he stood blankly for a while, and felt that he must not cut ties with Neera.

Thinking of this, he made up his mind and went to the three children's school.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 607

They were in class.

The teacher took the little ones to do outdoor activities.

Gladeon spotted the three little ones at once.

The three children were so dainty and captivating, it was hard to not notice them.

Furthermore, they seemed to be popular, surrounded by a group of kids.

The old man stood outside the door and peeked at them for a long time.

At this time, the security guard noticed him and felt that he was acting suspiciously, so he immediately came to chase him away.

"Who are you? What are you doing sneaking around here? Go away!" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The three little guys heard the noise.

They turned their heads one after another, and saw the old man outside the door at a glance, and their small brows furrowed instantly.

The old man was a little embarrassed. He wanted to wait somewhere else, but he found the three kids looking over.

At that moment, he immediately explained, "I'm not someone suspicious, I'm a guardian, I am here to see my great-grandchildren."

The security guard was doubtful and continued to ask, "Who are your great-grandchildren?"

The old man immediately pointed at the three little ones through the gate, "Those three children are my great-grandchildren."

The security guard still didn't believe it, "What do you mean? I've only seen their parents, and I've never seen you come to pick them up!"

"Also, it's class time now, don't you know? If you want to see them, why don't you go home after school to see them? Why do you suddenly come here at this time?"

These were valid questions, and every sentence was on point.

The old man froze, not knowing how to answer.

He could only reiterate, "I'm really their great-grandfather, if you don't believe me, you can ask them."

The security guard hesitated, and simply called the teacher.

The two communicated, and the teacher called the three little ones to confirm with them.

"This old man said he is your great-grandfather, is it true?"

The old man looked at the three little guys anxiously.

The three little ones kept their faces straight and said in unison, "We don't know him!"

The teacher was stunned for a moment, then asked again, "Do you really not know him?"

Sammy couldn't bear it anymore, and complained angrily, "The Garcia family are all bad guys! They bullied our mommy, so we don't want to recognize him!"

Seeing this, the security guard was afraid that something might happen, so he wanted to call the police immediately.

The old man became anxious immediately, and quickly said, "Children, I came today because I have something to tell you about your mommy..."

Before he finished speaking, Harvey interrupted him with a straight face.

"My mommy and you have nothing to talk about."

No matter how annoying he was, due to his upbringing, he still said it in a polite tone.

The old man froze for a moment, feeling even more guilty, and couldn't wait to tell the whole story.

"This matter is very important, it is related to her work..."

Harvey frowned, although he really didn't want to hear it, but it was about Mommy, so he hesitated for a while, and then made a compromise.

"Okay, you tell us, but it's up to us if we believe it or not."

He stepped forward in two steps, his small body was straight, and he had an inexplicable aura that should not be underestimated.

The old man was stunned for a moment, not understanding how such a small guy could have such an aura.

After a few seconds, he came back to his senses, "Please ask your mommy to stay alert... Be careful... Beware of..."

Harvey looked a little unhappy, "If you want to say it, just make it clear, don't hesitate, don't be unclear, what do you want my mommy to beware of?"

The old man opened his mouth, but it took him a long time to say, "Ask her to beware of Susan, and... And the Fain family."

He said this, and then shut up, took one last look at the three kids, turned and left.

Staring at his receding back, Harvey was silent for a moment, his little brows furrowed even tighter.

In the evening, Neera was back early for the first time in a long time, and the family sat together for dinner.

Harvey thought for a while, and then talked about the old man's visit to school during the day.

After listening, Neera subconsciously looked at Jean.

"What does this mean? The Fain family and Susan, are they really going to take action?"

Jean responded in a deep voice, "It seems so."

Neera was a little confused.

"If that is the case, then why did the old man of the Garcia family come to inform you? Didn't he always defend Roxanne?"

In the past, even though her grandfather didn't say anything too harsh to her, he stood firm on Roxanne's side.

So Neera didn't believe him.

"Forget it, who knows what they are doing again, maybe there is some conspiracy."

As soon as he said it, Ian hurried in from the outside.

"Mr. and Mrs. Beauvort, I just got the news that the media is going to expose Mrs. Beauvort as Dr. Nancy, and there are a lot of scandals against you!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 608

Jean immediately turned pale, "What's going on?"

Ian quickly said, "I shall let Larry report this matter to you."

"Larry?"

Both Neera and Jean were puzzled.

"How did this matter get involved with Larry?"

Ian responded, "I don't know exactly what happened. It was Larry who called me suddenly, and I came in to report. He is already on his way here. You can ask him later."

Jean narrowed his eyes and nodded.

Twenty minutes later, Larry hurried over and was taken to the study by Ian.

He first greeted Jean politely, with a respectful attitude.

Then he greeted Neera again, "Ms. Garcia, you are here too."

Neera nodded.

Jean asked directly, "Tell me, what's going on."

Larry immediately told the truth.

"In the afternoon, I went to MQ Media Company to talk about a collaboration. At that time, I happened to meet the editor-in-chief of their news department, Mr. Leigh. He said that someone wanted to expose the scandal of Dr. Nancy. Him and I are old acquaintances. So he didn't shy away from me about this matter. When I heard it was Dr. Nancy, I thought to myself that you had been looking for her, so I paid more attention to it.

The editor-in-chief said that Dr. Nancy's stepmother wanted them to help expose Dr. Nancy, and that she would not save her biological sister! I saw that Mr. Leigh was about to agree to it, so I stopped him immediately, thinking, maybe this news will help you find Dr. Nancy.

Fortunately, Mr. Leigh was willing to suppress the news for the time being. After I came back, I didn't dare to delay. I first reported it to Mr. Ian, hoping that he would convey it to you. Unexpectedly, he called me over."

After Jean listened to it from the beginning to the end, his face was gloomy.

Susan was extremely insidious. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera's status and prestige would definitely be ruined when facing such exposure!

Neera was also disgusted.

The Garcia family was really shameless, they could get lower every time, and they could think of any insidious tricks!

Seeing the two faces turning more displeased, Larry felt his heart pounding.

Why was the president looking so angry?

Did he do something wrong?

He didn't dare to make a noise.

Seeing that he was a little apprehensive, Ian stepped forward to help him out.

"Mr. Beauvort, thanks to Larry for this matter, otherwise Mrs. Beauvort's situation would be very bad now..."

Jean managed to calm down upon hearing it, and finally spoke, "Well, Larry, you really contributed a lot this time, and you handled this matter very well."

Neera temporarily suppressed the anger in her heart, and thanked him warmly.

"Mr. McDonagh, thank you for suppressing this. If not, I'm afraid that someone would have ruined my name."

Larry was dumbfounded, and was taken aback when he heard it.

He couldn't help wondering if he had heard it wrong just now.

'Mrs... Mrs. Beauvort? Ms. Garcia is actually Mr. Beauvort's wife?'

'Also, wasn't it about Dr. Nancy? What did it have to do with Ms. Garcia?'

'What exactly was going on?'

Seeing his blank and lost face, Ian kindly explained, "I don't blame you for being confused. The identity of Mrs. Beauvort has never been made public. She is not only the young mistress of the Beauvort family, but also the well-known Doctor Nancy. You have saved the reputation Mrs. Beauvort and is deserving of her gratitude, and you even considered Mr. Beauvort's condition, you are really thoughtful."

Larry replied, "This is what I should do."

He was extremely shocked.

His president was actually married!

His wife was Ms. Garcia!

Plus, Ms. Garcia had another identity, that was, the world-famous Doctor Nancy!

He couldn't digest so much inside information all at once...

At this time, Jean also thanked him gently.

"I also thank you on behalf of Neera, you have made great contributions. I already know the specific situation, you go back first, during this time, help me keep an eye on the media. If there are still people who dare to slander Neera, directly suppress it in the name of the Beauvorts!"

Larry trembled, and immediately came back to his senses, and quickly took orders.

"Yes! President, Mrs. Beauvort, please be rest assured, I will definitely handle it well!"

After that, he left quickly.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 609

After they left, Jean turned to Ian.

"You should also keep an eye on it. When it's time to make a move, just make a move. No matter how big it is, I will take care of it."

Decisive and domineering was always his style.

Ian nodded, "Understood."

Afterwards, he retreated tactfully, leaving the two of them.

The room suddenly became quiet.

Jean looked at Neera, his eyes darkened slightly, and he wanted to say something.

However, Neera's cell phone rang first.

It was an unfamiliar number.

Neera frowned, a bit reluctant to answer.

Whenever she saw an unfamiliar number, she felt that something must be wrong.

The phone was still ringing, Jean took her hand and asked, "Why didn't you answer it?"

Neera pursed the corners of her lips and muttered in a low voice, "I don't want to answer." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

When she finished speaking, the ringing stopped.

However, in the next second, it rang again, and it was still the same number.

Neera took a deep breath and picked it up patiently.

On the other end of the phone was Zachary.

"Why is it you?"

Her face immediately turned cold, and her tone was very unhappy.

Zachary pressed his tongue against his palate, feeling upset, but he could only restrain his temper and said, "Neera, even if we had grievances before, it's been so long, you don't have to always treat me like this, do you?"

Neera smiled coldly, "Then what attitude should I have towards you? I can't still greet you with a smile, can I?"

Zachary choked, "Neera..."

"Don't call me that again, I'm not that close to you. Is there any other matter? If not, I shall hang up."

"Don't hang up! There is something else!"

Seeing Neera's aggressive attitude, Zachary had no choice but to skip the part of making small talk and explain his intentions quickly.

"I want to make a deal with you."

A hint of doubt flashed across Neera's eyes.

As soon as she was about to speak, she felt someone hug her waist, and then the phone was taken over, and the hands-free was turned on.

She looked at the man beside her in surprise...

He narrowed his eyes in displeasure, and a dangerous coldness appeared in his eyes.

This was a sign of his displeasure.

Neera blinked, and subconsciously raised her hand to stroke his hair, subtly comforting him.

Only then, she asked on the phone, "What kind of deal?"

Zachary immediately said, "I learned some things today that are related to the Garcia family, which may have a serious impact on your reputation, so I contacted you. Neera, please consider that I am generously informing you about this and give me the antidote. I shall tell you the next step of the Garcia family's plan, so that we can settle the matter, and I promise I won't pester you again, okay?"

After hearing this, Neera was full of suspicion.

What happened today? Why did everyone come to inform her about it one after another?

Wasn't this person Roxanne's fiancé?

Instead of helping Roxanne to tackle herself, he came to negotiate a deal.

What did this mean?

However, although she was puzzled, she was too lazy to guess.

These people were snakes, even if they fight among themselves, and dogs eat dogs, she did not want to care.

She bluntly said, "No, thank you, and you don't have that qualification either."

Zachary thought she didn't understand, "What I said is true, this matter is really important, if you don't handle it properly, your reputation will be ruined! Don't you care about your own reputation?"

Neera snorted coldly, "I will maintain my reputation myself. You don't need to be here and meddle in my business!"

After finishing speaking, she hung up the phone directly, "These people are really annoying!"

Seeing that she was not in a good mood, Jean tightly wrapped his arms around her again, pressed her into his arms, and stroked her hair.

"Don't worry about them. As you said, it's not worth it. No matter what happens, I will always be here for you. I won't let anyone discredit you."

Neera pressed her face against his chest, and a burst of grievance suddenly surged up.

"All of them have bad thoughts. They always think about how to harm others, and endlessly find fault with me..."

She couldn't hold back, and complained a few words in a muffled voice.

Ever since she returned to the country, she had to deal with all matters at work, and also had to deal with these scumbags.

No matter how much energy she had, no one could stand such a pressure.

What was more, even if she tried not to take this to her heart, it was still annoying to her.

Jean gently stroked her hair, coaxing her very patiently and gently.

"Well, it has been a lot for you, don't worry, I am here. Those who bullied you, I will make them all pay the price, they will not be able to stay out of it!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 610

On the Garcia family's side, early the next morning, they were excitedly waiting to watch the news.

As a result, when they turned on the phone, they did not see anything at all.

Roxanne was puzzled, and asked Susan, "Mom, have you made an agreement with the media? Why is there nothing on the Internet yet?"

Susan kept refreshing her phone while muttering.

"It's settled, the editor-in-chief of MQ yesterday told me about it, and it will be released this morning!"

She refreshed it several times and searched with entries, but she still couldn't find anything.

She did not wait anymore and called, wanting to ask MQ what was going on.

However, for some reason, the phone had been disconnected...

One morning passed, and they waited for nothing.

Just when a few people were running around in a hurry, they didn't know that Ian and Larry had already informed eighty percent of the media companies in the country.

Under the pressure of Mrs. Beauvort, who would have the guts to report this matter!

Ian reported the situation to Jean.

However, Jean was not very satisfied.

"Only eighty percent?"

He sat behind his desk and looked up at him.

Ian shuddered, standing straighter, and said, "Yes."

Jean closed the document he had just signed, and said coldly, "If it's not 100%, it means that there is a media company out there that could be used by them."

Ian explained, looking a little embarrassed.

"Some of the media companies are official media, so you can be rest assured about those, but the rest are... The ones under the Crimea Group, and some media that have made good friends with the Crimea family, this..."

He scratched his head, "It's really not easy to get them on the same page."

Although the Crimea Group's domestic market had been compressed a bit.

However, the rest of the industries were not affected much.

"The Crimea Group definitely has a grudge against us. If Sonny finds out about this, he will definitely not let go of this opportunity. Mr. Beauvort, what should we do next? We can't get them on the same page, should we just strike on them?"

Jean's expression darkened for a while before he spoke in a calm voice.

"There is no action from the Crimea Group now. There is no need to preemptively strike. In case they don't get the memo, we will be exposing ourselves. Send someone to keep an eye on the Crimea Group first. If there is any change, give Sonny a warning as soon as possible. If he is sensible, I don't have to do anything about it, but if he doesn't play along, then..."

Having said that, he narrowed his eyes dangerously, and his voice was a bit cold.

"Then from now on, Crimea Group doesn't even have to think about it."

The Crimea Group almost perished once before.

He didn't do anything cruel, which was already showing his mercy.

However, he did not like to give second chances.

If anyone dared to target Neera, he would not mind making them disappear from Kingsview completely!

Ian understood what he meant, and immediately accepted his orders.

"Don't worry, I will definitely pay attention and send someone to watch!"

He had one more thing to report.

"I also found out about Thora's itinerary. She is indeed still in the country. In addition to shopping, she just met friends in the past two days, but they are all people who have nothing to do with the Garcia family. I didn't find out that she and the Garcia family have private affairs. Yesterday she went to Slord for a tour."

Hearing this, Jean pondered for a while.

If she hadn't communicated with the Garcia family, who would have informed the Garcia family that Neera was Dr. Nancy?

He didn't think it was revealed by his parents.

He knew how much his father and mother looked down on the Garcia family.

Even if mother didn't like Neera, she would not expose her to the Garcia family.

Could it really be Kyra? search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He pondered for a moment, and warned, "Check Kyra, and don't take Thora lightly, you still have to keep an eye on her."

"Understood."

Neera came home at night, and at the dinner table, they talked about the news.

"I checked it out today, and found that there was nothing on the internet at all. Is it because you suppressed it in advance?"

Jean nodded slightly, and put the shelled shrimp into her bowl.

"Ian and Larry have already contacted the media in advance. No one will dare to break the news. You can work with peace of mind and don't worry about anything. I will take care of all these for you. No one can hurt you."

He said it naturally.

Neera's heart skipped a beat upon hearing it.

She looked at the hilly pile of food in the bowl, and couldn't help but smiled.

"For so many years, except for my aunt, no one has ever taken care of me like this, and no one..... has said these things to me."

She raised her eyelids, expressing her feelings frankly.

"I'm very happy! Before this, I always felt that I was unlucky. Without my aunt's love, maybe I would not even be alive now, but now I feel that I am very lucky."

'It is because I have my three kids, and... I have met you!'

Jean looked at her, and saw himself clearly in her clear eyes.

There was tenderness in his eyes, "It's not you who are lucky, but me."

The two were talking about love as if there was no one else around, while the kids couldn't help sighing from the sidelines.

'Finally, my mommy has her fruits of labor.'

'Now she knows how to confess her feelings.'

Unwilling to be left out, Sammy bent her bright eyes and smiled.

"We are also very lucky! We can be Mommy's children in this life, and we can also meet such a good uncle!"

Penny hastily swallowed the rice in her mouth, with rice grains still on her mouth, and followed suit.

"Yes, yes! In the next life, in the next life, we will still be Mommy's children and meet Uncle Jean!"

She looked at Jean adoringly, "Uncle, you are so powerful! Nothing can be difficult for you! Mommy has your protection, we feel at ease!"

Even Harvey, who had always been taciturn and rarely said nice words, also spoke.

"Uncle Jean is Mommy's and our hero. He is even more powerful than Superman. He is the person I admire the most! From now on, I want to be like you and become a man of indomitable spirit!"

These three little kids flattered and complimented him one after the other, winning Jean's heart.

Neera was amused by them, and couldn't help laughing...

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 611

On the other side of Kingsview, Zachary was mad, and he lost his appetite. At first, he acted normally after being rejected by Neera. He thought to himself, I bet she is just acting tough. She will soon come back to her senses! She will beg for my forgiveness soon.

However, he had been waiting the whole day, and Neera did not show herself. This bit*h better be prepared! She asked for whatever was coming! According to the plans of the Garcia family, they will ruin her reputation by spreading the news. Since I am suffering, she shall join me as well!

Zachary waited patiently, but nothing happened. He was frustrated. Didn't they promise to spread the news? Why does everyone seem calm? What happened to the plan?

Zachary could not wait any longer, so he contacted his friend. He wanted to execute the plan as usual. If he was caught red-handed, he would frame the Gracia family. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

His friend picked up the phone and said solemnly, "You better not do it! You could get into big trouble!"

Zachary was confused and said, "What do you mean?"

His friend said, "The Beauvort Group had announced a rule not long ago. They will blacklist any media that coordinates with the Garcia family! No one dares work for the Garcia family now."

Zachary said in a low tone, "The Beauvort Group?"

"That's right! They had the power to stop anyone from spreading the news! No one dares disobey their order. I couldn't help you; I didn't want to lose my job. You better not do anything reckless."

Zachary hung up the phone, he felt depressed. He had long been aware of the Beauvort Group's influence. I never anticipated them to be this terrifying! He lost all his fighting spirit suddenly.

Thora in Slord received a call from Alistair. Alistair informed her of everything that happened in Kingsview: "After finding out that Neera is Dr. Nancy, the Garcia family wanted to buy off the media to blackmail her."

Thora was interested in this topic and said, "I have never expected the Garcia family to make any smart move. I guess we could rest for a while now since someone took over our plan."

Alistair said, "No, we couldn't rest for now. We have to help them find some reliable partners. The Beauvort Group has instructed all media outlets not to report on this matter. Whatever the plan the Garcia family has, it has failed."

Thora was upset after hearing this. After everything I had done, this is the result I received. I came all the way to Slord to avoid being suspected by Neera. After all the chaos, Neera is still enjoying her life. How could I accept this?

Thora said, "I admit that the Beauvort Group is powerful. But they couldn't possibly have full control over all media, right? There must be someone who dares to disobey their orders!"

Alistair recalled something after what she said. "In the past, the Beauvort Group truly had full control over the media. However, there may be an exception now."

Thora said excitedly, "What do you mean? Alistair briefly told her about the matter between the Crimea Group and the Beauvort Group. He said, "The Garcia family may be useless, but the Crimea Group isn't! They could tear Neera apart. We need to make arrangements to execute our plan. We could succeed with the help of the Crimea Group."

Thora laughed, "That's a smart move! You should ask them to join as soon as possible."

Alistair proposed another plan: "In fact, we have one more potential partner besides the Crimea Group."

"Who is it?"

Alistair said softly, "Kyra. She is in the entertainment industry. She must have some connections in the media. We could work with her. Her dream was to marry into the Beauvort family, but she never succeeded after Neera appeared. One could imagine how much resentment she holds against Neera. How could she let this plan slip? She would destroy Neera by any means. The more people we drag into this plan, the better we can hide our identities. What do you think?"

Thora had absolutely no objections after learning this. She was well aware of Kyra and Neera's grudges. She said, cracking a smile, "You are right; it is better this way."

Alistair made a promise: "Rest assured. Leave everything to me."

...

Kyra got a message from her friends in the media while she was filming. They gossiped with Kyra: "Do you know? The Beauvort Group spent tons of money to cover up the news about Dr. Nancy. I couldn't imagine the amount they spent to shut all the media's mouths. I envy her. How I wish I could be protected by Mr. Beauvort."

Kyra knew that Nancy was Neera. She asked right away about everything. She turned pale as she learned the reality. In the past, I was refused by Jean when asking for some help. I just wanted to get some benefits from the relationship between our families! However, he was willing to use his connections to protect Neera now!

Kyra almost lost control after knowing she had been treated differently. I was going to be insane!

Kyra could not lose her temper since crew members were close by. She will put up with it for now, but she will not ignore the matter. It just so happens that I have no clue how to destroy Neera. I will seize the opportunity and create a scene. You couldn't run anymore, Neera! I will make sure the Beauvort family abandons you.

She felt better by imagining how poor Neera's life would be after being abandoned by Jean. She instructed her assistant in a low voice.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 612

Neera was feeling uneasy when she was working today. What is this feeling? As if something bad was about to happen.

Osbert thought she was feeling unwell, and he advised, "Neera, you should take your leave today. We could handle the work." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera hesitated, but she agreed in the end. It was true that she could not concentrate on the work; it was better for her to rest for the time being.

Jean worked from home today, and he was surprised when Neera was back. He said, "You came back early today. What's wrong?"

Neera replied lazily, "It's nothing. I was feeling tired, and my productivity was low."

Jean put away his laptop and touched her forehead.

Neera smiled and said, "I don't have a fever or feel unwell. Thank you for worrying."

Jean said, "You shall rest now. I will wake you up before dinner."

Neera shook her head and said, "I do not want to sleep now. I will go to bed early tonight instead. Let me stay with you now." She put his laptop back into position and said, "Don't worry about me; you have a company to take care of."

Jean looked at her for a few seconds. He moved the laptop away and patted his lap. He said, "Lie down." Neera planned to say no, but she rested her head on his lap after seeing how serious Jean looked.

She found a comfortable position. Jean stroked her hair gently and said, "Why not take a nap? I will wake you up later."

Neera laughed, "Your legs will be numb soon."

Jean said softly, "It's nothing. Just give me a massage when you are awake." He bent down and kissed her on the lips.

Neera turned red, but her heart felt at ease. She nodded and closed her eyes. She planned to take a nap, but she fell into a deep sleep.

In the evening, the triplets came home. They immediately ran to the next door when they realized Neera wasn't home.

Jean signaled for them to be quiet as soon as they entered the room. He pointed at the sleeping woman on his lap.

The triplets blinked their eyes and thought to themselves, How lovely!

They remained obedient. Sammy took Neera's phone and turned the camera on. He wanted to sneakily shoot photos and remember this scene forever.

Jean handed his phone over and said softly, "Use mine instead."

The triplets laughed while covering their mouths. They took several photos and showed them off to Jean. A beautiful woman was seen in the picture lying on his lap. Her sweetly sleeping face caught the light of the setting sun outside the window. Jean felt soft looking at the picture, so he set it as his phone's wallpaper.

The triplets applauded him after witnessing what he did.

Neera woke up, and they rushed over.

"Mommy, you are finally awake!"

"Is it comfortable to sleep in Uncle Jean's arms?"

"We wanted to fall asleep in Uncle Jean's arms as well!".

They made fun of Neera. She puffed her cheeks and teased them back. "It's really cozy in Mommy's arms as well, so why don't you come to Mommy?" She tickled them as she spoke. The triplets laughed and tried to find a way to hide.

Jean couldn't help but smile as he observed everything. As dinnertime approached, he said, "It's time to wash your hands. Dinner is ready. We are serving your favorites tonight."

Penny cheered and requested, "Uncle Jean, can I have my favorite dessert tomorrow? I have been craving for it since two days ago."

Jean patted her head and said, "You could have it today. It was ready and served on our table."

Penny was overjoyed; she held Jean's hand and said, "Yeah! Uncle Jean is the best!"

...

The Garcia family in the hospital snapped just as Neera and the others were enjoying themselves. They could not see the news they were seeking.

Susan could only contact Zachary since she was unable to reach MQ Media Company. She asked, "Zach, what happened to the news we are awaiting? The media company is currently unavailable. Since you have a lot of friends, could you help us ask around?"

Zachary said, "The Beauvort Group had been constantly pressuring all the media, which prevented news from spreading. No one dares to do anything."

Susan was irate and said, "What does the Beauvort Group want? Can't I post the news if the media won't?"

Zachary's eyes were filled with contempt for her stupidity. He said, "You are nobody and do not have a fan base. Your posting might not even be viewed by anyone. What can we accomplish from it?"

"What should I do? Is there no other way?" Susan was furious, but she refused to stop.

After giving it some thought, Zachary advised, "You may post the news directly through the official account of the Garcia Group."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 613

The Garcia Group's official page published an article for the public that evening. This article was written as a criticism of Neera. They called her an ungrateful person or a cruel woman.

"She hid her identity and pretended not to notice her sister's condition. She utterly blinded the Garcia family. The Garcia family was reluctant to speak about the earlier incident, but now that her sister is having a heart attack, she stubbornly refuses to intervene when the situation is urgent. Do doctors not require medical ethics? A doctor's profession entails treating illnesses and saving lives, yet she is limited in her thinking and just interested in making money! She only possesses medical knowledge; she lacks medical ethics. How can someone like that be considered a medical genius?"

These comments were fired at Neera like numerous arrows of great force. The article made no impact that night. But by the next morning, there was already a small portion of the forwarding volume!

The media could only observe the battle in silence because they had been warned and dared not engage. In contrast to the media, everyone had the freedom to speak on these concerns. Anyone could contribute and add a few words especially when it came to this kind of familial bond.

Larry didn't have time to brush his teeth or wash his face when he awoke. He made a hurried call to Jean instead. "It's bad, Mr. Beauvort! Mrs. Beauvort was personally exposed on the Garcia Group's official page! They also released a lengthy statement in which they turned things upside down, blamed the innocent, and disparaged Mrs. Beauvort! It's now all over the internet!"

Several people were eating breakfast in Imperial Gardens. Jean's eyes went icy when he heard this.

"You must quickly control public opinion and prevent the situation from getting worse!" said Jean.

"I have already requested someone to do it. But no matter how much this issue is repressed, there is no way to end it all. Now that the content has been forwarded and shared, netizens have the right to express themselves freely, and there are many users on numerous platforms. The amount is enormous. It is challenging to censor every piece of news," Larry responded.

He felt numb all over when he considered the consequences of what had happened and pleaded guilty. "I apologize, Mr. Beauvort; I did my best, but I didn't expect to be taken advantage of by the Garcia family.

He would never have thought that Garcia Group's official page would publish an article in person! By doing so, Garcia Group made it plain that there was no going back and no turning back!

Jean had a grave look on his face.

Neera picked up his phone and spoke briefly on the other end. "Don't blame yourself; you did a good job. After all, even if we were able to stop it temporarily, we wouldn't be able to do it permanently. They will always be able to find ways to attack me if they want to."

She didn't even have the tiniest hint of panic. SEARCH the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"A straight foot has no fear of a crooked shoe. No matter what they say, it will never become an actuality. The Garcia family is free to do as they like. I have no fear. You can just let this situation go on without taking any action."

After Jean heard this, his face was clearly disapproving. "If this issue persists, you risk becoming a victim of cyberbullying. Have you ever given it any thought?" said Jean.

In the past, people who couldn't stand cyberbullying experienced despair and even committed suicide. The notion of something like this happening to Neera made him feel genuinely resentful in his heart.

Neera nodded; her expression was calm. "I know, but have you ever considered that now that the situation has come to light, if you block any relevant news now, it will only add to the conspiracy?"

Jean frowned and continued, "Not only will I block all relevant news, but I will also help you."

"Help me with what?" Neera grinned. "Help me explain? Or use other news to help me divert everyone's attention?" She spoke softly before expressing her attitude.

"I know you're doing it for my benefit, but I'd like to use this opportunity to finally get rid of the Garcia Group. In the future, I don't want to be stuck with their family. Therefore, using evidence as a counterattack is the best way."

When Jean suddenly understood what she wanted to do, his brows furrowed.

"I understand you're sick of the Garcia family's constant pestering. I can make Garcia Group vanish!"

He simply didn't want her to handle things in this manner because he was scared she would be hurt.

Breakfast was getting cold, but no one moved their forks.

"I know you can do it, but I don't want to involve you any more. You are the boss of the Beauvort Group. Whatever you do, everyone will be watching. I don't want you to be the source of gossip, so please listen to me this time," Neera said with a smile on her face.

She was composed and had her own point of view. Jean nonetheless resisted. Neera became resolute and shouted out after the two remained deadlocked.

"This is just between me and the Garcias. It has absolutely nothing to do with you. I hope you stay out of it."

Jean's expression abruptly changed. He felt a burning rage inside, but he restrained himself since he didn't want to fight. However, what she just said pricked his heart like a needle. He couldn't turn away from it.

"Even if you do this and destroy the Garcia family, what about you? Have you ever considered what kind of criticism you might encounter next?"

Neera paused for a little while before muttering, "It's okay; I don't care about such comments."

She grew obstinate, and no one was able to persuade her.

Several different expressions could be seen on Jean's face, but in the end he gave up and stood to leave. "It's up to you now that you've made a decision."

Without eating anything, he spoke, then turned and walked upstairs.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 614

Neera wasn't expecting to lose her cool as a result of this encounter. She was taken aback for a second before recognizing how horrible her attitude was at the time. However, she just didn't want Jean to be involved.

She wanted to stop him when she noticed him turning away. But in the end, she remained silent.

The restaurant had a gloomy vibe.

The triplets were afraid to speak.

Penny's eyes were reddened with concern. "Mommy... Don't argue with Uncle Jean, okay?", she beseeched in a low voice while twisting her fingers, and her eyes were wet.

After realizing that she had worried them, Neera quickly comforted the triplets by saying, "It's okay, Mommy and Uncle Jean didn't fight; we were just talking about things."

Penny sobbed piteously, "But...but Uncle Jean seems to be angry..."

Even though the other two kids remained silent, they all appeared concerned. Neera couldn't help feeling guilty for bringing up the subject in front of them just now.

She held Penny in her arms, wiped the tears from her eyes, and patted the other two's heads.

"Uncle Jean is a little upset, but don't worry,

we'll make up

soon."

Ian stood to the side, unsure of what to do, but made an effort to persuade Neera with a few words.

"Mrs. Beauvort, Sir is attempting to keep you safe because he doesn't want to see you suffer harm."

"I know, but I've decided to go my way," Neera said with a nod.

For a while, Ian was at a loss for words. What he failed to notice was that Neera was not acting arrogantly; she genuinely wanted to protect Jean. search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Only she understood how tough it was for them to be together. The parents of the Beauvort family had a strong dislike for her and were against them being together.

Although she had not spoken to and did not know the other members of the Beauvort family well, she was aware that the Beauvort family had long coveted Jean's position. Many of them were eager to point out his errors.

She wasn't sure what would happen if Jean acted recklessly toward her. Furthermore, he was currently in poor health.

She feared that if he bothered with these matters once more, Jean's physical state might deteriorate, and she didn't want to put his health in jeopardy. She was confident that she could handle everything, even without Jean.

These things were insignificant, and no one could beat her!

Soon, Neera and the triplets departed.

After climbing the stairs, Ian stopped before knocking on the study's door.

Jean eventually called out, "Come in."

"Ms. Garcia has left with the children, sir." Ian reported softly as soon as he walked in.

Jean was initially seated on the sofa. He couldn't help but get up and head to the window when he heard this, just in time to see Neera's car drive away. He was still visibly furious.

"Sir, don't be angry, actually..." Ian urged.

Jean cut him off just as he was about to say something. "You must personally monitor and try to control public opinion. Additionally, you need to gather as much information as you can, including the evidence showing how the Garcia family mistreated Neera."

Jean simply found it impossible to ignore the Garcia family. They infringed on his bottom line! He even felt bad about not getting rid of the Garcias sooner!

In this way, Neera would not have to suffer as a result of this.

His eyes sank as he remembered Neera's obstinacy, and he felt helpless in his heart. He had no idea what to do with her.

Ian let out a sigh of relief. Sir appeared to be concerned about Mrs. Beauvort. Even though he was still upset, he cared for her and considered everything for her.

The statements made on the Garcia Group's official page had received tens of thousands of retweets by noon. People on the Internet had a broad idea of what had happened.

"It turns out she's Dr. Nancy! I remember that she has incredible medical skills! I recall how talented a doctor she is! She is just a legend in the global medical profession!"

"Yes, she has received numerous titles, and she has never failed any operation!"

"What's most terrifying is that she's still so young! She has achieved so much and received so many awards! I honestly had no idea she and Neera were the same person!"

People on the Internet started attacking Neera in groups as a result of her success.

"What a medical genius she is! She is certainly a quack! She ought to have made a fortune using this name, right?"

"It's disgusting. Despite her stellar reputation and exceptional medical skills, she gives up to save her sister."

"No matter how skilled the doctor is, the fact that she doesn't want to save her own family makes me sick! I believe she doesn't deserve to be referred to as a human being."

"Before I started studying medicine, I looked up to Dr. Nancy. She became my model for what I wanted to become. I now sincerely doubt that my admiration was worth it in the beginning!"

"Me too. I am aware of what Dr. Nancy has achieved. Every time I have surgery, I have to mentally read her name in the hope that she will give me more strength. I now realize how foolish I was."

"This kind of cruel woman ought to leave the medical profession!"

"Correct! Get out of the medical profession!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 615

Everyone criticized Neera with righteous fury, as if she had done something bad for all of humanity.

Neera, Nancy, get out of the medical profession!

This issue quickly rose to the top of trending searches!

Ian had been following happenings on the Internet. He immediately requested that Larry arrange for individuals to make some comments about the situation.

"I don't know the whole story. I'm unable to remark. I won't say anything stupid. Let's see what happens next."

"I believe that all of you are a little too eager to conclude. Why do I believe there is a problem with this?"

"I believe that doctors have good hearts. Dr. Nancy is well known. She doesn't appear to be someone who is trying to gain recognition. Perhaps it contains information that we are unaware of?"

"I'm waiting for Dr. Nancy's response; if she doesn't explain herself, I'll be neutral first." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

These statements, however, were swiftly attacked by a new wave of people.

"What dosage did you take? To speak for such a dishonest doctor and to make such stupid remarks!"

"She refused to do anything to save her sister!"

"What amount of money have you received to make such illogical remarks?"

"Stop talking nonsense here; I heard she only treats the wealthy!"

More and more people agreed with these debunked statements. The majority of people believed Neera was unworthy of being a doctor. Just as public opinion was heating up, another piece of news broke, causing the matter to reach a new peak. Neera's secret identity was disclosed by someone.

"Neera turns out to be Ms. Garcia from Startales. They are the same individual!"

"What? Ms. Garcia? Are you mistaken?"

"Please release the evidence!"

A lot of evidence was soon presented, enough to support the statement.

"Startales is an ANXIN Group subsidiary. Adriana is the current chairman of ANXIN Group. You can find out if you look into it! Adriana is a member of the Garcia family; she is Alfonso's younger sister and Neera's aunt! So Ms. Garcia is Neera!"

"In the end, they turned out to be the same person!"

"I'm confused, so Neera, Ms. Garcia, and Dr. Nancy are all the same person?"

"I really can't believe how many identities she still has!"

Everyone was in a commotion as the situation grew more serious.

In this identity, Ms. Garcia had a sizable following. One by one, those folks posted comments on her Twitter, and some even sent her private messages to inquire about the veracity of the allegation.

Many people were still calling on her to speak up and give an explanation. Some individuals made direct remarks and reprimanded others right away.

"You are so lovely; I didn't expect you to be so vicious! One should not judge things simply by their appearance! I didn't expect you to be such a person."

"How could I like such a cruel person as her? I was truly blind previously. It's disgusting!"

Osbert, Luigi, and Neera were dining in the research center when there was a lot of commotion online. While eating, Osbert gazed at his phone, and the more he looked, the angrier he got. He couldn't take it any longer and stopped eating.

"These individuals are extreme. They simply follow the crowd and swear because they are ignorant."

Neera moved slightly and murmured, "What did they say?"

"Look, these words are too unpleasant!" said Osbert as he took up the phone and handed it to her.

Neera glanced away but maintained her composure. She had predicted this outcome a long time ago. These public opinions were spreading faster than expected.

Luigi also took his phone out. "Except for your identity, Nancy, nothing else is in line with the facts; you should quickly clarify it," he grumbled as he finished reading it. "If you keep acting this way, people's misconceptions about you will get deeper and deeper. You certainly are not such a person."

Neera shook her head and handed the phone back to Osbert.

"No, there is no need to clarify."

Osbert was taken aback when he heard this. "Neera, why are you so calm? Are you not angry? They spread gossip and slander."

He couldn't understand what Neera was thinking.

Neera relaxed and drank. "I knew it was going to happen, and I expected this outcome. The situation is considered favorable at present, but it is likely to get worse soon. There is no reason to be upset."

Osbert looked dumbfounded.

"So why didn't you stop them sooner if that's the case? Why do you still allow them to reprimand?"

Neera continued to smile, saying, "Why bother with this? They are free to speak, and I can't stop them from saying anything."

She then abruptly changed the subject.

"Why don't you help me figure out how I can comfort my husband? Jean was upset with me. What can I give him to make him not angry?"

"Are you still in the mood to think about this and joke?" said Osbert, startled.

"I will take care of this matter," Neera grinned, "but not right now."

Osbert was at a loss for words at this point. Luigi knows a thing or two about Neera from their years of collaboration. She didn't appear to be panicking at all, and even though he was concerned as well, he respected her decision.

He paused for a bit, then responded to her query just now.

"Mr. Beauvort seems to have nothing lacking. I believe he should be pleased no matter what you present him with. Typically, presents for guys consist solely of watches, belts, ties, cufflinks, etc. Also, growing flowers is possible."

Neera gave it great thought before nodding and saying, "Thanks, I'll think about it."

Osbert was unable to speak at all.

What the heck is wrong with those two?

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 616

At that moment, Jean was at home with a grim expression on his face.

The comments seemed to make him angry.

Ian was trembling with fear, afraid that Jean might go ruthless and out of control. I had no other choice but to make the necessary report. There is no way of skipping this.

Ian nervously approached and reluctantly reported the current situation.

"I've had Larry try his best to control it, but at the moment, public opinion seems a bit out of control. Larry has also enlisted some people to fix it, and the situation is slightly better than before. But to completely resolve it, we still need more time."

Jean's expression turned even gloomier. He stared at Ian and said coldly, "What I want is a permanent solution! A solution once and for all"

Ian was stunned and said nervously, "I... haven't thought of a suitable one yet." Help... Someone, please save me!

As if hearing Ian's inner thoughts, the triplets suddenly entered the room at that moment.

"Uncle Jean, we have a solution!"

Sammy raised his chubby hand while looking unusually serious.

Ian instantly turned happy.

Jean was surprised and said, "Aren't you supposed to be at school right now?"

"We were at school, but when we saw Mommy's news, we got really worried and came back."

Jean fell silent for a few seconds and then asked, "You mentioned a solution. What is it?"

Harvey said seriously, "Let Sammy hack the website, crash the system, and temporarily suppress the spread of public opinion."

If these words had come from any other child, Ian would have thought it was a joke. But coming from Harvey, it wasn't a joke. I had seen how skilled Sammy was. In Kingsview, there were probably very few hackers who could match Sammy.

Jean also understood this and felt that this was a good idea.

Jean patted his leg and said, "Sammy, come sit here. You can use the computer."

Sammy felt excited as he finally had a chance to sit on Jean's leg. However, the immediate priority was to resolve Mommy's situation.

Sammy calmed his emotions and allowed Jean to lift him. Then he sat obediently to operate the computer.

However, a piece of news occurred just as he was about to hack the website.

"Neera is really ruthless. Not only does she have no medical ethics, but she also sent her own father to prison! Alfonso is now detained. How can there be such a malicious woman?" Below that, another round of insults began.

Jean looked at it, and his expression grew even more gloomy. Ian looked on and felt outrageous.

"Are the Garcia family out of their minds?" What benefit will they gain from exposing Alfonso's arrest? Are they giving up on the Garcia Group? The leader of the Garcia Group was arrested. Don't they realize how much turmoil this news will cause for the company?"

...

On the other hand, the Garcia family was also bewildered when they learned what had happened. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Gladeon initially remained silent all along. However, he instantly turned furious and berated Susan mercilessly when he saw the news.

"Are you out of your mind? It's fine to expose Neera's work! Why did you even mention the matter of Alfonso's arrest? Do you know the impact this has had on the Garcia Group? The Garcia Group has turned into a complete mess! Our remaining business partners are calling to cancel contracts! Are you determined to drag the Garcia Group down with you?"

Susan was stunned and said, "It wasn't me. I hadn't done anything on this matter..."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 617

At the same time, far away in Slord, Thora was leisurely lounging by the hotel pool and enjoying the sunshine.

Her phone was placed beside her on speakerphone as she talked to Alistair.

Over the phone, Alistair seemed to be happy.

"A few days ago, when we faced the Beauvort Group's pressure, I thought our plan would fall apart. But I never expected Garcia Group to be so bold and expose everything using their official account. It seems they truly despise Neera and have left themselves no way out. In the end, there were only two possible outcomes to this situation. Either Neera's reputation would be utterly ruined, or the Garcia family would be completely destroyed.

Thora smiled and seemed to be satisfied.

"I initially thought the Garcia family was a bunch of losers. Now, with this uproar, it seems I underestimated them."

Alistair chuckled and said "There is no need to think too highly of them. They're still reckless." Once Alfonso was imprisoned, the Garcia family lost their guidance and acted without considering the consequences. This was the outcome I wanted to see.

"The Garcia family probably wasn't in the mood to be happy now. They thought everything would go according to plan but didn't expect me to interrupt and expose Alfonso's imprisonment. The online comments are particularly entertaining! You should take a look; don't miss out on such fun comments!" Alistair said.

Thora knew that Alistair was trying to take credit. I was in such a good mood today. Let's give him what he wants.

"I've seen it, Alistair. You did well this time." Thora said. She seemed to be satisfied.

"If you're happy, I'm happy," Alistair replied, "Is there anything else I can do for you?"

Thora smiled and casually said, "Continue to do whatever you should do! We must drag them down completely! Keep up the good work!"

Alistair promptly agreed.

After ending the call, Thora opened a web page. She intended to enjoy the insults and abuse directed at Neera. However, when she accessed the page, it displayed a "system busy" message.

At Imperial Gardens, Sammy was busy operating the computer. His hand seemed never to leave the keyboard.

After a moment, he raised his hand and hit the enter key on the keyboard.

"Done!"

Jean was satisfied and said, "Well done."

Then he asked, "How long until it's back to normal?"

Sammy proudly said, "The system crash will require technical experts to repair the server. But don't worry; I did it discreetly. They won't realize it was a deliberate attack on the website. It will appear as a system issue due to high data traffic. To fix it, they'll need several hours at least. It depends on their technical skills."

Jean smiled and said, "Good job, Sammy."

Penny saw the atmosphere improving and took the opportunity to join in.

"Uncle Jean, I thought you were still angry with Mommy and didn't want to deal with her. But now it seems your anger has dissipated. You're the best, and never stay mad at Mommy for long!"

Jean frowned and felt helpless. Then he explained, "I'm not angry. I'm just worried."

Penny grinned and asked, "So, have you and Mommy made up yet?"

Jean remained silent for a few seconds and said, "Not yet."

"Well..." Penny pouted and said, "What are you going to do? How much longer are you two going to ignore each other?" Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Jean gently touched Penny's face and said, "You don't need to worry about that. We'll make up sooner or later. But for now, I have something important to ask you."

The triplets blinked their eyes and nodded repeatedly. Then, they huddled together and chattered. After a while, Jean asked the triplets to go downstairs and kept Ian in the room.

Once the triplets were downstairs, they huddled together to discuss

"How can we get Mommy and Daddy to reconcile? Do you guys have any ideas?"

"I have no idea... How about arranging a romantic dinner for them with the chef?"

"Wouldn't that be too simple?"

The triplets brainstormed for a while but could not devise a plan. They even pulled Richard together to think of the plan.

Richard found it somewhat amusing when he saw what happened. While Mr. Jean and Ms. Garcia were embroiled in a relationship issue, the triplets were the most concerned.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 618

In the afternoon, Neera worked tirelessly in the laboratory without paying attention to what was happening online. It was already evening by the time she finished her work.

Osbert felt something had been wrong since lunchtime. When everything was settled, he immediately took out his phone. He had not even changed his clothes yet.

Osbert stared at the phone screen and excitedly exclaimed, "Neera! Come and look at this!"

Neera was confused and asked, "What's going on?"

Osbert showed Neera his phone and said, "The system of this website has crashed!"

Neera took a glance and frowned in surprise. The timing of a system crash seemed too coincidental.

Neera couldn't help but smile. Then she said, "Well, this works for me. I'm happy for some peace and quiet."

Luigi, who was looking at the phone, said, "It's useless for one website not to be working. There are still discussions happening on other platforms."

Neera felt annoyed and removed her lab coat. Then she picked up the phone and said, "Let them say whatever they want. It's late now. I'm going to buy a gift. You all should go back and rest. Goodbye."

With that, she shook her phone and left.

Osbert whispered, "How come Neera could deal with it so calmly? I'm so worried about this matter; is everything going to be fine?"

Then, Osbert turned around and looked at Luigi.

Luigi patted his shoulder and said, "Trust Nancy; I always feel as if she has something planned..."

Neera went to a nearby department store and shopped it around. After careful selection, she finally picked out a watch. The price was somehow expensive, but Jean would love this watch.

Neera looked at the price and said without any expression, "I'll take this."

The worker immediately helped her pack the watch.

Neera pondered for a while. I feel like the worker is looking at me in a strange way. Hold on, I had already shown my face on the internet before, and there has been a lot of news about me recently; she must have recognized who I am.

Neera seemed unbothered and went straight back.

When Neera arrived at Imperial Gardens, it was already past 9 o'clock. Instead of entering her own home, she went to Jean's home.

Richard opened the door and said, "Mrs. Beauvort, welcome back."

Neera smiled and said, "Good evening, Richard." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera entered the living room and did not see Jean anywhere. She glanced upstairs and asked, "Is Jean at home?"

Richard smiled and said, "Yes, he is. Mr. Jean has been busy in his room."

Neera nodded and said, "I'll go up then."

Richard noticed the bag she was carrying and the fine packaging. Then he smiled mysteriously.

Soon, Neera stood outside Jean's room and lightly knocked twice.

"Come in," Jean said without looking up from his work.

Neera quietly pushed open the door and peeked inside. Jean was busy reading documents and had his laptop open on the desk. Jean was meeting online with a group of C-level from the company's foreign branches.

Neera did not notice, assumed he was only working with documents, and decided to walk in. Then she lightly coughed when she reached Jean.

"You're still working? Do you need a break?"

Jean was somewhat surprised as he looked up from his work and saw Neera.

Jean glanced at the screen and said coldly, "What's the matter?"

The various c-level from the foreign branches were stunned. They had just heard something. It is a woman's voice! At this late hour, a woman was in Mr. Beauvort's room. Who was she? What was her relationship with Mr. Beauvort?

Everyone was incredibly curious and listened carefully.

Neera did not realize Jean was in a meeting. She only noticed that Jean was still angry.

Neera casually asked, "Have you eaten? If not, I'll make you something to eat."

Jean remained silent and pretended to be busy.

Neera felt frightened when she saw Jean's reaction. I must do something. I don't want to argue with him anymore.

"Are you still angry? It's been a day. Haven't you gotten over it yet? You're not in good health; you shouldn't stay angry for too long. It'll only make your condition worse. So... I came here to cheer you up."

Neera continued to say, "Look, I brought you a gift! I went to pick this out, especially for you!" As she spoke, she took out an exquisitely wrapped box and placed it before Jean.

Jean was not angry anymore. However, he still replied coldly, "Do you think I'm someone who is lacking in gifts? Don't think a gift can easily win me over."

"You're really this angry..." Neera took a long sigh and said, "Still not willing? It took a lot of effort for me to choose this watch. It perfectly matches your style. I can't wear a men's watch if you don't want it. I'd have to give it to someone else. Would you be happy if another man received my gift? So please reluctantly accept it, okay? I promise that I won't make you angry again next time."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 619

Jean felt satisfied as Neera genuinely assured him. However, he continued to act stubbornly.

Jean said with a gloomy face, "There won't be a next time. Don't make me angry again."

Neera nodded as if completely without temper. Then she Then she said, "Alright! Absolutely no next time!"

Neera felt relieved as she had successfully cheered him up. She reached over to put the watch on Jean's wrist and could not keep her eyes off her.

"It really suits you! It's so pretty! I had chosen the right gift!"

Jean could not hold it on anymore and said, "Are you praising me or yourself?"

Neera blinked and smiled brightly. Then she said, "Of course I'm praising you. Whether it's the watch or you, they are both my choices! My taste is impeccable, which means you're even better!"

After saying this, Neera leaned in suddenly and kissed Jean's cheek. Neera had been doing her best to coax Jean!

Jean almost could not hold back any longer. He closed his laptop while appearing to be pleased. Then he dragged Neera over to sit on his leg. Things were about to get spicy at that moment.

Jean kissed Neera hard as if to punish her. Neera's cheeks were hot, and she obediently closed her eyes.

The c-level who were in the online meeting were instantly upset when Jean quit the meeting. We had not had enough to watch yet!

Jean finally let go of Neera after a long time. Both of them were a bit out of breath. Jean's hands resisted Neera's cheeks, and his thumbs brushed against her forehead. At the same time, he stared intensely at her.

Neera was staring innocently at Jean. She seemed to be acting teasingly. Jean was stunned at the sight of her, and he could feel his heartbeat clearly.

"Don't move," Jean said.

Neera heard Jean's words and froze in place. Her cheeks flushed intensely as she dared not make a move.

It was only after a long time that Jean finally calmed down and let go of Neera.

Neera quickly composed herself and tried to change the topic. She said, "Well, about the website crashing earlier today, did you do it?"

Jean replied honestly, "No, it was Sammy."

Neera was taken aback and said, "Sammy? Did they come to see you? When did this happen?"

Jean did not hide anything and explained that the triplets had returned early in the afternoon, including the website matter.

Neera chuckled and said, "The triplets are really something."

Even though Neera said that, she felt grateful that they were looking out for her.

"You don't need to worry about the website. You said you didn't have dinner, right? Let's go downstairs and eat." Jean said.

Jean wanted to divert her attention away from these issues.

Neera nodded and casually mentioned, "At this hour, don't bother the chef. I can just make some noodles for myself."

Jean held her hand and said, "Anything you want, it's already prepared."

As they descended to the dining room, Neera realized that Richard had already prepared the meal.

Neera smiled at Jean and said, "You weren't really angry with me earlier, were you?" Otherwise, why would the food be ready?

Jean patted Neera's forehead and said, "Hurry up and eat."

Neera smiled even more happily.

At that moment, the triplets joined them. They were pleased to see them getting along again. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Mommy, please don't care about what those people say online. They're just blindly following others without knowing the truth. Just ignore them!"

The triplets were still worried about this matter.

Neera ruffled their hair and said, "Alright, I won't listen to them."

After dinner, Adriana called Neera.

With all the commotion, Adriana naturally found out what had happened.

"I can't believe the Garcia family would go this far! Do they have any shame left? Adriana exclaimed.

Adriana was furious on the phone. At the same time, Adriana felt even more guilty for Neera.

"It's my fault; I couldn't protect you properly. I don't understand how they suddenly found out that you're Nancy. Now, the situation has escalated."

Neera understood Adriana's concerns and said, "I'm fine, Aunt Adriana. They want to tarnish my reputation with false rumors to force me into submission, but I won't satisfy them. Please don't worry; nothing will happen to me."

Adriana could hear the determination in Neera's voice. She asked, "Do you already have a plan?"

"Yes," Neera said, "I'm going to confront the Garcia family directly this time, and I won't hold back."

Adriana listened without objection. She said, "I initially thought that when you returned to Kingsview, you might be able to improve your relationship with the Garcia family. But I underestimated the situation. Neera, do what you think is best. As long as you don't suffer, it's fine. I'll support you no matter what."

Neera felt heartwarming and said, "Thank you, Aunt Adriana."

Later that night, Neera accompanied the triplets to prepare for bed.

Jean returned to his room and called Ian to discuss handling the false rumors.

"Gather evidence from all the accounts spreading false information and confirm the sources they had found in the afternoon. Have you gone and contacted the people I told you to contact? This would be crucial in the subsequent clarification for Neera. Make sure everything is running smoothly."

Ian replied, "I had already asked Storm and Cloud to get started on this matter. Don't worry, everything is fine!"

Jean nodded after listening to Ian's words.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 620

That evening passed relatively calmly. However, the previously crashed website was back in operation the following day.

The delay of a day, combined with Larry's efforts to control the situation, had diminished the amount of discussion about Neera.

Susan had anxiously waited for a day and felt dissatisfied when she saw such a situation. I used the Garcia Group to stir up such a significant discussion, and now all my effort seems wasted! It's all due to the system crash! If this continues, how could I achieve my goals like this? I cannot let go of this chance. I must do something to drag them down!

New rumors began to spread on the internet.

It was claimed that Neera had used unfair means to take control of AXNIN Group, making her the heir to ANXIN Group. Even Adriana was implicated. There were rumors about Adriana on the internet too.

The rumors said that Adriana had initially used the Garcia Group's funds to establish her own company abroad and build her market. However, once she became successful, she severed ties with Garcia Group and joined Neera to take over the company. Moreover, the rumors said that they refused to help when the Garcia Group faced difficulties.

These rumors quickly pushed Neera and Adriana back into the trending news again.

"Unbelievable! How can such a heartless person even exist? Neera and Adriana are truly ruthless!"

"Neera and Adriana are both so heartless, seizing everything for themselves!"

"Disgusting! I never expected that Adriana would be such a person who was willing to cut ties with her family for the sake of wealth."

"The younger generation is even worse when the older generation is messed up. Adriana's morals seem to have passed down to Neera as well. The Garcia family is truly in a miserable state." search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The discussions were filled with harsh criticism and disdain for Neera and Adriana.

Neera had been busy working in the morning and had not had time to check her phone. So she did not know what had happened. She felt disgusted when she finally saw the news during her lunch break.

Osbert was worried and said, "Neera, aren't you going to do anything about this? The Garcia family is acting recklessly!" For the sake of their interests, they were willing to drag Neera into this!

Neera's expression was no longer as calm as the day before. She looked somehow helpless. Before, I could ignore how the Garcia family slandered me. But now, it was different. They dared to involve Adriana! How shameless could they be? Adriana had been forced to work abroad for so many years due to the separation from her marriage! For so many years, no matter how hard it was, she never asked the Garcia family for even a single penny! Now, the Garcia family was attempting to reverse the truth. Did they not fear retribution?

...

While the Garcia family continued to create chaos online, ANXIN Group remained unaffected. However, Startales was affected because it was a domestic company.

Startales, a domestic company, was not so lucky.

Levi noticed the situation was out of control and quickly called Neera.

"Neera, do you have time to come to Startales? Several projects have been significantly affected, and we need to discuss a strategy."

After listening to Levi's report, Neera pondered for a moment and replied firmly, "I'll come over later."

At the same time, Thora was satisfied with what had happened on the internet.

"The Garcia family is helpful; we don't even need to intervene."

On the phone, Alistair laughed and said, "Now Neera must be in a panic and unable to find any solutions. She's probably in turmoil!"

"That's even better." Thora sneered and said.

"What I despise the most is her indifferent attitude, no matter how dire the situation. I'd like to see if she can remain calm and composed now. This time, she's accused by everyone, and there's no way she can escape freely!"

"It's a pity I can't return right now to see the expression on her face personally. I will definitely regret it."

Alistair smiled and said, "Your goal is to bring her down from her current position. In short, the goal is achieved. As long as that's achieved, it doesn't matter how it's done."

Thora lazily lay on the bed and asked. "What about Kyra? Any updates?"

Alistair replied, "Not yet, but it should be happening soon. She won't miss such a good opportunity."

Kyra certainly would not miss it. Today, she attended an event where many celebrities were present. As she got ready in the makeup room, she kept an eye on the news. I had been in an excellent mood these past few days. The worse things got for Neera, the happier I was. Now was the perfect time to stir up more trouble.

Kyra pondered for a while and asked Renise, "Is all the information I asked you to find prepared?"

Renise nodded and said, "Everything is ready."

Kyra smirked and said, "It's time to release it."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 621

Sasha was also among the invited guests at this event. She went to the restroom, and on her way back, she passed by Kyra's dressing room. Coincidentally, she overheard their conversation.

Sasha was stunned and glanced at the closed door. Ever since I knew what kind of person Kyra was, I could not shake the feeling that she was planning something bad. Neera's situation is not looking good, and Kyra even discusses revealing some information or dark secrets. I felt something odd.

When Sasha was back in her own dressing room, she sat in the chair and pondered for a while. Then she decided to call Larry to inform him of what she had heard.

Sasha took out her phone and called Larry.

"Sasha, what's up?" Larry answered quickly.

Sasha got straight to the point and said, "Mr. McDonagh, could you please keep a closer eye on Kyra?" I knew that Larry had been managing the public relations related to Neera recently.

Larry hesitated for a moment and asked, "What's going on?"

Sasha explained to Larry what had just happened.

"Maybe I'm being overly sensitive, but I can't help feeling that she might be related to Ms. Garcia. In any case, I thought it was better to be safe than sorry. If there's nothing to worry about, that's great, but if there is something, we can respond promptly."

Larry had complete trust in Sasha and listened carefully to her words. Then he said, "You're right; we should pay attention to this matter."

Then Larry continued to say, "But on your end, just focus on the event and don't get too involved. I'll keep an eye on Ms. Garcia's matter."

Sasha smiled and said, "Don't worry, I'll be discreet."

However, the reporters did not let Sasha stay out of this matter.

As the event was coming to a close, a reporter approached Sasha with a barrage of questions.

"Sasha, you must be aware of the recent controversy about Ms. Garcia, right? In response to this matter, what do you think?"

"How do you feel about it as someone who has worked with her?"

"Do you know about her scandals? We've heard that you have a close relationship with her."

After a series of questions, everyone in the room stared at Sasha.

The event staff was frustrated after hearing those questions. Where did this idiotic reporter come from to cause trouble like this? Is he trying to drag Sasha into this mess? If she doesn't get it right, Sasha will be messed up!

Sasha's assistant was worried too, and wanted to intervene in their conversation, but Sasha calmly responded.

"I haven't had extensive contact with Ms. Garcia, but I saw her dedication during our collaboration. I've heard rumors and discussions about her recently but haven't fully believed them. After all, Ms. Garcia hasn't spoken out yet, and it's all one-sided from the Garcia family. I can't be certain if it's defamation or the truth. I can only say that the truth will eventually come to light."

Sasha's words leaned in favor of Neera.

The audience had mixed reactions.

But the reporter asked another question. He seemed intent on causing trouble.

"So, are you saying you believe Ms. Garcia? What if the facts prove that Garcia Group's claims are true?"

The event staff was getting more upset.

However, Sasha smiled calmly and said, "If she turns out to be that kind of person, then perhaps I made a mistake in my judgment. However..."

Sasha pondered for a while and said, "I have always had good judgment. I have never been wrong before, and I believe it will remain the same now and in the future."

After the interview, Sasha's words quickly became a top-trending topic on Twitter.

However, it was trending for the wrong reasons.

"It seems like Sasha has been paid enough to start siding with Neera."

"I used to admire Sasha's acting skills, but now I'm so disappointed. Why is she doing this?"

"Why hasn't Neera come forward to clarify? Clearly, she's guilty. The Garcia family has revealed so much already; what else is there to say? I don't understand why Sasha is defending her; she's only causing trouble for herself!"

"Sure enough, if Neera is such a punk, then Sasha must be just as trashy."

These were the milder comments; some were too offensive to repeat.

Larry was furious when he found out.

"Is that reporter out of his mind? What's wrong with him?"

On the other hand, Sasha remained calm and scrolled through Twitter.

"No need to get angry over such a nuisance; he'll learn when he can't speak anymore." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

As expected, Sasha's fans rushed over to comment on the reporter's Twitter account.

The reporter couldn't handle the comments and was forced to apologize.

"I'm sorry; I didn't think it through and was careless with my words. I shouldn't have asked Ms. Sasha such sensitive questions in public."

However, the turmoil wasn't over yet.

At that very moment, Neera started trending again. This time, the accusations against her were about her private life.

A famous blogger suddenly posted a tweet that directly targeted Neera.

"Garcia Group has finally exposed Neera. I've been holding back on something for a while, but I can't keep quiet any longer. I have a friend who knows the Garcia family and says that when Neera first came back from the countryside, she used her looks to attract all sorts of shady men. Remember the hotel scandal back then? Because of that incident, she had three children, and nobody knows their real fathers."

This blogger had quite a few followers, and it immediately caused a lot of controversy.

Many people even tagged Garcia Group's official account and asked if it was true.

Within half an hour, Garcia Group's official account admitted that Neera had indeed given birth to three children!

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 622

This time, commenters could not withstand it anymore and started criticizing.

"Let's name her the top flirt of our time. Does anyone disagree?"

"It turns out she was always a b*tch! That's how she was born. Can't she stop hogging the trending topics? Now, whenever I see her name, I feel physically sick! Such a person doesn't deserve to use public resources!"

"She has no morals left. She should just disappear. Wasn't she abroad before? Can she take her three children and leave the country? Don't make our country have a bad reputation!"

This incident caused a huge uproar, with insulting comments piling up endlessly.

Jean's face turned gloomy upon seeing those comments. He closed his laptop hard and glared at Ian. Jean was truly furious.

"How is Larry managing this? Why is the situation getting worse?" Jean said angrily.

Ian shivered and lowered his head.

"Well, Larry should have someone handling it now..." Ian said.

Star Entertainment Media.

Upon seeing this scandal, Larry was furious and lost his temper.

He summoned the publicity departments and scolded them.

"What are you all doing? You're supposed to keep a close watch. Why can't you control the news? This sudden scandal is causing a huge mess. Are you all trying to ruin your careers, or do you want me to lose my job too?"

The head of the department nervously explained, "We were monitoring it, and there were no signs of trouble. It's just that this scandal came out so suddenly. Based on the data, it seems someone deliberately manipulated it and hired a bunch of fake accounts!"

Larry read the summary report handed to him. His face turned somewhat gloomy as he read the report. Indeed, someone was deliberately manipulating the scandal. Although it did not look significant from the data, careful observation could find it out...

At that moment, Larry remembered Sasha's words. His expression darkened, and he said, "Go investigate Kyra, especially Renise. Check if she's had any contact with anyone!"

At this moment, Kyra had no idea that she was under suspicion. She was busy celebrating her success and called Wrenn. She said, "Aunt Wrenn, with such a mess happening, are Jean and the Beauvort Group affected? Is Jean alright?" Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Wrenn was puzzled by the question. Since her last argument with Jean, she and Frederic had gone on vacation. They were enjoying their holiday and paying no attention to what was going on outside.

Wrenn asked, "What happened?"

Kyra replied, "So you don't know yet; it's hard for me to say; it's all over the internet, so you'd better check the news..."

Wrenn and Frederic both checked the news with a puzzled look. They immediately turned angry after seeing the news.

"I told Jean! Neera is truly troublesome. Jean just wouldn't listen! Let's see what he has to say this time!" Wrenn said angrily.

She got up in anger and went to call the chauffeur.

"Prepare the car! We're going back home!"

In the evening, online discussions escalated beyond control.

Neera had just finished her work and checked the latest news. Her face turned gloomy after she saw the news. Just half an hour ago, the Garcia Group officially demanded that Neera hand over a portion of ANXIN Group's shares.

They claimed that considering the funds invested by the Garcia Group, it was equivalent to ten percent!

Furthermore, the Garcia Group released another post on Twitter.

"We kindly request everyone, especially doctors, to help us find the source of Roxanne's heart and save Roxanne's life."

Every word seemed to be pleading. As soon as this story came out, countless people shared it and appealed for help for the Garcia family. With this incident, the Garcia family garnered sympathy.

The Garcia Group, which was originally in a bad state, has also stabilized for now.

This unexpected turn of events brought relief to the Garcia family.

Susan and Marnie watched the discussions in the hospital and burst into laughter. They seemed to be satisfied.

"Using public opinion to pressure Neera into submission was the right move!"

"Seeing that b*tch get criticized so harshly is so satisfying!"

"She brought this upon herself! But we should ask for more shares! Ten percent is not enough!"

Susan could not stop smiling and reassuring them.

"Don't worry, this is just a temporary solution. Once we have that ten percent, we'll think of other ways to completely drag ANXIN Group down!"

The three of them were enjoying their moment, but Gladeon seemed to have a gloomy face.

Gladeon pondered for a while. I felt like something was wrong. Neera had not yet made any public statements about such a significant incident. Not even a single word from her!

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 623

Jean had just finished work and was about to head home from Beauvort Group. Once he was about to leave, he saw Frederic and Wrenn.

Jean was a bit surprised to see them back from their vacation.

"Why have you come back?" Jean asked.

Wrenn had a gloomy face and scolded him right away.

"Why do you even need to ask? The news is all over the place. With such an incident happening, everyone knows about it. How can we stay calm?"

Jean understood their concerns but remained composed. He said, "The online rumors are baseless. It's the Garcia Group trying to tarnish Neera's reputation unilaterally. Don't take it seriously."

Wrenn was visibly frustrated and said, "At a time like this, you still defend her? The Garcia family and Neera are related; there must be a reason if they're making such accusations. Do you think they would randomly target her for no reason? Do they have nothing better to do?"

Jean frowned and said, "Mom, why do you always assume that everything others say is true? Have you forgotten what the Garcia family did in the past? If they could do something like that, what else couldn't they do?"

Wrenn was momentarily at a loss for words. However, I still could not believe Neera; something was wrong with her!

"Stay focused. Don't get sidetracked! Besides, you know the Garcia family has a bad reputation. Neera has been influenced by them; she can't be that great either! And some of the information was leaked by others. They have no reason to blame her. What do they gain from it?"

She spoke sternly and tried to make Jean believe that these were all facts.

"You've seen the news yourself! Others see it more clearly than you do about what kind of person Neera is! She's not worth being your wife! Jean, don't be stubborn!" Wrenn said.

Jean lost his patience as he realized he could not convince Wrenn. Jean remained silent for a while and said, "I know you have a lot of grievances against Neera, and you can't see her fairly. Even if I explain, you won't listen. I don't want to explain anymore because this situation can't be clarified quickly. But I'll say one thing, Neera is not the kind of person you thought she was."

Wrenn was trembling from the argument and still could not trust Neera. At that moment, Frederic said, "Why are you so sure?"

Jean replied coldly, "I have the evidence."

Then, Jean looked at Wrenn and said, "Mom, I don't want to argue with you anymore. We have argued a lot about Neera's case. I just hope that you will trust me and give me some time. I promise you, you'll clearly see what kind of person Neera is."

Jean spoke softly at the end.

Wrenn still felt somehow upset after all. However, she felt somewhat calmer after Jean's words. Of course, I trust Jean! However, I could not trust Neera... I still couldn't let go of my doubts.

"Well, it's up to you. Even if you speak up for her, I can't accept her!" Wrenn said coldly. It was all because of those three children!

At this moment, Ian entered the room and felt a bit awkward seeing the situation.

Frederic patted Jean's shoulder and said, "Alright, we won't trouble you further. You focus on your work first."

After saying this, Frederic left with Wrenn. After they left, Ian handed Jean two document folders.

"Mr. Jean, this one contains evidence of the online attacks on Ms. Garcia. It contained rumors and evidence of aggressive commenters. This one shows how the Garcia family has treated Ms. Garcia over the years and how they've been harassing her. It also includes video evidence of why Alfonso was arrested. It's all there."

Jean glanced through them, then put them back in the folders.

Jean said, "Give everything to the Legal department and tell them to be prepared. Everyone involved in this must be sued. No one should be left out!" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

After giving his instructions, he picked up his car keys and headed home.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 624

On the other hand, Neera had just finished her work and returned home. Osbert and Louis had been observing her all day. They were getting increasingly anxious when Neera showed no intention of fighting back.

After careful consideration, they decided to make an international call.

"Mr. Hanson, Neera is in trouble."

Osbert briefly explained the recent events of the past two days to Obadiah.

"Remember how much good Neera did overseas! How could she be as bad as the internet says?"

Louis said, "Mr. Hanson, I believe any piece of evidence, including her past achievements and contributions, should easily vindicate Nancy. People who spread baseless rumors are simply going too far."

"Exactly! It's disgusting! Especially Neera's family! They are simply going too far to drag Neera down! Such people deserve to be taught a lesson."

Obadiah felt heartbroken as he listened. I had never imagined that Neera would face such a problem. She used to be my best student!

Without hesitation, Obadiah agreed to help gather evidence.

...

Neera had no idea what was happening and received Isabella's call on her way home.

Isabella had been infuriated for the past two days.

Isabella said, "Neera, are you okay? Don't take those rumors seriously. They know nothing; they're just following others! Don't let these unworthy people get to you."

Neera spoke calmly, "Don't worry, I'm fine. I know what's going on."

Isabella was still deeply troubled and said, "I'm sorry, Neera."

Neera found it amusing and said, "Why are you apologizing to me?" Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Isabella mumbled, "I just can't withstand the Garcia family's behavior! I wanted to move Roxanne to another hospital, but my family wouldn't let me do so. They say it would harm the hospital's reputation! They're just a bunch of bastards!"

Neera reassured her, "It's okay; you don't have to do that. Your family is right; don't act impulsively. I will clear things up about this matter."

Neera continued to say, "Am I the type of person who suffers in silence?"

Isabella felt somewhat relieved and said, "You're right! I had only seen you take advantage of others, and no one had taken advantage of you in these past years."

Neera and Isabella chatted for a while before ending the call.

Then, Neera returned home and was comforted again by the triplets. Neera felt somewhat guilty and believed she had let them down. This time, it was I who had dragged the triplets into this mess. The thought of them being called illegitimate children hurt me deeply.

"I'm sorry; it's my fault for not protecting you," Neera said, embracing them.

The triplets seemed not to mind at all. They patted Neera's back and comforted her.

"It's okay, Mommy. Don't blame yourself. It's those people's fault for spreading lies."

"And we're not illegitimate; we have a mommy and a daddy!"

"That's right; what they said is true! We have a complete family!"

These words had a hidden meaning, but Neera did not catch it. Neera felt heartbroken after seeing the triplets' reaction. She sniffled and tried her best not to cry before them.

When Jean came home, he was stunned to see the four of them huddled together.

"What's going on?" Jean gently asked.

The triplets immediately let go of Neera and ran over to him.

"Uncle Jean, please comfort Mommy. She's feeling sad because of the rumors!"

Jean stared at Neera as he heard the triplets' words.

Neera took a deep breath and said, "Welcome back. I'm not sad; don't listen to them."

Neera tried to remain calm but failed and almost burst into tears.

Jean saw her expression, and without saying anything, he took a few steps over and hugged her.

Neera subconsciously looked up and said, "What are you doing?"

Neera's voice was trembling.

"I'm not doing anything," Jean said while gently stroking Neera's hair.

Neera felt a bit uncomfortable doing such a thing in front of the triplets. But she did not try to pull away. Neera finally lost her temper after two days of emotional turmoil. I said I did not care, but could I truly not care about such a thing happening?

Neera said while her voice trembled, "I can handle how they talk about me, but when they bring Adriana and the triplets into it... It's too much!" These were the people I cherished the most. I did not want to see them hurt because of me!

Jean gently said, "It's their fault; don't be sad. Tomorrow, I'll help you get revenge, okay?"

Neera sniffled and withdrew from his arms. She asked, "How do you plan to do that?"

Jean grinned and replied, "I'll go along with your plan. I knew you preferred waiting for the right moment and hitting them with the truth."

Neera nodded and said, "Yes, I have information on my side to prepare for the clarification. I also have information from abroad and proof of charity work. These pieces of evidence should be useful."

Unexpectedly, Jean replied, "I've already taken care of everything."

"You...?" Neera was surprised and said.

Jean looked at the triplets and said, "I've already talked to them about many things concerning you. From now on, you just need to watch."

Then, Jean said seriously, "Watch how I deal with the Garcia family."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 625

When Neera saw Jean speak with such great confidence, her mood suddenly improved.

Neera smiled and said, "Sure, I'll trust you. I'll wait for it."

Jean gently rubbed her head and whispered, "Trust me."

Jean stayed after dinner and kept them company until late, only leaving when Neera had completed the cleanup.

Before leaving, Jean pulled Neera close and kissed her passionately. Luckily, Jean stopped before both of them were overwhelmed by lust. Their foreheads were pressed together.

Jean said calmly, "Get a good night's sleep. Tomorrow morning, everything will be fine."

Neera nodded softly and said, "Yes, I know. You should get some rest too." After bidding farewell to Jean, she lay in bed and was lost in thought.

She touched her lips and thought about the kiss earlier. She buried her face in the blanket while her heart pounded loudly. I felt somehow at peace and not worried anymore.

The next morning, she was awakened by Isabella's phone call.

"Neera...!"

Neera answered in a daze, not even opening her eyes. However, Isabella's excited voice immediately snapped her awake.

Neera sat up and asked, "What's wrong? What's happening?"

Isabella was extremely excited and said, "Are you awake? Are you? Have you seen the news online today? I'm ecstatic!"

Neera was still groggy. She replied, "Not yet."

Isabella urgently urged her, "Check it now! Go, hurry up, and see!"

Neera chuckled and said, "Alright, I will." She then opened a web page.

This morning, the official account of the Beauvort Group posted a clarification article.

The article was long, detailing the truth about Neera and the Garcia family's past.

"Recently, there have been relentless rumors about Ms. Garcia, which have severely affected both Ms. Garcia's personal life and company work. On behalf of Ms. Garcia, we would like to clarify and prevent these rumors from further spreading, which could have a wider impact."

"First, the Garcia family's accusation that Ms. Garcia disowned them and disregarded their upbringing is entirely false. In reality, the Garcia family never raised Ms. Garcia for a single day."

"Years ago, Alfonso had a mistress, which led to the tragic death of his first wife. Ms. Garcia was lost at a young age and was only recently reclaimed by the Garcia family. She grew up in the countryside, and upon her return, the Garcia family did not treat her well. They once again rejected her and left her with no support. Fortunately, Adriana cared for her and raised her to become a doctor."

"Secondly, the Garcia family's claim that Ms. Garcia had a promiscuous private life and gave birth to a child out of wedlock is pure fabrication."

"At the time, Ms. Garcia had no social connections at all. It was Roxanne who manipulated her and got her drunk. Roxanne said she was trying to help Ms. Garcia get more friends. Please think by yourself about what happened. We have investigated and discovered that Roxanne had ulterior motives at that time."

"Thirdly, Ms. Garcia inherited ANXIN Group through a legitimate transfer of shares from Adriana. This was not an illegal takeover, and evidence is available in the form of ANXIN Group's share transfer documents. The documents are attached below."

"Fourth, ANXIN Group's initial startup capital was entirely provided by Adriana herself and her friends. Not a single cent of the Garcia family's assets were used. All relevant bank records are listed below with the bank's official seal. Please verify for yourselves."

"Fifth, the claim that Ms. Garcia sent her father to prison is false. In truth, Alfonso and Roxanne coveted ANXIN Group and pressured Ms. Garcia to transfer her shares. Ms. Garcia had no choice but to report them to the police. The police then detained Alfonso and Roxanne. Video evidence is provided below."

The video showed surveillance footage of Roxanne and Alfonso forcing Neera into a private room. There were documents in their hands, too.

That was not all. Soon, the Beauvort Group made another announcement.

"We want to make it clear that we will take legal action against individuals who have engaged in malicious slander against Ms. Garcia on the internet during these days. Those mentioned in the list below should await the legal letters from Beauvort Group!"

Under the announcement, there was a list of thousands of accounts that had participated in online harassment across various platforms during this period.

This article caused an immediate uproar. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Everyone was shocked!

No one expected the Beauvort Group to take such decisive action. They sued so many individuals with a single move!

But what was even more astonishing was the final part of the announcement, which specifically called out the Garcia Group.

"The Garcia Group first spread false statements, tarnished Ms. Garcia's reputation, and then distorted the truth, inciting online harassment against Ms. Garcia and her family. Each of their actions has deeply hurt Ms. Garcia, and she has clarified that she will not tolerate it!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Read Chapter 626

Chapter 626

Everyone was surprised by the news. But this was just the start, and the situation was far from resolved.

Several international orphanages banded together to speak out for Neera one after another, just ten minutes after Beauvort Group's statement!

According to a statement from Angel Orphanage, "Dr. Nancy is an excellent doctor. He has dedicated the last few years to public welfare initiatives that offer free treatment in our hospital for kids with congenital illnesses. She has so far treated fifty-seven kids in our hospital. The list is shown below. There are also included the records of each procedure and treatment."

The Lucky Children's Orphanage published a statement: "Dr. Nancy has been providing free pediatric care in our hospital for the past four years. She will accompany the kids every week, create individualized treatment programs for the kids who have illnesses, and frequently make follow-up visits. She also gives the kids toys and food. The kids adore her and refer to her as the world's most kind doctor! She has treated 78 kids in our hospital so far, and every single one of them has recovered. The following is a list of the files."

According to Home Angel Orphanage, "Dr. Nancy has treated 31 children in our hospital..."

Hundreds of children who had been treated by Neera were listed on these orphanages' lists, which were uploaded one after another.

For the first time, the International Charity Foundation's official account spoke for her.

"Dr. Nancy consistently donates 10 million dollars in her name each year to support kids who lack the resources to pay for their medical care. The five-year records for annual donations are listed below."

The nation's most authoritative charity also defended Neera and came forward to provide clarification.

"Since three years ago, we have consistently received an annual donation of 50 million dollars from a foreign account. Children with various congenital disorders will benefit from this funding. We located this account a while back and learned that Dr. Nancy is the owner. I also made an effort to get in touch with her and request that she make it public, but sadly, my request was denied. Dr. Nancy performs good deeds anonymously. She is an excellent doctor who is unselfish and compassionate. We believe that we should no longer be silent in light of the events of the last two days, so we have stepped out to clarify. How could a doctor who is so compassionate ignore someone who is in danger?"

Everyone was astonished as soon as such statements were made, and there was a commotion.

Neera hadn't stepped forward to deny it two days ago, but it turned out it wasn't because she didn't dare to after the defeat-she was just waiting for the right opportunity! This counterattack leaves people speechless!

No matter which assertion you choose, it was supported by solid evidence that was even full of authority, so there was no room for doubt. In addition, when these official statements were clarified, they also contained a picture of Neera providing a free medical consultation.

These images appeared to be candid shots at first glance, somewhat blurred but sufficient to view the information noted. They were not posing at all!

This effectively stopped anyone from wondering if she might be a counterfeiter!

The internet users were reprimanded before, but they were sorry now!

Obadiah also emerged at this time and explained. According to Professor Obadiah, search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Nancy is my most intelligent and proudest pupil. She has been doing research, giving it her all, and being serious and responsible over the last few years. All of the medications she has created are used to help refugees. She has performed wonderful deeds and preserved numerous priceless lives. I admire her dedication to her studies and her caution! Here, I would want to make a plea to everyone to act and think logically and not to offend a good doctor's pure and compassionate heart by purposefully provoking them."

Obadiah was an expert in the medical profession! Everyone was startled once more after the individual who knew Obadiah explained. Obadiah turned out to be Neera's teacher!

Neera had a large following, and some of them had continued to support her despite the incident. They had been reprimanded a lot during the previous two days because they had been speaking for her.

Finally feeling content, they started to fight back with a sense of elation!

"Why won't you guys speak any longer? Come out and keep berating! Mind your own business!"

"Stop acting innocent! Before, you all reprimanded Neera. Now you've learned the truth, so why are you silent now?"

"I knew Neera was being set up! I have never heard anything more ridiculous than that.'

"Me, too; she's so wonderful and extremely kind! How could it be someone like that?"

"For such a perfect person to be engaging in cyberbullying is distressing!"

"I thought something was wrong before, and it was right to stay neutral!"

"Neera is gorgeous and cool; she's not only a president but also a miracle doctor. I adore her so much."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 627

Many of the individuals who had taken part in the prior scolding of Neera were forced to publicly apologize as a result of the fan backlash's strength and the Beauvort Group's pressure. These include the numerous accounts that will be litigated in court.

They weren't expecting things to spiral out of control. They were proud to insult others one second and terrified the next.

"Sorry, I apologize to Ms. Garcia for my harsh language; I didn't comprehend the facts, so I blurted without thinking. I'm sorry for the harm done to Ms. Garcia; it was my fault. Please forgive me!"

"I'm sorry, Ms. Garcia, I..."

Sorry, Ms. Garcia# dominated trending searches for a while, followed by clarification statements issued by Beauvort Group and several official blogs. But there was no question that the Garcia Group was the group that had received the greatest criticism.

The Garcia Group's account had been instantly flooded with users! The number of followers had increased, but they were all cursing!

"The Garcias are scumbags; Ms. Garcia couldn't possibly have a family like yours! It's revolting!"

"You flip things around and make a false countercharge! Do you treat us like fools?"

"I wasn't expecting this outcome. I was genuinely surprised that they would disparage their family."

"The Garcia family is just incomprehensible. They want Ms. Garcia's property and to ruin her. Even her aunts and kids were defamed by them. They're all such kind, innocent folks. Ms. Garcia is unlucky to be in a family with you!"

"How low-brow! Get out of my face, and knock it off."

"I've had it with their trash. I never want to look at their face again."

The fact that Ms. Garcia ended her friendship with your family is a good thing. You've earned it. You all deserved to die, so it's no surprise she didn't intervene to save you."

Knowing they were being used, these netizens became enraged and criticized them directly.

"Are you upset after seeing the news? Dr. Nancy is willing to assist ill children of all kinds, but she declines to assist your family. Why? Because you are not deserving! I'm curious... How did you find the courage to seek treatment for her?" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"You completely forgot how shameless they are. They're a piece of trash!"

"Such a company ought to close down right away!"

Someone else sent out fresh information at this point.

"I heard Zachary was originally Ms. Garcia's fiancé, but later he got together with Roxanne! They seriously make me sick!"

Roxanne received even harsher criticism as soon as the news broke. Some folks are impatiently hoping for her to die right away. Others arrived at Garcia Group in a rage and started throwing rotten eggs and rotten leaves.

The Garcia Group was forced to temporarily close because there was such widespread unrest and chaos.

Several Garcia family members witnessed this shocking turn of events at Grace Hospital. Everyone was in a state of constant shock, with pale faces and trembling throughout their entire bodies.

They were baffled as to why things had developed in this manner. They had not anticipated something like this!

Roxanne constantly read the news on her phone and struggled for a while to accept its veracity.

Why are they all praising Neera right now? Shouldn't these people feel sorry for me?

How could Neera be so talented? This should not be the case! Not like this, please!

Wasn't she lucky to have what she had today due to Aunt Adriana's help? Could she have made it through without Aunt Adriana today?

Marnie had a melancholy appearance. She used to detest Neera so much, but now she regrets it because of Neera's honors. She immediately passed out because she couldn't take it.

Gladeon was not at all surprised. Before, he sensed something wasn't right, but now it appears that he was right.

Neera simply had a straight foot and was not afraid of a crooked shoe. Whatever you wrongfully accused her of, she would easily resolve it! The Garcia family was solely to blame for the event that happened today.

At the same time, the Fain family was also dumbfounded.

They never expected that Neera would have such a high achievement. They had no idea they'd be implicated because of the Garcia family. They even collectively rebuked Fain Enterprises' account.

"I know Zachary is a jerk, but I still want to thank you. You are not deserving of our Ms. Garcia because of your dishonesty and betrayal."

"You and Roxanne better fit together like a glove, you scumbag!"

"A garbage man like you is only fit for Roxanne. I wish you all the best for the future!"

When Zachary saw these words, he was practically enraged. Harley and Qaylah's faces sank, and their emotions were even more uneasy.

"I shouldn't have selected Roxanne in the first place if I had known how useless the Garcia family was! Neera, on the other hand, surprised me by being the one who could help us out."

"It appears that we made a mistake with this decision.

Zachary regretted it, and he instantly clarified to shield himself.

"The Fain family has been implicated in public opinion for no reason, and I must state right here that there is no marriage contract between the Fain family and the Garcia family, nor do we have any connection to Roxanne. I hope everyone will approach this situation rationally and avoid harming innocent people."

Naturally, online users did not accept this, and the criticism grew even worse.

Roxanne noticed it as well and couldn't stand it any longer. She fainted right away!

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 628

Thora enjoyed a relaxing holiday in Slord, but her good mood wasn't sustained.

She had only recently returned to Kingsview when she discovered these reversals, which left her speechless. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

She and Neera have been working at the same research center for a long time after living overseas. But she had no idea Neera had done so many things quietly.

She had no idea that so many public welfare organizations would come to her aid at such a critical juncture and unequivocally advocate for her!

Why did this happen?

She covertly put a lot of work into framing Neera this time, risking getting exposed in the process, and told the Garcia family about Neera. She believed she could take advantage of this incident to destroy Neera's reputation. She wasn't expecting such a consequence!

She instantly dialed Alistair's number.

Alistair took the initiative to placate her as soon as he picked up the phone because he had anticipated her objectives in that regard.

"Thora, don't worry, this matter..."

But Thora didn't pay attention and rudely interrupted him.

"How could I possibly not be eager? How was I supposed to be calm? How did things get to be this way?"

How did everything alter in a single day?"

Currently, Alistair is also hazy. He said, "I'm not sure, but right now everyone is speaking for Neera."

"Is there anything else we can do?" snarled Thora.

She wasn't ready to let that woman go easily! But she was disappointed by Alistair's response.

"Not really. Neera is currently receiving support online, but if somebody dares to criticize Neera, they will face rebuke from others. No one will attempt to frame Neera ever again."

Alistair was a little down since he believed his efforts had been in vain.

"Her justification worked this time. The facts and honor that have been released are impenetrable, and it is nearly difficult to bring her down."

Thora's irritation increased as she continued to listen, and she almost threw her phone across the room.

"In the end, I underestimated her! She clenched her teeth in rage.

All Alistair could do at this time was persuade her.

"Thora, please be patient with me while we look for an opportunity later. We are not in a good position right now."

Kyra's mood wasn't any better at the same time. The official page of the Beauvort Group assisted Neera in clarifying, which irritated Kyra. And other comments enraged her even more.

Neera!

How could dealing with this woman be so challenging? She assumed dealing with Neera would be extremely simple. But surprisingly, she concealed a lot of identities and titles!

This time, instead of failing to defeat her, she provided her with an opportunity to show off! She was very furious!

Her assistance was tense throughout. "Ms. Marks, the media we hired this time is also on the list of lawsuits filed by Beauvort Group. Now they are panicking. We will be in trouble if we can't keep this issue a secret. After all, it was the media that was the most merciless in framing Neera in the first place. What ought we do next?"

When Kyra heard the words, she felt uneasy. She gave off a melancholy face, paused, and then gave the assistant the go-ahead. "Regardless, Beauvort Group cannot be informed of this situation! Seal it with money if you can! Did you hear me? Never let anyone know that I was involved in this matter."

The assistant trembled and realized what was going on.

Kyra turned off her phone when she left.

She also realized she couldn't say anything about Neera from now on. In the current situation, Neera has gained the public's favor and everyone's support. Even if she had a large fan base, she would be chastised if she slandered Neera!

Wrenn and Frederic at Beauvort Manor were sitting in the living room, each with a different expression. They were all speechless after reading so much news and discovering the truth.

Nobody anticipated that Neera would have so many secrets that others were unaware of. Regarding the rumors that defamed her, they now see how ridiculous they once thought they were.

Frederic let out a slight sigh. He then continued, "Now it appears that Neera is outstanding, and Jean made the right decision."

Wrenn did not argue, instead nodding in agreement with what Frederic had said. But her expression was never joyful.

"In any case, the fact that she has given birth to three children is undeniable. I find it difficult to accept this and find it intolerable."

Frederic convinced her by recognizing her concerns.

"Wrenn, you've done everything you can. You've been arguing for a long time. You gave it your all, but what happened? Jean has his own opinions, so is it really your intention to force him to leave against his will? In this case, Jean used the Beauvort Group to help Neera and made it known that he would do whatever it took to keep her safe. He even intends to make their relationship public."

"Listen to my advice. As the youngster gets older, he develops his own opinions. We can no longer nonchalantly control it. Your mother-child bond will only deteriorate if you keep objecting. It is preferable to let it go first. Let's discuss it afterward."

Wrenn was unhappy, but she was unable to express it because she was at a loss for words.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 629

That night, all of the criticism directed at Neera on the Internet vanished.

Osbert stretched out as he exited the research room, a pleasant smile on his face.

"This is the outcome I want to see. It's quite satisfying!" said Osbert.

How can Neera, whom he most admires, put up with such unjustified accusations from others?

"I have to tell them all what a wonderful and perfect person Neera is! They are currently rendered speechless by the evidence."

Neera was amused. She had a feeling it was they who had invited Mr. Hansen, who then stood up to speak on her behalf. She gave them each a sincere thank you as she turned to face them.

"Thank you for inviting Mr. Hansen to speak for me, Osbert, and Luigi. You have been of great assistance to me."

Osbert smiled as he stroked the back of his head.

He then continued, saying, "I knew I couldn't keep anything from Neera. You don't have to thank us. We simply informed Mr. Hansen of your situation. It was Mr. Hansen who provided the most assistance.

"Yes, Mr. Hansen can't see you wronged," Luigi added firmly.

"Don't worry, I will talk to Mr. Hansen and thank him, and as for you two, I also want to thank you," Neera said with a smile. "I know you've been concerned about my situation for the last two days. It means a lot to me that you believe in me and constantly support me."

What she said made Osbert and Luigi feel a little shy.

"Neera, stop being so courteous. Even though we work at the same research center, I consider you to be my sister. It's fine if I do this for you."

Neera's brows relaxed a little. Isabel's call cut her off just as she was about to say something.

"Where are you, Neera? Are you off the job?" asked Isabel.

The corners of Neera's lips curled in response to Isabel's upbeat voice.

"I don't have time to pick up your call if I'm still working," Neera said.

"That's accurate." Isabel nodded wholeheartedly, then exclaimed, "Then come back quickly. I'm at your house now, and the kids have all been picked up. I'll have dinner at your house tonight to celebrate your successful accomplishment in regaining your reputation. Mr. Beauvort is also here."

Neera grinned and said, "Okay."

She used the opportunity to invite Osbert and Luigi.

"Now that we have the opportunity, I just wanted to invite you two to dinner! It just so happened that dinner was ready at my house. Let's go!"

Osbert and Luigi agreed. Auntie Zuniga had an incredibly lavish meal ready when she arrived home.

After washing his hands, Osbert went around the dining room table. He felt hungry because of the delicious meal on the dining table.

"Why are you standing and staring at food?" Neera demanded. "Please sit down for dinner right away."

Everyone soon settled into their seats. Isabel was more animated than usual today since she was so delighted, and she raised a glass to everyone.

"Let's go! Let's toast Neera and enjoy a beverage together!"

Neera lifted a glass in appreciation of everyone and grinned imperturbably.

The atmosphere at this event was wonderful, and it was quite lively. Neera joined them for a couple of drinks and was joyful. By the time it was over, she had started to feel a little tipsy.

Jean was the only one at the table who didn't drink, aside from the triplets. The other three were long ago drunk and unconscious. Jean called Ian and told him to send the drunks back. Auntie Zuniga also took the triplets upstairs for a wash and nap.

The triplets chuckled as they walked away.

"Uncle Jean, Mommy will leave it to you; you must take care of her!" They spoke, then giggled and took off.

Only Neera and Jean remain downstairs. The man observed the kids flee. He could not help but chuckle.

He shook his head and asked softly, "Can you get up?" while looking down at Neera.

Neera responded slowly, merely saying "hmm" in a fog. She rose and stood up as a result, feeling a little lightheaded and shaky in her steps. Fortunately, Jean caught her, preventing her from falling. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera used the opportunity to embrace the man's neck. This was the first time she went out of her way to hug Jean. Jean was a little taken aback.

"What's the matter?" He asked softly while holding her body steady and cradling her in his arms.

Neera shook her head and gave him a drunken expression.

"I just want to say thank you. Although I know you don't want to hear it, I still want to thank you, Jean, for everything you have done for me, for spending so much time gathering proof and providing clarification, and I also want to say that it's wonderful to have you."

Jean's heart softened as he simply listened to her whispering his name. Not to mention, she spoke in such an attractive manner.

Jean grabbed her even tighter, pressing his forehead into her and uttering a low "En."

"If I did so well, are there any rewards? He gently inquired as he looked at her somewhat inebriated face.

Neera gave him a serious look before smiling and saying, "Yes."

She took the initiative to lean over and kiss him after speaking. Unable to resist, Jean soon returned the kiss. The two kissed inseparably under the beautiful crystal lights.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 630

After some time, Neera leaned against Jean's chest, panting.

A layer of moisture welled up in her eyes due to the lack of oxygen, and the edges of her eyes remained tinged with red.

Her appearance, despite the fatigue, exuded a captivating charm, as if she had been through some ordeal.

Upon a single glance, Jean's body tensed up instantly.

He pulled her closer without uttering a word, avoiding eye contact, and asked in a husky voice, "Do you want to rest upstairs?"

Neera's gaze remained hazy and felt dizzy.

She nestled into his embrace and began to act playfully.

"I'm too weak, could you carry me upstairs, please?"

Jean smirked.

This woman was utterly enchanting with her playful gestures.

He was willing to give her his all, so why would he hesitate?

Without a word, he effortlessly lifted her and made his way upstairs.

Later that evening, after tucking Mrs. Beauvort to sleep, he left her side and left to the next room.

As the night grew darker, instead of going back to his room, he turned to Ian and asked, "How is the situation online now?"

Ian had been instructed to monitor the situation closely and promptly responded, "All the defamatory comments about Mrs. Beauvort have been removed. No one is saying anything bad about her anymore."

He paused for a moment before continuing.

Jean glanced at him and urged, "Go on."

"It's like this... Many people are speculating about the relationship between Mrs. Beauvort and the Beauvort family, and why the Beauvort family would go to such lengths to support her," Ian explained.

He then continued, "Do you think we should explain this to the public?"

Jean dismissed the idea without hesitation. "No."

Their relationship was private, and he felt no obligation to explain it to the public.

However, there was another issue that concerned him deeply. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Have you found out who's behind this?" Jean asked, his tone grave.

Ian appeared somewhat uncomfortable as he responded, "I'm sorry, we haven't found it out yet. What we can confirm is that there is indeed someone behind this scheme. We've identified several media outlets that were bribed in our investigation, but we haven't yet pinpointed the mastermind."

Worried about Jean's disappointment and potential criticism of his handling of the situation, Ian quickly added, "However, Larry shared something that might be related to the slandering campaign against Mrs. Beauvort."

Jean, leaning back on the sofa, asked with a hint of curiosity, "What is it?"

Ian proceeded to recount the information Sasha had accidentally overheard.

"Kyra and her assistant didn't mention Mrs. Beauvort's name during their conversation, so it's not definitive whether the slander material is related to her. But later, Larry noticed that the assistant had been in contact with people from Sunshine Media, one of the media outlets on our prosecution list. However... in subsequent investigations, Sunshine Media didn't acknowledge any involvement in this matter."

Jean's expression darkened upon hearing this. "Tell the legal team to pay special attention to Sunshine Media during the upcoming prosecution. About Kyra, have Larry reduce her resources and allocate more to Sasha."

Ian nodded and then provided an update on the Garcia Group.

"Alfonso is set to be released from the detention center as his detention period has expired."

Jean's chiseled face had a cold expression.

"It's the perfect time for him to be released, let him witness the downfall of the Garcia Group with his own eyes!"

Ian responded with an affirmative "yes," feeling a glimmer of satisfaction in his heart.

The Garcia Group had been causing trouble for so long, repeatedly provoking Mrs. Beauvort. Ian couldn't wait to see the Garcia Group face the consequences!

...

That night, upon receiving Ian's orders, Larry immediately called Sasha.

"Sasha, your decision to stand up for Ms. Garcia was a brilliant move! It's a significant step."

Sasha removed her mask, patted some essence onto her face, and asked curiously, "What's going on? What happened?"

"It's good news, great news!" Larry conveyed the orders from Jean and sighed with contentment. "I never expected that our usually reserved CEO would place Ms. Garcia at the top of his priorities and protect her like this."

While Sasha was happy, she didn't become overly excited.

"Mr. McDonagh, to be honest, what I said in front of the media wasn't for show, nor did I calculate the pros and cons. It came from my heart. I've been thinking about it for a long time, and even if there were no reporters around, I would have expressed my support on my platform. It's not for personal gain; it's because I have a genuine admiration for Ms. Garcia. She's a rare pure soul amidst all this chaos, and I genuinely want to be her friend."

Larry agreed after hearing her words.

"You're right. Ms. Garcia is indeed an extraordinary person, and one can't help but admire her. But regardless, don't shy away from the recognition and rewards you deserve, embrace them when the time comes. You've spoken up for her, and it's what you deserve. Your position in the company and even in the industry won't be easily shaken in the future!"

Sasha chuckled, "You're right. It doesn't matter who I am, I have a keen eye for people and a sharp wit. I always had a feeling that Kyra wasn't a good person, and it seems I was right all along!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 631

At night, Neera did not have any dreams and slept soundly.

Upon waking up, Penny had thoughtfully prepared a hangover soup and placed it by Neera's bedside.

Neera picked up the small note next to the bowl, looked at the slightly messy handwriting, and smirked.

She got up to freshen up, then drank the hangover soup before heading downstairs with an empty bowl.

Jean was already there, sharing breakfast with the children.

Harvey was having a conversation with Jean, his usually serious countenance slightly brighter.

Upon closer look, Neera realized the two were discussing the stock market.

Listening for a moment, she couldn't help but shake her head. "Why must you discuss this early in the morning? Can't you give your minds a break after breakfast?"

As she spoke, she affectionately patted Harvey's little head and teased him, "Don't become a workaholic in the future."

Harvey puffed up his small chest with seriousness. "It's alright, Mommy, I enjoy it. When I grow up, I'll help you with your burdens, and Uncle Jean is willing to teach me. I'll cherish this opportunity."

Neera playfully turned to Jean and mockingly said, "He's my son, but now he can't leave you."

Jean was quite pleased with the remark, raising an eyebrow and commenting, "This young lad is talented and self-motivated. He'll become a valuable asset in the future. I love talents like him."

While Neera found his words heartwarming, she also believed it was unnecessary to make premature judgments. "It's hard to say about the future. Harvey is still quite young. I'd like him to enjoy his childhood."

First of all, Harvey's temperament was noticeably calmer than that of his peers, and he seemed to have lost some of his childhood exuberance. Second, she never wanted to put any pressure on her children. As long as they were upright, hardworking, and living happily, she would already be happy, even if they did not have a promising future.

Harvey spoke, "It's really fine, Mommy! I'm willing to learn, and I like it very much."

Neera found herself at a loss for words upon hearing his response.

This young boy seemed to possess the seriousness of an elderly soul trapped in a child's body.

With a helpless sigh, she handed him a peeled egg, realizing there was no convincing him otherwise. "Alright, if you want to learn, then learn from Uncle Jean. Mommy won't stop you."

After a lengthy conversation, Sammy took the opportunity to share his thoughts. "Mommy, in Uncle Jean's company, there's an incredibly talented computer expert! You know, I'm interested in computers, and I want to learn too!"

Previously, he had been secretly exploring this interest without letting her know. Now, he saw an opportunity to confess to her, hoping for her approval.

Neera glanced at her two little ones, feeling a sudden surge of warmth, and turned to Penny.

Penny promptly chimed in, "Mommy, I'm learning to dance, and I won't take on anything else for now. However, my greatest dream is to become a doctor as skilled as you, Mommy. I read medical books on my own every day, and I believe it will come true someday!"

Looking at the determination in Penny's bright eyes, Neera couldn't resist pinching her little face affectionately. "Alright, Mommy believes in you too. If there's ever anything you don't understand, you can always ask Mommy for help."

"Okay!"

After a delightful breakfast, Neera headed to her company. Over the past two days, the company faced a myriad of challenges stemming from the rumors. In the morning, a meeting lasting over an hour was dedicated to addressing these issues.

Fortunately, the current state of the company was much better than Neera had expected.

Additionally, her recent challenges had started to turn around, and many problems were solved.

Upon returning to her office, Katy briefed her on the day's schedule. At the same time, Levi arrived and handed her a document.

"Neera, this is the financial statement for this month. Please review it."

Neera examined the document and noticed a significant increase in profits, surpassing the figures from when she was abroad.

"It's looking promising," she remarked with satisfaction.

Closing the document, she turned to Levi and said, "I'll need your assistance with the company's ongoing matters."

Levi nodded and replied, "Of course, but a few days ago, your situation was so dire that I couldn't do much..." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Neera cast a meaningful glance at him and responded, "Some matters are challenging to handle, and, normally, you couldn't help."

There was an undertone of formality and distance in her words, and Levi couldn't help but notice it. His heart felt heavy, and he was plagued by a sense of melancholy. After some hesitation, he mustered the courage to ask something that had been bothering him.

"I noticed that Beauvort Group came forward to clarify your situation. What is your relationship with Mr. Beauvort?"

Neera maintained her composure, meeting his gaze directly. "Well, even though it hasn't been made public, Jean and I are dating."

Her admission left Levi momentarily stunned as if something had slipped away from the depths of his heart. He realized he could never grasp it, and it had never belonged to him.

In the end, he buried the disappointment he felt deep within and forced out words he didn't want to say.

"I see... In that case, congratulations."

Neera accepted his words calmly. "Thank you. I still have some matters to attend to here, so you can carry on with your tasks."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 632

After Levi had left, Katy couldn't resist commenting, "Levi, even after all this time, his feelings for you haven't changed. I could sense it when we were abroad. But you just turned him down so directly. It's quite... You didn't leave any room for him."

Neera smiled and didn't see anything wrong with her actions. "I have no interest in having an affair, and it's best for both me and him if I make it clear and reject someone who has feelings for me. Furthermore, it's also the most loyal thing I can do for the person I love."

Katy chuckled, saying, "I never thought I'd be hearing you say that you're doing it for the person you love. It seems that Mr. Beauvort has your heart."

Neera blushed slightly at the teasing but didn't deny it, nodding openly. "I'll treat him how he treats me."

Jean had a special place for Neera in his heart, and the feeling was mutual.

"1

Katy put on a mocking frown. "Ms. Garcia, who used to have no interest in romantic love, now seems quite smitten when it comes to falling in love. You're so protective over your lover!"

Despite her joking tone, Katy genuinely felt happy for Neera and understood the purity of her feelings.

After a few moments of light-hearted conversation, they shifted to more serious matters.

"Alfonso was released today," Katy informed Neera.

Neera's expression remained stoic as she nodded.

Katy continued, "The situation at Garcia Group is dire. Almost all their partners have terminated their contracts, and ongoing projects have been completely halted for the past two days. Not only have they suffered substantial losses, but many partners are also pursuing breach of contract claims. The bank is pressuring them to repay debts. If this continues, they would go bankrupt."

Neera smiled wryly, and her delicate eyebrows quirked with sarcasm.

"Garcia Group brought this upon themselves. Self-destruction was only a matter of time. Check to see if there are any valuable projects left that can be taken away without mercy."

Katie nodded. "Alright."

...

Alfonso had spent half a month in detention, and it had taken a toll on his appearance. He came out of the police station with a disheveled, unshaven beard, gazing at the sunlight outside as if he had been reborn.

However, this newfound freedom was but a fleeting illusion.

Little did he know that the world of Garcia Group had undergone a seismic shift...

Susan arrived to pick him up.

As he got into the car, Alfonso couldn't contain his curiosity and concern about the state of the company. "How is it? Has everything been going smoothly at the company these days? Are there any problems?"

Susan's heart raced, and she avoided his gaze, responding with a hesitant "Hm."

Alfonso glanced at her, dissatisfied with her vague response. "You're beating around the bush. Can't you just explain it to me?"

After buckling his seatbelt, he instructed, "Never mind, I'll see for myself. Let's not go home first, take me to the company."

Having been in the dark about the company for so many days, he couldn't shake off his unease.

Susan felt a surge of guilt and pretended to persuade him. "You've just been released. After spending so long in there, you should go home, take a shower, and rest properly. Don't worry about the company. We can discuss it later."

"I don't need rest," Alfonso retorted with a furrowed brow, sensing that something was amiss. "Why haven't my parents and Roxanne come to pick me up?"

Susan's palms grew sweaty and dodged the main issue. "They're at the hospital."

Alfonso was taken aback upon hearing this news. "What happened? Are they sick?"

"It's not..." Susan began but faltered, her voice trembling. "It's Roze. She suffered a heart attack a few days ago. Mom hasn't been feeling well because of this..."

Alfonso did not expect this and immediately grew anxious. "Why didn't you tell me sooner? Why should I go home and rest then? Let's go to the hospital right away!"

Susan swiftly stepped on the accelerator, increasing the car's speed as they rushed to the hospital.

Upon arrival, the two of them hurriedly entered the hospital and made their way to the ward. Along the way, Alfonso noticed many people staring at them, their eyes feeling like daggers on his back. Some even pointed and whispered with disdainful expressions.

Alfonso furrowed his brow and turned to Susan. "Why are these people staring at us? Has something happened that you haven't told me?" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Susan, feeling increasingly guilty, responded hesitantly, "No, please don't think about it. There's something wrong with those people..."

Alfonso grew more suspicious, sensing that something was amiss.

As they walked, they finally reached the ward. Marnie and Roxanne were sharing the same room, separated by a curtain.

Upon entering, Alfonso first asked about Roxanne's condition with concern. However, Roxanne sounded distressed as she said, "Dad, you're finally back. If you hadn't returned, our family would have been ruined."

Alfonso was puzzled. "What do you mean?"

But just as he started to feel uneasy, the curtain was pulled aside, and Gladeon cast a glance at Susan. He commented, "It seems she doesn't dare to tell you. You can find out online for yourself."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 633

Alfonso became uneasy when he heard that. He gulped and immediately took out his phone.

When he understood the whole story, he became gloomy and trembled uncontrollably.

Those curses and contempt were like sharp knives that slashed the reputation of the Garcia Group to pieces! Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

After a long while, he glared at Susan fiercely.

Then, he slapped Susan's face hard. "Idiot! What stupid things have you done!"

Susan was stunned, and her face swelled. There was buzzing in her ears. She covered her face, and tears came out.

She knew she had caused a catastrophe, so she did not dare to complain and knelt on the ground.

"Alfonso, I can't help it! At that time, Roze was about to die, but Neera refused to treat Roze! Neera is Nancy! She has high medical skills! I planned to use public opinion to force her to treat Roze! You were not there at the time. What could I do?"

She hugged Alfonso's leg while crying.

"But I didn't say that you got detained! You have to believe me! I didn't know who exposed it! If I had known the situation would become like this, I wouldn't have done it!"

Alfonso was so angry that he kicked Susan away and cursed her, "Who allowed you to use Garcia Group's official account to spread rumors? You stupid woman!"

Susan whimpered and argued, "I have no choice! Beauvort Group paid almost all the media. No one dared to publish news for us. Zachary gave me the idea to use Garcia Group's official page to make trouble for Neera..."

The mention of Zachary made Alfonso even more furious.

"Don't mention Zachary! Do you think he was trying to help you? He was using you! When things get worse, he immediately cuts ties with us! The only one who is in trouble is the Garcia Group! I was so blind and stupid to marry a brainless idiot like you!"

Susan regretted it too much, so she could only keep crying.

Marnie was woken up and sat up. "Alfonso, stop making trouble!"

Roxanne also got angry. "Dad, why are you scolding Mom? She didn't mean to cause Garcia Group trouble! The most urgent thing is to deal with this matter quickly. Moreover, the instigator is that b*tch Neera! You should scold her to seek justice for us!"

"Roze is right!" Marnie agreed. "Alfonso, handle the company's affairs first! We can only rely on you now!"

Alfonso looked angry. He glared at Susan fiercely and headed straight to the company.

However, when he arrived at the company, he found the door was closed. The entrance was a mess with rotten vegetables and eggs everywhere.

It made Alfonso furious. He called his assistant and asked, "What's going on? Why is the company's door closed? Why is the door in such a mess?"

The assistant then knew Alfonso had left the detention center and hurried over. "Mr. Alfonso, most of the employees and senior management have submitted their resignations. The company's projects have gotten suspended."

The assistant explained the current situation, "Also, several partners have come to ask for compensation, and people with bank loans have been calling for debts, but the company has no funds to pay back the debts. It needs a lot of money to fill the deficit..."

Alfonso never expected to face sky-high bills and debts when he came out! He was so anxious that he almost fainted.

The assistant quickly supported Alfonso. "Mr. Alfonso, you must hold on. If you fall, the Garcia Group can't hold on!"

Speaking of that, the assistant also planned to say that he wanted to resign. But the shareholders broke in at this time.

As soon as they came, they asked Alfonso for compensation.

"It's all your fault to cause the company in this state! Because of you, we've lost so much! You must compensate us no matter what! Or this matter will never end!"

Alfonso was sweating profusely and could only try to appease the shareholders, "Please calm down. I know it's my fault, but it's not the end yet..."

"Not the end yet? Are you kidding us?"

The shareholders disagreed with Alfonso's words and were so angry that they wanted to cut Alfonso into pieces.

"Alfonso, you're so useless! The Garcia Group has been worsening under your leadership all these years! How dare you say that?"

"The Garcia Group is dying! You waste our trust in you!"

"The Garcia family is trash! You ruin the Garcia Group!"

They kept cursing Alfonso, and Alfonso could barely refute them. But what could he do? Up to now, he could only go all out.

"Yes, you all are right! But now we should work together. Believe me! We can overcome the difficulties. You all can blame me any time. Let's discuss countermeasures first!" Alfonso tried to persuade them.

However, the shareholders no longer trusted Alfonso and were clamoring for him to compensate them.

A shareholder shouted, "If you don't come up with the money today, I'll go to your house and empty all the valuables!"

The others immediately echoed that shareholder.

Of course, Alfonso could not get the money for them. As a result, shareholders rushed to the Garcia Manor. Alfonso could not stop them at all.

That afternoon, the valuables in Garcia Manor got wiped out!

In the chaos, someone pushed Alfonso to the ground and caused him to bleed. He had to go to the hospital alone to get bandaged embarrassedly.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 634

This incident got caught by a reporter who was overlooking the Garcia Manor.

Soon, it spread on the internet and attracted a lot of attention.

"It's so satisfying! The Garcia family is heartless and ungrateful. They deserve it!"

"Am I being vicious? Thinking about what they did to Ms. Garcia, I don't think they have enough consequences!"

"This is their retribution!"

"Garcia Group is coming to an end soon, and so is the Garcia family! I look forward to it!"

Some people applauded, and some passionately bad-mouthed.

During dinner, Neera saw the news.

"Mrs. Beauvort, the Garcia family is desperate now. Will they come to ask you to let them go? Or ask you for help to pay the money?"

With the Garcia family's level of shamelessness, Ian always felt that such a thing might happen.

Neera put down her phone expressionlessly. "I don't know either, but the Garcia family has never had a bottom line, so they might come to beg me."

Jean's eyes narrowed slightly. "Beg you to let them go? How dare they even think about it?"

Neera showed a hint of sarcasm. "You should never underestimate how shameless they are."

Jean felt annoyed when he mentioned the Garcia family, so he reminded her, "If they come looking for you, you don't need to pay attention to them. You have long since had nothing to do with the Garcia family. Even if you don't save them, they have no right to say anything. They're not on the same level as you. It's best to ignore them."

Neera nodded. She did not want to continue on this topic anymore.

The triplets coaxed her, "Mommy, forget the Garcia family! Let's have a good meal!"

Neera smiled. Sammy talked the most. Since no outsiders were around, he did not need to follow the etiquette. He kept talking while eating.

He talked about interesting things about school for a while, then asked. "Mommy, when will your reagent be developed? You've been busy for so long, and many bad things have happened. Why don't we find some time to go out and relax together?"

Before Neera could react, Penny suddenly said, "Mommy, I have something important to do! My dance teacher will arrange for us to perform at the end of this month. Can you and Uncle Jean go and watch it? It's my first performance!"

Neera and Jean naturally would not refuse Penny.

"Okay, when will it be? Where will it be performed? Has it been decided yet?"

Penny nodded. "It's the last day of this month. I'll perform at the Grand Theater! I'm the lead dancer! "

Her eyes were bright, and she was a little proud.

Neera smiled in surprise. "Wow, you're so awesome!" Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Penny smiled. "Of course! My teacher always praises me for my quick learning and my talent. I can learn many moves in one go!"

Neera felt proud of Penny. "My baby is the best! We'll go to watch your performance!"

Harvey and Sammy also joined in support. "We also want to watch your performance! We'll cheer you on!"

Everyone pampered Penny and made her extremely happy.

...

Grace Hospital.

Unlike Neera's family's happiness, the Garcia family in the ward looked gloomy, and the atmosphere was cold.

Alfonso had gauze on his head. He reviewed the situation of the Garcia Group, including the evidence released by the Beauvort Group.

The evidence included the financial details of ANXIN Group when Adriana established it. It was evident that Adriana helped Neera sort it out!

After realizing that, Alfonso was filled with anger again and was so angry that he slammed the bed.

"We had wasted our time to raise Adriana! She's so ungrateful! She turned against us to help Neera and put us in this situation!"

Marnie was also pissed off and wanted to rush abroad to teach her evil daughter a lesson. But now she could not do it, so she had nowhere to vent her anger.

"Alfonso, is the company hopeless?" Seeing Alfonso's unhappy expression, Marnie felt uneasy.

Alfonso was furious and paced back and forth in the ward.

"If we want to turn the tide, we can only ask Adriana to inject funds into Garcia Group. Otherwise, Garcia Group won't only go bankrupt but will also get saddled with huge debts. By then, the court will seize all our real estate. We'll lose money and house and become beggars!"

Although the Garcia family was not a first-class famous family, they were still wealthy. They got used to living a good life. How could they accept a life of poverty?

Susan cried and begged Gladeon and Marnie, "Dad, Mom, please think of a way to ask Adriana's help! We haven't found the heart source for Roze. If she doesn't have an operation in time, she can't survive! It's a huge expense! How can we survive if the Garcia Group collapses at this critical moment?"

Unexpectedly, as soon as she finished speaking, Gladeon got up abruptly and said sharply without thinking, "Don't disturb Adriana anymore!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 635

As soon as Gladeon said that, everyone was stunned. Marnie also looked in disbelief.

"What are you talking about? What do you mean by disturbing?"

Gladeon glanced at Susan coldly, and his tone was unpleasant.

"Haven't you all gone far enough? In the past and now, you did nothing good for Adriana. Don't you feel embarrassed to ask her for help? If you were willing to listen to my advice, restrain yourself, and not use ruthless means, things would never have come to this point! I'll make it clear today. Alfonso, I won't force Adriana in this matter. If you don't have another way, declare bankruptcy early! Before Adriana left, she gave us a pension. You can use that to pay the debts. After that, you can find a new job and live a stable life. You have no right to ask Adriana to do anything for you!"

When Susan heard that, her expression immediately changed. "Are you going to abandon us? That's why you start to speak for your rich daughter!"

She sneered and had no respect for Gladeon. "Do you think you can rely on Adriana to enjoy the rest of your life? Don't forget how Adriana has treated you these years! You treat her as a daughter, but she never treats you as a father! She has only given you a small favor. But you turn your back on us and disown us!"

Gladeon immediately turned angry and scolded, "What nonsense are you talking about!"

Roxanne also joined Susan in condemning Gladeon, "Mom is right! Grandpa, you helped Neera to speak up several times before. Did you think we couldn't see it? You think she's better than us and want to take advantage of her, right? Now that we're useless, you want to kick us away!"

She spoke eccentrically and became increasingly unruly. "If so, then you can leave now! We won't keep you either! Grandma, if you have the same idea as Grandpa, you should leave and stay away from us. If it's too late, maybe Neera won't care about you!"

Marnie was stunned for a few seconds before reacting. "Roze, what are you talking about? How could I think that?"

Marnie was a little anxious and yelled at Gladeon anxiously, "What are you doing? We're in such a mess. Don't make trouble again! Do you have to make us unhappy? Stop talking about useless things! We should overcome the difficulties together!"

Gladeon felt they were getting more unreasonable. "Overcome the difficulties? Do you mean asking for money from your daughter? Don't think about it! Adriana and Alfonso are both managing a company. Adriana can start from scratch and grow the company, but Alfonso can't!"

Upon saying that, he turned to stare at Alfonso with disappointment.

"Even if it's not at its peak, the Garcia Group is still developing. But after only a few years of persistence, the company began to decline, and now it has fallen to the bottom! Since you're not good at running a company, don't struggle to death! Count assets as soon as possible and declare bankruptcy!"

Those words were too sharp and pierced Alfonso's heart severely.

He flew into a rage and made excuses for himself. "What does this have to do with my business? It's all because of the sluggish market in the past few years and Neera's troubles that Garcia Group has reached where it is today! If Neera hadn't set up a trap and played dirty tricks, Garcia Group wouldn't have failed miserably!"

Alfonso kept saying it was Neera's fault.

Gladeon was disappointed when he heard that and finally understood that the Garcia family was hopeless.

It was useless no matter what Gladeon said.

He looked at his family and suddenly felt unfamiliar. For a moment, he felt sad and tremblingly took a card and put it on the table.

"This card contains all the pension money Adriana gave us. I left it to you. Whether you want to pay off the debt or perform surgery on Roxanne, it's up to you. From now on, you can do whatever you want. I won't care about your matters anymore."

After saying that, he did not look at them again and walked away sadly. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Marnie thought Gladeon was angry and ignored him. "Leave him alone! He doesn't understand the situation! He'll come back later after he calms down."

She hurriedly put the card away and told Alfonso, "Call Adriana now! Tell her I'm seriously ill. She must help!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 636

Alfonso quickly called Adriana, but Adriana's assistant answered, "Hello, I'm Ms. Adriana's assistant. What's the matter?"

Alfonso frowned and ordered, "Ask Adriana to answer the phone! Just say her brother is looking for her!"

The assistant was indifferent. "Sorry, Ms. Adriana ordered that from now on, she won't answer any calls from the Garcia family. Either you tell me, or don't say it."

Alfonso almost died of anger when he heard that. Adriana! You're so cruel!

After gritting his teeth, he could only say his purpose, "Tell her that because of the incident, her mom is now ill and living in the ICU. The doctor has issued several critical illness notices. If she's still filial, she should help Garcia Group! Or her mom will be pissed off to death!" Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He deliberately made Marnie's situation particularly serious to force Adriana to take action.

After listening, the assistant only replied indifferently, "Got it." Then, she hung up the phone.

Alfonso listened to the busy signal on his phone and almost smashed it.

...

Overseas, the assistant did not add any exaggeration or avoidance and reported the situation to Adriana truthfully.

Adriana was calm after hearing that. She only called Neera and told Neera about it.

"Aunt Adriana, do you believe it?" Neera asked bluntly.

Adriana pinched her eyebrows and said, "I don't know. Your grandma may be suddenly ill, but it may not be that exaggerated."

Neera scoffed and did not believe Alfonso's words at all. She asked, "Then what are you going to do?"

Adriana had already figured it out. "I'm calling you because I want you to do something for me."

"Okay."

"Help me hire a nursing worker to take care of my mom. If she's ill, let the nursing worker take care of her. I'll pay for the nursing and medical expenses. If her illness is fake, let the nursing worker stay and care for my parents' daily life. It's the last filial piety I can do in my life."

Neera could hear that Adriana was determined not to associate with the Garcia family.

She agreed, hung up the phone, and left the matter to Katy.

"When the nursing worker goes to the hospital, you go with her..."

Neera gave some instructions, and Katy agreed. "I got it. Don't worry. I'll bring all your words to the Garcia family tomorrow."

...

The next day, Katy took the nursing worker to the hospital. When she entered the ward, she revealed her identity and purpose.

"I'm Ms. Neera's assistant. I'm here on behalf of Ms. Neera and Ms. Adriana. Mrs. Garcia is ill, so Ms. Adriana arranged a nursing worker for Mrs. Garcia to show her filial piety. She can provide the most professional care."

Marnie was lying on the bed pretending to be ill. When she heard that, she sat up. "What do you mean? Does Adriana only send me a nursing worker? Nothing else?"

Katy looked at Marnie contemptuously and behaved straightforwardly.

"What else could it mean? Ms. Adriana doesn't want to be associated with a group of vampires. But Ms. Adriana is kind, so she arranged for someone to come and take care of her parents. Ms. Adriana said if Mr. Garcia and Mrs. Garcia are unwell, she can pay for medical expenses, nursing expenses, and the nursing worker's salary. If there's no health problem, the nursing worker will stay here and care for your daily life. She won't care about anything else."

As Katy said that, she smiled sarcastically. "But I see you're quite energetic. All the critical illness notices are lies to Ms. Adriana, right? It's unlucky for Ms. Adriana to have elders like you who always lie."

Marnie suddenly became furious and cursed, "Shut up! It's not your turn to talk nonsense here! Adriana is so rebellious! How dare she treat me like this! What filial piety? I don't need a nursing worker! Go away! Let Adriana come to see me!"

Katy sneered again. "It seems that you haven't figured out the situation yet. You all are completely different from Ms. Neera and Ms. Adriana! They'll be unattainable to you from now on. They're no longer people you can see whenever you want!"

After saying these words, Katy did not want to waste more time. "I've already told you their words. You can decide whether you want to accept Ms. Adriana's kindness."

After saying that, she turned to look at the nursing worker and gave her orders steadily. "Remember, you only have to care for the two elderly's daily lives. You don't need to do other things. If they dare to insult and abuse you, you don't have to hold it back. Just fight back. We'll help you!"

Katy's words were domineering. The nursing worker had been working for so long and had never seen such a powerful employer.

The nursing worker nodded. After doing things, Katy turned and left without looking at the Garcia family.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 637

Seeing that, the Garcia family trembled with anger.

Marnie cursed, "How dare Adriana do this to me! She's so rebellious!" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

She was pissed off and looked at the nursing worker fiercely.

"Did Neera instigate it? She must have stopped Adriana from helping the Garcia family! She's so vicious!"

The nursing worker frowned.

She knew everything online. When she saw the Garcia family, she finally realized how disgusting this family was!

Ms. Neera is good, but she's unlucky to have this family.

"Ms. Adriana entrusted me to take care of you. Don't slander Ms. Neera. Also, if Ms. Adriana is rebellious, she won't let me come. You're already lucky."

She refuted Marnie, "You look pretty good and still have the energy to shout. Since you're nothing wrong, I don't need to guard you. I'll prepare lunch and bring it to you later."

After finishing speaking, she turned around and left. Urgh, they're so disgusting!

"You! Come back!" Marnie was so angry that she almost lost her breath and lay on the bedside.

Susan felt panicked, and her body was cold with fear. "Alfonso, what should we do? Adriana is determined to break up with us! Is there anyone else who can help us?"

With the company's current situation, they would be over if no one helped them!

Alfonso's expression was livid. "You should ask who else is willing to help! Everyone is eager to stay away from Garcia Group. Even the Fain family has broken up with us! Help us? It's already good if they don't make trouble!"

Susan staggered. "How could this happen..."

After Katy returned, she reported the situation at the hospital to Neera. "Mrs. Garcia is pretending! She had nothing wrong! It's purely to deceive Ms. Adriana! How could she be so shameless?"

Neera was not surprised. She had seen through the Garcia family's tricks a long time ago. "That's normal. It's better this way. Aunt Adriana doesn't have to feel guilty, and we don't have to worry about it."

She did not care if the Garcia family was dead or alive. She only did not want Adriana to get upset.

The Beauvort Group sued all those who participated in insulting Neera. No matter the media or individuals, no one was spared!

With such a big move, the commenters were shocked.

"The Beauvort Group is amazing! Mr. Beauvort did what he said. He's powerful! I admire him!"

"As an outsider, I was so happy! I was so lucky to stand on the right side!"

"It's good to sue them! The internet isn't a place outside the law! Don't try to speak irresponsibly!"

"At the beginning, the Garcia Group spread rumors without evidence. I wondered why so many people believed it. Are they out of their minds? They deserve to get punished!"

Amidst the applause, someone noticed gossip.

"I've analyzed it rationally. It's the first time I've seen Beauvort Group support a person so strongly. The relationship between Mr. Beauvort and Ms. Garcia should be unusual, right?"

"It must be unusual! Do you forget the last Star Entertainment Media's annual gala? Mr. Beauvort announced that he has a girlfriend. Ms. Garcia was there, and they had a photo together! It's reasonable to speculate that his girlfriend is Ms. Garcia! "

Everyone unanimously recognized the speculation. Then, the commenters began to discuss Jean and Neera happily.

"My goddess should match the best man! I declare that I agree to this marriage!"

"Mr. Beauvort is super good! Anyone who dares to bully his girlfriend will get sent to court!"

"I love it! I repeatedly look at the hazy photos of the annual gala. I feel addicted!"

"They're a good match!"

"Mr. Beauvort, Ms. Garcia, I'll help you move the Civil Affairs Bureau here!"

The triplets huddled together to read the comments after dinner. They could not stop giggling after reading it.

Seeing it, Neera asked curiously, "Why are you three so happy? What are you looking at?"

Sammy turned over and said, "Mommy, the commenters said you and Uncle Jean are a perfect match!"

Neera took a few glances and could not help but look toward Jean. "Have you bought trending searches?"

Jean raised his head from the tablet and raised his eyebrows slightly. "Do I need to buy trending searches? The commenters are clever. They can see the truth."

In the following days, the tragedy for the Garcia family continued. Garcia Group's debt was much bigger than imagined.

Alfonso sold everything he could in the house to make up for the loophole. As a last resort, he auctioned some valuable projects and tried to find someone to buy Garcia Group, but no one took over.

The bank also issued an ultimatum to order the Garcia Group to pay all the debts within half a month, or the court would seize all their properties!

On the internet, the commenters commented excitedly.

"It's satisfying! The Garcia Group finally pays for its evil!"

"They deserve it! They should go bankrupt!"

"The Garcia family should be trampled to death!"

Some people hated Susan and Roxanne and wished to see their end sooner.

"Is Roxanne Garcia dead?"

"An ugly and bad woman doesn't need a heart! She should go to hell!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 638

Roxanne fainted several times when she saw those comments and almost had another heart attack. Susan could do nothing and could only cry all day long.

Marnie made several calls to Adriana but only got indifferent and perfunctory from her assistant.

As for Alfonso, he struggled to find help for the company but got rejected many times. The entire Garcia family was in dire straits.

Alfonso knew that if the situation continued, Garcia Group would declare bankruptcy within half a month. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He gritted his teeth and went to Startales. He tried to meet Neera and ask her to show mercy, but he only met Levi.

"You're the senior staff of the company, right?"

Although Alfonso did not know Levi, Alfonso guessed from Levi's attire and demeanor that Levi must be someone who worked in a high position in the company.

Levi recognized Alfonso, and his expression turned cold. "What are you here for?"

Alfonso rubbed his hands in embarrassment. He lowered his posture for the first time.

"Can you please help me to tell Neera to see me once? Just one time! Please..."

All of a sudden, Levi guessed Alfonso's purpose.

Levi asked sarcastically, "Are you here to beg Neera to lend Garcia Group a hand?"

Alfonso felt embarrassed and forced himself to smile.

"She's my daughter. She also owns the Garcia Group. She can't sit idly by..."

Before Alfonso finished speaking, Levi stopped him. "Wait, don't talk nonsense. Neera is the president of Startales with a distinguished status. She has nothing to do with trash like you."

Levi was too lazy to speak with Alfonso, so he left after speaking.

Alfonso hastily grabbed Levi and humbled to the extreme.

"Even if she doesn't want to help me, she can't ignore her grandpa! Her grandpa is missing now! She must help!"

Levi paused and turned to look at Alfonso gloomily.

Alfonso retracted his hand nervously. "We're in a mess right now. Her grandpa disappeared a few days ago. I can't get in touch with him. I have no other way..."

After Gladeon expressed his stance at the hospital that day, he disappeared.

Later, the Garcia family realized something was wrong and went to look for Gladeon, but they could not find him. They also found no one in their former hometown in the countryside.

Levi did not quite believe it. "Are you playing tricks again?"

Alfonso was sweating profusely. "It's true! I'm not lying. Please convey this to Neera! Ask her to help find her grandpa..."

Neera was having dinner when she received Levi's message.

Levi thought about it and still conveyed Alfonso's message to Neera.

Seeing that Neera's expression was wrong, Jean took the phone. After reading it, he looked a little unhappy. "How dare the Garcia family still bother you?"

Neera replied, "I haven't met them, but it's the first time I've seen someone who can be that shameless."

Jean snorted coldly. "After pretending to be ill, they even use your grandpa's disappearance as an excuse. Their only purpose is to see you."

Neera did not believe it either and did not want to mention it again. "We don't need to affect our mood for them."

She did not think Gladeon's disappearance was real. The Garcia family never told the truth.

"Let's eat. Don't talk about that anymore."

She put the matter behind her and turned to Penny. "It'll be your performance in two days. How are you preparing?"

Penny bulged her cheeks while eating. She looked like a cute little squirrel.

She chewed, swallowed, wiped her mouth, and smiled. "I'm already ready! Mommy, Uncle Jean, just wait to see my show!"

Neera smiled softly. "Okay, I'll wait and see."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 639

Two days later, it was time for Penny to perform.

Early in the morning, the teacher picked up Penny to the theater first and gathered with other children participating in the performance to put on makeup together.

Neera and the others could go there before the performance. Seeing that it was almost time, they set off.

Penny got them a front-row seat. After being seated, there were many parents around. The performance had not yet started, and the scene was lively.

"Is this your first time participating in this kind of event? How do you feel?" Neera asked Jean with a smile.

Jean sat leisurely in the seat. His posture was relaxed.

"It's amazing. I feel good," Jean answered, "I never thought I would participate in this kind of parent-child activity before."

Neera felt amused but also felt a little warm.

Outsiders said Jean was arrogant and cold-hearted and would never waste time on anyone. But now, he left his work and was willing to spend time here with her and her children.

They talked for a while, and the show was about to begin.

The lights in the theater gradually dimmed and left only the stage on. The surrounding voices gradually stopped and became quiet. Soon, the music sounded, and the performance curtains slowly opened.

A group of children appeared on the stage wearing various styles of dance costumes. Those who could perform in this place were formal national standard dancers, and the level must be above professional. Although those children were still young, their moves were of first-class standards.

"When will Penny's show start?" Sammy watched for a while but could not find Penny.

Neera whispered, "Penny's show is the finale. Be patient and watch other people's performances."

Sammy nodded and waited obediently.

Soon, performances followed one another. More than an hour later, it was Penny's turn. She would perform the ballet called Swan Lake.

Penny did not come on stage right away. As the lead dancer, she was the central figure. Her teacher deliberately arranged for her to appear last.

The slow prologue gradually turned cheerful, and Penny finally came out amidst the expectations of several people.

Penny was wearing a white swan skirt, which looked cute and soft. Her pretty face with delicate light makeup shone brightly under the spotlight.

She quickly jumped to the middle position and danced with her friends like a little swan leading the team.

Her rhythm was good, and her movements were beautiful and smooth. She perfectly set off the artistic conception.

After the performance, there was thunderous applause. Many people discussed the show in low voices. Some praised their children, and many complimented Penny.

"The little girl in the middle dances so well!"

"Yes! She looks like a white swan. Her dance is alive!"

"She's talented! If she's well-trained, she'll become a dance master!"

Neera smiled upon hearing the comments toward Penny and felt proud. Even Jean felt a sense of pride.

After a while, several people went to pick up Penny backstage. Harvey and Sammy were wearing small suits and holding flowers. They looked like two young gentlemen. When they saw Penny, they gave her flowers and stroked her head lovingly.

"Penny, congratulations on your success!"

"Penny, you were so dazzling on the stage! Everyone was praising you! I wished to tell them you were my sister!"

Sammy was excited while grabbing Penny and talking non-stop with pride. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

At this time, Penny's teacher came over and greeted Neera with a smile, "Ms. Garcia, your daughter did very well today. Many teachers are praising her."

Neera responded humbly, "Thank you. You taught Penny well."

"You're welcome. Penny has the talent. She dances so well!"

After talking for a while, the teacher got into the main topic. "By the way, I want to tell you about a matter."

"What's the matter?"

"A foreign teacher wants to take Penny as her disciple. She watched Penny's performance and thought that Penny was very talented. Her name is Amanda, a well-known ballet dancer in the world. She wants to train Penny. It's a good chance. After all, Ms. Amanda has only two disciples in this world."

Neera had heard about Amanda. Amanda was an almost god-like existence in the dance world!

Neera could not help being a little surprised. She was happy that Penny got favored by such a big shot. But she pondered for a while and did not reply right away.

"Please help me to express my gratitude to Ms. Amanda. Thank you for favoring Penny. But I want to go back and discuss it with Penny."

Of course, the teacher had no objection. "I understand. It's not a trivial matter. I'll tell Ms. Amanda and ask her to wait. Please reply as soon as possible."

Neera smiled. "Okay, thank you."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 640

After talking to the teacher, Neera left with Penny. Jean booked a restaurant in advance to celebrate and even prepared a gift for Penny.

"Wow! It's so beautiful!" Penny opened the exquisite gift box and smiled in surprise when she saw what was inside. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

It was a delicate music box with a dancing little girl in a beautiful dress, just like Penny. The music was the Swan Lake that Penny performed today.

Penny loved such a thoughtful gift very much. She was overjoyed and kissed Jean's cheek. "Thank you, Uncle Jean! I like it!"

Jean smiled gently.

Neera served them food and asked Penny's wishes, "Ms. Amanda wants to take you as her disciple. You can learn a lot from her guidance. Are you willing to accept it?"

Penny was very assertive and made up her mind right away.

"Ms. Amanda is super good. I would like her to teach me, but I heard Ms. Amanda lives abroad all year round and rarely returns to Kingsview. If I want to take her as my teacher, I may have to go abroad with her. Forget it. I don't want to get separated from you all."

Neera respected Penny's decision. "Well, let's see what your teacher will say later."

After dinner, they went home. Zuniga heard the noise and hurried out. "Ms. Neera, you came back just in time! I was about to call you!"

Neera wondered. "What happened? Why are you so panicked?"

Zuniga pointed to the villa. "The police wanted to see you!"

"Police?" Neera and Jean looked at each other confusingly.

"Let's go in and take a look," Jean reacted first and said calmly.

Neera nodded and walked in. The triplets were taken upstairs by Zuniga to wash up, and Jean stayed with Neera.

The police showed their work ID and asked, "Are you Ms. Neera?"

Neera nodded. "Yes, I am. What's the matter?"

The police said politely, "We came to you to ask about the situation. Gladeon Garcia has lost contact. We would like to ask you if you have any news about him."

Neera could not help but be surprised after hearing that. It turned out that what Alfonso said was true.

She shook her head and said, "I don't know. I have no contact with Mr. Garcia."

She pursed her lips slightly and asked, "When did he disappear?"

"After he left Grace Hospital a few days ago, he has not returned home. The Garcia family worries that Mr. Garcia may commit suicide or encounter an accident."

Neera thought about it and could not figure out where Gladeon could go. "Sorry, I can't provide any useful information."

The police had no choice but to give up. "Okay, if Mr. Garcia contacts you or you have any news, please let us know as soon as possible. Thank you for your cooperation."

After understanding the situation and giving a few instructions, the police left. Neera frowned and did not move for a long time.

Jean touched her head and asked warmly, "What are your plans?"

Neera took a deep breath. "I have no plans at the moment. The police are already looking for him. Let's wait for now. Since he left himself, he shouldn't commit suicide."

Jean nodded. "Then don't worry about this matter. Just wash up and rest early."

Neera did not want him to worry, so she suppressed her worries. "Well, you too. Don't stay up late. Go to bed early."

Jean smiled. "I'll follow the doctor's orders."

As he spoke, he seemed to be thinking of something and suddenly leaned over to whisper, "I'll listen to my wife."

Neera blushed and could not help but glare at him. Her glance did not have the slightest deterrent effect on Jean but instead had a faintly seductive feeling.

He felt a little excited and kissed gently on her lips.

His sexy voice sounded again, "Good night." Then, he straightened up and walked away contentedly.

Neera touched her lips in a daze. This guy is getting used to flirting!

...

After Jean returned, his tenderness faded, and he called Ian, "Go find out where Gladeon Garcia is."

Ian was a little surprised. "Do you want to take care of this matter?"

He thought Jean would not care about the Garcia family's life or death.

Jean said indifferently, "Although Adriana has no contact with the Garcia family, Gladeon is her father. Neera doesn't want her aunt to worry about the Garcia family anymore, so she probably won't ignore this matter."

So, even though he wanted to ignore the Garcia family, he still had to settle it to avoid Neera feeling upset.

Ian immediately understood Jean's thoughts. "Okay, I'll do it right away."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 641

Neera went upstairs. After taking a shower and thinking about it, she still called Isabella.

"Bell, do me a favor."

Isabella was looking at the medical records. She turned on the speakerphone and put it on the table. "Yes, go ahead."

"Help me investigate the surveillance of the past few days and see what happened the day Mr. Garcia came to the ward for the last time."

The police had contacted the hospital in advance.

So, Isabella also knew about Gladeon's disappearance. She was stunned when she heard Neera's words and quickly picked up the phone.

"What do you mean? You want to care about the Garcia family again, do you?"

Neera looked out the window. "No, I don't."

"Then ignore it! Have you forgotten how they treated you before?"

Isabella felt Neera got wronged and persuaded Neera not to intervene, "Mrs. Garcia pretended to be ill and made trouble. It's well known to everyone. Luckily, the nursing worker you hired isn't easy to bully, or she'll get tortured! Mrs. Garcia only wants to lure you over and let your aunt come back! Don't be soft-hearted!"

Neera rubbed her brows. "I know about it. The nursing worker already told me. As long as Mrs. Garcia is alive, I won't ask. As for Alfonso and the others, it doesn't matter whether they're alive. I won't even ask. Although Mr. Garcia is missing, I still need to know the situation. If there's any accident, I can inform Aunt Adriana."

After hearing that, Isabella said, "Okay, I can give you the video, but it's only the surveillance at the ward door."

She thought about it and told Neera, "The Garcia family seemed to have argued inside that day. The nurses and patients passing by heard it but didn't know the details of the quarrel. Then Mr. Garcia came out. From the video, he didn't look good and lost. I don't know what happened."

Neera understood. "Okay, thanks."

"You're welcome."

They hung up the phone, and Isabella quickly sent Neera the video.

Neera opened it and found that it was real. Gladeon left the ward with a frustrated look. He lowered his head and never came back. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

After seeing that, Neera frowned deeply. The matter of the Garcia family was finally over, but another incident happened.

Neera hoped Adriana could live peacefully abroad and pursue her happy life. She would not let anything hold Adriana back!

Lying on the bed distracted, she was wondering where Gladeon could go.

Suddenly, Jean's message came over. "Are you asleep?"

Neera replied, "Not yet."

Jean asked, "Do you want to come over? I'll take you to the wine cellar. Let's drink."

Neera buried her face in the pillow and laughed muffledly.

He knew she could not sleep, so he tried to coax her in various ways.

Feeling sweet, Neera sat up and tapped on the screen. "Okay, wait for me!"

Then, she casually put a coat over her pajamas and went to the next door.

Jean had already showered and was waiting for her in the hall in gray pajamas. Under the crystal chandelier, he looked a little lazy.

Seeing him patiently waiting for her, Neera felt her heart warm.

"It's been a while since I've been in your wine cellar. Which good wine will we drink today?" Neera walked over and asked jokingly.

Jean raised his eyes slightly and stood up to hold her hand. "You can pick whatever you want."

They went into the wine cellar. Looking at the dazzling array of wine bottles, Neera was in trouble for a while.

She did not know much about wine, but she knew that the wines Jean collected were good.

After wandering around, she did not bother to think about it anymore, so she chose a bottle at random. "Let's drink this."

Jean stopped her outstretched hand and took another bottle instead. "That one has high alcohol. Let's drink this."

Neera glanced at the bottle. It was champagne. "It can't make me drunk."

Jean was amused and tapped her forehead. "I invite you to drink elegantly. Do you think I'm asking you to get drunk? I won't allow it."

Drinking too much would hurt her body. Jean did not want to make Neera uncomfortable. After saying that, he took the wine and led her up.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 642

Jean opened the wine for Neera and poured it for her.

Neera took a sip, first tasted the bitterness of the wine, and then slowly had a hint of sweetness.

When she swallowed it, she felt a little sweet again. It was special.

Jean asked her, "How does it taste? Do you like it?"

Neera expressed her feeling, "It's not bad. Quite interesting."

Jean nodded. "Well, this is the advantage of this wine."

Neera understood something and laughed. "You specially asked me to come and drink this wine. Is there any meaning?"

Jean looked at her with tenderness, and his tone was gentle and patient. "I only want to tell you that all your suffering is over. The rest is sweetness."

Neera's eyelashes quivered slightly, and she looked back at him.

"You've suffered too much in the past. You'll be sweet in the future because I'm always by your side. I won't let anyone hurt you again. So don't let other things affect your mood. Understand?"

How could Neera not understand his intentions?

Jean was always so different. Only he could see through her fluctuation under the calm appearance.

Only he could perceive her small emotions.

Even if it was inconspicuous, Jean wanted to comfort Neera and erase her unhappiness. In this world, there would never be anyone like him again.

She suddenly smiled. "I understand. Don't worry. As long as you're here, I won't worry about anything."

After saying that, she took another sip. This wine tastes like juice. Why am I feeling tipsy?

She looked at Jean brightly. "Would you like a drink?"

Jean raised his eyebrows. "I always remember your orders. If I drink it, won't you be angry with me?"

Neera nodded affirmatively. "I'll be angry, of course."

Then, she said, "But you can drink it in other ways."

"

After saying that, she suddenly took the initiative to hook his neck and kiss his lips. The sweet fragrance of wine filled his lips.

Jean was stunned, then stared at her fair cheeks and bright eyes.

Suddenly, he let out a chuckle, which looked particularly sexy.

He hugged her, deepened the kiss, and wanted to absorb her sweetness.

After a long time, Neera could hardly breathe. Jean let go of her and reluctantly touched her lips.

Neera calmed down, moved her head back, and looked into his eyes. "Do you like this way?"

Jean's eyes were full of possessiveness. He hugged her back again, kissed her lips, and replied hoarsely, "I like it."

How could he not like it? He liked her very much.

Neera smiled coquettishly. "I also like your way of coaxing."

After hearing that, Jean could not help but giggle.

They stayed for a while, and Neera went back soon.

The next day, after breakfast, she went to the research center.

Obadiah's research and development of reagents progressed smoothly recently. If it was fast, Neera could complete it this month.

She was busy until noon when Levi suddenly called, "Neera, someone is coming to the company and wants to see you."

Neera frowned. "Is it the Garcia family again?"

"No, it's a family of three." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Levi paused and continued, "They said they're Nigel Marrow, Maggie Webb, and Wilfrid Marrow, your adoptive parents and younger brother in the countryside."

Upon hearing those three names, Neera was stunned and almost dropped the beaker. She did not expect that they would find her.

For a long while, she did not speak. It was not until Osbert opened the door that she returned to her senses and took a deep breath.

"I'll go over right away. You can lead the Marrow family to the reception room."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 643

After hanging up the phone, she put down the beaker and stood there for a while before taking off her lab coat.

Since Osbert came in, he felt something was wrong and could not help but care.

"Neera, are you alright? I see that your complexion is bad. Is the Garcia family bothering you again?"

Neera managed to remain calm. "No, it's just that I have something to do in the company. I'll leave it to you. I'll go over there."

Seeing that she did not want to say more, Osbert did not ask any more questions.

"Okay, take your time on the road. Don't worry about the lab. Luigi and I are here."

"Hmm." Neera picked up her bag and left quickly.

On the way to Startales, she had been in a bad mood. Things from many years ago flooded into her mind.

She remembered that when Alfonso drove her out of the Garcia family, she had no place to stay and could only return to the countryside.

At that time, her only hope was that her adoptive parents could take her in. However, her adoptive parents were as profit-oriented as the Garcia family. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Her adoptive parents belittled her since childhood. After knowing she was not their biological daughter, they disliked her even more and felt raising her was in vain.

So, they were unhappy when they saw her getting driven back with nothing and pregnant. In particular, they also felt embarrassed.

They kicked her out without even giving her a meal.

She could only live in a dilapidated small hotel for a while. When she wanted to find a job to support herself, Adriana found her.

Gradually pulling back her thoughts, Neera tightened her hands on the steering wheel and sneered.

Why did her adoptive parents suddenly come to her?

Meanwhile, in the Startales' reception room, a middle-aged couple in plain clothes sat in front of Levi.

"Ms. Garcia will be here soon. You guys can wait here."

After saying that, he ordered his assistant to bring refreshments. His attitude was polite.

The middle-aged couple rubbed their hands and smiled flatteringly. "Okay, go ahead with your work. Don't worry about us. We'll wait here."

Levi had business to attend to, so he stood up and left without saying anything else. After he went out, the couple immediately revealed their true colors.

Maggie's eyes were shining, and everything she looked at was like looking at money.

"Nigel, have you seen this? This chair, this decoration! This room is so well-decorated! This company is so rich!"

She expressed repeatedly with excitement and envy. "I didn't expect that d*mn Neera would live so well!"

Nigel was also looking around non-stop. "I can see it! How much does such a place cost? It would be great if we could bring back this chair. This side table is also nice!"

Maggie spat. "You worthless thing! Pursue something more expensive!"

Neera was so rich now. She must buy them a big villa with good decoration, furniture and cars!

Their eyes were full of greed. Wilfrid, who did not say a word, could not bear his anger when he saw his parents' reaction.

"Enough! Sis is living a good life now! Why do you still bother her? What on earth do you want to do!"

His angry questioning startled Nigel and Maggie.

Maggie reacted quickly and immediately scolded, "What are you yelling about? We came here for your sake! You'll take the college entrance examination in one year. The school in our county seat is bad. You won't get a good college in the future!"

Nigel echoed, "Your mom is right. Now that Neera is living well. She must have a way out! We can ask her to transfer you to another school in the city and care for you. Then you'll have a good future!"

Upon hearing that, Wilfrid got angry and stood up.

"Don't use me as an excuse! I can get into whatever college I want! I know your plan. You see that Sis is living well, so you want to come over and ask for benefits from her! Did you forget how you treated her back then? You drove her away! How dare you ask for that! Stop being embarrassed here! Go home with me!"

After saying that, he was going to drag them away. But Maggie shook him off with a look of disapproval.

"What's there to be embarrassed about? We are her adoptive parents! We've raised her for many years and worked hard without any credit. What's wrong with asking for benefits? She must repay us!"

"That's right! Even if we don't come, she should visit us and honor us! It's already good enough that we don't blame her for being ungrateful! Why should we leave? Sit down! Stop making trouble!"

Wilfrid sneered. "Do you think I know nothing? Sis' aunt has already given you money! Even if there's any upbringing, she has already repaid it. What rights do we have to ask for benefits from Sis again? I don't need Sis to take care of me! Let's go home! Don't disturb Sis!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 644

However, Nigel and Maggie were greedy. They refused to leave without achieving their goal.

While arguing, Neera arrived. She was in a trance when she saw the three in the room.

Nigel and Maggie had aged a lot, and their already rough and dull skin had darkened and added many wrinkles.

Next to him, Wilfrid still looked the same as in her memory, but his youthfulness and immaturity had faded away, and he was now a bit tougher and more mature.

While she observed the three of them, they looked at her and were stunned.

None of them expected that Neera would change so much. Although she looked the same, she seemed different.

Neera became more refined with nobility. Although she had no expression, her aura was powerful.

Nigel and Maggie forgot their words, felt nervous, and hurriedly tidied their clothes.

Wilfrid did not move. He stared at Neera and was about to cry.

When Nigel and Maggie drove Neera away, he begged for a long time and hoped they would allow Neera to stay. But they disagree with it.

He even ran out and wanted to leave with Neera. But after searching for a long time, he could not find her. Instead, Nigel and Maggie took him back and locked him up at home.

Later, he knew Neera went abroad with her aunt, and he completely lost the news about her.

He had been very attached to Neera since childhood and had a good relationship with her. She was also very kind to him. She would always think of him when there was something delicious and fun.

In his heart, Neera was his sister. Even after all these years, he had not changed his mind.

A few days ago, he saw the news about Neera and knew she had returned to Kingsview.

He was so excited that he did not think much and immediately ran to share the good news with Nigel and Maggie.

He never expected he would arouse Nigel and Maggie's greed!

Seeing Neera now, Wilfrid dared not to call her Sis. He knew he was not qualified.

Neera returned to her senses and walked over calmly. Her attitude was indifferent, and she pointed to the sofa opposite. "Have a seat."

Nigel and Maggie smiled embarrassedly and sat down. Wilfrid stood on the side without moving. He only tightly clenched his fists.

Neera cut to the chase and asked, "What do you want from me?"

Nigel chuckled and greeted her, "Nothing. I heard you're back. We hadn't seen you for so many years, so we came to see you. We didn't expect you to live so well."

Maggie also echoed, "Yes, you're different now. You're glamorous, completely different from what you used to be. We heard that this company belongs to you, right?"

Neera responded flatly, "Yes, it's mine. If you have anything to say, just say it. I'm quite busy."

She looked impatient.

Nigel and Maggie sensed her coldness and were a little embarrassed.

Maggie said bitterly, "Neera, do you remember what happened back then? I know you dislike us, but we could do nothing. You also know our conditions. We can't afford to support many people. It was our last resort to ask you to leave. Please don't hold grudges against us. After all, we still have to support your brother."

Neera already expected their remarks, so she did not show any emotion.

"I understand," Neera replied lightly and changed the topic, "Is that what you want to talk about? If so, I've heard it. You may go now."

After saying that, she got up and signaled them to leave.

Nigel and Maggie became anxious and stopped Neera. "Wait a minute! We're here for..."

Before they finished speaking, Wilfrid suddenly interrupted them, "We're here to see you. We have nothing else to do. We'll leave." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

When he said that, his voice trembled slightly. He dared not to look at Neera's expression and pulled Nigel and Maggie.

"You're so stubborn! We haven't finished talking yet..."

Maggie glared at Wilfrid angrily while struggling not to move.

Neera saw Wilfrid's reaction, turned to Nigel and Maggie, and said, "If you have any requests, just say it. I know you're not here to see me."

Although she had no affection for her adoptive parents, she was soft-hearted toward her younger brother.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 645

After hearing that, Nigel and Maggie quickly broke away from Wilfrid and rubbed their hands. Their embarrassed smiles mixed with greed.

"Since you've said that, I'll say it directly. You had such a good relationship with Wilfrid back then. You should help him change to a better school and find famous teachers to tutor him to keep up with the process at Kingsview. It shouldn't be difficult for you, right?"

Wilfrid was full of anger and shouted, "Mom!"

Nigel immediately glared at Wilfrid. "What are you shouting for? How can you interrupt when we're talking?"

After the scolding, Nigel took advantage of the situation to echo Maggie, "Neera, we've watched the news. I heard you help many people every year with money. You can also help Wilfrid. It won't cost a lot."

"Yes! Also, find a place for us in Kingsview. You're so rich. You should afford an apartment, right?"

Nigel and Maggie's greedy words kept coming out.

Wilfrid blushed and felt extremely embarrassed and angry.

How could I have such shameless parents? I want to disappear!

He was so ashamed that he dared not to look at Neera, so he could only lower his head to refute Nigel and Maggie's words.

"Enough! My current school is perfect. I don't need to transfer to another school. We also have a house. We don't need any place!"

Maggie was unhappy and whined, "What are you talking about? Can our county-seat house be compared with the big house in first-tier cities? We told you not to interrupt, but you don't listen to us! Go aside!"

Wilfrid was so angry that his body was trembling. He could not bear his anger anymore and exploded.

"Aren't you ashamed enough? It's so embarrassing! Go back with me! Or I won't go to school!"

Being threatened by Wilfrid, Nigel and Maggie were anxious and angry while gnashing their teeth. "You're so stubborn! We did this for your sake!"

Wilfrid yelled, "I don't need it!"

Then, he looked at Neera, and his eyes became even reddish.

He said tremblingly, "Sorry for causing you trouble. Don't worry. We won't come again."

After saying that, he forcefully dragged the reluctant Nigel and Maggie away.

Only Neera was in the reception room. She did not move but stood quietly. Things from her childhood suddenly appeared in her mind.

At that time, the conditions at home were poor. Nigel and Maggie favored boys over girls. So they gave all the delicious food to Wilfrid.

Wilfrid always ate it obediently on the surface but secretly left a portion for Neera. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He treated her sincerely, so she liked him very much.

At that time, she went to work in the town to earn money. She also saved some money to buy Wilfrid delicious food and toys.

When the Garcia family came to find her, Wilfrid hugged her leg and cried for a long time. He was reluctant to let her go.

After so many years and finally meeting each other, the little boy had grown, but Wilfrid seemed unwilling to see her.

However, instead of feeling sad, Neera felt happy. Wilfrid remained the same, as pure and kind as she remembered.

He only did not want to cause her trouble. He still cared about her.

Listening to Nigel and Maggie's noisy voices fading away, she called Katy.

"Follow them and see where they're going. Find a time to bring Wilfrid to see me alone. Remember, don't let his parents find out."

Katy nodded and went to do it immediately. After returning to the office, Neera's phone rang.

It was Jean. "Have you eaten?"

Neera walked to the floor-to-ceiling window, looked out the window, and said lazily, "Not yet."

Jean could hear her listless.

"Are you in the research center?" Jean asked gently, "What happened?"

Neera answered, "Nothing, I'm in the company. Just feel a little tired."

Jean did not believe her words. He stood up and took the car keys. "Wait for me. I'll pick you up for dinner."

Neera smiled." Okay, I'll wait for you."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 646

In less than twenty minutes, Jean arrived, picked up Neera, and went to a nearby restaurant.

After ordering, he stared at her and asked, "Tell me. Did something happen? Did the Garcia family go to trouble you again?"

Neera felt helpless and amused.

Everyone's first reaction was that Garcia Group was causing trouble again. Based on her life experience and past, it was not only the Garcia family that was difficult to deal with.

Not wanting to ruin their good atmosphere, she pretended nothing happened and smiled. "It's only a trivial matter at work. It's nothing."

However, Jean saw through her mind at a glance.

"You still want to hide it from me? A trivial matter won't make you depressed. Besides, the things about you aren't trivial. I'm here. I don't want anyone to affect your mood."

Those words melted Neera's heart.

She hesitated, then said, "My adoptive parents came to see me today."

It was the first time Jean heard her mention her adoptive parents.

After understanding the situation, he frowned and showed displeasure. "They didn't want you at first, but now that your status is different, they rush to see you."

His eyes were cold. "If they come again, just ignore them!"

When he thought about all the bad things Neera had faced, he felt unhappy for a while.

Neera did not want to care about the Marrow family, but she had her concerns. "I can ignore my adoptive parents. But I worry about my brother."

Jean was puzzled. Then, Neera talked about Wilfrid.

"In that family, I haven't experienced much affection since I was a child, but Wilfrid was the only one who treated me well and thought of me. No matter before or now, he always regards me as his sister. I also regard him as my brother. My adoptive parents are greedy and bad, but Wilfrid is different from them."

After hearing that, Jean felt better.

"It sounds like your younger brother is pretty good. But this matter still needs to be considered. Your adoptive parents are as greedy as the Garcia family. If you give them benefits, it'll be endless. You have to guard against it."

Neera thought the same. "I know it. I'll handle it well. Don't worry. It's okay."

After that, she did not want to discuss it anymore and changed the topic.

After lunch, Jean was going to send Neera back.

They never expected to see Thora and a man entering the restaurant next door. They were busy talking and did not notice Jean and Neera.

Neera ignored Thora and got into the car. After sending Neera back, Jean returned to the company and called Ian. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"I asked you to investigate Thora's affairs before. How did the investigation go? Was she involved in smearing Neera?"

Ian scratched his head. "So far, I haven't found that she was directly involved in this matter."

Jean glanced at Ian and was not satisfied with his answer. "Do you mean she was indirectly involved?"

Ian was frightened and answered cautiously, "I'm not sure yet, but don't worry, I'll continue the investigation."

Then, he hurriedly reported another matter, "But there's something related to her. Someone was investigating your condition. That person had a detective company. His name is Alistair Gray."

Jean narrowed his eyes unhappily. "Who is that?"

"He and Thora know each other. They have been in frequent contact recently."

Jean's expression darkened. "How dare she investigate me!"

Ian immediately said, "Thora and Mrs. Beauvort have a bad relationship, and Mrs. Beauvort is married to you. She still investigates you even though she knows that. She probably has another purpose. I'll watch her and report to you as soon as possible!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 647

Jean felt annoyed.

He did not know what Thora was thinking, but if she wanted to use his illness to threaten Neera, he would cut her into pieces!

"Continue to investigate Thora and that man!"

Hearing Jean's hostile voice, Ian dared not to take it lightly and immediately responded, "Yes, Sir!"

"Also," Jean said again, "Don't tell Neera about this matter."

Neera had had too many worries lately. He did not want her to worry about him.

Regarding the news about Neera, the topic had gradually subsided. No one was discussing it anymore.

Kyra did not want Neera to be famous, so she was happy to see that. However, she had also encountered some troubles in the past two days.

She could not get the endorsements she was interested in. Then, two variety shows she had signed got banned. That annoyed her.

"Why is everything not going well!"

Her manager, Sean, was also a little upset. She could only persuade Kyra, "The competition in the industry is too fierce. Several newbies are gaining momentum, and there are capital problems. Those two variety shows are the cannon fodder for the betting. Forget it. Let's find better resources."

Kyra was still upset. "It's not easy to find good resources! And you didn't negotiate the endorsement I saw yesterday!"

Sean could tell that Kyra was blaming her and froze. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Sasha got that endorsement in the end. What could I do? Now everyone knows that Sasha is the top star of Star Entertainment Media. She's more likely to get it when you two compete for the same resource."

Sean explained it lightly, which made Kyra feel stuck.

Although she had successfully entered Star Entertainment Media, she was still overwhelmed by Sasha in all aspects!

The two of them could fight against each other before, but now the balance got tilted!

She did not know what went wrong and felt irritable.

At this time, Sean took out a script. "This is Mr. Theo's new movie. His team is top-notch. Now they're recruiting the female lead. Do you have any intentions on it?"

Kyra had already heard about this movie. So, she did not read the script. "Of course, I have. Mr. Theo's works are the most famous in Kingsview and have the best chance to win awards. He never failed. I also wanted to mention it to you."

As she spoke, she glanced at Sean. "Is Sasha fighting for this movie? I don't want to lose to her again!"

Sean thought for a moment. "It's possible. You'd better go to Larry to talk about this matter or give him some gifts. I remember that Larry and Mr. Theo have a good relationship. If he can recommend it to you, you have a chance."

Kyra's expression softened a little. "Okay, I'll find him later."

"Go to him today. Many people are fighting for this movie. Don't be too late, or we'll be too passive."

So, Kyra went to Larry's office in the afternoon.

Larry's attitude was indifferent. "Ms. Marks, why are you here? Aren't you supposed to be filming at the shooting site?"

Kyra smiled. "I have something to do, so I came back temporarily and came to see you."

While talking, she put a red wine gift box on the table.

"Mr. Mcdonagh, this is a red wine my father brought from abroad on a business trip. It's old, and there are few bottles in the world. It's quite rare. I heard you like to collect red wine, so I gave it to you."

Larry raised his eyebrows and could tell she had other intentions.

"Thank you, but I can't accept such expensive wine."

His implication was to let her take it back.

Kyra smiled politely. "Mr. Mcdonagh, I've received a lot of care from you since I came to the company. It's only a small gift. I hope you accept it."

Larry pondered, then responded kindly, "Okay, I'll accept it. But you don't have to do this in the future. If you have anything to say, just say it."

Kyra said a few tactful words and finally expressed her intention.

After hearing that, Larry gave the wine back. "I probably can't help you with this matter. Sasha is already fighting for this role."

Kyra was not surprised. "Since Mr. Theo hasn't decided on the female lead of this movie, everyone has a chance. It's natural for Ms. Javier to be interested in it, but I also want to try. Mr. Mcdonagh, you might as well..."

Before she finished speaking, Larry refused more bluntly, "Kyra, you didn't understand what I meant. I've recommended Sasha for this role, and Mr. Theo is also interested in Sasha as the female lead. They'll sign the contract."

Upon hearing that, Kyra's expression darkened, but she did not dare to quarrel with Larry, so she could only leave aggrieved.

After coming out, without waiting for Sean to ask, she immediately said sullenly, "It's strange! I feel like the company has been deliberately suppressing me recently! Now I can't get any good resources!"

As soon as she said that, Sean knew the result.

Kyra's variety shows got banned, and she could not get endorsements or movies.

Even if Sasha was the top star of Star Entertainment Media, Kyra's status was also high. She would never reach this point!

There's something wrong! Sean also sensed something abnormal.

So, she immediately said, "Don't worry. I'll find someone to ask about it."

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 648

Half an hour later, Sean came back solemnly.

Kyra got impatient for a long time and asked, "How is it?"

Sean glanced at Kyra. "Larry is indeed deliberately constricting your resources. He has allotted your endorsements and almost gave all of them to Sasha."

Kyra flew into a rage.

"Larry!" Kyra gritted her teeth gloomily. "How dare he do that!"

Even though Jean did not introduce her at the annual gala, the Beauvort family arranged for her to join the company!

"When I came to Star Entertainment Media, I signed the contract. Star Entertainment Media must guarantee my work resources every year! Is he going to break the contract? Won't he be afraid that this matter will cause trouble and his position won't be guaranteed?"

Sean frowned and reminded Kyra, "According to your current resources, the company didn't break the contract. It was indeed guaranteed, but the company didn't give more."

"But those resources aren't the same as Sasha's!"

Kyra was dissatisfied and was full of anger.

"Why are all the good resources given to Sasha? The Beauvorts personally signed with me. How can my status be inferior to Sasha's? How dare Larry suppress me! I haven't offended him, right?"

Sean also had a headache. Before Kyra changed the company, she brought Sean along. So, Sean was eager to gain a foothold in Star Entertainment Media.

Kyra was in trouble, and Sean's status was also at stake.

After weighing the pros and cons, Sean could only think of one solution.

"Now we don't know what's going on. Be patient. I'll ask the reason later. If you offended Larry, you should take the initiative to apologize. Then we can turn this matter over."

Kyra's anger was palpable. "Why should I apologize? I didn't do anything! He's the one who maliciously messed with me! He's the one who should apologize!"

Sean spoke solemnly, "Kyra, you want to continue in the circle or wait for others to replace you? Is the truth important in this circle? If there's a problem, don't care about the reason, just solve it! "

Sean knew that without Jean, Kyra would no longer have the capital to be domineering.

Since they joined Star Entertainment Media, they had to be careful in everything.

Upon hearing that, Kyra gritted her teeth and said nothing more.

She had been in a bad mood for the past two days. But what annoyed her even more was that some fans discovered clues because her events got canceled one after another.

"Have you noticed that many of Kyra's events have disappeared recently?"

"Yes, I wonder why all the recently canceled variety shows featured her."

"Not only in variety shows, I heard from assistants in the industry that she also failed to get endorsements for several high-end luxury brands."

"What's the situation? How come her resources are getting worse?"

"Maybe she offended someone in Star Entertainment Media, or maybe she was excluded..."

There was a lot of discussion for a while, and there were all kinds of guesses. This matter quickly appeared on trending searches. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Kyra's fans were naturally full of righteous indignation and expressed their dissatisfaction.

Not long after, Star Entertainment Media was also on the trending searches and got into trouble.

Kyra saw it and did not intend to stop it.

As those commenters spoke for her, she did not need to remind the company.

When Neera returned at night, she met Jean and asked about it.

"I saw trending searches. What's going on? Is Kyra being suppressed by Star Entertainment Media? Star Entertainment Media is on trending searches. Will this matter have any impact on it?"

Jean looked calm and did not take it seriously. "Don't worry. It won't get affected."

Neera believed his words but was a little suspicious. "You ordered Larry to compress Kyra's resources, right?"

A thought came to her mind, and she pointed to herself. "Did it have something to do with me?"

Jean raised his eyebrows, "You're so clever." His sentence was equivalent to acquiescing.

Neera was even more puzzled. "Why? What did Kyra do to me?"

Jean did not hide it. "There are indeed some discoveries. Kyra was likely to be involved in breaking the news about your chaotic private life before."

After hearing that, Neera could not help being a little surprised.

It was possible. The situation was so chaotic at that time. Kyra might take the advantage to create more chaos.

Neera gradually frowned and felt those people were annoying.

Jean reached out to soothe her brows. "Even if this matter is over, I'll help you to deal with them. Whoever bullied you would get a lesson!"

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 649

The next day, Kyra's matters were still going on.

At first, Kyra's fans only attacked Star Entertainment Media and asked Star Entertainment Media to explain. But gradually, they shifted their anger at Sasha and Larry.

Sasha and Kyra were deadly rivals, and Sasha was the one who benefited the most at present, so she would naturally be involved.

As for Larry, he got involved as some commenters were irrational and had ulterior motives to make rumors.

"Kyra has no good resources recently. But Sasha got many high-end endorsements! They belong to the same company. How can they be treated differently? It must be a conspiracy!"

"Sasha isn't innocent! She only pretends to be pure but lustful in private! She hooked up with Mr. Mcdonagh!"

"Larry is the head of Star Entertainment Media. I remember he seems to favor Sasha! Poor Kyra! They never took her seriously and suppressed her! I'm so mad!"

"Sasha is so disgusting! Just because she hates Kyra, she seduces Larry to deal with Kyra! Wouldn't she be exhausted with so many resources?"

"Sasha is shameless! Kyra is the best, but she has to suffer..."

Those fans insulted Sasha and Larry with harsh words.

Larry was so pissed off when he saw it. He glanced at Sasha on the sofa and wondered. "You've been scolded. How can you be so leisurely?"

Sasha looked calm. "It's impossible to be a celebrity without being scolded. Moreover, I'm not the only one who gets scolded."

Larry was speechless. "It's better to be scolded alone. I can't stand those nonsense comments."

Sasha sat up straight. "We never did those things. No matter how they comment, it won't be true. You'll settle it, so I have nothing to worry about."

Of course, Larry could settle it. Within half an hour, he suppressed all public opinion.

The official account of Star Entertainment Media posted an announcement. The content was about all the resources the company had given Kyra after she joined Star Entertainment Media.

It was several times better than her previous company!

"Recently, the resources of Kyra Marks have been reduced because the competition has become increasingly fierce. We hope fans can look at it rationally. In addition, since Kyra came to our company, we've given enough resources, and what we've given her so far is better than what she had before. The picture below shows a series of announcements, film and television resources, and endorsements she has received since joining Star Entertainment Media. Besides, as an actress and a public figure, Kyra should control her fans, establish a positive image, spread positive energy, and not cause bad social impact!"

This statement directly silenced those fans. Not only that, but also accused Kyra of indulging fans and not managing them.

Kyra turned gloomy with anger when she saw this development!

Thora and Alistair made an appointment for dinner and met at the restaurant. At the dinner table, they talked about Kyra's matter.

"I happened to be bored these days. I didn't expect this to happen. Do you know what's going on?" SEARCH THE WEBSITE to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Thora asked Alistair with curiosity. Alistair had a way to get information, so he had already inquired about it.

"I heard from my friends that Star Entertainment Media intentionally suppressed Kyra. However, Kyra did benefit after entering Star Entertainment Media, so that statement can make Kyra's fans shut up. But compared with the benefits Sasha received, it's a big gap."

Thora was a little surprised when she heard that. "Why does Star Entertainment Media suppress Kyra? Logically speaking, Kyra and Sasha are equals. The company has two actresses who are making money. Why must the company suppress one of them?"

She guessed, "Could it be because Sasha has been at Star Entertainment Media for years, and Kyra just joined in? Is the company bullying the newcomer?"

Alistair shook his head in denial. "No, Star Entertainment Media won't do that. I don't know the specific situation, but there must be a reason for Star Entertainment Media doing that. I have a suspicion."

"

"What is it?"

Alistair showed a meaningful smile. "Kyra might have participated in discrediting Neera."

Thora was even more surprised. "Are you sure?"

"Star Entertainment Media is a subsidiary of the Beauvort Group, and its boss is Jean. The relationship between the Marks and the Beauvorts is well known. If she hadn't done something to offend Jean, Star Entertainment Media wouldn't have suppressed her."

Star Entertainment Media dared to do this because Jean was behind the scenes. The only thing that can make him angry is something related to Neera."

Thora finally understood it and felt the possibility of this statement was high. "Jean defends Neera in every possible way. Isn't Kyra going to explode now?"

Alistair took a sip of wine and smiled flatteringly. "She's angry, of course, but this is a good opportunity for us. Don't you want to deal with Neera? That's your chance."

Thora's eyes lit up, "You mean using Kyra?"

"Bingo!" Alistair snapped his fingers. "You can pretend to join forces with her and use her as a weapon."

Thora became interested. "Tell me how to do it."

Alistair said, "Earlier, I heard that Jean's health was not good, but now it's rumored that his health has gradually improved because Neera cured him. Kyra wants to marry into a wealthy family and can't wait to get rid of Neera. How about you tell Kyra you can also treat Jean?"

Thora froze for a moment. "Me?"

"Yes, it's you. Neera is your father's student, and you're his daughter. You must have good medical skills. Kyra would cooperate with you!"

After hearing that, Thora thought about it for a while and thought it was a good idea.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 650

Kyra was so angry that she was trembling because of the news. She had never been so aggrieved!

Unable to bear it any longer, she rushed to Larry's office. "Larry, what did you mean to issue that statement? Why did you embarrass me?"

Her anger took over her mind and caused her to lose her calmness. She only wanted to question Larry sharply.

"Even if you don't want to help me, you don't have to do that! I'm also an actress in Star Entertainment Media. You've gone too far to treat me terribly!"

Larry sat on his seat leisurely. After Kyra finished speaking, he asked, "Are you done?"

Kyra was stunned, followed by even more intense anger. "What do you mean? Do you think you can do whatever you want? Don't forget how I entered Star Entertainment Media! It's the Beauvort family..."

She was so angry that she wanted to use the Beauvort family to suppress Larry. Unexpectedly, Larry interrupted her calmly, "It makes no sense what you're telling me. That was Mr. Beauvort's order."

Kyra was dumbfounded and took a few seconds to realize what he was talking about. Then, she was full of disbelief.

"How is that possible? I don't believe it! Don't try to lie to me!"

Larry looked at her steadily. "I don't need to lie. If you don't believe it, you can ask Mr. Beauvort."

Kyra turned pale, and all her confidence was gone. She could not accept it. It turned out that Jean deliberately suppressed her! Why did he do that?

She could not figure it out. So, she went to the Beauvort Group but failed to find Jean as he did not come to work. Then, she went straight to Imperial Gardens.

When Jean heard the butler say Kyra was coming, he did not drive her away. "Let her in."

Soon, Kyra walked into the lobby. Jean was sitting on the sofa leisurely. He was looking at his laptop and processing documents.

Hearing the movement, he did not greet Kyra, let alone invite her to sit down.

"Jean..." Kyra felt aggrieved when she saw him.

"What's the matter?" Jean finally looked at her, but his attitude was indifferent.

Kyra endured her discomfort and talked about her recent situation. She looked at him cautiously and hoped that he would help her.

However, Jean disappointed her. "So? Is there a problem?"

Kyra felt even more embarrassed. She had no choice but to bite the bullet and ask, "Jean, have I behaved wrongly and made you misunderstand me? Or is there something that made you unhappy? If so, I apologize. I'll change it. Please don't do that to me."

At the end, she choked up. In her life, she had never made such compromises in front of anyone. Only Jean could make her lower her profile.

Jean only looked at her coolly and asked, "Don't you know what you've done?"

Kyra froze and shook her head subconsciously, but she already started to think about what she had done recently.

Soon, she thought of Neera, and a feeling of tension and panic swept over her.

No! Jean shouldn't know about that!

At this moment, Jean's indifferent voice sounded again without warmth.

"Ms. Marks, you've known me for many years. You should know that I hate hypocriticism. It's only a small warning. If there's a next time, even if there's a relationship between the Marks and the Beauvorts, I won't show mercy."

He had always talked less but said so much in one breath. Every word was like a knife that pierced deep into Kyra's heart.

She wanted to defend herself, but Jean did not intend to listen and called Ian, "Send her off." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Ian nodded and gestured to Kyra. "Ms. Marks, let's go."

At this point, Kyra understood. Jean knew what she had done. He did it to vent Neera's anger!

She got greatly stimulated. Only one thought was in her mind.

Why is Jean willing to protect Neera? He ignores and rejects me and even suppresses me in my career! How could he treat me like this for that woman?

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.