

Erotic RPG 115

Chapter 115

Time passed quickly inside the mercenary headquarters. Arachne females were far more lustful than he could ever imagine. He conquered both of the cheeky princesses and their cronies. Lucifer thought he had gained victory when the 16 girls lost the battle.

He turned around and saw dozens of ruby red eyes that peered from the dark beyond the door. These girls were the combat types and forced him to use even his transformation. Lucifer came out on top, but his lust and desire for sex vanished.

'I don't want to think about sex... Ever again!' (Pride)

'You mean until you see another naked monster girl, right?' (Lust)

'Shut up Lust! You wouldn't understand! The countless mouths and holes all scrambling for Lucifer Jr! Not sure which woman you were thrusting or whose ass was in your face!' (Pride)

'But you felt good, right? Brother... Hah...Hah... I want to taste the ambrosia that drips from your divine club...' (Envy)

'What happened to you, man? You used to be cool?' (Lust)

Lucifer shook his head and looked back towards the several rooms filled with Arachne that now had the skull tattoo on their bodies. It seemed this was random, as some had them above their pussy instead of their pubes. Some even had them on their iris, which looked kinda cool. He was not jealous one bit right... His heterochromia was cool too!

'You are jealous of your own women's cool looks, right?' (Lust)

'...Am not...' (Pride)

Swish!

Black hair wrapped around his body and massage his sore muscles. He could honestly go forever if he wanted to. But he still got aches and pains. Especially his waist that could slay several Arachne girls, Soft lips pressed against his naked flesh. Her tender lips traced along his spine as her dark mana eased his pain and soothe his muscles.

"Husband, it's no good... You slept with all my sister's. What will I do if one of them gives birth? Should I kill and eat it? Fufu! You must fertilise me first darling!"

Marina became so adorable since her change, he thought. Her body was silky smooth as she wrapped around him like a piece of clothing. She nibbled on the tips of his ears while her spider legs slid down his back with a faint touch that caused him to shudder in delight.

"Marina, I wonder if I should fertilise them all and leave you with no sperm? Don't hurt your sisters! There are plenty of others for you to kill or maim."

She slid one of her black armour hands over his exposed cock and grasped his balls and gripped with a light pressure. Her message seemed to be a challenge or a threat to him to try it.

"Tsk!"

Lucifer knew how to treat this damn woman, but his affection for Marina stopped him from killing her on the spot. He spat in her face as she opened her mouth to catch his sweet nectar. Her many lives with him also taught her how he reacted to things.

His black scaled hand grabbed onto her glossy black hair and yanked it backwards. Her neck snapped back and her lips drooled with his fresh blood as she bit on his flesh to mark him.

"Baby! It's been so long and we're all here again! Let's have some fun! Fufu how about we burn an entire village and you enjoy the women like old times? Hehe then I can flay those whores alive and eat them as punishment!"

Chaos was the most unpredictable of all his past love debts. She could be a normal cute girl that would never hurt a fly one moment. Then he would come back to a room filled with over a dozen corpses and her eating them on an open fire.

Her only words when he came to that scene were.

"Welcome home, honey! I was a little peckish. These women mentioned how attractive my husband was! It made me so happy I ripped them apart limb from limb then cooked their remains in onion gravy! Fufu, do you want to try? This thigh is Elizabeth's Hehe. She used to masturbate outside our window. What a naughty girl!"

Her warm, soft body pressed against him despite his hold on her neck. She almost snapped her own spine as she twisted to face him. Lucifer just gave a huge grin to her actions because he never felt a dull moment with this witch. Once she even tried to cut off his cock to make into a personal dildo and forced him to crush her heart in his hand.

'Was it me or her that was insane... Why did I stick my dick inside this crazy woman all those years ago!?'

'At first she wanted to kill you, right? She cursed the seeds of sin and hoped your sisters...would kill repeatedly you.' (Lust)

'Hahaha! It was so funny when she realised the curse only twisted our love for him to the extreme. It even warped her own mind and she, a former pagan goddess of evil spiders, fell in love with a former angel of justice.' (Envy)

Lucifer grasped her neck with his left hand as the right yanked her hair once more. A moan of pain and delight sounded from her lips as her golden eyes narrowed and looked only at him. She never blinked or even moved. He was her everything, even her past as a goddess became dull after the countless lives she spent with him.

"Chaos, it's an order you are to never touch Marina's persona. She will become the host and your the mother of your brood. You can sit back and rub your nasty spider cunt against a corner or something!" He said with a stern voice that caused the Arachne girl to shudder.

Alice listened from the corner with a scared look. She was worried that her sister was gone as tears welled up in her eyes.

"I know that you always go crazy when we meet. So, if you are a good girl, I will reward you with an entire week with just the two of us. No matter what you ask, as long as it doesn't involve any harm to my women or friends. I will give it to you. Just let Marina remain as your main persona."

— Unknown place, Inside the soul of Chaos?

Arachne of different typed bodies appeared. Hundreds of them were in the background and made loud noises. 5 women sat around a massive stone table. Two women were sitting at the head of the table. Marina sat in the topmost seat and next to her was Zavida. The original goddess of Chaos and disorder.

"See? I told you if we pretended, my persona might disappear and consumed. Now look how he acts? Did you think he would be this cute, no right?" Marina said with a delighted voice. Her power at the top never changed. She was the most compatible reincarnation of Zavida since several millennia ago.

"Kyaaa! Darling is so cool and possessive!" A loli type, Arachne with pink hair said in a chirp like voice.

"Fufu! Anything? We agree to one day each, right? Marina, who made this plan, can take 2!" said a sensual older sister type Arachne with blue hair and a striped body.

"I want to him to choke us till we almost die!" Said a muscular Arachne with tight abs and red hair. Her body was even larger than Marina's old form.

"He needs to copulate with us until our womb is so full it expands! Huehue inflation!" Said a thicc Arachne with a large rump but short legs. She had curled brown hair over her eyes and cheeks. Her face was the prettiest of the others. But she seemed to lack confidence added to how she looked frail and weak, despite her being the most perverted and cock hungry.

"Good work. I want to drink his white creamy ambrosia all day!" The last Arachne said. Her body was slim with soft pale skin. She seemed to be a strange type of spider with long but narrow limbs.

Marina sat on the throne like a queen. While these girls enjoyed the long days of sex with Lucifer. She grasped their weaknesses, what they wanted and desired, and won this seat at the top. Her brain was always very good. Now she finally had the chance to use it. Zavida even became a pawn under her feet, thanks to the use of her beloved husband's name.

'I will restore our kingdom, rule over all Arachne and have these delightful little sluts serve me forever! Fufu! Everything is for the Church of Dusk! I will make all Arachne worship my beloved husband and offer their eggs to him willingly! Praise me, love me, Marina will always be beside you now! The seed of Chaos is now mine!'

Zavida gave a radiant smile. She desired to find the perfect reincarnation of herself to take the mantle of Chaos as she grew tired of it. She only hoped to be beside Lucifer until the very end of time itself. Marina looked pleased with herself and Zavida would never reveal how she helped her usurp this throne so easily. Zavida found this cute young brood queen to be the most adorable of them all.

'I wish I could have given birth to a daughter like her in the past... How will she go crazy? What kind of madness will she release for the sake of our darling?' (Zavida)

Lucifer on the outside held her throat as foam oozed from her mouth, and she convulsed. A bright flash showed in Marina's eyes as he felt a familiar aura and presence. She came back to him at last. He no longer worried about her and smiled to himself.

'That damn witch is gone for now!' (Pride)

'I don't know about that friend... This seems a little sus....' (Lust)

'The spider is going to die if you don't let go. She just urinated like an untrained dog...' (Envy)
