

Ethan's Fantasy Drift

Chapter 2 You will come back

Regaining consciousness, Ethan sat up abruptly and looked down at his body. The clothes that had been worn out but had been out of the sea for a while and became more dirty and torn have been replaced. He was wearing a set of white cloth. The ones are not new, but they are very clean.

Touched his lips. The dry and chapped lips that were originally lacking in water have also healed a lot. He even found that he was full of energy like never before. This (coma?) sleep was really comfortable.

"You are in good health, much earlier than I expected."

Ethan immediately turned his head and looked at it when he heard the sound, and found that the bald head who was walking towards him before the coma was sitting quietly at the table beside his bed making tea.

"Although I fed some rejuvenating potions when you were unconscious, I was surprised to wake up so quickly..."

The bald head, who was making tea for himself, didn't even look up at Ethan. He was just busy with his own affairs. The reason why Ethan didn't interface was because he found that this person didn't speak at all. Those voices seemed to It's more like sounding in your own brain.

"Yes, I use magic to directly link your spirit to communicate with you. I think you don't understand the language of our world... a young man from another world."

The bald head finally raised his head, and Ethan finally saw his face clearly... Uh, maybe she should be used?

"Where is this?"

Ethan tried to concentrate his mental power, and then 'said' this sentence.

His reaction surprised the person on the other side. The bald woman rarely showed a surprised expression: "Oh, you are very talented. You have mastered the way of mental communication so quickly. It is much more convenient."

The bald woman took a cup of tea and walked to the side of Ethan, and introduced the water cup in her hand as she introduced it: "This is the earth, my name is Gu Yi, I am a mage...Do you know what a mage is?"

Ethan took the tea and took a sip slowly: "I know!"

He not only knows what a mage is, but he also knows what the earth is. After all, he was a native of the earth in his previous life—it's just not this earth.

Just thinking of this in my heart, Ethan suddenly woke up: Spiritual Link... won't you read my thoughts directly?

looked up at Gu Yi, the powerful wizard in the Marvel world didn't seem to have heard what he said just now, and didn't know whether she was deliberately silent or that she really didn't have the ability to 'read mind'.

Don't panic, Ethan put the half-drinking glass next to him, and at the same time had a 'chat' with Master Gu Yi without a word.

He deliberately mixed his mental energy to speak while not focusing his mental energy to think about some 'dialogue' in his heart, in order to judge whether Gu Yi could read his own thoughts directly.

It didn't take long before he came to the conclusion: Either the Gu Yi mage found a deliberate silence; or he could only 'hear' the message sent by his concentrated energy.

Although he very much hopes that the fact is the second kind, he dare not rule out the possibility of the first situation. Fortunately, no matter which kind of possibility, at least Gu Yi's posture can make him temporarily relieved—he didn't directly turn his face Just good.

As for conspiracies and tricks, Gu Yi's strength can't be guilty of playing with him, a look can kill him.

After chatting for a while, Gu Yi roughly understood Ethan's "situation": He came from a world full of oceans. He was just seventeen years old this year. His parents had passed away, and he came here by accident.

Ethan finally knew why he appeared here.

It turns out that the pointer of the light ball in his hand points to the dissipated space-time energy. After finding the space-time energy, he will absorb it. Then, as the host, Ethan can stimulate these space-time energy with his own mental power, thereby activating the magic circle's progress position. Surface transmission.

After the transmission, the space-time energy will 'protect' the host for a period of time, until the energy is exhausted, he will be transmitted back to the 'situ.

This is also the root reason why Gu Yi and him have been chatting for so long: There is unstable space-time energy in Ethan's body.

In addition, Ethan also learned another thing, that is, the destination of the teleportation magic circle is not in the Kama Taj where Gu Yi lives, but the Gu Yi who is responsible for protecting the earth from the invasion of alien forces. As soon as he noticed the intrusion of his 'stowaway', it was intercepted midway.

"Well, it really is the Supreme Mage. If you stop it, you will stop you without discussing it... I really don't understand how so many people who pass through the world of Marvel are hiding from the Supreme Mage who stares at the plane and invades these days."

At the same time, he was also glad that he came to the movie universe, because the old man in front of him is too familiar; if it is the comic universe... then the end may not be so beautiful-although he doesn't understand it in detail, he also knows There are more monsters in the Marvel comics universe, and it's less reasonable.

"According to my observation, the energy in your body is slowly decreasing, and it will dissipate completely in about seven days."

Ethan knew that the space-time energy in his body would not exist for seven days, but six days. After six days, when the space-time energy is at a minimum, it will automatically explode, and the magic circle will be sent back.

"I finally came here. I can't eat a few meals and drink something and go back. That would be a shame." I just don't know whether this supreme mage is willing to teach himself magic to this suspected 'stowaway'?

After a brief test, Gu Yi immediately switched the topic to another place. After the unwilling Ethan asked a few more questions, Gu Yi finally let him put out the idea of directly learning magic with a teacher.

"Your mental power can only be regarded as good, even if you learn magic, it is difficult to achieve something, but it will waste most of your life."

Well, the lovers don't look down on Ethan's qualifications.

This is nothing strange, no matter what kind of story setting, the magician's requirements for qualifications are not low. Ethan was just an ordinary person in his previous life or in this life.

"However, if you just want to solve the troubles you face by learning magic, it's not difficult."

Ethan has already confessed to the predicament he is facing, and wants to win Gu Yi's sympathy by this, but Gu Yi, who has been alive for a long time, is not so easy to have sympathy overflowing existence, but she is not that kind. People who sit back and watch Ethan face a desperate situation and are unwilling to help.

“You have a good mental power control ability, so it is not difficult for you to get started. As long as you practice hard, this small spell can help you solve the problem of drinking water.”

The biggest advantage of dialogue through the spirit is that many things that are difficult to describe in words and notes can be understood by the other party in a more convenient way. And Ethan can understand all the points of this small spell at once, and now he only needs to practice well. You can cast this small spell specially used to extract surrounding water elements to make clean water.

This little magic extracts the water element (water molecules?) that exists in the environment, and then aggregates it into drinkable water. It can be said that the environment directly affects the effect of this magic, and it is not generated out of thin air or converted by magic. Yes, it is not difficult to deploy, has high environmental requirements, and is generally practical.

But it corresponds exactly to the world in which Ethan lives-looking around, it's all water...

The only difficulty is the control of mental power. Many people have strong mental powers, but because they can't control meticulously, they can't start to become a mage. Coincidentally, Ethan has been using the light ball pointer to exercise and control mental power since he crossed. , So this difficulty does not exist for him.

Seeing the water droplets gradually condensing in the palm of his hand, Ethan finally showed his joy: this trip is not in vain.

What's more, in order to facilitate communication with him, Gu Yi 'taught' him a local language with a spiritual link, finally freeing him from the embarrassing situation of being unable to talk to others.

In the next three days, Ethan also went around in addition to his own room, but there were not many places he could go, not many people he met, and he didn't see a 'familiar' face.

Although Gu Yi didn't harm him, he wouldn't let him run around in his hometown. Proper surveillance was not cancelled. Once Ethan wanted to leave the 'circumscribed range of activities', someone would show up in time to stop him. .

Other than that, there are no restrictions. It's okay to talk to the apprentices or even discuss the learning of magic. There is also a young apprentice mage who is holding a smart phone with him, a native of the other world, and bullying him doesn't know. What is this. As a result, he was taught to be a man after being fiddled with by Ethan makeup for a while-Angry Birds God Horse, he was tired of playing in his previous life.

Thanks to the stink of this buddy, I finally made Ethan clear about his current timeline by playing with his mobile phone-not long after Iron Man was born, UU reading www.uukānshu.com plus this game is still a new game, then It should be the time between Iron Man 1 and Iron Man 2.

“So it will take a few years for Doctor Strange to come here... Sigh? Am I his brother?”

may be the reason for the ‘good’ performance, and Gu Yi sent some more things next.

includes packed food, some simple life and sailing tools, a few changes of clothes and a few books.

“The energy in your body will be activated tonight, and will send you back to the original world, and these things should be enough for you to use for a while.”

The title of Supreme Master was not given for nothing. In a few days, Gu Yikan had understood the true state of the energy in Ethan, calculated the exact time when he left, and prepared something for him in advance.

“Although the water making art I taught you is a very simple trick, it is also a good practice for your spirit if you practice hard, so I think you will use these things in the future.”

Gu Yi pointed to the several books in front of him. The first one was “Introduction to Spiritual Power Cultivation”. This is followed by the book “Detailed Explanation of the Use of Basic Spells”, and then there are a lot of big books, starting with a thick stack of “Oxford Dictionary”. In addition, textbooks and dictionaries for French and Chinese.

“Don’t worry, if you practice hard, your memory will become better and better as your mental power improves, and you will soon be able to memorize these books.”

Ethan scratched his cheek: “But, why did you give me this?” He didn’t understand what the * was it for him to learn English as a foreigner? He had learned enough in his last life.

“I have a hunch, you will come back...” Gu Yi’s expression suddenly became very serious: “Maybe it can help me solve a big problem at that time.”
