

Ethan's Fantasy Drift

#Chapter 31 – 35

Read Ethan's Fantasy Drift Chapter 31

Chapter 31 Team up against the enemy

Ethan pointed to the ship that was getting closer and closer. Now both parties can clearly see the situation on the other's ship, but the other's ship is higher, so the other's vision is better than that of his own. It's clear the two of them had been noticed by the other side just standing on the deck.

"Not that coward from Angus?"

Sean was also surprised. He didn't expect to see two people who didn't know him at all. They didn't seem to be very old. The black-haired one was slightly older, and the blond-haired one was definitely not a kid? When will the calm sea even the little kid can wander at will?

His brows were frowning tighter and tighter, and the development of things broke away from his own predictions, which made him very upset. If he was upset, people would suffer. Therefore, the two young men were sentenced to death in their hearts.

"Wait for them to get close before doing it?"

Arthur looked at the man standing at the bow of the ship. He was tall and strong. Not to mention that he hadn't fully grown into his body. Even if compared with the adults he had seen before, this man had to look taller and stronger. .

"Is a rival!"

He followed Ethan into this world. In addition to increasing his knowledge, he also had the purpose of playing against more people to further enhance his strength.

Therefore, facing a strong enemy, Arthur will not feel afraid, but will be a little excited. The blood all over his body is boiling, and even his body is slightly shaking.

"Don't be too excited, it will affect the strength and accuracy of your sword."

Too much excitement may make people burst out with stronger power, more powerful and faster when swinging weapons, but the stability will be much worse. This is actually a negative BUFF when facing a strong enemy.

"You are right, I should calm down."

Although Ethan did not receive many years of professional system training, but at least he spent a month in the dark world with dark creatures, and accumulated a lot of experience in battle after battle. These are exactly what Arthur did. Lack of.

It can be said that the strengths and weaknesses of the two people are complementary, and it is a good choice to cooperate with each other until the strength of the two people has not improved to a certain level.

It took a while, and Arthur returned to his normal state. At this time, the opponent's boat was already attached to Ethan's boat, and he threw a hook to firmly grasp the boat under his feet.

One after another sailors with weapons jumped from the opposite ship, while the big man continued to stand on his ship and looked down at the two young men.

"Where is that coward from Angus? Isn't this the coward's ship?"

Ethan didn't expect that he didn't ask himself to hand over everything, but instead asked what Angus? Who is Angus? Is it the guy who was killed by himself?

"Are you talking about a * who likes to grab people and property?"

"Oh?" When Sean heard this question, he became so interested in the black-haired young man in front of him: "So, you are not the coward's subordinate?"

Ethan curled his lips in disdain: "How could I be that kind of * subordinate."

"You killed Angus? You took this boat from him, right." Sean pointed to the sailboat at Ethan's feet, and then pointed to the side of the ship in front of him: "Don't deny it. , Except for that coward, I don't think anyone would call his ship Mad Dog."

That was the name of the ship engraved on the front side of the hull. Ethan didn't pay much attention at first. When he found out, he thought of returning to State Island and changing the name of the ship, so he just threw it there.

But, what if it is recognized? He is not someone who dared not be.

"What about that guy's boat?"

Xiao En laughed suddenly: "Not so, anyway, this ship will belong to me immediately!" Then he pointed to the one towing behind: "Of course that one too."

Then he looked at the two young men with a playful expression: "As for you two..." Looking up and down, Xiao En suddenly noticed that the equipment on the two young men was particularly eye-catching: "Hand over all the things on my body. If I am happy, I may leave you as servants on my boat."

Ethan looked up at the man who was still standing on his boat, trying to flick this stuff down before doing it. Capture the thief first, capture the king first, as long as you control this guy or kill him, the rest will be easier to solve.

“Who are you? Why should I give up everything?”

“Who am I? You don’t know who I am?” Sean seemed to hear a big joke. Then I realized that these two people are very young, and it doesn’t seem surprising that they don’t know themselves: “It turns out to be two rookies! Actually, I don’t even know Sean the Hand of Fire.”

“Hand of Flame?”

Ethan’s first reaction was to look at the big man’s hands. Sure enough, the big man’s left hand was wearing a strange-looking glove, which was shaped between the hand armor and the glove, although some parts were hidden by the sleeves and it was not clear. But the light radiating from the magic stone can still be seen faintly.

“Fire magic stone? For combat? Can fire element attacks be used?”

Sean never thought of it, and when he reported a name casually, Ethan guessed his biggest support.

That’s right, his biggest reliance is the magic stone gloves inlaid with fire magic stones, which can gather and manipulate fire elemental energy with the gloves.

The nickname of his hand of flame is mostly from this magic stone equipment. In the calm sea where magic stone equipment is scarce, he also used this glove to slay all directions without restraint.

It is a pity that there is only one glove. Sean, who knows the world better, always hopes to find a high-quality magic stone and build a piece of equipment to make him stronger. After that, he can challenge the sea of storms and head to the next sea area-it is said that there are more abundant supplies in that sea area, but there are also more dangers.

This is also the reason why he was a little excited after suspecting that Angus might have found a high-quality magic stone.

But seeing these two young people now, he suddenly raised another guess: “These two young people can kill Angus, do they have magic stone equipment?”

was suspicious and stopped the conversation. And Ethan, who wanted to attract Sean to his boat, didn’t speak, and the scene was a bit weird for a while.

But soon someone broke the calm and jumped out to grab the show.

“Have you heard? Boy, our captain is Sean, the famous Flame Monarch of the Sea of Peace. Let’s kneel down and pray for forgiveness from Master Captain! Hahaha!” A sailor walked up with an arrogant face, and then raised his hand to Yi Sen’s head was pressed.

In the eyes of these sailors who have been in the calm sea for many years, Ethan and Arthur, who have been heavily surrounded, dare not resist at all. They can only kneel on the ground and pray for themselves and others to spare their lives. As for the things on them... Although many sailors are greedy for the sophisticated equipment, they understand that these belong to Sean, and maybe Sean can’t look down on them. Will be rewarded to them.

But it’s okay, as long as you finish this ticket, the captain will give them more or less some benefits after returning with a full load, which will be enough for them to return to State Island for a while.

Unexpectedly, Ethan, who was thought to be absolutely unwilling to resist, suddenly kicked him and slammed it firmly on the person’s stomach.

The sailor who was kicked into a gourd not only felt ecstatic, but also knocked several companions behind him to the ground.

Almost at the same time, Ethan shouted to Arthur: “Do it!” He was not going to wait for Sean to come down. The guy seemed to have no intention of coming.

In addition, there are already enough sailors ran to his ship, and I think the opponent will not suddenly attack with cannons.

As for the besieged? In fact, the space on the ship is much smaller than imagined. With the help of the mast, the space for everyone to move is limited. The benefit is that as long as Ethan controls his position well, he will be able to move at one time. Face two or three enemies at most, instead of being surrounded by layers of enemies.

For Ethan, who has countless props in his hand, it is not difficult to face two or three enemies at the same time. He holds a sword in his right hand, and uses an iron rod in his left hand. The hapless guy who rushed the fastest fell to the ground-the one who was hit by the stick just fainted, and there may be sequelae such as concussion, as for the one who was knocked over by his sword I can’t stand up anymore.

In order to prevent someone from being circumvented behind him, Arthur needs to be stuck in the other direction. The two have hardly communicated with each other, but at this time they thought of being together. Even compared to Ethan, Arthur moved faster on that side, not only stopped immediately, but also cut down four enemies in one go.

Regardless of his age, but his swordsmanship is strong, none of these sailors can hold a sword in his hand if he is one-on-one.

Even if they were on board together now, they could barely survive in the dazzling sword light, but there were still screams, and then more and more sailors fell on the deck.

Sean was stunned for a while on his boat. He was awakened by the continuous screams. He looked down and found that his subordinates were being cut and chopped like melons and vegetables. His angry eyes were red and blue veins burst on his neck.

“Get out of my way!”

The sailors heard the boss’s command, and naturally obediently stepped back before they had time to rush up, while the few who had rushed in front of Ethan or Arthur didn’t get away easily.

One of the sailors wanted to hit Ethan with a stick and then ran, deliberately letting out his most resistant back, but he didn’t expect that when Ethan’s stick went out, it would stimulate the power of thunder and lightning contained in the iron rod. .

The dazzling electric light leaped out of the stick, and with Ethan’s attack, it slammed on the sailor solidly. Although the current was not particularly strong, it was difficult to electrocute the person directly, but it was enough to make people immobile. He was paralyzed, and then this guy could only watch a sharp point of the sword jump out of his chest.

“Magic stone props!”

At this moment, Sean’s life was no longer in his eyes, and his eyes were only the iron rod with electric light in Ethan’s hand.

Chapter 32 Lots of cards

Sean’s eyes are almost like two big light bulbs, round and bright, and they are firmly locked to the iron rod in Ethan’s hand.

“Sure enough! These two young people have magic stone equipment on them!”

Turning his head and looking at Arthur who was not far away, there seemed to be nothing special about the big sword in the blond boy’s hand. It was not clear whether there was any hidden ability that was useless, or that his magic stone props were something else. , Not this weapon.

“It doesn’t matter, anyway, both of you have to die!”

Together with the thought of killing people and hunting treasures, the play mentality that Sean still had before, has been completely thrown into the corner at this moment.

“Hey!” Of course, Ethan could see what Shaun was making. He also had no good feelings about this guy like the pirate leader, and he couldn’t be merciful.

When he was besieged before, he discovered that this guy was sluggish, so he deliberately used the lightning ability on the iron rod. Since this guy often snatches other people’s property, he must be extremely interested in this kind of weapon with special abilities, maybe Can attract this guy over.

Otherwise, it’s just a few, how can it take so much effort? During this period of time, I have supplemented many basic theories and re-practised the basics of swordsmanship under the guidance of Arthur. Even without using the magic equipment on his body, he can still kill these people only with the long sword in his hand.

But it doesn’t make sense. I’ve killed all of them. What should I do if the opposite party finds that something is wrong? So killing Sean is still the safest way.

Even in the chaotic battle, Ethan still kept a clear head and made the most correct judgment.

The development of the situation is moving in the direction that I expect.

“Want?”

Ethan played with the iron rod in his hand, and deliberately cast a little lightning. The jumping electric light drew a beautiful arc along with Ethan’s movements, and the nearby sailors could not help taking a big step back, frightened by the crackling sound. In fact, they are far enough away now.

“If you want it, it depends on whether you have this strength.”

The constant provocation finally made Sean lose his sanity, and the ‘Magic Stone Equipment’ right in front of him made him unable to control the greed in his heart.

“Boy, since you are looking for death, then I will fulfill you!”

Shaun did not use the magic stone glove on his left hand, but took out a short-handled double-edged axe from behind. That is to say, Sean is tall and strong, and he can’t see it at all when he carries this battle axe behind him.

Suddenly taking out such a large weapon, Ethan was also taken aback. From the cracking sound of the battle axe, he realized that the big man in front of him had amazing power.

“Can’t face him head-on!”

Ethan tilted his body slightly, the long sword in his hand first made a counterattack movement, and then when the two weapons were about to collide, suddenly his wrist twisted, the long sword did not continue to hit the big axe, but followed the big axe. The force of the split slipped away. The footsteps quickly followed and avoided Sean's thunderous blow.

Avoidance was not Ethan's purpose. His real purpose was to dodge this sideways. The left-handed iron rod, which had not been able to come out, took the opportunity to knock on the large axe. At the same time, there was a clear sound of golden and iron mingling. Lightning flashes.

Most of the people present were blanked by the flash, and when they saw things clearly, the two people in the field had already stepped back a bit, leaving a space for each other to confront each other.

Many sailors cast their sights on their captain, and found that the boss, who they had previously thought of as invincible, was not in good shape now. Not only did the right hand with the big axe kept shaking, but the veins on his forehead were violent, and those eyes were violent. Not only was it red, but it was about to stand out.

"Damn it, I must smash you into pieces!" Shaun raised the axe again, and then smashed it over Ethan's head.

In fact, Ethan didn't really hurt him just now. He just suffered a small loss. He really didn't want to experience the feeling of numbness on the half of his body, not to mention if he was not experienced in advance. A not-so-great-looking playing and rolling dodging for a while, maybe he was slaughtered by Ethan on the spot.

Thanks to the violent burst of thunder and lightning power used by Ethan before, it has the effect of flash bombs on most people—of course, there are also a small number of people who are unaffected. These people look at their captain's eyes a little strange. This is still the majesty accumulated in the usual days, so that they dare not make any expressions, for fear of irritating their captain and causing trouble.

But this boat is not all Sean's people. Arthur didn't need to give him "face" and showed a very interesting smile—as a knight, Arthur didn't speak bad words, let alone laugh, but after all, I was still a teenager, and I couldn't do anything to be surprised. Seeing such an interesting picture would inevitably find it interesting, and at the same time I felt that this action was a bit shameful—especially when such a big man was forced to do this kind of action.

So, although he didn't laugh at him, the subtle expression still affected Sean. In addition, his subordinates who couldn't control their expressions were all noticed by him.

He didn't want to see it, but he didn't want to care about it but couldn't control it. The more he watched, the anger became more vigorous. Finally, the furious Sean launched a fierce attack on Ethan.

Ethan, who was hit by this attack, was in a hurry, and Sean swung his axe in anger much faster than before. It was impossible for Ethan to evade as calmly as before.

His mental reaction allows him to accurately 'see' all of Sean's movements, but his physical speed cannot keep up with his mental speed, and sometimes he is forced to make some 'choices' and choose to do the least harm to himself. Way of passive defense.

As the number of defenses increased, the sound of metal clashes sounded more and more frequently, and Arthur's expression was no longer as relaxed as before.

He knows that Ethan's strength is short board. Although he is a few years older than himself, his time for learning swordsmanship is too short. In addition, he has not kept up with his nutrition in his early years. Not only is his physical fitness not good, but he can even be said to be a deviation.

If it wasn't that his age was not too old and he had the opportunity to make up for it, Arthur would not recommend him to continue practicing swordsmanship, but to find another more suitable way to save his life—for example, he was good at making various magic props to arm himself. It is a good choice, he seems to be more talented in this aspect.

Now that Sean was in a rage, he still maintained a certain level of sanity and chose the fighting method that was most beneficial to him. If this goes on, Ethan will suffer more and more.

However, he is not worried that Ethan will be severely injured or even lose his life. Although the days of getting along are not long, but Arthur has a very detailed understanding of Ethan's abilities—this guy is a guy who likes to keep increasing his cards. Now, he only uses swordsmanship and the iron rod that can discharge the enemy. In addition to wanting to test his own training results, he is more likely to be looking for suitable opportunities.

If Ethan is allowed to know Arthur's psychological activities at this time, I am afraid he would praise this young companion, because he is indeed using Sean to test his swordsmanship and is also looking for a fatal blow. Opportunity.

It's just that although Sean's attack was violent, it was not scattered, and he didn't leave any time for himself, so he kept holding back and did not make a move.

“Since there is no time, then create a time.”

Ethan and Sean dealt with each other for a while, seeing the big man in front of him take a big step, suddenly swiped an axe at the long sword in his hand. This time, Sean used the side of the ax instead of the axe to attack. The slap, as if swinging a huge tempo, hit the long sword in Ethan's hand.

"Want to knock my weapon into the air?" Ethan's eyes lit up: "Opportunity!"

Huijian's movements were intentionally slow for a half a beat, and Ethan made a look that his physical strength was greatly reduced due to the long battle, which affected his movements. He also deliberately made an effort to evade the sword with all his strength, as if trying to prevent his weapon from being hit and flying by Sean.

Seeing him like this, Sean added a bit of strength instead, and then slapped Ethan's long sword firmly with the large axe in his hand, and after a slightly dull sound, a long sword swished. He jumped out, and then stuck it on the mast next to him with a thud.

"Die!"

A hit, UU reading www. The experienced Sean of uukanshu.com didn't ridicule or talk nonsense. He adjusted his actions and immediately summoned the remaining strength and made another attack.

At this time, he was able to use all his strength, and the blow he swayed carried an indomitable momentum-with such a strength and a posture, this blow either smashed Ethan to death firmly, or it was caused by the smash. When the empty space is open, the opponent takes the opportunity to kill.

He is very confident. The young man in front of him can't escape his own blow, and he has absolutely no ability to take his own axe. As for parrying with an iron rod? It doesn't matter, as long as the magic stone above is not damaged, he can hire someone to rebuild a piece of equipment and make a weapon more suitable for him.

"Maybe the Thunder Tomahawk is a good choice!"

Sean's heart had already begun to figure out what kind of weapon to build, which would be more suitable for his mighty and mighty self. As for Ethan in front of him, he was already dead in his eyes.

Unexpectedly, Ethan, who had been regarded as a dead man by him, calmly placed his right wrist on the place where his big axe fell.

"Dying struggling?"

Don't talk about a single wrist, even with two arms together, you can't stop yourself with this axe!

But something he didn't expect happened. Sean didn't even see what was going on. A translucent buckler that exuded bursts of cold suddenly appeared in front of the young man's wrist, very relaxed. Blocked this inevitable blow for myself.

"What? This is impossible!"

Although he wanted to pull back, but because of exhaustion of strength, he was in a rigid posture, unable to move at all. He could only watch the young man extend his free right hand to him, and said something in his mouth. : "Farewell, Hand of Flame."

Chapter 33 All the same

The orange-red light suddenly flashed, and the sound of the explosion made everyone dizzy. The ensuing impulsive air flow made many sailors turn into ground gourds, and several unlucky ones fell directly into the sea.

Fortunately, they have been wandering at sea for many years, and their water quality is not bad, so they won't be drowned as simply.

But no one cares about their situation at this time, everyone looks at Ethan and Sean.

"Fire attribute magic stone equipment!"

"That kid actually has two magic stone equipment?"

"No, there was a translucent shield that blocked the captain's attack."

"So... is it three?"

"Impossible... When did the magic stone equipment of the Sea of Calm be so flooded?"

Ethan looked at Sean who was blasted out by a fireball from himself, frowning tightly.

"This guy is so resistant?"

He really did not expect that he would not kill this hand of flame when he fired a fireball. It seems that he still underestimated this guy before.

Before, he was a bit proud of how he turned his opponent around. Almost every step he followed his 'script', and he successfully created a chance to perform a fatal blow. I thought that even if I didn't blow the opponent into pieces, I could blow half-cooked directly, and that life would definitely not be saved.

I didn't think that a fireball slammed into Sean solidly, and even fired at close range. Even I was protected by the ice shield and was not affected, but he was already backed by the strong shock wave. A long distance, barely stepping on the boat gang to stabilize.

Everyone was stunned. When he didn't react, Ethan had already rushed towards Sean, who was lying on the ground, unable to move. Even if this guy was barely holding his last breath at this time, it seemed that he might die at any time. Falling-He didn't want to give this kind of guy a chance to comeback while you were sick and killing you.

He still remembered that this Sean's nickname was Hand of Fire, and the glove on his left hand was probably a piece of magic stone equipment with fire attributes. Although it was not clear how powerful it was, this Sean was able to make such a name. , You know this thing is definitely not easy to deal with.

He did all the calculations before, but he didn't want to give this guy a chance to use this equipment: he deliberately showed weakness and gave Sean the illusion that he could kill him without using magic stone equipment; when he showed his fangs, Sean had no time Use that piece of equipment.

Just as Ethan made the sprinting action, a sense of crisis suddenly rose from the bottom of my heart. There was no time to think about it, and the body instinctively made an evasive action.

A similar feeling he had experienced in the dark world, helped him escape the enemy's sneak attack more than once, and this time it was the same.

A throwing knife was so dangerous and dangerous that it swept past Ethan's forehead. If he hadn't made an evasive action, the knife would just hit his forehead.

Ethan, who was startled in a cold sweat, raised his hand and shot a short arrow, hitting the place where the knife came. Until this time, he had no time to find out who attacked him.

That was a thin man, a little taller than himself, but compared to Sean, who fell on the ground not far away, he was only of ordinary figure.

This person is wearing a very ordinary vest. The only special thing about these vests is that there are a lot of flying knives in them. He even holds two flying knives in his hands. He sees Ethan launching a short arrow at him. Almost instinctively, he threw the throwing knife in his hand.

Boom!

The flying knife and the short arrow met in mid-air, causing an explosion, which shocked everyone present.

"The short arrow will explode?"

A cold sweat was dripping from the flying knife man's forehead. He had reacted almost instinctively just now. In normal circumstances he would at best avoid or use a flying knife to parry. But in that case, even if an explosion of this level didn't kill him, it would still seriously injure himself—the distance was too close, and the impact of the explosion alone would be enough.

“Could it be this kind of short arrow that exploded that severely wounded Sean?”

Before Ethan and Sean were too close, most people only saw the flames of the explosion. The specific situation is not clear. They thought Ethan seriously injured Sean with this short arrow, and this short arrow was installed there. On the brace of the young man's right hand—this time everyone focused their attention on the seemingly ordinary brace.

refocused his gaze on Ethan, only to notice that this young man rushed to Sean once again while everyone was attracted by the explosion.

Unexpectedly, Sean's resilience was amazing, and he was already able to move after a while, stumbled back to his boat, and then fell next to the throwing knife man.

“Keno, use the magic stone cannon!”

The flying knife man Keno, who is also the ship's first officer, Xiao En's most trusted subordinate nodded: “I will, Captain.” The flying knife in his hand drew a wonderful arc in the air and brought it up. A flamboyant blood red: “After you die!”

“you.....”

Xiao En didn't expect that his most trusted subordinate would suddenly rush to him. Fortunately, he escaped from Ethan's hands and died suddenly on his ship.

After Keno killed Sean with a single knife, he took off the glove on Sean's left hand very calmly, and then simply adjusted it and put it on his hand.

“I have been waiting for this day for a long time!”

It seems that it has been depressed for too long. After Keno put on the magic stone gloves, he actually chattered at Sean's corpse without anybody: “Stupid guy, you actually think I will really be your running dog? I don't want to think about how you treat your subordinates! Hundreds of people have been your subordinates one after another over the years. How many of them have a good ending?”

“No! No one!” The more excited Keno talked about, suddenly roared at Sean's body: “You treat us as rubbish! Why can't I kill you! What do you mean by that unbelievable look?”

It's a pity that Sean couldn't answer at all. He had become a corpse a long time ago, but kept the expression that he couldn't believe it all at the last moment before he died.

Keno, who did not receive a response, also slowly calmed down, and his tone of voice became flat: "Such an excellent magic stone equipment is a huge waste in your hands. This equipment, this ship, and all his subordinates are all I will take over!"

While speaking, he suddenly turned his head to face Ethan and Arthur: "You two are very outstanding young people. Are you interested in joining my boat? I can make you my first mate!"

Ethan and Arthur, who were a little confused by the sudden infighting, are wondering whether to take the opportunity to kill everyone and completely solve this battle? Unexpectedly, this Keno suddenly initiated an invitation to himself-is this a bit inexplicable? The two of them had just killed many of them, and they also beat the original captain to death.

Of course, judging from what Keno said just now, and the fact that no sailor around him offered to avenge the captain, this strong man named Sean is really not very popular, as if his men were eager for him to die.

"This...is not very interesting."

Ethan doesn't want to join this group of guys. These people don't know how long they have been with Sean. They can't be any kind and honest little lambs. It is estimated that they do all bad things-no matter whether they are passive or active.

"Really..." Keno looked a little disappointed: "You two are too young to understand how dangerous this world is. Do you want to cross the sea of storms with just two people? Even if you pass, you know how to wait. What kind of world is yours?"

Keno still seems to hold a glimmer of hope, and seems to want to convince Ethan to change his mind: "That is a wider world, a more dangerous world, a world with more good things but also more powerful people."

"Do you know why Sean has not dared to attack the sea of storms? Because he knows that in that ocean, only a magic stone glove is nothing at all, so he hopes to find more high-quality in the sea of calm Magic stone, make more magic stone equipment, and go after you have enough strength."

Keno stopped, showing a serious expression: "So, you guys understand what this means!"

Both Ethan and Arthur are clever and agile people. When Keno's tone changed and the atmosphere on the court became more tense, he understood the hidden meaning of the words.

It's just that Ethan is a bit more direct, and straightforwardly stokes Keno's hidden meaning.

"It means that you also need more magic stone equipment in order to cross the sea of storm and head to the new sea area... Since we don't agree to join, then you want to continue to * it!"

Keno nodded: "You are very smart, and I am suddenly glad that you did not agree to join."

waved his hand at the sailor beside him, Keno showed a cruel and twisted smile: "In that case, let's die in the sea with your boat! I'm not like the idiot Sean, I can't even figure out the point."

He doesn't care how many materials are on the Ethan ship. For him, the need for basic materials is not so urgent. On the contrary, the high-level magic stone equipment is more worthy of attention, and the core magic stone of this equipment is not so easy to damage. All you need to do is to blow up the other party and the people with the boat, and it is a big deal to waste some time to salvage the magic stone in this sea area- anyway, the magic stone is there, and it is not a loss to waste as much time as possible.

"Shoot, don't be stingy with the consumption of those inferior magic stones, blast them to shards for me!"

Ethan shook his head: "I expected this trick from you a long time ago, do you think I didn't know that you were delaying time on purpose in order to use the cannon?"

While speaking, his left hand took out a thick paper engraved with white magic stones from behind. As the white magic stones on the cover slowly radiated the radiance of magic, a white magic barrier was accurately stuck in two ships. Between the boats.

Almost at the same time, the magic stone cannon of the Flame Monarch fired orange energy cannonballs!

Chapter 34 Not satisfied

rumbling!

The orange-red energy bomb just left the muzzle and immediately hit the magic shield cast by Ethan! The huge explosion, the strong impact, and the scattered fire light were all blocked by the magic shield, and the corresponding flame Monarch, which was not protected on the other side, suffered, and the huge impact pushed the hull back. Pushing out a certain distance not only caused some damage to the hull itself, but also caused the hooks connecting the two ships to be torn off.

"not good!"

Ethan immediately noticed something wrong. If the two ships moved apart, they would have to be beaten passively. What if the Keno wanted to bombard with cannon?

“Abandon the ship?”

Calm thinking allowed him to make the worst plan. At that time, he could only abandon the ship, and then use the big ship as a target to cover it, and leave with Arthur in the small boat behind him.

looked up at the big ship opposite, Ethan did not disperse the magic shield, and even increased the energy output of the magic stone, expanding the defense range.

The distance was farther, and the opponent also had more angles to shoot. During this time, Arthur had cleared away several remaining enemies on the ship and stood beside Ethan.

“How to do?”

“There is no good way, unless you can jump to the opposite boat and kill them.”

Arthur looked at the distance between the two ships, and shook his head helplessly: “I can’t jump this far.”

Ethan rolled his eyes helplessly. Didn’t he know that Arthur couldn’t jump this far? What he said was just a mere complaint and there was no good way.

I didn’t expect it to be that Arthur said that he had no other way.

“Huh? Do you have a way?”

Arthur’s expression was a bit hesitant, and he didn’t seem to be sure.

“I am not very clear, but there is a feeling that tells me that I can get to the opposite boat.”

“Feeling?”

If it was Ethan in the previous life, hearing Arthur’s words, he would calmly tell him: “Let’s rest, it’s all an illusion!” But Ethan in this life is not so sure, after all, he himself I have personally experienced similar situations and have been saved by inexplicable feelings how many times.

“Are you sure?”

“You can try it. After all, there is no other way.” Arthur arranged the armor on his body, and then nodded at Ethan: “Wait a moment I rush out, you remember to open the magic shield first.”

“Don’t worry, you won’t bump into it.”

Magic shield is not a unilateral defense, Ethan will also be blocked by the shield.

This shield is actually magic cast by the book of inheritance in his hand. Ethan can only be regarded as an indirect controller, unable to manipulate the magic shield in such a detailed manner.

Seeing the timing, at the moment Arthur rushed to the boat gang to take off, Ethan removed the magic shield. I watched Arthur jump up into the air... and then fell down with a swish.

This guy is still wearing armor, and he is still young and his power hasn’t reached the peak. How can he jump long?

But no matter Ethan, or on the opposite boat, no one laughed, and even everyone looked at the blond boy with an unbelievable expression.

When Arthur rose into the air, he knew that he could not jump far, so he might fall off immediately. But there was always a strange feeling in his heart that he would not be hurt in any way.

Things were as he expected. Arthur jumped off the deck, saying that he was not tall but not short. It is not uncommon for ordinary people to accidentally break a fracture at such a height.

But Arthur stood on the surface of the sea very easily. When he “landed”, the sea was dented by him, and then waited until the force of the fall was relieved, and he was firmly supported back to the surface. Arthur stood firmly on the water.

“This is impossible!”

“Can human beings stand on water?”

Compared with ordinary sailors, the three views collapse and doubt life. The first reaction of Keno, who had just become the new Hand of Fire and the captain of the Fire Sovereign, was that the boy had magic stone equipment that could move freely on the water.

“Magic stone equipment! It must be magic stone equipment!” Although I don’t know what kind of magic stone has such an effect, the meaning of equipment that allows people to walk freely on the water is for this world full of sea water. Simply immeasurable!

“Kill him, aim the gun at the blond man!”

Keno’s head kept echoing: That magic stone belongs to me!

Compared to the ability to walk on water, he can’t look down on those who cast lightning or something. Anyway, he got a glove that can use flames, and one less lightning has little effect!

“Use a bow and arrow!”

It is very difficult to stop the flexible Arthur with a magic stone cannon! Coupled with the fact that the distance between the two sides is getting closer, it is very troublesome for the cannon to fire downwards.

And bows and arrows, such a consumable weapon, are not particularly surplus equipment for the Flame Hand gang, who are already powerful in the Sea of Calm. Only so few people took out the bows and arrows, and the number of arrows in the quiver was also pitiful.

“Big... Captain... We have almost consumed our bows and arrows before...”

almost habitually called the first officer. Fortunately, the sailor reacted fast enough, and Keno didn’t care about these little things at all.

“Damn it!”

“Um... Actually, there are not many magic stones. The cannon can only be fired four more times...”

Keno’s eyes were red, and he just felt that the magic stone had grown wings and flew farther and farther. From reaching out, he could barely see clearly...

After no chance, Keno calmed down instead, watching the blond boy who was about to rush to him, and finally made up his mind.

“Sailing! Leave at full speed!”

“what?”

The sailor beside was stunned by Keno’s order, and then kicked aside by the new captain: “I said sail, don’t worry about that kid, let’s retreat!”

Retreat, this is an order that makes his heart like a knife, but he has to do it.

Compared with Sean, his strength is much worse. Sean can't take down those two young people, let alone he can! His greatest reliance is these men, and when these men cannot give him enough help, the Flame Monarch is his last reliance—the young man on the other side does not need to do anything else, just find a chance to get under his ship. To open a big hole, they can only wait to die.

After a calm analysis, he found that it has become impossible to get what he wants from these two people today. Even if they continued to entangle them, it would not be beneficial to them, so they decisively gave the order to retreat.

It is very troublesome for the sailing ship to lift the speed, but because of the impact force, the distance between the two ships has been pushed a lot, and although the remaining power is not large, the Flame Sovereign is still slowly drifting away.

This keeps the distance between the two sides increasing. At the same time, although the previous artillery shots did not hit, they still succeeded in hindering Arthur's advancement and bought them enough time.

“Next time I meet, I will become stronger, and then...”

Keno unwillingly glanced at Arthur, who gradually stopped and stood on the water, and directed his men to leave this area as soon as possible—he was not going to State Island, because he knew the two young men would definitely go there. , So he was going to find an island to repair, and then return to State Island to recruit new men after a while, and collect ways to make him stronger by the way.

Sean is dead, no one suppresses his growth anymore, and after realizing his weakness, Keno eagerly hopes to become stronger...

Seeing the Flame Monarch quickly departed, Ethan squinted his eyes for a moment, and realized that the opponent was 80% worried that Arthur would destroy their ship, instead of using a cannon to attack after pulling the distance, there was only one possibility. Out: The cannonball is gone!

“So the magic stone cannon is a consumable weapon? It's not the kind of pure energy weapon that I think is powered by magic stone and fired continuously.”

Touched his chin, Ethan felt that another possibility was that every launch would consume a magic stone, and the quality of the magic stone might not be as high as he had predicted first. UU reading www.uukanshu.com

“Maybe this guess is closer.”

Think about the two captains of the other party and their greed for magic items in their hands. You know how attractive magic stones are to them. Even if you get them, you will give them priority. It shows that high-quality magic stones are not so easy to find.

“At least in the calm sea.”

put down the rope ladder, let Arthur who had returned to return to the ship, the two men silently began to clean up after the war. At the same time, I recalled the anticlimactic battle in my heart.

“Arthur.”

“Ok?”

“Next we have to experiment with the bunch of things Merlin gave you.”

“Well, I think so too.”

The two people were just busy understanding each other's abilities before, but they ignored this time when they came out. Merlin gave Arthur a lot of things and cast a blessing spell on Arthur.

If they had known before that the effect of this spell was to allow Arthur to move freely on the water, then they would be able to make a plan for the other party from the beginning, and it would be impossible for the other party to escape so easily.

Although Ethan is not a bloodthirsty person, he also understands that if this kind of enemy can't be killed completely, then maybe he will jump out and disgust you sometime, even if he can't threaten himself, he will annoy himself, so he Once determined to become a mortal enemy with the other party, he will resolutely attack and refuse to leave behind troubles.

This time he actually watched the opponent run away, which made him very unhappy, and he was dissatisfied with his own strength-still not strong enough. If he could crush and kill Xiao En in general, the opponent would not be able to escape at all. He can kill or control everyone.

“We must continue to practice hard!”

Chapter 35 The enemy is to be resolutely eliminated

After finally cleaning up the deck, the corpses can only be thrown directly into the sea to feed the fish. It is impossible to stay on the boat. In this kind of weather, the plague will break out if you don't leave it on the boat for a few days. Although Ethan has learned a lot , Magic potions can also deal with some simple illnesses, as for the plague... he doesn't have that good medical skills.

“It is almost inevitable to be born in this world and return to the sea after death.”

In order to prevent these corpses from floating on the sea like this, Ethan deliberately tied them together with a rope, and finally tied a piece of ore.

“Maybe one day I will just sink to the bottom of the sea...”

It was the first time Arthur saw so many dead people, most of them were killed by himself, and a lot of feelings arose in his heart.

“That’s not necessarily true. Who knows that the enemy we will encounter in the future may unload us eight pieces and throw us into the sea; or simply beat us into powder, without corpses at all.”

Ethan didn’t think that those people would kindly dispose of his body properly. In contrast, it is better not to give these people this opportunity.

“It’s packed, we continue on the road. After this period of time, we will organize the things in our hands to determine the greatest strength we can currently exert.”

Arthur saw Ethan’s face serious, didn’t he understand what he was going to do?

“Is that island called Stater very dangerous? There will be many enemies? Isn’t there anyone to keep it safe?”

Ethan smiled and explained: “There must be enemies, especially when we only have two people. You look so young, and you have entered the port with such a large ship of supplies. You are jealous and want to make a fortune. I don’t know. How many will there be.”

Like before, Sean would do it on himself, although at first it was because he had mistaken people, but he realized that his boat was draught and understood that the boat was full of things. After he was wearing this set of armor and weapons, he immediately moved and killed people. Bom’s mind?

In this world, many people will show their * without concealment. They have no moral bottom line at all-as long as they want it, just grab it.

What is the level of security on the State Island, Ethan is not particularly clear yet. In the last short stay, it seemed that many people still had some restraint and did not dare to start blatantly, but even so, it cannot be said that there is definitely safe.

What’s more, Ethan’s real purpose in organizing his combat power this time is not to guard against the villain.

“With our current strength, it should be enough to protect ourselves in this sea area, and we are not afraid of others coming to trouble.”

In addition, the State Island is land. If there is a conflict, the opponent cannot escape quickly by ship, and will only be killed by Ethan on the spot.

“So...” Arthur had a vague guess, but he was not sure of his own judgment.

“Yes, we are not afraid of being troubled by others, but this time we are looking for trouble!”

He is not the kind of person who likes to save his grudges until ten years later. It is not too late for a gentleman to avenge him. To put it bluntly, he can only hold back his strength. If he has enough strength, he can take revenge.

The villain’s revenge is not strong enough from morning to night. You can kill the opponent if you are strong enough. Why do you have to rely on those small means to disgust the opponent?

Ethan is neither a gentleman nor a villain. He just doesn’t want to be harassed by the villain from morning till night when he has the strength.

Keno thought he would be okay if he escaped this time? Then he is so naive.

“This time we brought back so many supplies, enough for us to stay on the island for a long time, not to mention you still need to solve a lot of problems.”

Apart from anything else, Arthur has not been able to use the language of this world fluently, and there are big obstacles in communication. He needs to study on the island for a period of time.

At the same time, State Island, as the center of the calm sea, has a variety of intelligence and information on it. These are also things that Ethan needs. He needs time to collect and digest. Only a better grasp of the calm With the information of Hai, he can have a clearer plan for the future, instead of taking one step at a time like now.

“In short, we are quietly waiting for the arrival of the Keno on the island to completely eliminate this hidden danger.”

Arthur’s expression is a bit strange, he always feels that this kind of thing seems a bit too much? It seems to be different from what I believed in before.

“This...is it necessary to do this? Anyway, as long as the other party comes to trouble us again, just kill them directly. Anyway, we are not afraid of them.”

Ethan immediately shook his head like a rattle, and even moved his hands to emphasize his denial of Arthur’s idea.

“Your thinking is absolutely wrong! You have to understand that being kind to the enemy is cruel to yourself!”

“Is that so?” Arthur still felt that this approach was too extreme, and it was unnecessary.

Looking at the young King Arthur, Ethan can only use the most popular way to explain his ideas: “You may think I am too much, but in fact this is the best.”

“First of all, do you think that Keno is a good person?”

Arthur shook his head decisively, that Keno seems to be better than Sean? But you can never be called a good person. How can a robber who is arrogant and looting at sea be a good man?

Maybe someone thinks Keno was forced by circumstances? But good people and bad people are not judged based on these. If you do good deeds, you are naturally a good person. You have done a bad thing, even if you have countless reasons to justify it, you will not be able to wash away your sins.

What's more, what Keno did didn't see how much he was forced by the situation. His hatred for Sean might as well say that the former boss hindered his progress.

“Then do you think he will stop there?”

“No.” Arthur was quite certain about this.

“So he will definitely appear in front of us again, right!”

Arthur nodded, confirming Ethan's inference.

“So, since we have to match up sooner or later, why not let us choose the time of the duel, but follow the opponent's rhythm?”

“Um...”

Arthur is still a young man. Although he has received systematic education since he was a child, the specific concepts and ideas have not been really shaped. If he continues to be taught by Merlin, maybe he will grow into a positive, positive and sunny boy. But is Sunshine Boy really suitable to be the ruler of a country?

Ethan thinks that the three views are of course an advantage, but too much sunshine is questionable.

If Arthur is just kind and kind, that's okay. Being kind as a king can increase his personal charm, which is good for gathering the loyalty of his men.

But too sunny, always thinking about things and people in a good direction, then as a ruler is not qualified.

He can be kind, but he can't be naive!

Do not do evil, but know the means for evil and effectively prevent and stop it! The so-called corrupt officials must be rape, and honest officials are even more * than corrupt officials! He must understand these principles to be a qualified ruler.

“But what does this have to do with what to do next?”

Arthur couldn't turn the corner for a while, think this topic jumped too fast? Why did you suddenly turn to how to be a qualified king?

“I want you to think from the other person's perspective.” Ethan magically brought the topic back: “If you are a bad person, then it is not surprising that you will use any means when dealing with your enemies. Right.”

“Yeah.” Arthur hesitated for a moment, and finally agreed.

“Leave aside this keno. If you return to your world in the future and encounter a similar situation, if you beat the enemy back, you will ignore it. But your enemy is full of revenge, and in the end hurt the person you care about. ?”

Arthur's eyelids twitched, and he began to understand what Ethan wanted to express.

“Your parents...your wife...even your children...they may be the targets of your enemies. You know, your enemies don't talk about chivalry with you.”

Ethan knew that for this kind of people who believe in chivalry, talking about sneak attacks and assassinations would not be useful, and that they can only be effective if they are cut from another angle.

He didn't think Arthur would completely deny what he was going to say. He vaguely remembered that the legendary King Arthur had actually done things that violated the spirit of chivalry. It seemed that he had damaged the one that made him board. The throne's sword in the stone?

Sure enough, Arthur stopped talking, just frowned and thought.

He found that if the enemy really does this, he really doesn't have any good ways to deal with it. He is not stupid, on the contrary, he is very smart. Even if he is sunny, he will not be so naive that those wicked people will not do these things for revenge.

“So, in order to prevent things from developing in an uncontrollable direction, is it the best solution to completely solve it before it loses control?”

Ethan nodded: "Yes, that's what I meant."

After all, it has been too long to communicate with others. His expressive ability seems to be a bit regressive from his previous life. Fortunately, Arthur is smart enough to quickly understand his thoughts.

"Then, how long shall we stay on State Island?"

Knowing that Arthur had agreed to his next arrangements, Ethan gave a cold smile: "I am very patient, and I don't want such a hidden danger to threaten me all the time and make me unable to sleep. it is good."

Arthur shuddered suddenly when he saw Ethan's expression, and whispered in his heart: 'Don't be hated by Ethan in the future! 'And keep it firmly in my heart.

At the same time, he silently paid tribute to the robber named Keno. It was really bad luck for this guy to grab something and grab Ethan's head.

Ethan made up his mind to wait until Keno on State Island, and then remove him. He didn't believe Keno would stay at sea forever, even if he could find the island to replenish food and water. The maintenance of the ship must be carried out on the State Island.

"So, this guy is dead!"